INTRODUCTION.¹

The records calendared in the following pages relate to the affairs of the English on the Coromandel and Orissa Coasts in the years 1740-1744. The Madras records of the period consist of the following classes :—(1) the despatches exchanged between the Madras Council and the Court of Directors ; those from England are all originals or duplicates sent from the India House and bound up in Madras ; those to England are copies of the rough drafts entered fair in volumes. (2) The consultations of the Council at Madras and of the subordinate Council at Fort St. David. These are original documents certified by the signatures of the councillors present at the various meetings. (3) Copy-books of letters exchanged between the Madras Council and the other settlements of the Company, both those subordinate to Madras, Anjengo and Tellicherry on the Malabar Coast subordinate to Bombay, and the presidencies of Calcutta and Bombay. (4) Correspondence between the Governor of Madras and the country powers, translations of which were entered fair in copy-books. Unfortunately only one volume of the last has survived for the period now dealt with. In addition to these records preserved at Madras, transcripts have also been made of papers missing here but preserved at the India Office. These papers are distinguished as ' I.O. Transcripts.' Papers as far as possible are arranged in their order of receipt at Madras, so as to show clearly the information on which the Council adopted its resolutions.

At this period the out-settlements under the control of the Madras Council, exclusive of those on the West Coast of Sumatra which region is reserved for separate treatment, consisted of Fort St. David and Cuddalore to the south, and Ingeram, Madapollam and Vizagapatam to the north. Garrisons were maintained at Madras, Fort St. David and Vizagapatam, which were all fortified. Cuddalore also, lying just south of the river on which Fort St. David stood, had walls, though low and feeble. Ingeram and Madapollam were mere factory-houses, with neither troops nor guns. Madras was a flourishing sea-port in spite of the surf which rolls ceaselessly upon its inhospitable beach. But here as elsewhere the sole purpose was trade. In the year 1740 no one dreamt that the next twenty years would make the English masters of the Carnatic and of Bengal, and force sovereign powers into the Company's unwilling hands.

In spite of Nadir Shah's invasion and plunder of Delhi, the fabric of the Moghal organisation still seemed solid and imposing. Nizam-ul-mulk was subahdar of the Deccan. Under his auspices, nawabs ruled the Orissa Coast from Chicacole and the northern part of the Coromandel Coast from Rajahmundry. The southern part of that Coast was ruled from Arcot by Dhost Ali Khan, vaguely subordinate to the subahdar; but his tribute and obedience alike depended on the latter's power to enforce his will. For the last thirty years the Carnatic had been governed by Dhost Ali and his father; and visions of establishing a hereditary rule were cherished at Arcot. Mysore still remained under Hindu government; but the province of Trichinopoly had lately been conquered by the Muhammadans under Chunda Sahib, the Nawab's son-in-law. They had moreover expelled one king of Tanjore, and set up another, Pratab Singh, in his stead, and were busily engaged in over-running the countries of Madura and Tinnevely. An observer of 1740 might have confidently predicted the consolidation of all Southern India under the rule of Dhost Ali Khan and his descendants.

In that year however came the event which was abruptly to display the essential feebleness of the Muhammadan organisation, and ultimately to produce conflicting claims which, mingled with the rivalry of French and English, gave occasion for the establishment of European predominance in India. That event was the great Maratha raid. Even in January came repeated advices that the Marathas were moving through the Deccan while the Moghal troops were on the verge of mutiny at Arcot¹. In the next month Fattah Singh and Raghoji Bhonsla were heard of as advancing towards the territories of the Pathan nawabs, the chief of whom, at Cuddapah, covered the passes into the lower Carnatic². In April the Arcot government had taken the alarm, and a noble, deep in Dhost Ali Khan's confidence, warned the English to look to their defence³. It was notorious that the Nawab's forces were unable to defend the province⁴; but nevertheless on April 27/May 8 the Nawab sent out his troops to occupy the Damalcheruvu Pass on which the Marathas were advancing⁵. On May 9/20 he himself and his youngest son, Husain Ali, with many others were slain in defending the pass⁶; a few days later the Marathas were plundering all that had been left at Arcot⁷. The policy alleged to have permitted this is too characteristic to be passed unnoticed. Nizam-ul-mulk was at this time at Delhi⁸; having left his son Nasir Jang in charge of the Deccan. The latter is said to have allowed and encouraged the invasion; Safdar Ali, the Nawab's son, is also said to have encouraged it⁹. Although the evidence in support of either assertion is none too strong, it is exceedingly likely that both were jealous of the position which Chunda Sahib was making for himself at Trichinopoly; and a short-sighted policy was fashionable with the Indian princes of this period. It is at least certain that neither Nasir Jang nor Safdar Ali opposed the invasion.

When the event of the battle was known, Safdar Ali at once fled to the strong fortress of Vellore, where he found refuge till he had made peace with the Marathas for 38 lakhs of rupees. Twelve lakhs were paid without much delay, and sixteen more were paid within the next four months. On receipt of the first instalment the Marathas moved westwards into Mysore¹, where they passed the rainy season.

Meanwhile the Carnatic continued in a great state of confusion and alarm. It was generally believed that the Marathas were likely to return; and the country was infested with marauding bands consisting partly of poligars' peons, partly of disbanded Moghal horse.² In August Safdar Ali and Chunda Sahib met and inspected the defences of Gingee, which it was thought, as formerly the seat of a Maratha government, the enemy might seek to conquer. Then they visited Pondichery where their women-folk had found asylum. They were received with considerable ceremony, repaid on the part of the new Nawab by the present which he made to Dumas, the French Governor, of five villages close to the French bounds—the first recorded occasion of a considerable gift made from the country powers to a Company's servant.

Meanwhile in July the Marathas had been reinforced³ and were meditating further exploits. Next month we hear of the significant circumstance of their sending an agent to confer with Chunda Sahib. In September he was fully apprised of his danger, for he wrote to the Governor of Madras desiring to be furnished with military stores, as his magazines had been depleted by his brother's operations in the south⁴. Orme has a story that he was deceived into selling his supplies of grain by the Marathas' march into Mysore, and that they reappeared before he could replenish them. But that march was made in June; his warnings came in August and September; and he was not besieged in Trichinopoly before December. If he was caught unprepared, that must have been very largely his own fault. He offered to buy them off with 7 lakhs of rupees⁵ and is said to have risen subsequently to 12 lakhs.¹ In the middle of March, 1741, he was forced to surrender, after the failure of his brother, moving up with forces from the south, to relieve the city. After three weeks spent in endeavouring to arrange terms of ransom, he was hurried off under escort of a large body of horse by way of Mysore² to Satara. It has been often stated that this attack on Chunda Sahib and his subsequent captivity were largely due to the intrigues of Safdar Ali and his minister, Mir Asad. This was at least very widely believed at the time. The Madras Council informed the Company that Safdar Ali promised a monthly subsidy until Trichinopoly should be taken, and asserted that the Muhammadans supplied the Marathas with provisions³.

Shortly before the siege of Trichinopoly was formed, a fresh body of Marathas appeared in the Carnatic under the famous free-booter Morari Rao. In November he plundered Conjeeveram; on December 14/25 he plundered Porto Novo; next day parties entered the bounds of the English at Fort St. David, but were driven off⁴. A month later they again visited Fort St. David⁵ and Pondichery. The alarm in both places was great. The Nawab's women-folk and many Muhammadan nobles and Hindu merchants, who had sought refuge at Pondichery, withdrew elsewhere, and the French landed part of the crew of a Europe ship then in the roads in order to strengthen their garrison.⁶ About this time a Maratha messenger appeared from the camp before Trichinopoly with letters for both the English and the French. The former was not particularly threatening in tone⁷; but the latter peremptorily demanded the surrender of Chunda Sahib's wife and treasure⁸. To this the French Governor returned an uncompromising refusal. Further correspondence followed, from both the French and the English, which ended tamely in the despatch by each nation of a messenger with small presents, on which the French expended 2,400¹, and the English about 3,000 pagodas².

When the Marathas left the Carnatic, it was in a state of the utmost disorganisation. It is vigorously described in a despatch addressed by the Pondichery Council to the French Company³. 'The province,' they say, 'continues still in the greatest disorder. The Nawab, Safdar Ali Khan, has neither money nor troops nor authority to make himself respected and obeyed; each Muhammadan noble acts as his own master and assumes sovereign powers in his forts and territories; we foresee no end to these disorders. . . . unless the Moghal sends a nawab with troops to establish a new government.' The English speak in a very similar strain. They note the general disobedience to Safdar Ali's orders⁴, the uncertainty of his position, and the rumours that the Marathas and Nizam-ul-mulk will combine to make Chunda Sahib Nawab of the province⁵. This situation produced its natural consequences. Among the nobles of the Carnatic was Murtaza Ali Khan, the killadar of Vellore. He is represented as a man in the last degree timid, cunning and avaricious. A relative of Safdar Ali, he had afforded him a refuge within his strong walls of Vellore and his crocodile-filled moat, when the Marathas came sweeping south in 1740; and he is said to have expected that this hospitality would be allowed to stand instead of the due payment of his tribute. Safdar Ali thought otherwise, and insisted on his demand. Just at the time when the Nawab had come to an agreement with Nizam-ul-mulk as to the terms on which he was to be confirmed⁶, Murtaza Ali resolved to make an end at once of him and his claims. Safdar Ali was murdered at Vellore on October 2/13, 1742⁷, and Murtaza Ali attempted at once to fill the vacancy which he had thus created. He proceeded to Arcot, where he proclaimed himself Nawab. For the time he was generally recognised⁸; but Safdar Ali's son,

5 years old, was safe in Madras with his mother, and served as a rallying point for further revolutions¹. On November 11/22 Murtaza Ali abandoned Arcot; the troops proclaimed Safdar Ali's son Nawab, and on December 23/January 3 he was seated on the masnad at the Governor's Garden-house at Madras². As a mark of gratitude for the protection of the English, his relatives made a grant of five villages with the privilege of a mint at Chintadripet, just outside the city³.

The Marathas had retained possession of Trichinopoly, leaving it under the command of Morari Rao. In 1743 Nizam-ul-mulk, having returned from Delhi, came south to settle the troubled affairs of the Carnatic. In January he was at Cuddapah; and moving rapidly southward sat down in March before Trichinopoly, which surrendered in August after a five months' blockade⁴. He remained there till October⁵, and then moved slowly northward. In March 1744, when on the point of leaving the province, he confirmed as Nawab Abd-ullah Khan who had been acting in that capacity ever since Nizam-ul-mulk's arrival. The new Nawab died the night of his confirmation; and Anwar-ud-din, who had long been Nawab of Chicacole, was appointed in his stead⁶. His eldest son, Mahfuz Khan, was appointed his Naib, and his second son, Muhammad Ali, Viceroy of Trichinopoly⁷. The English and French took the opportunity of the Nizam's long halt before Trichinopoly, to send him embassies with presents; to both he accorded a favourable reception; but nothing more. In April, 1744, Anwar-ud-din reached Arcot, accompanied by Safdar Ali's young son, whom the Nizam had committed to his guardianship. In the following June the lad was murdered by a band of Pathan soldiers; a number of his relatives were also slain, and it was asserted that Anwar-ud-din escaped the same fate only by the accident of his being engaged in examining a present sent to him by the English¹. The cause of this event was and remains a mystery. Public opinion accused both Murtaza Ali Khan and Anwar-ud-din—the former on account of his character, the latter on account of his interest. The reality of Anwar-ud-din's danger is at least open to question. The story as related in the English records is just as likely to have been put about to screen his guilt as to have been a faithful relation of the truth. In net result it only added another bloody incident to the history of the times, and, while establishing a new family in the rule of the Carnatic, left numerous relatives of the old in the command of forts and the enjoyment of jaghirs, ready to welcome any claimant of the old stock that might arise.

In all these events the European nations settled on the coast had no share beyond affording a shelter to refugees, behind the walls of Madras and Pondichery. They had neither will nor power to interfere. Their walls secured them from enemies wholly unskilled in the art of siege-warfare; but their commerce rendered them exceedingly desirous of avoiding hostilities. The sea secured to them a regular supply of provisions should a country enemy attempt to blockade them; but the cotton-cloth, which formed the staple alike of the Companies' trade to Europe and of the private trade to the other ports of the Indian seas was almost all made at a distance from the European settlements, sometimes so far inland as Salem. Efforts had been made to modify this state of things by inducing weavers to settle within the European bounds; but alike at Pondichery, Cuddalore, and Madras, the efforts failed, because the cost of grain was normally higher in the large coast towns than it was inland. The trade of the Europeans therefore remained wholly at the mercy of the country powers. Nor did their forces permit a policy of enterprise. Their garrisons were weak in numbers and poor in quality. At Fort St. George there were but 480 men and officers, of whom only 200 were Europeans, the rest being Topasses—half-breed Portuguese, 'little better than our common coolies'; and about 50 artillery-men¹. The garrison was subsequently ordered to be raised to 600, but a sufficient number of recruits was not sent². At Fort St. David there were two companies of foot, say 300 bayonets, among whom there were not 100 efficient Europeans³. The garrison at Pondichery seems to have been rather under that at Madras, apart from a temporary reinforcement received from the Isles⁴; while the French had at Karikal about 200 men⁵.

With such scanty powers of injury, there could be no question of anything but defensive measures against the country powers; it was not however quite the same between the French and English. In the early years of the 18th century, there had been great amity between Madras and Pondichery, of which the deliberations of the Councils bear constant evidence. Thus in 1707, in spite of war raging in Europe, the French Council dwells on the importance of maintaining a good understanding with Madras, and forbids country ships to attack the English⁶. The English Governor, Pitt, in 1709, offers to fetch French pepper from Calicut round to the Coromandel Coast⁷. In 1712, when a French squadron was preying on English ships in the Bay of Bengal, we find the amazing fact, that the proceeds of prize-ships taken from the English were remitted to Chandernagore by an English vessel⁸. Pondichery was revictualled by the help of a loan raised at Madras⁹. The French Governor acted as mediator between the English and Serap Singh, the Governor of Gingee,¹⁰ and a French ship sought shelter from the Dutch under the English guns of Fort St. David¹¹.

But this was when the French were weak and poor. Matters changed rapidly when the Compagnie des Indes Orientales was reorganised after the downfall of Law's system. So early as 1721 we read of jealousy over the Manilla trade¹. Violent disputes arose on the Malabar Coast over their respective shares in the pepper-trade². In 1737 the directors of the English Company were demanding 'the most particular intelligence concerning these powerful competitors the French and their commerce³. The documents now calendared bear the most significant evidence of this commercial rivalry. All the tin at Madras is to be bought up to hinder the French from sending a ship to China⁴. We read of complaints that the French have put up their prices for cloth or are accepting cloth of less than the standard measurements⁵. And although this may be in part only excuses for bad buying, there can be no doubt that the two nations did mutually incommode each other. When the French were seeking a grant of Divi Island, which had formerly been granted to the English but never occupied, it was resolved to inform the native authorities of the previous grant in order to embarrass the French.⁶

When the two nations were thus in a state of watchful enmity, war broke out between Spain and England. The news reached Madras in June, 1740⁷. In the following year, it became likely that France also would be involved⁸. It was then that an expedition under La Bourdonnais arrived in the East, which had been destined to attack the English, but which, after alarming them by its appearance on the Coromandel Coast⁹, effected nothing but the relief of Mahé from the attacks of native princes. In the following year La Bourdonnais was ordered to send his ships back to Europe, and the tension slackened¹; but on September 5/16, 1744, a despatch announcing the declaration of war with France reached Madras². This news was conveyed to Pondichery by the Roman Catholic priest who served the church in Fort St. George³; but official information did not reach Dupleix until November 17/28⁴.

On receipt of this news, Dupleix sought to secure the French (and incidentally his own) trade by a treaty of neutrality. He had at one time favoured a more vigorous policy, and had even sent the engineer, Paradis, to visit Madras and form a plan of attack⁵, but he had changed his views, probably on the recall of La Bourdonnais' squadron, while with great, and indeed obvious, prudence continuing to complete the fortifications of Pondichery⁶, he wrote to the Council at Mahé on September 11/22, directing them to arrange with the English at the neighbouring factory of Tellicherry to carry into effect a treaty which had been made in 1728 in consequence of the ceaseless bickering that had prevailed. The English agreed to this⁷ and Dupleix thereon, while still without orders from France, wrote to the English at Madras, on November 6/17, proposing that the treaty should be ratified by them⁸. Tellicherry was subordinate, not to Madras, but to Bombay; moreover nothing was known of the local conditions which might have made such an agreement desirable; so the Madras Council returned an evasive answer which would at all events gain time until Bombay should decide what to do.

Shortly after this Dupleix received the Company's despatch announcing the war, directing him to make no attack upon the English unless they were the first aggressors, but adding that the chiefs of the English factories would not be able to impose neutrality upon the Europe ships¹. He then again addressed the Madras Council, and also those at Calcutta and Bombay, desiring that orders might be given corresponding to his own, to make no unprovoked attacks². The English found themselves in somewhat of a quandary. They had received no news except that war had broken out ; but they probably knew that in 1742 proposals had come from Paris for a formal treaty of neutrality between the Companies in the event of war between the crowns, and that they had been rejected by the London directors³. Accordingly they answered that they lacked power to enter into any agreement⁴.

The policy underlying these proposals has been frequently debated. Malleon discusses it without his usual clearness and with more than his usual inaccuracy⁵. The facts are as follows :—So early as 1740 Dupleix had been an advocate of neutrality east of the Cape of Good Hope, and had sent representations on the subject to the Company⁶ at the very time when La Bourdonnais was urging the despatch under his command of a strong squadron of ships. Dumas himself, on his return to Europe, entered the French directorate and advocated the same policy. The truth was that the situation of the French isles was in this respect very different from that of the French Settlements on the mainland. At Bourbon and Mauritius there were to be found harbours, crews, all the means of equipment and repair. The colonists of the isles could therefore hope to make money by privateering. But at Pondichery there was neither harbour nor crews. Lascars would serve very well to navigate country ships on peaceful commerce ; but fighting crews could not be provided. To the inhabitants of Pondichery privateering promised nothing but losses⁷. This was fully recognised at Paris, and so, in spite of La Bourdonnais' success in persuading the ministry to give him a squadron when war seemed specially threatening, the Company succeeded in securing the Royal approval of a draft treaty which had been drawn up by Dumas and a retired Company's servant, Henry Lowther, resident in Paris. This was transmitted to London, and there rejected by the English directors¹. The policy was thus shared by the Company and Dupleix; not imposed by the former on the latter.

For the moment Dupleix believed that, although no treaty had been formed, the English would undertake no hostilities in the Indian seas. It was generally understood that the country shipping of the respective nations would be ordered not to attack each other; and even in February 1745, when Dupleix was aware of the presence of a British squadron, he ordered the Mahé Council to avoid all subjects of dispute with the English². He seems to have reported to La Bourdonnais that the neutrality matter had been satisfactorily arranged; and it was only later, when the English squadron became inconveniently active, that he applied to him for help³.

Meanwhile the English Company, consistently with its rejection of the neutrality treaty, applied to the ministry for naval protection as soon as war was declared, with the result that Curtis Barnett was promptly despatched with four men-of-war to cruise upon the French shipping in the East. Such was the inception of a war between the two nations which was to continue in the Carnatic, with two insignificant intervals, for the next sixteen years. Meanwhile, on May 31, 1744, there anchored in the Madras roads the East Indiaman *Winchester*⁴. She had sailed from London no less than eighteen months earlier, but, running aground off the Brazilian coast, had been compelled to refit at Rio di Janeiro. Among her passengers was a young writer, Robert Clive.

III

He found a small fortified city, full of tall, flat-roofed dazzlingly-white houses, with a citadel or inner fort containing the Company's offices and the Governor's residence. Here dwelt all the Company's European servants, along with a number of Armenians and so-called Portuguese. Just to the northward was the Indian city—the Black Town, where were the taverns and other places of amusement. This also was defended by a wall. Out on the plain beyond were a few villas or garden-houses.

Mixed blood was common, especially among the ladies of the settlement. The one occupation of the place was trade. Priest, doctor and soldier might be distinguished by their garb, but hardly by their conversation. All sought in trade a compensation for their scanty pay, just as did the covenanted servants of the Company, to whom trade was their profession. Amusements were few, and scarcely extended beyond hawking or shooting on the Choultry Plain, a week-end visit to St. Thomas' Mount, a nautch or a gaming party of an evening. There was a considerable library under the Governor's charge¹, but, while exceedingly rich in theology, it was very poor in other directions—especially in lighter literature; and probably had changed very little when Clive sought in it relief from the tedium of leisure hours.

The principal feature was probably a uniformity of type. There were no experts. Everybody believed himself competent to do everything. The merchant was as ready to expound a point of doctrine, administer a dose of medicine, or command a company of militia as the cleric, the doctor, or the officer to buy a parcel of olibanum or a bale of chintz.

The other feature was a degree of luxury impossible in the corresponding ranks of society in Europe. The private soldier of the garrison had his servant; the writer had his palankin and roundel-boy; the merchant was resplendent in silk and velvet, while his wife covered herself with diamonds. One may without injustice suppose the tiny social world of Madras at that time to have been dull and somewhat vulgar; but it should be added that it was on the eve of improvement, brought about by the wider outlook consequent upon the handling of momentous affairs, and the increased numbers which resulted from the transformation of the British position in the East.

IV

As already indicated, Madras was at this time nothing but a place of trade. In that respect it was exceedingly prosperous, all things considered, though perhaps less so than it had been in the preceding decade. The Company's year ran from May 1 to April 30, and the papers here calendared contain statements of the "variable revenues" and the expenditure at Madras for the six years 1737-38 to 1742-43. These "variable revenues" consisted of the Mint dues, the Sea-customs, and the Land-customs. In the six years these produced only 8,000 pagodas less than the total expenditure at Madras for that period. Besides the "variable revenues" there were also the "fixed revenues." These brought in 20,000 pagodas a year more, and consisted of the Betel and Tobacco monopoly, which was sold for 10,000 pagodas a year, and various other items of small importance, all of which were similarly farmed out. Madras itself, altogether apart from the Company's investment, produced therefore a handsome surplus which almost covered the heavy deficit at Fort St. David where the revenues amounted to less than a third of the expenditure. There were certain revenues at Vizagapatam, but their produce is nowhere stated. If a small allowance is made for them, the three northern factories of Vizagapatam, Ingeram and Madapollam cost the Company about 10,000 pagodas a year, while the net deficit on Madras and Fort St. David amounted to 4,000 pagodas a year more. It should be remembered that these calculations include the exceptionally unfavourable years 1740 and 1741.

The Company's Europe investment consisted almost wholly of coarse and medium cloths provided at Fort St. David and the northern settlements, and fine cloths provided at Madras and Madapollam. The documents abstracted in the following pages fail to give a complete conspectus of the investment as a whole, for both the Company and its servants indulged freely in general statements in their despatches, further particularisation being needless in view of the invoices and other commercial papers which accompanied them. But William Monson, a member of Council about this time, tells us in a pamphlet published anonymously¹ that the total Coromandel investment amounted to about 5,000 bales a year, and represented an expenditure of about 500,000 pagodas, in the years 1744 and 1745. He adds that the investment increased about this time because the French were unable to complete for lack of funds². The tonnage would amount to about 1,250, at the usual rate of about 4 bales to the ton.

In 1734 an attempt had been made to increase the investment provided at Madras itself by establishing a weaving-village called Chintadripet on the outskirts of the city³. This experiment, however, proved a failure, just as a similar attempt did at Pondichery, probably because the increased cost of living exceeded the cost and risk of transport from inland districts. In former times Madras had been well-known for the chintz made there; that art still continued; and the Company regularly ordered a certain quantity of Bengal cloth to be sent down to be 'painted.' Besides this, the Madras districts supplied fine longcloth and salempores⁴ but the weaving industry was decaying⁵ the Madras merchants sent as far afield as Salem and Udaiyarpalaiyam, and the investment at the presidency headquarters relatively declined.

The Fort St. David investment was at this time the most considerable. It varied between 1740 and 1744 from 1,500 to 2,000 bales, drawn part from Salem and part from the weaving districts to the southward such as Chennappanayakanpalaiyam. The northern settlements were expected to supply a thousand bales or so; but they were frequently harassed by the demands of the local governors, who did not hesitate to stop their trade upon trifling pretexts. Masulipatam, in the previous century so great a commercial centre, had lamentably declined; and though both French and Dutch still maintained factories there, that of the English had long been closed, and the other nations do not seem to have enjoyed any great prosperity there. How far this decline was due to physical changes, how far to bad government and heavy impositions, does not appear; but it should be noted that when Imam Sahib, who was well known to the English, was appointed faujdar, trade thither was at once contemplated.

Except at the northern settlements, the Company's investment was provided by merchants who had formerly entered into contracts to provide cloth at stipulated prices. But shortly before 1740, another method was adopted at Fort St. David. The merchants bought on commission for the Company, and, at first at all events, the method seemed so successful that it was adopted at Madras as well. At the northern settlements the chiefs provided the cloth at their own risk, and had to dispose on their own account of cloth not accepted at Madras. An illustration of this is afforded by the account given of the affair in which Sanderson, Chief of Vizagapatam, attempted to bribe (or give a customary douceur to) Benyon when the latter became Governor. After offering Benyon a bag of pagodas, Sanderson is said to have proposed selling him his "turned-out cloth" for 2,000 pagodas under cost price.¹ It is evident that this opened a way to favouritism, if not to worse practices ; and it appears that, although this system was of long standing, it was unknown to the Company, who forbade it when they heard of it.

In 1741 the English succeeded in effecting a considerable currency reform. The specie actually used in the ordinary transactions of daily life was the fanam—a silver coin of which 36—42 went to the pagoda at Madras, a debased gold coin of which 24 went to the pagoda at Fort St. David. In 1740 however the Madras silver fanam was made current at the latter place¹. Wholesale transactions were settled by bags of pagodas. This was a gold coin valued at about 8s and different varieties of it were coined at many places in Southern India. All the European nations settled on the Coast enjoyed the privilege of minting it ; and it had commonly circulated in bags of 1,000, sealed by the shroff who made them up. This system was deranged by the great and progressive debasement of the pagoda in the country mints between 1720 and 1740. In 1720 the pagoda circulating in the Carnatic had been $8\frac{5}{8}$ matt, i.e., of 10 parts $8\frac{5}{8}$ were fine gold. In 1731 they had fallen to $8\frac{3}{8}$, in 1736 to $8\frac{1}{8}$ ². After this, the decline accelerated, and pagodas of 7 matt were common, and those even of 5 to be met with. In fact all regulation had vanished ; the mints coined pagodas of whatever touch the proprietor of the gold desired. In 1730 George Morton Pitt when Governor had introduced a new pagoda called the "MM" from its having those letters stamped upon it. This was abandoned in 1736 because it did not circulate in the country. In order to counteract the progressive debasement of the coin, the Madras shroffs were ordered to seal up no pagodas of a lower touch than $8\frac{1}{4}$. At the same time the general distrust of the pagoda was so great that small sums, even so low as 5 pagodas, were sealed up in bags. The shroffs however betrayed their trust and took to sealing up pagodas of inferior value. After a while this was discovered. Matters were at such a pass that the bankers agreed to co-operate with the Council in establishing a new coin, of exactly 8 matt, distinguished by a star on the granulated surface of the reverse. This was the famous star pagoda, which quickly became the standard coin of the South.

Another aspect of the currency question is frequently referred to in the following pages, and cannot be passed over without mention. All the silver sent to Bengal passed by way of Madras, where such proportion as the Council of Fort William desired was coined into Arcot and Madras rupees, the rest being forwarded in the form of bullion. When the Marathas were infesting Bengal, it was peculiarly necessary to coin a large part, if not the whole, of what was sent, as the Bengal mints were closed and the sale of bullion became a matter of difficulty.

At this time almost the whole of the bullion sent from England whether for Madras or for Bengal, was silver; and this was depreciating in value while gold was appreciating, a movement obscured by the progressive debasement of the pagoda. This was accentuated by a temporary movement of gold from Madras to Bengal, and this left the south so bare of pagodas that even large banking-houses like Bukanji's could not make payments in gold.¹ This was but partially compensated by small supplies of gold from China and the usual dribblets of gold-dust from the islands of the Malay Archipelago.

No. 3. LETTER FROM RICHARD BENYON TO THE COUNCIL AT FORT ST. GEORGE. JAN. 3, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 8-17 (9½).]

John Sanderson suing writer's dubash Narayanan regarding 2,000 Pags. alleged to have been given the dubash for Benyon on March 2, 1738. Benyon declares he never heard a word about the matter till Sanderson asked for its return, on Nov. 13, 1739. In Jan. 1736 Sanderson (Chief at Vizagapatam) sent by his dubash 1,000 Pags. as 'a compliment' to Benyon on his assuming the Governorship. Benyon received the money, fearing, if he returned it to the dubash, it would not be believed that he had done so; but in Feb. he wrote desiring Sanderson to send an order to Morse to receive the money, which might be done without Morse's knowing the occasion. Sanderson desired him to send the money by some vessel as 'less public.' This was done, and then Sanderson wrote that he had sent a sealed bag of new Madras Pags. but had only received back the value of 1,000 current Pags. Benyon declined to be answerable for the difference. In Jan. 1738 Sanderson came to Madras about the Vizagapatam investment, the Council resolving not to pay the prices of the year before. It was informally settled that he should return to Vizagapatam to try another season, and in partnership with Benyon he bought a French ship to be used in the Madras-Vizagapatam trade; she sailed for Vizagapatam Feb. 27, four days before the present of 2,000 Pags. is alleged to have been made. About the same time Sanderson offered Benyon his 'turned-out cloth' for 2,000 Pags. less than cost price, and, when that was refused, drew a cash account giving Benyon credit for 2,000 Pags. more than was due. Benyon then said plainly that he had not refused the 1,000 Pags. offered before because it was too little. Moreover when Benyon examined his dubash Narayanan on Nov. 13, 1739, about this alleged present, Narayanan denied all knowledge of it, while Sanderson varied his story, and admitted he had never mentioned the matter to Benyon though the present was delivered on March 2, 1738, and he did not leave Madras till Apr. 1.

In a dispute between some Pathans and the Nawab's son-in-law about their pay, some people were killed and wounded on both sides. Safdar Ali Khan has sent on his tents, etc., to Conjeveram, intending to go to Wandiwash with his family to see his mother, and from thence to Trichinopoly to take it from Chunda Sahib. Hirasat Khan (Nawab of Satghur), Haidar Yar Khan, Haidar Dil Khan, Safdar Husain Khan and others are preparing for an expedition. Khan Bahadur Ghulam Rasul Khan and Ghulam Nabi Khan are collecting stores and enlisting men. Tiruviti Balu Chetti, Sunku Muttu Rama and Lakshmana Rao are going to Madras shortly.

Are sending wares and packing stuff by the Shaftesbury, which needs about 89½ tons to fill her. Refer to instructions of Jan. 8, 1739, regarding the survey of warlike stores, and requiring a manifest of private trade, etc. The bales that remain over after lading the Shaftesbury are to be sent to Madras. No. 14. LETTER FROM JOHN SANDERSON. JAN. 8, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 30-31 (1½).]

Declares that he did send 2,000 Pags. to be paid to Benyon, though with no design of wronging the Company. Benyon's former refusals only proved that he disliked the 'manner' and not the 'matter.' Since he has not now received it, Sanderson can only sue his dubash for its recovery.

No. 18. CONSULTATION. JAN. 8, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 18-24 (7).]

Read letters from Fort St. David of Jan. 1 and 4, regarding Mr. Caesar's estate, the increase of their expenses, and desiring a supply of cash; from Vizagapatam of Dec. 24, announcing the despatch of the George; from Ingeram and Madapollam both of Dec. 24, announcing the despatch of bales; from Bombay of Dec. 4 desiring a supply of men; and from Tellicherry of Dec. 13, with shipping news, saying the Portuguese are hard-pressed by the Marathas and that Angria has taken the Bombay grab Ann. Agreed, that the garrison is too weak to spare men for Bombay. Accounts read. Price current to be forwarded to England. Read statement of revenues and expenses [No. 17]. Decrease in sea customs due to fall in price of grain which was only two-fifths in 1739 of what it was in 1738. 500 candies of lead to be sold. Joseph Wheeler, a time-expired soldier, discharged. John Sanderson takes oath that he sent 2,000 Pags. to Narayanan who afterwards (when conversing in the General Table Room Hall) admitted receiving them. Signed bills on England in return for coral for 29,543 Pags.; on account of covenanted servants for 9,065 Pags.; on account of free merchants, etc., for 3,679 Pags. Paddy to be delivered the soldiers at 18 merkals per pagoda.

No. 19. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 8, 1740. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 9 (I.O. trans.).]

Forward general books and annual papers. The year's investment has been provided by Nalla Tambi and Segappu Tambi, but on account of increased troubles in the country they have been allowed brokerage at 1 Pag. instead of $\frac{1}{2}$ a Pag. per corge on the 8 and 9 kals cloth. The Salem and ordinary cloth prove no dearer than last year and the Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth $\frac{3}{8}$ of a Pag. per corge cheaper; Salem cloth however has risen latterly owing to the rise in the value of fanams at Salem. The merchants have already brought in 1,023 bales, and 300 ox-loads are on their way from Salem and Udaiyarpalaiyam. The year's investment will amount to 1,500 bales. The Salem investment was obstructed by difficulties with Nanjan Chetti, who has been granted a monopoly of coining fanams and making cloth at Salem. He is compelling everybody to take his fanams at $23\frac{1}{2}$ per Pag. and will probably insist on a cloth commission presently. Could only get 3 bales of soot romals in entire pieces of 15 handkerchiefs. The rest was in pieces of 12 or 14 with extra handkerchiefs stitched on, and it was thought this would not do for England. Have provided 15 bales of the fine cloth of 12 kals and 6 bales of the 10 kals cloth. The brokerage allowed is $1\frac{3}{4}$ Pag. per corge for the fine cloth of 12 and 15 kals and 1 Pag. for that of 10 kals. No fine cloth at 75 Pags. per corge or middling at 45 was taken; the looms had to be set specially (as no one else buys these sorts) and the quality was poor. The customs have fallen by 622 Pags. on account of the decreased demand for blue cloth and paintings at Mocha and Manilla, and no sandal-wood having been provided for China. The charges for the year amount to 25,129 Pags., an increase of 639 Pags. Have finished repairs to the gateway of the Main Guard and the Ensigns' lodgings. Building the Powder Magazine was postponed to permit making the Fort defensible against the Marathas. No new debts were contracted or old ones paid off. The covenanted servants are the same as last year, except that Michell went up to Madras on May 12, and that Thomas Cooke Junior was appointed monthly writer on 10 Pags. a month. Forward the rolls of the military, etc. Are very short of Europeans of whom a large number would be required in case of the Maratha troubles. 30 additional topasses and 70 peons have been entertained. The French have 2 ships intended for France but not yet laded.

No. 24. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY BY THE SHAFTESBURY.
 JAN. 15, 1740. [Coast and Bay Abstracts, Vol. 4, pp. 291-298.
 (I.O. trans.).]

Shipping news. The Duke of Lorraine carried to China only sandal and redwood; tin was too dear. The best way of trading to China is for a ship to lade pepper, sandalwood and cotton on the Malabar Coast and call at Madras for tin, etc. This would discourage the French and Macao men. The Pegu-built sloops are costly; in future will have them built at Bombay. Off Ganjam the Sea Horse was nearly sinking; so she landed the 10,000 Pags. aboard her which was brought safe to Vizagapatam. Have written to Bengal for tonnage of 2,400 bales as no Sept. ship could be sent. Bought one lakh of Arcot rupees and 50,000 Pags. worth of Manilla silver for Bengal. Have sold 400 candies of lead at Pags. 11-21-30 per candy; 2 bales of culjeed flannels at 100 % advance. The Madeira sold for Pags. 61-25-70 (100 pipes a year will be enough); 400 candies of lead at Pags. 11-17-35, 150 at 12 Pags. and 100 at 11¾ Pags. per candy; and iron at 10 Pags. Indent for 1,500 candies of lead. 'French yellowes' are not liked at Arcot. Have not even 600 good arms in the garrison. Russia duck is preferred to British sail cloth though the latter is better and more substantial. Popinjay embossed cloth is better liked than the emerald green. All the broadcloth of 1738 and 200 bales of 1737 were sold to Mahalinga Krishna, etc.; the Town is barely clear of the large parcels which came out 6 years ago; want only 400 bales. Silver coined into Arcot rupees yields a profit of 17 % more than in Madras rupees. Merchants have lost by the calico contracts and so would not engage at the old prices. As the brokerage system at Fort St. David has increased the investment, have engaged the Madras merchants on the same system, they to run the risk of the money and goods for 1 Pag. per corge for ordinary and middling and 1¾ for fine longcloth. Have agreed with Tambi Chetti etc. to accept 5,000 Pags. a year till their debt is paid off. Have engaged for fine goods on the brokerage system also. The French regard neither lengths nor breadths. A few chay goods are contracted for; soot romals ordered to be 15 in a piece. Have agreed to pay 5 Pags. a corge more to painters for fuller chintz. Have received 400 bales from Madapollam, 409 from Ingeram, and 341 from Vizagapatam. The northern Nawabs impede the currency of Madras pagodas. Merchants urged to bring in more ordinary cloths; only reject what is worse than a No. 4. Had nine sortments of cloths—Salem, Udaiyarpalaiyam and ordinary, with Nos. 1 to 3 in each. Now have a No. 4 in each. The Dutch at Bimlipatam have made a very large investment, while the French at Yanam have bought one lakh of Pags. worth of cloth which affects both Ingeram and Vizagapatam. Pegu saltpetre loses five-eighths. Trade so bad at Basra that no ship has been sent thither, the markets there and at Mocha being overstocked. Rice sells from 30 to 40 Pags. per garse. Trade this year consists of, 1 ship to Manilla, 1 to Malacca, 2 to Persia, and 1 to Surat; another will be sent to Manilla. Angria has taken 2 Bombay ships. Nadir Shah's invasion. Expect an invasion of the Marathas. Have carried on the walls from Queen's Point to Caldera Point, and will next proceed to that from the New Point to the Blockhouse. Gun-carriages have been made or repaired; and a number of topasses enlisted. At Fort St. David have ordered a new work between the Cuddalore North East Point and the river. Want arms. Attempts made to prevent 'the adulteration' of pagodas. Have ordered Vizagapatam to repair their fortifications and gun-carriages. The Garden-house (where great Moors and Gentues are received) bought for the Company for 500 Pags. The new Powder house is completed, and one ordered to be erected at Fort St. David. Fall in the variable revenues. Have turned out the Mint Brahmans and goldsmiths for their tricks, and engaged with Linga Chetti for one year. Simpson went as Chief to Vizagapatam on Feb. 14; Richard Prince has been sent to Ingeram. Edmund Harris returned to Fort St. David; Edward Michell placed under the Export Warehousekeeper; William Gibson, Surgeon at Vizagapatam, has died. 232 Pags. paid into cash on account of Legh Denny's estate and 280 Pags. for Robert Cæsar's. The consultations have not been regularly signed by the President as he was laid up with sore-eyes for several months. Lieut. Morgan is senior to Lieut. Amyand. Need more covenanted servants. There are at present 16 at Madras, 2 at Fort St. David, and 1 at Madapollam, whereas there should be 33, of whom 2 or 3 must be good accountants. The established number (204) of Europeans in garrison is not enough. 2 Pags. allowed a month to maintain a soldier's child. The allowance to Lieut. Horne's wife was discontinued on his death. Demand from Bengal on Capt. Joyes' estate of Rs. 208. The case of John Sanderson versus Benyon's dubash. Desire that needy persons be not allowed to come into India from St. Helena. Sanderson and William Boothby take their passage home. Three keys are put on the treasury and 3 on the cash chest. Certificate granted for 863 Pags. on account of the estate of John Lardner and for 3,000 Pags. to Capt. Kemeys. Sumatra affairs.

Supplement: On Nov. 10 in a storm on the Malabar Coast, a galley and two grabs foundered. The Marathas have entered Cuddapah. The French have landed and settled at Karikal. Indent for 50 bales more of blue and yellow cloth. Diamonds, etc., registered by the Shaftesbury amount to 27,641 Pags. and by the Normanton, 48,883 Pags.; Capt. Kemeys' private trade, 240 Pags.

P.S. —The bills of exchange drawn on the Company amount to 1,64,177 Pags. [Augustus Burton dissents from the statements regarding the China trade, and the relative standing of Morgan and Amyand.]

A large quantity of cloth is expected from Salem and Udaiyarpalaiyam, which will make the whole investment rather more than 1,500 bales. Forward duplicates of annual papers, etc., together with lists of the French contracts for 1739, bullion imported at Pondichery, and cargoes sent to Europe, as fully as can be ascertained.

A certain man named Muhammad Khan seized the estate of Lal Khan though left by will to the writer, Lal Khan's brother; and when the Nawab of Cuddapah made the writer Faujdar of Chidambaram, Muhammad Khan carried off Lal Khan's goods to Fort St. David, and Mutyalu, the Dubash, refuses to surrender them. Desires an order for their restitution. [See No. 308].

Read letters from Fort St. David of Jan. 26 and 29, advising that they had made a present to Safdar Ali and must do the same to the Nawab and Husain Ali Khan. Resolved to send 3 pieces of velvet and 2 pieces of embossed cloth to 'help them out.' Accounts read. Agreed to supply the Duke of Lorraine 40 or 50 tons of saltpetre more than the charterparty proportion at £12-16-8 per ton freight. Naval stores to be sent aboard the Princess Augusta. She is to be despatched tomorrow. 8 chests of rupees and 12 of bullion to be sent to Bengal on the Pembroke. Cash balance, 182,420 current and 872 Madras Pags. Advances made. - No. 52. LETTER TO JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 5, 1740. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, p. 16 (1).]

Acknowledge letters of Jan. 21, 26 and 29, and 225 bales of calicoes by the Mary brigantine. Will send embossed cloth and velvets for presents to Husain Ali Khan, the Nawab's youngest son, as the country about Fort St. David is under him and the Nawab's sons demand more court than the Nawab himself. Believe that the Nawab has left Alambarai for Arcot.

- No. 53. LETTER FROM JOHN SAVAGE, SECRETARY, TO JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 5, 1740. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, pp. 16-17 (1/4).]

- No. 59. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 9, 1740. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 12, pp. 12-14 (2).]

Regarding the new investment, agreed to admit Irusappa Chetti as a Company's merchant. He with Nalla Tambi and Segappu Tambi propose to supply by the end of Jan. next 3,000 bales; (1,000 Salem longcloth, 1,000 Chennappanayakanpalaiyam longcloth, 1,000 other sorts) on condition that advances be made of 50,000 Pags. and that no agents of the Madras merchants be allowed to buy goods at Salem, Chennappanayakanpalaiyam and Udaiyarpalaiyam. The price of fanams at Salem is said to be established at $23\frac{1}{2}$ per pagoda by Nanjan Chetti, instead of $245/8$ to 25. Resolved to propose that English and French cease purchasing cloth at Salem for one year to bring down the price of fanams. Read letter from Madras of Feb. 5 [No. 52].

No. 60. CONSULTATION. FEB. 11, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 68—71 ($3\frac{1}{2}$).]

Read letter from Vizagapatam of Jan. 14, desiring cash, etc., and saying they cannot judge of the investment till the cotton crop is gathered. Agreed on reply, as in letter of Feb. 14 [No. 63]. Resolved to pay 100 Pags. to Richard Stevens for assisting the supracargoes of the Duke of Lorraine. The Storekeeper to entertain a monthly writer to assist him. Payments received. Bill of exchange signed for 578 Pags.

No. 61. LETTER FROM CHUNDA SAHIB AT TRICHINOPOLY. RECD. FEB. 13, 1740. [C.C., Vol. 1, pp. 6-7 ($1\frac{1}{4}$). Printed copy, p. 4.]

Venkatachari, a Brahman, carried away to Fort St. David precious stones (worth several lakhs) belonging to the King of Trichinopoly; and first Mutyalu hid him in a banyan's house; and then, when the hiding place was discovered, Chunda Sahib's people were not allowed to seize him. Chunda Sahib at first resolved to send troops to punish this affront. Unless the Brahman is at once surrendered their old friendship will cease.

No. 62. CONSULTATION. FEB. 14, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 72-73 (2).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Feb. 9, regarding the merchants' proposal to bring in 3,000 bales of cloth. Agreed on answer of Feb. 15 [No. 65]. Resolved to send 20,000 Pags. to Fort St. David. The inspection of the Duke of Lorraine ordered. The Warehousekeeper is directed to send on board her arrack and rice for St. Helena. The Export Warehousekeeper has bought 130 garse of paddy at 22 Pags. a garse.

No. 63. LETTER TO CHARLES SIMPSON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. FEB. 14, 1740. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, pp. 18-19 ($1\frac{1}{2}$). Torn.]

Acknowledge accounts and letter of [Jan. ?] 14. There can be no immediate need for 20,000 Rs. as the balance of rupees by last account was over 80,000. Will send Madras pagodas as soon as they can be [procured?]. White cloth is too much congeed. Thomas Saunders, appointed Second at Vizagapatam, sails by this ship (?). The Company have ordered cash to be locked up under three keys kept by the Chief and the two next in Council, and the balance to be produced monthly. But the Chief may keep 5,000 Rs. and 2,000 Pags. All inhabitants to be allowed to trade freely, and justice must be impartial. When any person is confined or placed under peons, the cause must be reported at a consultation held within three days. Thomas Pitt may receive the same allowances for diet, etc., as servants at Ingeram.

No. 64. LETTER TO CHUNDA SAHIB. FEB. 14, 1740. [C.C., Vol. 1, pp. 7-9 (2¼). Printed copy, p. 5.]

About 20 days ago Senhora Estra, wife of Francisco Pereira, came into Devanampattanam with some people from Pondichery and the latter seized the Brahman [See No. 61] at night. A tumult arose in which the Brahman escaped. Instead of apologising, the lady abused Hubbard, and the next night sent 20 men to break open certain houses. Hubbard therefore ordered them out of the bounds, believing them to be merely Francisco Pereira's servants, as, had they been Chunda Sahib's, he believed Chunda Sahib would have written to him. Has now ordered Hubbard to deliver the Brahman to Chunda's people if he is still in the English bounds.

No. 65. LETTER TO JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 15, 1740. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, p. 20 (1). Damaged.]

Acknowledge letter of Feb. 9 [See No. 59]. The merchants did so well last year that they will probably fulfil their proposals to bring in 3,000 bales of cloth by the end of Jan. next. Agree to the advance demanded of 50,000 Pags., as Irusappa Chetti is joined with the two other merchants. But only 3,000 pieces of bluecloth may be received. Regarding Salem cloth, it is disadvantageous that fanams have risen from $24\frac{5}{8}$ or 25 to $23\frac{1}{2}$ per pagoda, but this is more probably due to the debasing of the pagodas of this province than to any engrossing. Doubt whether it is worthwhile to suspend the investment as the Company is pleased with the cloth and the French merchants cannot be trusted to observe any agreement as soon as they have any money. Will endeavour to draw off the Madras merchants' agents from Salem, Chennapanayakanpalaiyam and Udaiyarpalaiyam.

- No. 66. LETTER FROM JOHN SAVAGE, SECRETARY, TO JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 15, 1740. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, p. 21 (1/4).]

Sends 20,000 Pags.

- No. 67. CONSULTATION. FEB. 18, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 74-76 (2 3/4).]

Read letters from Fort St. David of Feb. 13 and 15, regarding bales and indents for stores. Accounts read. Bills of exchange signed for 1,719 Pags. Advances made. The shortage of the Duke of Lorraine's tutenague, probably due to reckoning the pecul at 132 1/2 lbs., whereas it only averages 131 1/2 to 132 lbs., referred to England. Certificates granted for 17,617 Pags. (Capt. Crompton's adventure) and 686 Pags. (estate of John Lardner, late Chief Mate). Crompton being too sick to write is permitted to deliver his manifest of private trade at St. Helena. The Duke of Lorraine is reported capable of a good resistance. Read and signed general letter to England, dated Feb. 19 [No. 69].

- No. 68. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 18, 1740. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 12, pp. 14-16 (1 1/2).]

- No. 69. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY [BY THE DUKE OF LORRAINE]. FEB. 19, 1740. [Coast and Bay Abstracts, Vol. 4, pp. 299-300 (I.O. trans.).]

Shipping news. The Princess Augusta has brought from Bengal 1,000 bags saltpetre and 414 bales for Europe; 600 more bales expected. Tin, etc., will be purchased for China this year. Have laded bales instead of 374 chests of Bohea tea, which will be shipped in Sept. Have sent to the Bay 22 chests of bullion, 28 chests rupees and 672 candies of tutenague. Have sold 500 candies of lead at Pags. 11-27-72 per candy. Coined 14,772 Pags. worth of fanams on which the Company gained 568 Pags. 130 garse of paddy bought for the garrison at 22 Pags. per garse. It is cheap at Madras though scarce to the southward. The chay goods sent are better coloured but dearer; send also one bale of fine dimities. After this ship's despatch will have 1,000 bales at Madras, 600 at Fort St. David, 374 chests of tea (equal to 550 bales) and 1,000 received or expected from Bengal; so expect to lade two Sept. ships. The Fort St. David merchants propose to bring in 3,000 bales by Jan. The Nawab's son was given presents worth 632 Pags. at Fort St. David. Cornelius Goodwin is Sub-Accountant; and Thomas Saunders, Second at Vizagapatam. Shortage of 17 candies tutenague. Have drawn bills on the Company for 1,776 Pags. Capt. Crompton has paid in 17,617 Pags. as his adventure and 686 Pags. on account of John Lardner's estate, for which certificates have been granted. Crompton's private trade to be manifested at St. Helena. The Duke of Lorraine's invoice amounts to 1,25,890 Pags.; and that to St. Helena 164 Pags. Diamonds registered amount to 4,218 Pags.

No. 70. LETTER FROM RAVINUTALA ADIYAPPA, SPY AT CUDDAPAH. RECD. FEB. 21, 1740. [C.C., Vol. I, pp. 9-11 (2). Printed copy, pp. 5-6.]

Sahu Raja has returned to Satara from 'Merchy.' He and Baji Rao are reconciled. Baji Rao has ordered Yassaji, Kusaji, Fatteh Singh and Raghoji Bhonsla to march with 60,000 horse into the S.E. countries. They are now at Gundamettukal and Narayanapeta. Lingampalli (near Golconda) and many other towns have been plundered. Nasir Jang has therefore set out with an army from Aurangabad and intends to meet and confer with his friend Baji Rao. Baji Rao will then continue his march and Nasir Jang will proceed to Nandair [?]. Fatteh Singh, etc., are now 20 leagues from Cuddapah. Another army of 30,000 horse under Siddhoji is in movement. The Great Moghal has gone to Panipat leaving Nizam-ul-mulk at Delhi. Some time before Nadir Shah reached Delhi, Nizam-ul-mulk got permission to send Gurodars with farmans and presents to the Nawabs of the Dekhan. Owing to the troubles he did not do so, but they have since been sent to the Nawabs of Kurnool, Adoni and Cuddapah. At the last place they were handsomely received by Nalla Husain Khan, the Nawab's Deputy. The Gurodars have now gone to Tahir Khan at Sirpi. The Nawab is likely to visit Nasir Jang if the latter comes to Golconda, and recently sent a jamaidar thither.

No. 71. LETTER FROM RAVINUTALA ADIYAPPA, SPY AT PANNA. RECD. FEB. 24, 1740. [C.C., Vol. I, pp. 11-12 (1): Printed copy, pp. 6-7.]

The Marathas have plundered Golconda, burnt some houses and carried away many prisoners. Half the army under Fatteh Singh, etc. [See No. 70] are reported to have plundered some villages belonging to Aurangabad. Nasir Jang is no longer going to Golconda. Siddhoji has left his son with Sahu Raja, and received a command of 40,000 horse under Fattch Singh. The armies of Raghoji Bhonsla are certainly going to visit the Carnatic. The Nawab of Arcot has posted guards at all the passes to intercept letters. So the writer has left Cuddapah.

- No. 83. LETTER FROM COJA PETRUS TO IMAM SAHIB. MARCH 5, 1740. [C.C., Vol. 1, pp. 14-15 (1). Printed copy, p. 8.]

The European Companies always forbid their servants to act without authority. The English have always had liberty to coin gold rupees at Madras; but owing to the dearness of gold, they have not coined mohurs for some time, and never do so unless they can get a profit by it; they have recently coined some for Bengal.

- No. 84. CONSULTATION. MARCH 6, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 84-93 (9 1/2).]

Read letters from Vizagapatam of Feb. 13, reporting that the troubles prevent any judgment of the bales likely to be obtained; and from Ingeram of Feb. 18 and 20, regarding the troubles and the French pagodas. The Accountant reports on the extraordinary expenses at Fort St. David and Vizagapatam. Packing stuff to be purchased as that received from Bengal is insufficient. Instructions regarding Ingeram cloth. The longcloth should be 72 covids long and 2 and 6 inches broad; salem pores 32 long and 2¼ broad. 'O chop' cloth (the measurement of which is specified in the invoices) may be received; but complaints regarding standard sorts must be avoided. If possible he should get 1,000 pieces of the izarees, fine longcloth and salem pores, musters of which he takes with him. Brown cloth may be sent in Aug. but the Dec. cloth must be cured. When writing he should specify how much of each sort is embaled, at the washers and brown. He is not to detain the Calcutta sloop which will take him to Ingeram. Andrews writes that he has procured a letter from Nizam-ul-mulk's Diwan to Anwar-ud-din Khan saying that no batta will be taken at Golconda on the Company's pagodas and that none should be taken in Rajahmundry and Chicacole. Prince carries a letter to Anwar-ud-din from Benyon to the same effect.

No. 95. LETTER TO JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID.
MARCH 17, 1740. [*Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, pp. 28-30 (2).
Torn.*]

Acknowledge letters of Feb. 13 and 15, and March 3, also 229 bales of calico by the Mary brigantine. Have no cartridge paper in store but will purchase some. Have discussed the proposal of the Fort St. David merchants that no agents from Madras should be employed at Chennappanayakanpalaiyam, Udaiyarpalaiyam, etc. The Dutch, Danes and people from Porto-Novo provide cloth there as well as the English and the French. So the weavers are sure of employment. Believe the pagodas this year are worse than they were last year. 'Our sealed bags' are kept as near as possible to 80 touch, but these bags carry $1\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{2}$ % batta. Believe a large quantity of poor pagodas have been lately coined. Besides, the merchants say that if they cannot get cloth in Salem, they do not know where to make an investment, for cloth from the other places is much worse. Believe that to be true, and advantage should be taken of the French lacking money. [Page torn.] Doubt whether the Madras merchants really interfere with the Fort St. David merchants' purchases.

Sends Nadir Shaw's picture as a present for Benyon. The Moghal has sent Nizam-ul-mulk and Kamr-ud-din Khan a Koran and saropa each. The Englishman who came to Arcot and was secured by Dr. Gordon at his house has escaped and cannot be found. Dr. Gordon, who was surety for him, should be arrested if he comes to Madras. Benyon should have written to Nawab Ali Dost Khan about this affair. Imam Sahib's people who were sent in search of this man report that he escaped by boat to Pondichery and went thence to Fort St. David. Nothing is known about the other deserter. Has ordered Alaf Khan to pay his debt to Muttukumara Pillai. The Madras merchants should have no dealings with Pathan merchants, who are bankrupt and dishonest.

The merchants are informed that the Madras gumastas will not be withdrawn from Salem, etc., but promise to bring all the cloth they can though it cannot be near so much as otherwise. Husain Ali Khan, the Nawab's youngest son, refused to accept a present as none was sent when he was at Tiruviti last Oct. (when Safdar Ali was expected but did not come), and because the English did not deliver to him a Trichinopoly Brahman on his demand. Resolved to refer this to Madras. The merchants report that 10,000 Pags. for Salem have been stopped at Ulundur because cloth is being sent by another juncan place. Agreed to report this to Madras.

Appended is salary account for half-year ending March 1740.

Believe Husain Ali Khan will not venture on actual hostilities; though he may bluster, he is sure to consult the Nawab who will write first to Fort St. George. Chunda Sahib seems to have a prior demand on the Trichinopoly Brahman; so the latter cannot be delivered to Husain Ali Khan till Chunda Sahib has withdrawn his claim; but it is not clear whether he should be delivered to either. Fort St. David should be on the alert, but should not appear to be. If Husain Ali Khan really begins any attacks, will get the affair stopped by the Nawab. Are anxious to know about the 10,000 Pags. stopped at Ulundur.

Hoadley, of Apr. 10, 1740, stating that the risk of loss in landing is negligible, that the Council's advice would in any case cover his responsibility, but that the Council is not authorized to give orders.

The Left-hand caste complain that on Apr. 20, dubash Venkatachalam of the Right-hand caste broke up a wedding at the house of Irusappa Chetti of the Left-hand. Venkatachalam left the bounds with several others. One Pedda Nayak was sent to settle the matter, but he was seized and carried off. The heads of both castes are ordered to draw up petitions stating their cases. A proclamation issued prohibiting any of the Right-hand caste from joining Venkatachalam on pain of forfeiture, and offering pardon to all returning within three days.

No. 124. PETITION OF THE LEFT-HAND CASTES TO THE DEPUTY GOVERNOR AT FORT ST. DAVID. APR. 24, 1740. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 12, pp. 35-36 (1½).]

The castes were separated and their procession-bounds marked out when Sher Khan 'repeopled' Cuddalore. In Hastings' time a Right-hand marriage passed along a Left-hand street near the Brahman Gate, and it was then ordered that both parties might pass along an alley near the Brahman Gate as far as the Chidambaram Gate. Five years ago people of the Left-hand caste sold Arunachala Chetti (of the Right-hand caste) a house in the said Left-hand street; and contrary to custom Arunachala Chetti erected a pandal there; the Left-hand caste remonstrated, but in vain; and so the Left-hand marriage procession passed through it on their way along the street; on this the Right-hand castes stopped the marriage.

The Left-hand caste present their petition [No. 124]; but the Right-hand declare they must consult those now outside the bounds, and are given one more day. They agree that if the matter is not made up Irusappa Chetti may finish the wedding.

No. 126. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. APR. 26, 1740.
[F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 12, pp. 36-38 (2½).]

The Right-hand castes attend and state that they cannot come to an agreement unless Venkatachalam is pardoned, and that the dispute was due to Irusappa Chetti's using a palankin 'with a white covering to the pingaree and white cloth cullices' and his procession passing through a Right-hand pandal. Irusappa Chetti, etc., on the other hand admit that they should not have used the palankin, but it was borrowed from Ranga Pillai of Pondichery. They are ready to make reasonable concessions; but protest that the Right-hand pandal should never have been put up. Agreed that the Deputy Governor may settle the matter if possible; but that Venkatachalam should only be pardoned in case the Right-hand castes should be likely to leave the town, which would stop all business.

Read letters from Bengal of March 3 and 10, regarding shipping news etc.; from Fort St. David of Apr. 3, desiring a supply of money; from Vizagapatam of March 26, reporting the present made to their new Nawab; from Ingeram of Apr. 6, stating it is not expected the Nawab will remove the batta on Madras pagodas, that Prince hopes to supply most of the fine goods, and that the French are making a large investment; and from Madapollam of Apr. 10, forwarding accounts. Accounts read. 30 wooden horses to be made for bales in the warehouse. Payments received and advances made. Silver to be bought for 3,000 Pags. to coin fanams. Sale of lead ordered. The Princess Augusta to be sent to the Bay with redwood, 12 bales green broadcloth etc. Benyon has heard from Imam Sahib that the Marathas are expected. As there are not forces enough in the province to repel them, the repairs, etc., ordered on Aug. 14, 1739 are to be pressed on especially the wall from the New Point to the Block-house and a palisade of redwood thence to the sea, else it will be easy for an enemy to enter the Black Town. Resolved to buy up the tin in Madras and St. Thomé, lately arrived from Junk Ceylon at 39 Pags. a candy for the China ship. This will help to prevent the French from sending a ship from Pondichery this season. Last year tin fetched 13 tael a pecul in China. Also agreed to buy 200-300 bales of Surat cotton at 24 Pags. a Madras candy, as this is a profitable article in China. The purchase of sandalwood is deferred till the arrival of ships from the Malabar Coast.

Appended are:—(1) statement of extraordinary expenses for March 1740; (2) account sale of condemned stores—paper, lanterns, cordage, etc., realising 735 Pags.; and (3) account of sundries worn out and written off, valued at 135 Pags.

The stories of their violence are false. If two or three gentlemen would come out to them, would be able to explain their grievance.

Read petition [No. 131] addressed to the Second and Council. Mutyalu [dubash] was then examined, and declares he advised Venkatachalam to submit the matter to the Deputy Governor, etc.

No. 133. LETTER FROM SAMA RAO, VAKIL AT ARCOT. RECD. MAY 4, 1740. [C.C., Vol. I, pp. 20-24 (2¾). Printed copy, pp. 11-13.]

On Apr. 24, Venkaji Pant (Baji Rao's vakil) told the Nawab that Fatteh Singh and Raghoji had robbed Baji Rao of the honour of collecting the Carnatic tribute. The current news is as follows:—Fatteh Singh and Raghoji have exacted from the Nawab of Kandanur 60,000 Rs. and 2 elephants, but not being satisfied have taken much plunder; Morari Ghorpadê has plundered many villages near Raichur; Vela Kondama Nayak has seized and plundered several Sarkar villages. Cuddapah is deserted. The Marathas have plundered Nandyal, but 7 elephants belonging to Imam Sahib were hidden in the Srisailem forest. The Marathas are likely to quarter during the rains at Seringapatam or Polevar. On Apr. 27, the Nawab ordered his baggage and artillery to march out of Arcot. Sometime since he wrote to Safdar Ali Khan for help; but the latter replied that his troops were too few to oppose the Marathas and that as the Marathas had already plundered Cuddapah they were not likely to enter Arcot. Mir Asad is about to march for the Damalcheruvu Pass, and the Nawab will follow. Rumoured defeat of Nadir Shah near Attock. The Marathas demand 14 lakhs of rupees, and say that Safdar Ali asked their help to destroy Chunda Sahib. They also require that Tanjore should be restored to its lawful King. Nasir Jang has arrived with 50,000 men at Kalburga and will stay there 4 months. The Nawab has sent Ajit Singh with 700 horse to Damalcheruvu. The Marathas will shortly go to Tanjore. Abd-ul Nabi Khan has sent his family to Gandikota and Siddhout, he himself remaining at Cuddapah. When the Marathas demanded tribute he replied they might take it on the battlefield, on which they plundered the villages around Gandikota fort, Tadpatri and Yadiiki. All the inhabitants are leaving Arcot. On Apr. 29, the kettle drums beat to announce the Nawab's intention to take the field. Johar Khan has sent his family to Alambara. Vela Kondama Nayak is plundering people going to the Conjeveram festival.

Appended are (1) cash account for Apr. 1740; and (2) list of useless stores, stationery, cordage, etc., dated Apr. 19, 1740.

No. 135. CONSULTATION MAY 12, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 141-144 (3¼).]

Benyon reports the deaths of Nawab Dost Ali Khan, his son Husain Ali and other persons in the engagement with the Marathas at the 'pass of the hills' between Arcot and Cuddapah on May 9. Safdar Ali Khan with 3,000 horse is believed to be taking refuge at Vellore. As the garrison is too small to defend the out-choultries built to protect the suburbs, the guns in them are to be nailed up so as not to alarm the inhabitants by bringing them in. All Europeans and topasses obtainable to be enlisted. As there are 200 guns mounted on the walls and the gunner's crew being only 100, 200 lascars to be raised and 100 peons. The Poligar is to raise 200 additional taliaries. Read letter from Tellicherry of Apr. 28, regarding freight on the Bermudas sloop. Ordered that anchors, etc., needed by her be furnished. Agreed to send the Princess Augusta and the Bermudas sloop to the Bay for saltpetre or rice, and to send stores on the Enterprise to Vizagapatam. Owing to the general panic resolved to postpone the sale of lead. Ordered that the Pedda Nayak's cowl granted in 1706 be recopied on parchment and given to him. Benyon will employ as many harkaras as are needed to obtain news of the Marathas' movements.

No. 136. LETTER FROM SAMA RAO, VAKIL AT ARCOT. RECD. MAY 13, 1740. [C.C. Vol. 1, pp. 24-25 (1½). Printed copy, p. 13.]

On May 6, Safdar Ali Khan arrived at Lalapettai with 3,000 horse and 1,000 Kallars, having detached 2,000 horse under Ghulam Husain Khan to seize the Salem passes. Chunda Sahib is said to have reached Mannurpetta with 5,000 horse, and to be marching north. Abd-ul Nabi Khan has made peace with the Marathas for 2 lakhs of rupees and 2 elephants. Bangaru Yachama Nayak, Mir Asad, etc., have breached the 'Pelie tank' to distress the Marathas for water. Some of the latter are advancing by the Guvalacheruvu pass which Abd-ul Nabi has opened; others are at Chengamore, Nellore and Tadpatri; but their Commander-in-chief lies with 15,000 horse at Hussanapuram. They are 50,000 strong. Nasir Jang is believed to have proposed their inroad; and Shahji is in their camp. Nasir Jang is coming hither to demand 6 years' tribute amounting to 60 lakhs of rupees.

No. 137. LETTER FROM GHULAM MUHAMMAD, VAKIL AT ARCOT. RECD. MAY 13, 1740. [C.C., Vol. 1, pp. 25-26 (1). Printed copy, p. 14.]

Nasir Jang is said to have reached the Kistna with 20,000 horse, and in secret encourages the Gunynis, being displeased at the retention of the produce of his jaghirs and at the seizure of Trichinopoly and the revolution in Tanjore. Safdar Ali was marching to join his father with 5,000 horse, but at Bakarapet hearing of the battle fled to Vellore. Mir Asad, Husain Ali Khan and the Nawab are reported slain, and Johar Khan wounded. Arcot is deserted by all including the new vakil.

Benyon reports that 15 or 20 thousand Marathas are plundering Lalapettai, Arcot, etc. As there is little Europe powder and only 500 good muskets, agreed to land 10 barrels of gunpowder and the 8 chests of firearms from the Royal Guardian. Grant commissions to William Monson as Captain, John Stratton as Lieutenant, and John Hallyburton as Ensign, as the European inhabitants will have to be put under arms.

Appended is letter to Captain Hoadley of May 17, ordering him to land gunpowder and firearms.

In the battle at the Damalcheruvu Pass, one division of the Nawab's troops and his artillery were posted in the Pass and the rest were in reserve. The Marathas attacked the Pass with 10,000 and sent another 10,000 along a difficult and thorny passage to the eastward under the guidance of Chicka Rayalu, Raja of Punganur. So they attacked the Nawab's advanced body in front and his reserves in flank. They are said to have 4,000 musketeers who fire after the European manner. Killed—Nawab Dost Ali Khan, Husain Ali Khan, Johar Khan, etc.; wounded—Mir Asad, Taqi Sahib, etc.; prisoners—Hirasat Khan, Bangaru Yachama Nayak. The Marathas then plundered the Moghal camp, and Bhaskara Rao, etc., pursued Safdar Ali Khan to Vellore. Bhaskara Rao is now at Ranipet with 4,000 horse. The Marathas are said to be awaiting orders from Nasir Jang who is on this side of the Kistna. It is reported that Baji Rao's mother and wife have come to Tirupati. 300 or 400 Maratha horse in the Moghal service mutinied and plundered Conjeveram, Sriperumbudur and other places as far as Tirupati, robbing and beating the inhabitants and travellers. For safety's sake the writer only travels by jungle paths and is disguised as a fakir. Reports of guns have been heard from Arcot. Will go thither and report what happens there.

Read letters from Bombay of Apr. 28, regarding the Prince William; and from Tellicherry of May 2 and 6, regarding the Royal Guardian and the Prince William. Capt. Langworth of the Prince William was ordered yesterday to land his goods. Redwood to be sent on board for the Bay. Accounts read. Difficult to get information of the Marathas, but they have plundered Conjeveram and villages between Arcot and Madras. They are believed to have sent 20 spies to the sea-coast to learn what fresh water there is in the rivers and tanks. People are coming in from Trivellore where a party of Maratha horse is plundering. Capt. Langworth ordered to send ashore 18 men returning from Bombay to Bengal and 20 of his crew. They will receive a dram of arrack morning and evening when on duty. Pistol powder to be bought of Capt. Langworth. Straw huts within 14 feet of the Black Town walls on the north to be removed, after being valued by the Chief Bricklayer and Carpenter. Has ordered the delivery of 10,000 Pags. detained at Ulundur. Wrote formerly that the Marathas were coming and that forces could not be raised to oppose them. Now Nasir Jang is expected hourly, and the Marathas intend returning to their country. Will visit Nasir Jang on his arrival. Compliments.

Acknowledge letters of Apr. 30, May 21 and 31 and June 3. Arrival of the Mary brigantine with bales on the 3rd. The fanams coined for Fort St. David will be sent on the Mary as the roads are infested by Moors' horse and parties of poligars; can furnish neither men for the defence of the place nor stores till Europe ships arrive; as many 'useful' men as possible may be taken. Regret that so needful a work as the ditch round Fort St. David remains to be executed. The Marathas, though they are said to have come to terms, are likely to reappear; therefore the ditch may be set about at once. One serjeant and three corporals may be added to each company.

Hoxton is to explain why he has put in here. Resolved to send 20 peons from Madras to be assisted by another 20 men from Fort St. David to escort 250 ox-loads of cloth from Salem to Cuddalore, and to send by these peons 3,000 Pags. worth of fanams to Fort St. David. Appended is the letter from Capt. Hoxton, as above.

- No. 169. LETTER FROM COJA BURHAN KHAN AT KURNOOL TO DR. JOSEPH AT MADRAS. RECD. JUNE 13, 1740. [C.C., Vol. 1, pp. 34-36 (2). Printed copy, pp. 18-19.]

Fatteh Singh with 50,000 horse came to these parts, and was given 30,000 Rs., 2 elephants and 4 horses. At Cuddapah Abd-ul Nabi Khan's sons resisted them, and one of their wives showed remarkable courage; but they were obliged at last to make a handsome present. The Marathas then marched to Arcot and plundered it. Nasir Jang is marching southward to punish the Marathas, and has reached Cuddapah with 125,000 horse, 10,000 of which he has sent to seize the Mysore passes to prevent the Marathas' escape. The Nawab desires Joseph to return to Kurnool.

Send 3,000 Pags. worth of fanams with the 20 peons above-mentioned and 20 more, who will also be joined by 20 peons belonging to the Poligar of 'Weallwood.' 400 pieces of soot romals (as per muster) to be procured.

No. 171. LETTER TO THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. JUNE 13, 1740. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, pp. 51-53 (2½).]

Send redwood by the Prince William. The redwood by the Princess Augusta should have been charged at 2¼ Pags. per candy. The Marathas have departed for the present, though Safdar Ali does not know how to raise the whole amount he has promised them. Various rumours—that they will go home when the Kistna falls, or that they will besiege Trichinopoly. Safdar Ali remains in Vellore, and the poligars are plundering the Sarkar villages. There is no one strong enough to establish order, unless Nasir Jang should do so. He has ordered two mansubdars into the Carnatic with a large body of horse. Have returned the 20 sailors of the Prince William. On the 12th the Princess of Wales arrived, her crew weak with scurvy. Shipping news. Ships may be delayed as the river was frozen in Jan. Declaration of war with Spain. Have resolved to send the military taken out of the Prince William.

No. 174. DESPATCH FROM THE COMPANY, BY THE WILMINGTON.
JAN. 2, 1740. [Pub. Des. from Eng., Vol. 44, pp. 5-11 (6).]

Shipping news. 18 ships arrived in England, and 16 have been taken up this season, of which 6 are to call at Madras. As to bales alleged to be damaged by being kept all day in boats at the ship's side, the Commanders should be asked how many bales can be laded in a day; and if in fault, should be protested against. Nothing has ever appeared on consultation, nor were the packings stained or damaged. The ship owners complain of having damaged Madras piece goods returned upon them. In future only bales with damaged wrappings will be returned on the ship-owners; and Council must be answerable for the rest. The Godolphin carried to Madras from Canton only 398 tons of goods instead of 480. The supracargoes should have sent more tutenague and must pay the difference between the gold of 93 touch (as invoiced) and 89 touch (as it turned out). They received 2,000 taels as commission and doubtless profited by the vacant tonnage. Approve landing the Lvall's cargo at Madras since she lost her passage to Bombay. Bengal will continue to supply saltpetre. Desire to know why country ships make much shorter passages to Sumatra than the Company's Europe ships. Enclose copy of declaration of war with Spain. Seamen's wages have risen and owners demand more. So no ship is to be sent from Madras to China. The Secret Committee. Approve of ships not being detained for a few bales. 200 tons of redwood to be sent to Bengal, Sumatra and Bombay. Send 50 chests of treasure, broadcloth, etc., by this ship. As desired will send more iron, but Madras must not compete with Bombay. Though Sir William Rous has lost money by Francis Rous, he will send out 'something for the children's subsistence'; so the allowances are to cease. Will send recruits by every ship for the garrison; Von Franken, formerly Ensign at Bombay, comes on this ship and may be employed in that rank. Capt. Maddox has borrowed from the Court £2,500 at respondentia, and has assigned his effects to the Company. The Revd. Mr. Wynch may be transferred to Bengal on the first vacancy there. The Beaufort arrived too late for the March sale. Trust that everything necessary has been done to secure continuance of the Company's grants in spite of Nadir Shah's 'conquest of the Mogul Empire.'

The Wilmington is to land her military, treasure etc. for Madras. Two of Council and Capt. Maddox to check the treasure. Half of it to be coined into rupees for the Bay. As no Coast ship is to go to China, the goods provided to be sold at cost price to those who will 'come into a subscription' for a private voyage to China.

Have received olibanam and putchuk for the China market. Movements of the Prince William. James Flint will be sent to Canton by a country ship. Shipping news. War with Spain. Invasion of the Marathas. As Dost Ali only took 10,000 foot and 2,000 horse to the Damalcheruvu Pass, it is thought that he meant to compound with them. His death etc. Safdar Ali at Vellore with 3,000 horse, having dismissed the rest who have been plundering the country, has patched up peace by the mediation of his brother-in-law and others, but the terms are unknown. Disorganisation of the province. Forward a packet from Anjengo.

No. 185. LETTER FROM CAPT. WALTER HOXTON OF THE PRINCESS OF WALES AT FORT ST. GEORGE TO THE COMPANY. JUNE 20, 1740. [Madras Lrs. Recd., Vol. I (I.O. trans.)]

Has put in at Madras as 40 of his men had scurvy. He sailed from the Isle of Wight, Jan. 24. He and the other Captains debated whether to put in at St. Jago to water and refresh the crews, but in spite of his arguments, it was decided not to do so; and as he had been ordered to keep company, he could not go by himself. On Apr. 23, however, on a dark rainy night he lost company with the other three ships. On Apr. 28 made the Cape, but did not put in as it was late in the season and his people seemed well. But within a week his crew began to go down with scurvy and when he was off Ceylon 40 were sick. A consultation of the officers was held, and it was unanimously resolved to put in at Madras. The 11 recruits on board have been landed. Expects to be able to sail for Bengal in a week. The recruits suffered less from scurvy than the sailors. The Maratha invasion and death of Dost Ali Khan.

No. 247. LETTER (IN FRENCH WITH ENGLISH TRANSLATION) FROM BENOÎT DUMAS, ETC., AT PONDICHERY, TO JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. AUG. 11/23, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 13-14. Incomplete.]

The deserters were pursued by none. Next morning an old man was found stabbed outside the walls. He was a chouliar, who used to go from house to house with artificial flowers, silk fringes, etc., etc. Deserters should not be allowed to escape because they have added murder to desertion.

No. 248. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. AUG. 12, 1740. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 12, pp. 75-76 (2).]

[Present also Messrs. Dulaurens and Moreau]. Read letter from Pondichery of Aug. 11/23 [No. 247] requesting the delivery of 4 deserters suspected of murder on promise of pardon, if they are not guilty of the murder. Dulaurens and Moreau urge it would be better to have no agreement for the surrender of deserters if deserters can escape by adding crime to desertion. Resolved to answer that the men are probably guilty and that the matter will be reported to Fort St. George.

No. 249. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID TO BENOÎT DUMAS, ETC., AT PONDICHERY. AUG. 12, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 25. Torn.]

Agree that the deserters probably committed the murder to prevent their being sent back. Will advise the Council at Madras and suggest an agreement such as exists between Mahé and Tellicherry.

No. 250. CONSULTATION. AUG. 13, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, p. 246 (3½).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Aug. 11, forwarding bales. The Princess Louisa having no packet for Madras, Capt. Pinson to explain why he has put in. The 25 chests of silver now remaining to be coined into rupees, as the other Europe ships are expected shortly.

- No. 251. LETTER FROM RAVINUTALA ADIYAPPA, VAKIL AT GINGEE. RECD. AUG. 14, 1740. [C.C., Vol. I, pp. 43-46 (2½). Printed copy, pp. 23-24.]

Taqi Sahib has arrived from Wandiwash. Chunda Sahib went out to meet him while Safdar Ali Khan received him at fort-gate. They have visited Raja Gada, a fort near Gingee. The Nawab has lately restored the villages taken from Krishnaji Pant. Imam Sahib has written to the Nawab and Murtaza Ali about his reception by Nasir Jang. Mir Husain (Mir Asad's brother-in-law) has arrived. Many houses and bazaars near Gingee fort have been demolished; 'Idleado' and tamarind trees are being cut down for gunpowder. Taqi Sahib has visited the fort named Madde Gada. 3,000 picked peons have been raised to garrison the forts. Rahmat Khan is appointed Collector of the Nellore country. Subba Rao, a Maratha vakil, has arrived. He has visited Taqi Sahib and Chunda Sahib and he is said to be going to Tanjore. The Nawab has not yet paid the Marathas what he promised them. It is said that the Marathas have left 'Choollakerrat' (Sulikerai?) and will invade the country again. If so, it may be imputed to the Nawab's covetousness. The Pathan troopers declare that they will not fight for him; and the 'Governours' can come to no fixed resolutions. Nasir Jang is likely to come hither from Golconda. The Nawab is likely to go to Pondichery soon. Nasir Jang has promised Imam Sahib the command of 5,000 horse and a jaghir.

- No. 253. DESPATCH FROM THE COMPANY, BY THE HEATHCOTE. MARCH 21, 1740. [Pub. Des. from Eng., Vol. 44, pp. 13-26 (13).]

Shipping news. Send treasure etc. Council must obtain precise information from Bengal as to the form in which silver should be sent them. The mint Brahmans may receive new mill'd Mexico dollars as 3 dwt. worse than standard. Since two years' cloth remained in the warehouse, it was right to indent only for a year's consumption. Complain of the merchants' demanding a reduction on the 33% on the invoice they offered for the 1737 cloth. Are convinced that sale by outcry is the best method. No broadcloth is to be issued without payment; it is enough accommodation that the cloth lies in the warehouse till the merchants desire it. 100 pipes of Madeira sent by the Durrington, and the ship's officers may bring 20 pipes. Will send 400 tons of iron, as 10 Pags. a candy is a good price. There was no need to keep 30 chests of treasure. When the Godolphin sailed from Madras, they had in cash 226,472 Pags.; the merchants owed for advances 127,000 Pags.; Europe goods amounted to 125,000 Pags.; and there was 37,500 Pags. at the subordinate factories; 516,000 Pags. in all, while the cargoes of the year were only 261,000 Pags. Complain of the heavy drafts on the Company (for G. M. Pitt's benefit) by which this balance was produced. Council must make good the loss sustained on account of these bills. Will send arms etc. Lead is selling well at 12 Pags. a candy. Tin cannot lose 5% of its weight except by embezzlement. Will consider the matter with the ship's owners. Rupees and bullion must be sent early to the Bay.

Judging by the small profit made on Indian cloth, consider that the French are likely soon to lower the prices they give; and then, as the Dutch and Danish investments are very small, times may mend. The more merchants employed, the better; but statements must be prepared to show how far each fulfils his contract. Complain of the largeness of the merchants' balances; which may mean bad debts or still worse, providing funds for competitors. Complain of receiving only 8,400 pieces of middling cloth instead of 15,300. More profit is made on middling and fine cloth than on coarse. Very small profits made on ordinary Salem and Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth. Permit introduction of a 4th quality in each kind of cloth provided the merchants allow reasonable abatement. Salem cloth provided at Madras is dearer than that provided at Fort St. David; but the latter's Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth costs as much as Salem and sells worse. The Madapollam cloth sold much better than the Ingeram. Vizagapatam provided 30 bales only. This will not defray a factor's charge. Matters must improve or the factory be closed. 'Our servants should be ashamed of eating our bread unless they work in the vineyard.' Are concerned there should be only 2 Companys' merchants at Fort St. David. Merchants might be encouraged to settle there by granting caste privileges. A trial of cultivating indigo to be made there. Andiyappa should be employed in our service, should he return to Porto Novo, to prevent his supplying interlopers. Cloth must be strictly sorted.

The English cannot be too watchful of French measures on the Coast. Desire particular account of their inward and outward cargoes. Complain that China silk was sold at a fixed price instead of outcry. Rejoice at the active trade of Madras indicated by 120 ships calling in a year. Trust that the famine is completely over.

Approve of the new powder-house. Repairs must be strong and lasting. Are satisfied with the flourishing revenues and moderate expenses. Silver does not produce quite so much in the Madras as in the Bombay mint.

Approve of Charles Simpson's being called to Council vice Rous, and of 50 Pags. being allowed 'to new Rigg' Robert Goodere, as he lost his all on the Formosa sloop. Have allowed Smart's wife and two daughters to go out. William Belsches, ship's Surgeon, who lost his leg at Canton and cannot serve on ship-board, may succeed after Munro, or fill the first vacancy at Bengal. Have appointed William Holt and Samuel Greenhaugh, factors; John Legg, William Mackett, Grantham Mead, Arthur Rider, Borlace Stacey, Foss Westcott, Alexander Wynch, Thomas Cooke, John Smith and John Churchey, writers; Greenhaugh, Wynch and Cooke are already on the Coast. Monthly writers must be discharged and all unlicensed persons (except sea-faring men) must be sent home. Money may be taken into cash from Commanders of ships for their loans from the Company. Lieut. William Henry Southby, who has served under Count Munich, is to have the first vacant company. Send as many recruits as can be got. Silver may be bought at or under 14 s per 10 Pags. (=5s. 8½ d. per oz.). When there is more money than is needed for the investment certificates only must be granted for the money received on account of deceased persons' estates instead of bills of exchange; and executors, etc., must pay net estates into the Company's treasury as early as possible. One copy of the bill of lading must be given gratis to the Commanders of homeward ships. Jonathan Smart permitted to reside at Pegu as a free merchant.

On Aug. 9 four deserters came in from Pondichery. M. Dumas claimed their return, but they declared they had killed a man in escaping, and demanded pardon for the murder as well as for their desertion. Dumas, etc., (in letter of Aug. 12/23 [No. 247] brought by Dulaurens and Moreau) allege that the man was old and unarmed, and that he must have been killed to secure the deserters from being surrendered. Recommend an agreement with the French to except such crimes from pardon.

Agreed to give up the French deserters, upon promise of pardon if they are not guilty of murder, but to decline any agreement regarding criminals in general. The Heathcote's treasure found correct, to be coined for the Bay. Payments received. Read letter from Capt. Maddox of the Wilmington requesting that he may be supplied with as many bales as he can take over the charterparty limit at half-freight; ordered accordingly.

Monger, the supracargo of the Nancy, sold her to Pathelin at Pondichery, but neither would promise to pay the wages due to officers and crew; so Capt. Coxson said he would go ashore and see Dumas in the morning. But Monger, etc., accused them to Dumas of meaning to run off with the ship (although they had struck the yards and topmasts). So soldiers were sent to seize them. Two 'chellingays' accordingly came alongside at dusk but went off on being hailed. Then about 9 or 10 p.m., 3 or 4 boats came up and fired on the petitioners who had neither flints, cartridges nor balls on board. Holmes was carried to the Europe ship to have his wounds dressed; and Heath and Coxson were imprisoned ashore, not being allowed pen or paper lest they should represent the facts of the case to Dumas. Request the Board to make them an allowance.

- No. 291. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD TO THE COUNCIL AT FORT ST. DAVID. AUG. 30, 1740. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 12, pp. 84-106 (23).]

Venkatachalam, etc., who left the bounds on Apr. 30 refused to come in though offered a pardon, unless a 'cowle' was sent and he was met by a Councillor and a Captain. Hubbard succeeded in getting Pedda Chetti, the head of the Right-hand castes, to come in; but Venkatachalam wrote to several inhabitants threatening to kill them and burn their houses if they did not join him. 'There were also several frogs killed and rice, turmeric and chunam mixed together, resembling blood, put into their bellies, and these left at the doors of several at Cuddalore.' On May 11, the Right-hand caste headmen promised to settle the dispute, if Venkatachalam would not come in on receiving a written cowle. On its receipt the latter at once set out, but there arose a disturbance because the Paraiyas insisted on carrying a flag contrary to the stipulation, and all departed again. In the middle of May at Cuddalore some brass-smiths of the Left-hand caste raised a riot by entering a Right-hand caste pandal of one Arunachalam; and the latter's wife was killed. After some difficulties statements were obtained and sent to Benyon for his advice. On May 23 a meeting of the heads of the castes was held at the gardens, with Sadasiva Rao and Sadasiva Rao Reddi as mediators. They decided that there were no grounds for the former quarrel, but that the brass-smiths' rioting should be punished by fine and the murder examined into. The delayed marriages were then completed without disturbance, Capt. Amyand being ordered to seize any rioters; but on June 2 some Paraiyas with clubs entered Cuddalore and made a riot at Irusappa Chetti's pandal. Venkatachalam with the Paraiyas was wandering about, carrying in procession an ass with a turmeric cloth round its neck, saying he would sacrifice the ass, and then kill Irusappa Chetti and his son-in-law, who were much alarmed. As all but the Paraiyas had now come in, peons were sent out at night (in the middle of June) and caught about 70, who were made to give bail. Though Venkatachalam escaped with 20 or 30, things were quiet till, about a month ago, Timma Chetti from Conjeveram joined Venkatachalam, wrote to Hubbard on July 25 complaining that he favoured the Left-hand castes, and urged the washers, painters, etc., to come out and join him. None have gone, but they have collected some country people, and are abusing, beating and robbing our inhabitants whenever they catch them outside the bounds. An ass with a turmeric cloth on its neck has been killed in Cuddalore to oblige the Right-hand castes to leave the place, but they are all quiet.

Appended are:—(1) translation of a cadjan letter to Muttarasa Pillai of May 8. threatening to kill him like an ass unless he joins; (2) letter from the heads of the Right-hand castes of May 11, promising to bring Venkatachalam within the bounds or settle the dispute; (3) letter of Timmappa Chetti (received July 25) complaining of the Deputy Governor's partiality for the Left-hand castes; (4) Deputy Governor's reply of July 26, stating that he favours neither side, but those who trouble the Company must expect to suffer; (5) statement of Venkatesa and Unni Chetti, merchants of Cuddalore, Aug. 8, regarding their having been robbed by Venkatachalam; (6) statement of Rama, a powderman, Aug. 18, regarding his ill-treatment by Venkatachalam; (7 to 12 and 14 to 16) depositions dated July 17, 1740, of Vaidyalinga (of Cuddalore), Arunachalam (husband), John De Fonsakers (a topaz of the Guard), Serjeant Shawllum of 'Brahminy Gate' Guard, Kichchi, (a Company's peon), Chidambaram, (a brick-maker), Siddha (a goldsmith), Pantulu (a black doctor and Kartan), about the murder of Arunachalam's wife; and (13) examination of five brassmen.

The merchants have paid in 12,550 Pags. for broadcloth, but have sold none of it yet.

Will discharge the extra peons when the province is settled. Fort St. David has only 73 Europeans. Refused a grant of ground reclaimed from the river by building a wharf, as it may be required to build a wall on. Ordered repairs to the moat at Fort St. David, and at Vizagapatam. Arrival of covenanted servants. Have now only one monthly writer. Commissions to Lieut. Southby and Ensign Von Franken. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 291-292 (2).]

In the Madras pagodas there may be a difference of $\frac{1}{4}$ of a grain due to 'allowing the turn of the scale in favour of the buyer.' Current pagodas vary much; some from the southward are only 50 touch. The rupees may vary by half a grain or a grain, but if the minters were more exact it would be a tedious business (each coin being separately weighed) and the ships would be delayed for Bengal. Has never passed any musters of rupees less than 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ dwts. better than standard. The Bombay minters can only allow more rupees to the new Mexico dollar by working cheaper than is possible at Madras.

No. 312. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. 15, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 60-61 ($1\frac{3}{4}$).]

Acknowledge letters of Sept. 11 and 12 [Nos. 305 & 306]. Enclose statement of cost of cloth sent up this year. Gunnies, rope and twine have been very dear. Need 3 or 4 barrels of good Europe powder for small arms. The fine of 500 Pags. will be levied on the Left-hand caste, but some will have to be 'hardly used' before they will pay it. Will use no force against Venkatachalam till the havildars have been applied to. Have 555 bales on hand.

- No. 313. LETTER FROM CHARLES SIMPSON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. SEPT. 4, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 61-63 (1½).]

Send 136 bales valued at 9,011 Pags. on the Richard. The quality is very good though the quantity is small. Cotton has never been so scarce here. Think the 'gentoo' vessel on which 2 peons were embarked two months ago must have been lost. Anwar-ud-din Khan is not yet returned from Golconda. It is said that one of Nizam-ul-mulk's sons will be given Ellore and Rajahmundry, and that one of Shamat Khān's sons will get Chicacole. Enclose accounts.

- No. 314. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM. SEPT. 9, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 25, p. 63 (¾).]

Sends 240 bales on the Enterprise brigantine. Has 13 bales on hand.

- No. 315. CONSULTATION. SEPT. 18, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 297-303 (6½).]

Read letters from Fort St. David of Sept. 15 [No. 312]; from Vizagapatam of Sept. 4 [No. 313]; and from Ingeram of Sept. 9 [No. 314]. The Colchester reported fit for despatch to England. Ordered to be laded etc. Stores to be sent for St. Helena as on the Wilmington [See No. 274]. The Royal Guardian being nearly ready to sail, agreed on letter to Bombay of Sept. 20 [No. 317]. Capt. Milne of the Galatea stating the goods sold at Bushire at 2705 tomans, the ship's owners to pay the 2 % customs at 5 mamudis a Bombay rupee and 313 Bombay rupees per 100 Pags. The account of Salem cloth being received from Fort St. David, quality and prices are compared. The Fort St. George cloth is better but 2½ Pags. the corge dearer. The Madras merchants declare their accounts are true. Resolved to defer the consideration for the present. As the moorees and other fine cloths do not come up to the musters, they are to be sorted.

Appended are:—(1) letter from George Goring and Walter Hooke, dated Sept. 18, 1740, regarding the condition of the Colchester; (2) account of sugar, tin, spices, etc., by the Galatea sold at Bushire.

- No. 316. LETTER FROM CHUNDA SAHIB AT ARCOT. RECD. SEPT. 18, 1740. [C.C., Vol. I, pp. 55-58 (2½). Printed copy, pp. 30-31.]

When preparing to attend a wedding to be celebrated by Dost Ali Khan, heard that he had set out for Cuddapah to oppose the Marathas, on which the writer marched at once to join him, but, hearing by the way that he and many others had been killed, returned to Trichinopoly to collect his forces to punish the enemy. Meanwhile he heard that Safdar Ali Khan had made peace with the Marathas, and so visited him at Arcot and accompanied him to Gingee, Pondichery and back again to Arcot, where they have just crushed an incipient rebellion. Now his brother (Bade Sahib) has completely conquered Madura, but this has exhausted his warlike stores. As the Marathas are likely to attack Trichinopoly, he requests 100 candelies of lead and 100 candelies of gunpowder to be sent to Porto Novo. If that is impossible, will send cattle to Madras.

No. 317. LETTER TO STEPHEN LAW, ETC., AT BOMBAY BY THE ROYAL GUARDIAN. SEPT. 20, 1740. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, pp. 110-111 (1½).]

When the Marathas were at Arcot, landed out of the Royal Guardian 8 chests of fire-arms and 10 barrels of Europe powder. But these have now been shipped again except 14 carbines of a better make kept for the officers. Send 100 bolts of duck. Have desired Bengal to send the guns. Lieut. Lane and Messrs. Hope and Hatton are passengers for Bombay. They were given diet money during their stay and advances are made to the military and 'galley-men.' John Shaw is being kept as gunner's mate.

Acknowledge letters of June 20, July 2 and 9. [No. 183, 202 & 209.] Shipping news. Urge the need of landing the treasure of the Royal Guardian. Desire 8 chests of the treasure to be retained as equivalent for the payment at Madras of Waters' bond of 32,000 Spanish dollars, unless this should involve a charge for demurrage, as making Madras her destined port instead of Bombay. Regret the condition of the Carnatic. 'The whole Mogolistan seems rent asunder . . . through the indolence . . . of the Moors.' Bombay is threatened by Sambaji Angria, but he is more likely to attack Kolaba again. Shipping news.

Enclosed are:—

(1) Letter from Capt. Henry Hoadley of the Royal Guardian at Fort St. George to Stephen Law etc., at Bombay, dated July 9, 1740.—

Would have landed the Royal Guardian's treasure for safe custody, but the Madras Council would not give an indemnification in case of any accident in landing etc. Is not authorized to give up any advantages that might arise to his owners by landing any of the ship's cargo at Madras; but is sure they will not be unreasonable.

(2) Letter from Stephen Law etc., at Bombay to Capt. Henry Hoadley at Fort St. George, dated Sept. 3, 1740.

Consider the Madras Council authorized to give the indemnification desired, and, providing no claim for demurrage is involved, desire that a portion of the treasure may be delivered Madras.

On Sept. 20, the Nawab received a saropa with a farman conferring on him the title of Saadat-ullah Khan. On the 21st, Chunda Sahib went to Vellore to pray for the deceased Nawab, and will depart thence for Trichinopoly; but has not yet paid for the goods he received of the French. Dumas writes often and receives news thrice a week. Sama Rao (who sends news to the French as well as the English) was recently ordered by Dumas to procure a large tiger's skin. On the 24th, the Nawab received a parwana from Nasir Jang ordering him to grant as a jaghir to Imam Sahib villages producing a lakh of rupees per annum. The Maratha vakils are pressing for payment, and the Nawab has ordered 50,000 to be paid at Tirupati and promises 50,000 more. Of this 20,000 Rs. will be distributed in charity at Tirupati. The Marathas have come to terms with the Mysoreans and will march on Trichinopoly.

Chunda Sahib went to Vellore to settle the dispute between the brothers Raza Ali Khan and Murtaza Ali Khan. The former has been given a jaghir and the latter put in possession of the fort. A wall is being built round Arcot. Imam Sahib's jaghir consists of part of Tahir Khan's jaghir, Santi Das's jaghir, Karungulipalaiyam, Musaravakkam, and Panamalai. The forts of Gurramkonda and Tiagar have been given to his son.

- No. 356. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY BY THE COLCHESTER. OCT. 12, 1740. [Coast and Bay Abstracts, Vol. 4, pp. 326-330 (I.O. trans.)]

Cite despatch of Sept. 5 [No. 293]. Shipping news. Angria preparing to attack the Siddir or to reduce Kolaba. Purchase of 4,000 bales of coffee at Mocha at under 70^s. Cannot account for the reported damage of Coast goods. The Captains say that inner pieces were damaged while outer ones were uninjured. The bales on being sent on board are covered with tarpaulins, and the washers are directed to use good water. The tea brought by the Godolphin calculated according to charterparty amounts to 480 tons. Her gold was expected to fall short in the touch. No ship has arrived this year from Macao. Sent 3,28,000 Rs. to Bengal on the Heathcote. Desire to know whether the Company's estate must be risked only upon their own ships. Will dispose of the iron; the Danes sold 100 tons at 9 Pags. a candy. Issued the broadcloth of 1737 to the merchants at 3% less, as it was invoiced higher than usual. The musters are much better than the pieces. In future broadcloth will be issued for cash only. Had only 7,000 Pags. in cash when bills were granted to Pitt on the Company. 700 candies of lead sold to Linga Chetti at 13 Pags. a candy. Received from Sumatra 114 candies, 10 mds. and 11 lb. lead. On account of the Maratha troubles the merchants take but little money from the French, and send none as far south as Salem. Fear it will be long before prices fall again, especially if the French do any business. 4,000 bales said to have been shipped to Batavia. 'Merchants to change places and alter orders every month' [?]. 'Different hands interfere too much with one another. Pride, envy, malice and revenge are prevalent among the merchants.' The merchants lost by the fine and middling cloths supplied. The quantity depends on the amount of fine thread imported, which never equals the demand. Most cloth is brought in in Dec. and Jan. Vizagapatam and Ingeram cloth improved. Andiyappa may agree to supply the Company, but will not forego supplying others as well. It would be dangerous to grant merchants at Fort St. David caste privileges. Before the new charter, Company's merchants were exempted from the ordinary courts of justice; this protection might induce the richest men to engage in the Company's service. Will send indigo for trial. Pegu involved in war. Coja Simone will press the saltpetre affair. Imam Sahib was received graciously by Nasir Jang at Golconda. The French and Tanjoreans have quarrelled about Karikal; believe Dumas is sorry he ever undertook it; the French are preparing a force for the Malabar Coast. Cannot get information from Pondichery, having no allowance for secret service, and have nothing like the Popish Church at Madras which serves as a channel for intelligence. Have received at Madras 345 Pags. for duties on the Galatea's goods sold at Bushire. Duties there are only 1% as against 8 at Gombroon. Few goods of value are sold at outcry. If the present system were abolished, bad men at the head of affairs would be able to buy bargains. The hot sun and heavy rains affect buildings much. William Belches has gone to Bengal. Henry Powney is Translator. Have formed a third company under the command of Lieut. Southby. Desire orders regarding Captains who borrow money and die. Hope 7s. 8d. a pagoda will be allowed to the deceased servants. Doubt whether certificates will be deemed a sufficient acquittance. Fear inconveniences for want of directions as to intestates. Have sent to Sumatra on the Augusta some topasses and Arabs. Expect the Tobacco farm to sell at the usual rate. Robert Heath, a mate of the Nancy, sent to England. The Marathas are encamped near Seringapatam; believe they intend to march on Trichinopoly and Tanjore unless Chunda Sahib satisfies them with a present. They are reported to have sent 18 lakhs of rupees and 45 elephants to Nasir Jang. Have sold 50 pipes of Madeira at Pags. 51-32-60 a pipe. The ship's invoice amounts to 143,467 Pags.; to St. Helena 163 Pags.; diamonds, etc., registered, 38,259 Pags.; Capt. Mickelfield's private trade 5,845 Pags.; cash balance, 29,722 Pags.; bills drawn on the Company, 4,316 Pags.

The Directors have ordered annual statements to be sent them showing the quantity and value of cloth contracted for, the advances and the quality and value of cloth brought in; and complain that Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth costs the same as Salem, but sells for 2s. a piece less. As there are only two Company's merchants at Fort St. David, Directors suggest that merchants might be attracted by caste privileges; and that indigo might be cultivated there. The Madras Council suspect caste privileges would only breed disputes. Desire a candy of three or four sorts of indigo to be purchased. Desire details of the cost, brokerage, etc., on the Fort St. David merchants' Salem cloth, as there is a dispute with the Madras merchants. Borlace Stacey arrived on Aug. 18 by the Colchester. Henry Powney has been allowed to remain at Madras.

Passed letters to the northern settlements [Nos. 366 to 368] about sending their cloths to Madras; and agreed on letters to Bengal and Bombay [Nos. 365 & 374]. The provisions laid in May last to be delivered to the military. Contract for 2,000 candies of redwood at 2¼ Pags. per candy.

Acknowledge letter of Sept. 4 [No. 313] and 136 bales. Directors complain [No. 253] that the Vizagapatam investment of 1738 was too small to pay the cost of a single factor. It is still very small and the cloth dearer than in the south. Arrangements for bringing up the Dec. cloth. Send a packet for Fort William. Require a statement of cloth contracted for and received.

His ship laden with sugar and sugarcandy from Malacca and destined for Madras has been driven by storms and currents to Vizagapatam. Simpson (the Chief) has made him some small advances, but the writer desires 600 or 700 Rs. to enable him to sail for Madras.

No. 370. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. OCT. 14, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 97-98 (1).]

Acknowledge letter from Madras of Oct. 4 [No. 342] and the medicines, etc., by the Carolina sloop. Borlace Stacey is put under the Accountant. The Carolina grounded on the north side of the Cuddalore bar as they tried to bring her in on the last day of the spring tides; but hope to get her safely in at the full moon, especially as the rains will deepen the bar. Have paid the merchants 12,000 out of 20,000 Pags. received from Madras. Desire a further supply before the monsoon sets in.

No. 371. CONSULTATION. OCT. 20, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 342-343 (1½).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Oct. 14 [No. 370]. Agreed to send 20,000 Pags. thither overland, and to enquire [No. 375] why the Carolina was so long in getting there. Tambi Chetti, etc., pay in a balance of 5,400 Pags. due last Apr. alleging the troubles as their excuse. Agreed to sell 10 chests of silver as the cash balance has fallen to about 10,000 Pags., 3,000 of which are in fanams.

No. 372. LETTER FROM AMIN BEG, FAUJDAR OF ST. THOME. RECD. OCT. 20, 1740. [C.C., Vol. I, pp. 67-68 (1½). Printed copy, p. 36.]

A year ago the Left-hand castes deserted St. Thomé and they cannot be induced to come back, though they have been promised 2 flags and allowed to pass by a particular alley and the privilege of a flag has been taken from the Right-hand castes. They now demand a tom-tom which cannot be granted. They are being supplied with money by some rich people at Madras, though they have lately given a penalty bond for 12,000 Pags. The bazaars are closed; jewels cannot be made for Imam Sahib's family; and the mint is stopped. Requests Benyon to send in at least the 'ironsmiths, goldsmiths and carpenters.'

No. 373. LETTER TO PUSAPATI VIJAYARAM RAZ, RAJA OF VIJIANAGARAM. OCT. 20, 1740. [C.C., Vol. I, pp. 68-69 (¾). Printed copy, pp. 36-37.]

Compliments. Will assist any of the Raja's ships that come to Madras.

No. 374. LETTER TO STEPHEN LAW, ETC., AT BOMBAY. OCT. 20, 1740. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, pp. 132-133 (1½).]

Acknowledge letter of Sept. 3 [No. 330]. Have debited Bombay with 22,020 Pags. for 28,368 oz. of dollar silver paid to Craddock, and credited 39,575 Rs. being the cost of the Princess Augusta. Shipping news. The Marathas are encamped about Trichinopoly, but no hostilities have yet been committed. A treaty is said to be likely.

No. 375. LETTER TO JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. OCT. 20, 1740. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, pp. 133-134 (1).]

Acknowledge letter of Oct. 14 [No. 370]. The Carolina sloop which left Madras on Oct. 5, should have reached Fort St. David next morning. Desire to learn the reason for the delay. She may be carried into the Porto Novo river if more convenient. Will send 20,000 Pags. tomorrow. The Fort St. David merchants must take care how they send money about the country. Joseph Fowke, writer, leaves for Fort St. David tomorrow.

No. 376. LETTER FROM JOHN SAVAGE, SECRETARY, TO JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. OCT. 21, 1740. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, p. 134 (1/3).]

Acknowledge letter of Aug. 30 [No. 289]. Have very good carpenters, but need planks. The George shall be brought into the river as soon as the wind and rain cease, and the bar is less dangerous. Cotton is excessive dear. Cannot hope for more than 140 bales by Dec. The Nawab's people are ever starting new demands in order to increase the annual present for Uppada, and if refused, hinder the merchants from bringing in cloth. Ask for timbers.

Appended is a list of guns:—53 iron, 7 brass, 1 mortar and 8 cohorns, mounted round the Fort, at the Fort-gates, at the Sea-side battery, thence to Capt. Martin's battery, on Capt. Martin's battery, at the Metta gate (7), on the Riverside battery (3), and on the Black Rock (2).

No. 380. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM. OCT. 6, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 25, p. 102 (1).]

Does not expect to procure more than 150 bales by the end of Nov. The merchants complain that they are losing 9 fanams a corge on ordinary cloth and refuse to deliver their short cloth at a proportionate abatement. Either their profits must be very small or the French must be paying much more. Has received 46 bales since Sept. 9.

No. 381. CONSULTATION. OCT. 27, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 344-349 (5).]

The shroffs will not offer more than 10 Pags. for 14⁵/₈ weight of standard silver with 2 months' credit.

Appended is a statement of extraordinary expenses for Sept., 1740.

Desires the redwood driven by the wind to St. Thomé, to be returned by masula boats.

No. 384. PETITION OF NAMASIVAYAN TO JAMES HUBBARD, ETC. AT FORT ST. DAVID. OCT. 23, 1740. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 12, pp. 126-127 (1).]

Petitioner's father was 'physician' in the Company's service, paid at the rate of 2 Pags. a month, and served the Company 50 years both at Kunimedu and Fort St. David. Petitioner has served 30 years as physician and needs an assistant. Requests his son may be appointed on 1 Pag. a month.

No. 385. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. OCT. 30, 1740. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 12, pp. 118-125 (8).]

Read letters from Madras of Oct. 16, 20 and 21 [Nos. 363, 375, 376 & 377]. Agreed to answer as in letter from Fort St. David, dated Oct. 24 [No. 386]. The merchants produce an account of cost and charges of the Salem cloth to be sent to Madras. Read Capt. Harris's explanation of the delay of the Carolina's passage. Accounts read and advances made. Cash balance, 24,931 Pags. 86 Pags. (the cost of recovering the 10,000 Pags. stopped on the way to Salem) to be paid. Joseph Fowke appointed Secretary. Ordered the Carolina sloop to be surveyed. An allowance of one pagoda a month is granted to the 'Black doctor's' son [See No. 384], but to be stopped on the reduction of the garrison. Gunnies and rope ordered to be bought. The fine of 500 Pags. imposed on the Left-hand castes not having been paid, 4 of their heads confined till an agreement is reached.

Appended is a letter from Henry Harris, Captain of the Carolina, dated Oct. 23, stating that his long passage was due to calms. [Another copy in Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 25, p. 109.]

No. 386. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. OCT. 24, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 103-108 (6).]

Acknowledge letters of Oct. 16 and 20 [Nos. 363 & 375]. Do not know how to prepare the return of cloth, etc. The merchants enter into no particular contract for particular quantities. They proposed at first to supply 3,000 bales, but their conditions were not accepted. Can only enter the cloth brought in, its price and the amount of the advance. The Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth was certainly inferior to the Salem cloth but not enough of the latter could be had. It is now $1\frac{3}{4}$ Pags. a corge cheaper than Salem cloth. Merchants will only settle at Fort St. David on prospect of greater profits. Believe our merchants make much less by the investment than the French merchants. Will endeavour to provide indigo. Salem longcloth costs to the weavers and brokers 40 Pags., carriage and duties 2 Pags. 29 fns. 40c. On arrival at Fort St. David the cloth is also charged with land customs, brokerage and dasturi. There is only a little more water on the Porto Novo bar than at Fort St. David; and the Carolina had therefore best remain at Fort St. David. Enclose explanation regarding Carolina's delay [See No. 385]. Have sent peons to meet those sent from Madras with cash. Joseph Fowke has not yet arrived.

No. 387. CONSULTATION. NOV. 1, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 350-357 ($7\frac{1}{2}$).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Oct. 24 [No. 386.] Accounts read. Cash balance, 15,570 current and 347 Madras Pags. Advances made. 10 chests of silver to be sold to Linga Chetti at $14\frac{5}{8}$ \$. weight of standard silver for 10 Pags. to be paid for half in ready money and half in one month. Advances made. Agreed to sell 600 bales of broadcloth to the merchants at 30% advance on the invoice to be paid for as issued from the warehouse.

Appended is cash account for Oct. 1740.

No. 388. CONSULTATION. NOV. 3, 1740. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 70, pp. 358-360 (2½).]

Reports of the Marathas' return; but Raghoji is said only to be going to the Tiruvannamalai festival with 3,000 horse. However, there is much uncertainty, and many are taking refuge in Madras. Agreed that Tiruviti Seshachalam and Subrahmanya Chetti be given the cowle for Betel and Tobacco, and Gangadharayya, Sambayya and Guruvappa for the Measuring duty and Town brokerage. The Betel and Tobacco farm must have been let for much less, if Seshachalam had not needed Benyon's interest and assistance 'in some affairs in the country.'

Acknowledge letter of Oct. 21 [No. 376] and 20,000 Pags. 28 of the 30 recruits have arrived. Joseph Fowke appointed Secretary. The Carolina sloop was brought into the river on Oct. 28. Have ordered a survey of her; but will find it difficult to get her to a suitable berth. Enclose accounts. On July 1, reported [No. 208] arrival of 2 Europe ships at Pondichery; 3 have arrived there since and 3 cargoes have been despatched to Europe. Have 861 bales of cloth on hand.

Masulipatam, Nizampatam and Narsapur, formerly places of great trade, will doubtless become so again under Imam Sahib's government. Was about to have recalled Goddard from Madapollam owing to troubles with the Faujdar, but now will keep him there, and desires that the Faujdar of Narsapur may be ordered to assist him. Also desires Imam Sahib to recommend Simpson at Vizagapatam and Prince at Ingeram to the favour of Anwar-ud-din Khan.

The Carolina has a leak making 8 inches an hour. She is at present lying in the channel leading to the bar, without enough water to float her at low tide. As she draws $6\frac{1}{2}$ feet of water, she cannot pass over the shoals in the river; but she might be floated over with the help of chelingas placed under timbers rigged out at her gun-ports, so as to make her more buoyant.

- No. 396. LETTER TO JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 8, 1740. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 24, pp. 136-137 (2).]

Acknowledge letters of Oct. 24 and 31 [Nos. 386 & 390]. Directions regarding the statement of cloth contracted for, etc. The Fort St. David merchants had 50,000 Pags. in hand when they received another 50,000 Pags.; but as they could not promise 3,000 bales, a less advance would have served. The best ways to encourage merchants are impartial justice and encouragement of trade. Refugees alarmed by the Marathas are coming in daily, but hope the Nawab will accommodate matters.

As the Left-hand castes at Devanampattanam and Tirupapuliyur will not consent to the division of the fine proposed by the Chettis at Cuddalore [No. 411], resolved the heads of the first two be confined at Manjakuppam as well as the Cuddalore Chettis.

Acknowledge letter of Nov. 8 [No. 396]. Will send return of the investment with the annual letter etc., for the Jan. shipping. Completed the merchants' advances to 50,000 Pags. when Irusappa Chetti was taken in; but by the end of the year they will not exceed 30,000 Pags. Much cloth has been brought in, so money is needed. About 20,000 Pags. will complete the year's investment. Believe impartial justice is administered, and trade is free; but the staple exports—bluecloth and paintings for Mocha and Manilla—have fallen off in demand; so there is little hope of attracting new merchants. Have 1,058 bales of cloth on hand.

There are no Maratha horse at Tiruvannamalai, but the festival is deserted. Raghoji is resolved to go there, but Fattch Singh opposes him. Safdar Ali Khan's harkars are refusing to go out for news, as poligars have killed some of them. Safdar Ali has revoked Santi Das's jaghir for informing the Marathas of the Nawab's weakness. Santi Das is said to be concealed in the Maratha vakil's house. His father was given, commissions by Yale and Pitt as Captain of the 'Chouliars, Moors, etc., at Cuddalore.' The heads of the Left-hand caste refuse to pay the fine of 500 Pags., though they have been confined for a month. If possible would avoid disgracing Company's merchants, the only men of substance. The late Arrack farmer refuses to take the farm again. If much less than 800 Pags. is offered at outcry it had better be kept in the Company's hands. Hear that the Marathas have plundered Manalurpetta, etc., 50 or 60 miles off, and are threatening Pondichery. Want 30 or 40 barrels of country powder and the guns already asked for. Goring pay for tutenague short on the Princess Augusta. Ships' movements, etc. Being in want of tonnage for Bengal goods, have left room on the ships for only 1,500 bales instead of 2,000. The Prince William and the Hardwicke have received a sufficient quantity of saltpetre. Roger Drake empowers Nicholas Morse to receive the chest of treasure received per Colchester. Have received the 6 small seals. William Belsches is returning to Fort St. George, there being no Surgeon's vacancy. Send rope, twine and paper, but gunnies are too cumbersome. The goods and stores on the Prince William to be landed. Accounts read. Regarding the Salem cloth, that delivered at Madras is 6% dearer than that sent to Fort St. David. On Dec. 22 Safdar Ali assembled his officers, explained that he was receiving only the revenues of his jaghirs, that he could not pay Moghal, Marathas and the army, and that he should not have been 8 months in arrears with them if Dost Ali had not increased their pay; and finally offered them half their arrears in full. They refused; so he paid them in full, dismissed some, and then set out to attend a marriage at Vellore. Mir Asad will go to the southward. Nizam-ul-mulk has arrived at Burhampur, and Nasir Jang has left Aurangabad owing to his former dispute with his father. The Maratha vakils have returned to Arcot. At the request of the Nawab the Marathas at Ranipet are sending out parties to prevent robberies. The main body of the Maratha army is encamped at Valikondapuram. A small party marching towards Trichinopoly was ambushed and defeated by Sesha Rao, a General of Chunda Sahib. Maratha spies found in Trichinopoly, were by Chunda Sahib's order shown his artillery, etc., and declared that the Fort was so strong that 100,000 horse could not take it. They were dismissed with presents. The Nawab has ordered Mir Ghulam Husain Khan to fetch his family from Pondichery as the Marathas mean to attack the seaport towns. It is said in the Maratha camp that Madras is the weakest, for the garrison is too small to defend the Black Town, surrounded by gardens, and especially weak on the north.

No. 4. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. DEC. 30, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 1-2 (134).]

Most of the Marathas have moved towards Trichinopoly ; but Fatteh Singh is still at Jagadev. Need guns, powder, etc. The garrison is very weak owing to the number of posts to be guarded, but if guards were withdrawn from the bounds, they would be exposed to ravage by the Marathas and even the Poligars. Desire Portuguese gunners if no English can be spared, and lascars as none can be got at Fort St. David. The Carolina sloop is aground and there is only 4 feet of water on the Cuddalore bar. Will have 850—900 bales ready in 10 days' time.

Accounts read and advances made. Read letter from Fort St. David of Dec. 30 [No. 4]. Agreed that as long as the Marathas hover about Fort St. David, the outguards there must be maintained; but when an organised attack is impending, they should be withdrawn and the cannon spiked. Samuel Greenhaugh, Charles Boddam, John Hallyburton, Henry Powney, George Pigot and Alexander Wynch present executed covenants, take the oaths, and nominate securities. Signed 5 bills on the Company for £1,000 and the general books, etc., for England.

- No. 8. CONSULTATION. JAN. 6, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 11-17 (6¾).]

Read letters from Fort St. David of Jan. 1 [No. 7], and from Bengal of Dec. 6, 1740 [No. 452 of 1740], and accounts. 27,000 Pags. and 3,000 Pags. worth of fanams to be sent to Fort St. David on the Prince William. Shipping news to be sent home via Pondichery. The report of the Committee for the Sumatra affairs ordered to lie over. Grant Edward Fowke's request for leave to go to England on the Prince William on account of his health. Robert Matthews, a runaway sailor of the Durrington, and Daniel Coxson of the Nancy to go to England on the Hardwicke. Two chests of silver to be coined into fanams. Cannot send money to Bengal, except by borrowing, which would be difficult at present. Agreed to ask Bengal to send some flints.

Appended are:—(1) letter from Edward Fowke, dated Jan. 6, 1741; and (2) report on Sumatra affairs by Nicholas Morse and George Torriano, dated Jan. 6, 1741.

No. 9. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 8, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.).]

Passed the annual letter to Madras of Jan. 8 [No. 11].

No. 10. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 10, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.).]

Read letter from Madras of Jan. 7, stating that no gunners or lascars can be spared, sending 27,000 Pags. and 3,000 Pags. worth of fanams and advising them to withdraw the out-guards in case the Marathas attack with a large force. Agreed to inform Madras that the Prince William will soon be despatched to England. Her Captain to be cautioned against fire, etc.

No. 11. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 8, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 3-13 (10½). Eaten in parts.]

Send the yearly papers for England. Though the merchants hoped to provide 3,000 bales of cloth on being advanced 50,000 Pags. they have delivered only 1,675, on account of the Marathas' inroads and the detention of money advanced to the Salem merchants. The merchants now owe the Company 28,397 Pags. Salem cloth is $\frac{5}{8}$ Pag. per corge dearer than in 1739 and much worse cloth from Chennappanayakanpalaiyam is $1\frac{1}{4}$ Pags. per corge cheaper. The soot romals are somewhat better in quality and colour. Have been unable to get indigo owing to the troubles. The Weighing and Measuring farm has been relet for 200 Pags. for one year. The Arrack farm was not sold owing to the Maratha scare but is being managed by Floyer. The customs revenue has increased by 450 Pags. The charges for 1739-1740 rose to 27.45 Pags., the increase due to expenses on the Cuddalore fortifications etc., and presents to the Nāwab's sons. Recommend that the east side of Cuddalore be walled in and that the Mud Point or the north be remade with brick. At the Fort have completed the new fausse-braye wall opposite the west curtain and part of that opposite the north-west and south-west bastions. Propose to build a second powder magazine near the south-west bastion. Henry Powney went to Madras in Aug. Arrivals of new writers, Thomas Cooke Junior, Borlace Stacey and Joseph Fowke. When the Maratha horse came to the bounds in Dec., entertained topasses, gunners, lascars and 60 coolies. Even with the 30 recruits, have only 53 Europeans in each company. Have raised the peons to 551, but all extra persons will be discharged as soon as the Marathas withdraw. The Marathas under Fattah Singh and Raghoji Bhonsla have moved towards Trichinopoly, though plundering parties are still on either side of the Coleroon. Sessa Rao, an officer of Chunda Sahib, sallied out of Trichinopoly with 2,000 horse and many peons, but has been driven back. As the Marathas intend to attack the sea-ports, Safdar Ali Khan and others removed their families from Pondichery 2 or 3 days ago. Report arrivals at Pondichery of 2 French ships, one of which is loading for Europe. Regarding the caste quarrel, Dubash Venkatachalam, having tried in vain to incite Chunda Sahib when at Pondichery against this place, has now gone to Trichinopoly.

No. 12. LETTER FROM JONATHAN SMART, [] TORNE[R]Y, MICHAEL COLLINGS, JOHAN OVERREE, ANDREW GLEN AND OTHERS AT SYRIAN. DEC. 23, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 14-15 (2).]

On conquering this province, the Pegu king, 'Seminto,' wrote to Smart promising protection to strangers. Smart replied that he and the rest were only merchants, who would obey all lawful authority. To this the King replied as in No. 13. As many aspersions have been cast upon Smart and Torne[r]y, the latter goes on the Speedwell to explain matters. Smart will visit the new King in about 10 days. It is hoped that customs for Europeans may be reduced to 5% and liberty secured for exporting country produce without the former exorbitant presents.

No. 13. TRANSLATION OF A LETTER FROM THE PEGU KING, 'SEMENTHO', TO [JONATHAN] SMART AT SYRIAN. NO DATE. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 15-16 (1).]

As the Burmese were oppressive, the Peguers, etc., had to take up arms and kill all 'the governing Burmars' at Syrian. Desires Smart to settle the customs rates so as to please all foreigners and to take under his control all the Christians, Moors, Malabars, Chinese, etc. Presents Smart with a Burmese ship at Syrian.

- No. 14. STATEMENT OF THE SEA CUSTOMS, ETC., AT MADRAS, JAN.-DEC., 1739 AND 1740. [JAN. 12, 1741.] [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 22-23 (2).]

Sea-customs on goods in 1740 were 27,685 Pags.; on grain 5,119 Pags.; anchorage, 689 Pags.; land-customs, 6,675 Pags.; registration of slaves, 3 Pags. 20 fns. Town conicopoly duty at the Sea gate, 227 Pags. (of which 100 was paid to the Town conicopoly and 50 to the collectors); and at the Choultry 71 Pags.

- No. 15. CONSULTATION. JAN. 12, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 18-21 (3½).]

Read letters from Fort St. David of Jan. 8 [No. 11], and from Syrian of Dec. 23 [No. 12], and accounts relating to Sea and Land customs, and to Town conicopoly [No. 14]. The sea-customs on goods for 1740 are less owing to smaller imports of coral and no ship coming from Macao. The duties on grain are diminished because of low prices and the plenty in the country, so that little has been imported by sea. Land customs are increased because of the goods brought in from St. Thomé on account of the Marathas. Signed 13 bills on the Company for £5,693. Passed indent on England for stores for 1742. Two more chests of silver to be coined into fanams. Bengal having taken 5 chests of treasure consigned to Sumatra, the Hardwicke's packet is opened and invoice examined.

Acknowledge letter of Oct. 18 [No. 365 of 1740]. Alivirdi Khan's agreement with Murad Khan, his confirmation as Subahdar of Bengal, and his advance against the Nawab of Cuttack. This retards business. Are despatching the Heathcote and the Princess of Wales for England.

- No. 22. CONSULTATION. JAN. 16, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 24-30 (6½).]

Read letters from Fort St. David of Jan. 10 [No. 19], from Fort William of Dec. 30 [No. 20], from Tellicherry of Oct. 21 [No. 21], and from John Hallett, applying for surplus bales at £20-10s. per ton freight for the Hardwicke. Agreed that they can only be shipped at half-freight. Accounts read. Signed 12 sets of bills on the Company for £2,564. Certificates granted for 107 Pags., being part of Capt. Mickelfield's outward bound adventure. According to the merchants' request, resolved to indent for 100 bales of ordinary red and 100 of green broadcloth to mix with the auroras still unsold.

Appended are:—(1) letter from John Hallett, Commander of the Hardwicke, dated Jan. 16, as above; (2) reply to the same by John Savage, Secretary, dated Jan. 16, as above; and (3) list of charges extraordinary for Dec. 1740.

- No. 23. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 14, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 19-21 (17½).]

Forward Raghoji Bhonsla's ambiguous letter [No. 17]. Hope it may not imply a demand for money. Appaji Vitthal, before going to the Maratha camp as vakil from Pondichery promised to send news by our spy at Pondichery. The enclosed is the first letter received from Raghoji, though two months ago letters were received from the Maratha vakils at Arcot. The harkaras say that they have delivered a message for Dumas to the effect that the Marathas expect to receive all the money he has been given by the Muhammadan refugees at Pondichery.

- No. 24. CONSULTATION. JAN. 17, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons. Vol. 71, pp. 31-33 (3).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Jan. 14 [No. 23]; answer agreed on. Letter from John Hallett asking for surplus bales for the Hardwicke on the terms allowed for the Coast and Bay ships; agreed that, as the Coast and Bay freight is £24 per ton while the Hardwicke's freight is only £21-10s., surplus bales may be laded at £12 per ton. Mint accounts. Draft despatch by the Hardwicke and the Prince William approved.

Appended is a letter from John Hallett, Commander of the Hardwicke, dated Jan. 17, as above.

- No. 25. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 17, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.).]

Read letter from Madras of Jan. 13, enquiring when the Prince William will be ready to sail, and desiring that the Company may be informed of the Maratha movements and of the cargoes sent home by the French. Agreed on a reply [No. 27].

- No. 26. DIARY. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 18, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.).]

This morning, 3,000 to 4,000 Marathas entered the bounds south of Cuddalore. Though fired at thence and from the outposts, they plundered Manjakuppam and the Washing Town and wounded many. Agreed to report this to Madras.

- No. 27. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. [JAN. 16,] 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, p. 22 ($\frac{2}{3}$).]

Will load on the Prince William 850 bales or more. Will send the Company news about the Marathas, but cannot learn the ladings of the French ships as all letters are opened and read before being sent out of Pondichery.

- No. 28. CONSULTATION. JAN. 19, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 34-38 ($4\frac{3}{4}$).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Jan. 16 [No. 27]. Signed bills on the Company for £308 and indents for stores and medicines. Surgeons' complaint to medicines received from England. Certificates granted of Capt. Hallett for 4,800 Pags. on his outward bound adventure. In view of the threatening attitude of the Marathas and the possibility of their acting in concert with the Nawab, discuss the defence of Madras. There is a general uneasiness for its safety. The Europeans complain that the Black Town walls are so beset with houses and gardens that the cannon cannot be used. The officers urge that the ground should be cleared for about 200 yds. and that defences should be erected along the sea-side from the New Point to the Fishery Point with two batteries between. If the Black Town were taken, the White Town could hardly be maintained, as the houses of the former are hardly a street's breadth from the White Town walls. Resolved to act accordingly. Even palankin boys and gardeners are to be used to hasten the demolition. Morse and Torriano appointed to award compensation for houses pulled down; the President, Paymaster and Storekeeper empowered to issue orders of urgent necessity. Agreed to detain the Hardwicke and call up the Prince William from Fort St. David as their presence will hearten the inhabitants and perhaps ward off any attack.

Appended is a letter from Nathaniel Barlow and Robert Douglas, Surgeons, dated Jan. 19, stating that the drugs supplied by the Apothecary's company and Alexander Johnston are better than those of Silvanus and Timothy Bevan.

- No. 29. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 20, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.).]

Advances made.

- No. 30. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 22, 1741.
[Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)].

Read letter from Madras of Jan. 17, dictating the answer to be given to Raghoji Bhonsla, and stating that no vakil need be sent and that they believe the Maratha demands to have been suggested by Appaji Vitthal. Agreed to act accordingly. Owing to gunners' inexperience, the cannonade of the 18th had small effect on the Marathas. Agreed to write for more skilful gunners, 100 barrels of Europe powder, some flints and rice. 20 of the Prince William's crew to be landed for the Fort's defence. The Steward to lay in salt provisions in case of a siege. Trees about the Washing Tank and Semmandalam to be cut down. 100 Pags. to be paid for trees cut down about Devanampattanam.

- No. 31. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 18, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 23-24 (1¼)].

At 7-30 A.M., some 4,000 Marathas entered the bounds south of Cuddalore; but both there, at Bandipalaiyam and Tirupapuliyur, they were driven off by artillery fire. Having plundered Manjakkuppam and the Washing Town, they withdrew to Bahur. They are believed to be part of a detachment sent to Pondichery to demand Appaji Vitthal's father whom the French threatened to execute. The peons at the Points whence cannon had been withdrawn behaved well.

- No. 32. CONSULTATION. JAN. 23, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 39-40 (1½)].

Read letter from Fort St. David of Jan. 18 [No. 31] regarding the Marathas. Benyon reports that the Marathas have plundered Sadras but have been repulsed from the Dutch factory, and are now encamped on the [Palar]. Agreed to order ashore 30 men from the Hardwicke. The English, Armenians and Portuguese to be armed and drilled; two more Ensigns to be appointed—Sidney Foxall and Cornelius Goodwin. A stock of rice to be laid in. Coxson and Matthews, prisoners, sent on the Hardwicke for safe custody.

- No. 33. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 23, 1741.
[Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)].

Read letter from Madras of Jan. 20, ordering the Prince William to Madras and directing her packet to be made up. Agreed however to detain her as 5,000 Marathas have already attacked the out-guards, 7,000 to 8,000 more are expected from the south and there is a strong northwind. Agreed to desire a supply of rice. The muster-roll of the Prince William's men and the report on her military stores, to go in the packet.

No. 34. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 22, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 24-25 (1¼).]

Cannot answer Raghoji Bhonsla's letter [No. 17] unless his harkaras call on their return from Madras. The gunners being inexperienced, less damage was done to the Marathas than was hoped. Beg for skilled gunners, 100 barrels of country powder, and 12 of Europe powder, flints and rice. On the Maratha approach, landed 20 of the Prince William's crew.

No. 35. CONSULTATION. JAN. 26, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 41-43 (2½).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Jan. 22 [No. 34]. The gunners at Madras have no experience beyond firing salutes; so there are no practised gunners; no gunpowder can be spared for Fort St. David at present, but 100 garse of paddy at 26¾ Pags. the Madras garse to be shipped. The Captain of the Hardwicke reports he is ready to sail. Accounts read. 300 oxen and some hogs are to be procured and part of them salted. Agreed to buy teak timbers and planks from Pegu at 8 and 3 Pags. each, respectively. Signed despatch for the Company via Malabar and Persia [No. 36]. 30 bolts of canvass issued to make shelters at Points where there is no shelter for the men at present. The men landed from the Hardwicke to be supplied with provisions.

No. 36. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY (SENT OVERLAND). FORT ST. GEORGE. JAN. 26, 1741. [Coast and Bay abstracts, Vol. 4, p. 330 (I.O. trans.).]

On Jan. 16, received a demand from the Marathas for 300,000 Pags. besides tribute for the past 40 years. Have resolved to raise works of defence; are undecided whether to despatch the Hardwicke or not. The Marathas are now before Trichinopoly. The 5,000 horse ordered to Pondichery appeared on Jan. 18 before Cuddalore and plundered Tirupapuliyur. They are now encamped on the Sadras (Palar) river, having plundered Sadras.

- No. 37. LETTER FROM CHARLES SIMPSON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. DEC. 19, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 27-30 (3½).]

Acknowledge letter of Oct. 18 [No. 366 of 1740]. Have lost all hopes of the Venkatesa. Cotton being very scarce, the investment has been small. The George has sailed to Coringa for the Ingeram bales and the Jenny will shortly sail with those from Vizagapatam. As soon as Gibson's effects at Vizagapatam and Masulipatam have been sold, Narayana Pothanna's debt shall be paid. Hayatpatnam, 10 miles south of Ganjam, only furnishes rice, stick-lac and iron; the bar never has above 5 feet of water, and merchants are so ill-treated there and at Ganjam that no ships put in there. Salempores which used to be made round Berhampur are now neglected for the same reason. Sitaram Raz of Komali, brother of Vijayaram Raz, died recently. Three or four servants stabbed themselves and were burnt with him. As the Nawab keeps the Uppada and Ingeram countries in his own hands, the present is now given to him instead of to the Raja who first invited our settlement. Send accounts. Enclose indents [appended] for wares and stores.

- No. 38. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM. JAN. 15, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 31-33 (2¼).]

Acknowledges letter of Nov. 20 [No. 415 of 1740]. Sends 130 bales of calicoes by the George. The fine cloths have been cured in a new manner. Sends a statement of the investment. Encloses indent [appended] for broadcloth (for presents) and stores.

- No. 39. LETTER FROM CHARLES SIMPSON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. DEC. 23, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, p. 31 (½).]

Send 60 bales by the Jenny. Anwar-ud-din Khan is about to instal Vijayaram Raz in the place of his dead nephew Sitaram Raz for which he is expected to pay heavily.

- No. 40. LETTER FROM THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. JAN. 13, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 26-27 (½).]

Are sending taffaties by the Augusta for Sumatra.

- No. 41. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 23, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 25-26 (1).]

The Prince William cannot be laded before the 27th. Another body of 7,000 or 8,000 Marathas are advancing from the south. So, as the wind is northerly, propose not to despatch her to Madras till further orders. Besides, her gunners are indispensable. Are in great need of a shipload of rice.

- No. 42. CONSULTATION. - JAN. 27, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 44-45 (2).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Jan. 23 [No. 41]. Benyon hears from Arcot that the Marathas' thereabouts belong to Siddhoji not to the main army, that the Nawab has complained of their ravages but is helpless, and that the Maratha Generals are at least conniving at it. Agreed to allow the Prince William to remain at Fort St. David. Read letters from Fort William of Jan. 13 [No. 40], from Vizagapatam of Dec. 19 and 23 [Nos. 37 & 39] and from Ingeram of Jan. 15 [No. 38]. Signed bills on the Company for £50. 24 Pags. allowed the Surgeon for dieting Daniel Coxson from Aug. 12 to Jan. 23.

- No. 43. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 28, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.).]

- No. 44. DESPATCH FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID, TO THE COMPANY. JAN. 28, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 40-41 (1½).]

Have shipped on the Prince William 864 bales and 3 chests of indigo of different sorts. This year's investment is 1,691 bales in all.

- No. 45. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 29, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.).]

Read letter from Madras of Jan. 27, approving of the detention of the Prince William, stating that no gunners or powder can be spared, advising of the despatch of grain, and regretting that so much ammunition has been spent to so little purpose. Agreed on letter to Madras of Jan. 29 [No. 49].

No. 46. CONSULTATION. JAN. 31, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 46-47 (1).]

No. 47. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY BY THE PRINCE WILLIAM. FORT ST. GEORGE. JAN. 31, 1741. [Coast and Bay abstracts, Vol. 4, pp. 330-335 (I.O. trans.).]

Cite despatches of Oct. 12, 1740 [No. 356 of 1740] and Jan. 6, 1741 [?]. The Prince William sailed Jan. 7 to Fort St. David with large guns, powder, etc. Chinese insurrection at Batavia. Have sold 15 chests of silver at 14 $\frac{5}{8}$ \$ per 10 Pags. Cannot spare money for Bengal. Loss of a brigantine on which 930 Pags. worth of broadcloth was sent to Vizagapatam; on her the inhabitants have lost 50,000 Rs. Merchants have taken out but little of the 1739 broadcloth and have not sold that. Indent for 2,000 candies of lead, bright coloured velvets and small nails (those in store being old and rusty). Investment suffered through the Maratha troubles. Cloth is dearer than last year. Will have 800 bales after the ships are despatched; so hope to send a Sept. ship. Report on the balances due from the several merchants. Attempts to settle merchants at Fort St. David. Send samples of indigo. The country is in the utmost confusion. Last month, the Marathas passed by Arcot, plundered Conjeveram and several other towns in the south. On Dec. 14, they sacked the Dutch factory at Porto Novo. They have marched against Trichinopoly; Chunda Sahib has offered 12 lakhs, but the Marathas insist on its surrender. It is full of artillery which will fall into their hands. They are reported to intend visiting the European settlements and have already demanded 4 lakhs of Dumas and are sending letters to Benyon and Hubbard. Dumas has detained his two Europe ships. Nasir Jang has sent a saropa to Benyon. Imam Sahib writes from Masulipatam that either Nizam-ul-mulk or his son Nasir Jang will shortly come to Arcot to settle affairs. Revolution in Pegu. The Burmese conquered it 80 years ago; but the Peguers have now rebelled and killed 8,000 Burmese at Syrian; the new Government have recommended the care of strangers to Smart, the English Resident. There is little trade up-country. The Town is full of goods. One ship will be sent to Manilla, one to China, and one to Bushire this year. Have resolved to build a wall along the back of the Charles street houses fronting the river; that side of the Town should be enlarged (according to plans now sent) by taking in part of the island, so as to make it square with the west side of the Black Town. The cost would almost be met by the sale of the ground that would be enclosed. The east of the Black Town is quite exposed. Heaps of grain lying by and higher than the White Town walls have been removed. An able engineer and adequate garrison much needed. Desire that Ankanna's fine may be used to build granaries and a new Town Hall. If the Town is not protected, people will leave it and the revenues dwindle. Revenues, farms, etc. Difficulties regarding John Sanderson vs. Benyon's dubash before the Court of Appeals, as Benyon will not sit and Fowke urges that he is Sanderson's father-in-law. Other cases and the taking of oaths by Gentues. Have received 220 bales from the northward. The Hardwicke's invoice amounts to 83,045 Pags. and diamonds, etc., registered, 31,612 Pags. Diamonds registered per Prince William, 28,753 Pags. Cash balance, 100,126 Star an . 307 Madras Pags. Have drawn bills on the Company for 35,582 Pags. and granted certificates for 4,907 Pags.

No. 48. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 31, 1741.
 [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans).]

Read petition and protest from Capt. Langworth, against the detention of the Prince William beyond the charterparty time. Agreed to forward his protest to Madras and to inform him that the despatch for England has not yet reached them. Accounts read and advances made. Cash balance, 31,691 Pags. Agreed to raise mud batteries and breast-works north and west of Devanampattanam and east of Cuddalore.

Appended is a statement of extraordinary expenses for Dec. 1740.

No. 49. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 29, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 34-35 (1½).]

Have received the paddy. The officers at the out-guards were cautioned against wasting their fire. Believe considerable execution was done against the Marathas in the second action, although Tirupapuliyur was plundered. The Maratha detachment has since joined the main army. The Prince William will be detained until further orders.

No. 50. CONSULTATION. FEB. 2, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 48-50 (2½).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Jan. 29 [No. 49]. Though the raiders have rejoined the Maratha army before Trichinopoly, the Nawab's assurance that the Marathas have promised not to molest the seaports cannot be relied on. The Nawab himself is likely to make demands on the English and if he cannot enforce compliance will probably call in the Marathas to his aid. Private letters also urge how exposed to attack Fort St. David will be if there is no Europe ship there. 50 of the Hardwicke's men will be more useful than all the rest of the gunroom crew. Agreed to despatch the Prince William for England, but in spite of the Hardwicke's having a cargo of about Rs. 7 lakhs, resolved to send her to Fort St. David to be despatched in case the Council there think her retention not absolutely necessary. Agreed to send also the George and a country vessel, with rice and 20 lascars, who could only be hired at 2 Pags. a month, and a fanam a day batta.

No. 51. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY BY THE PRINCE WILLIAM. FORT ST. GEORGE. FEB. 4, 1741. [Coast and Bay abstracts, Vol. 4, p. 336. (I.O. trans.)]

Refer to correspondence with Raghoji Bhonsla, etc. The Marathas demand 300,000 Pags. Perhaps Appaji Vitthal has suggested this demand; but the Nawab probably expects Europeans to contribute towards the sum he has agreed to pay the Marathas. It is thought their expedition against Trichinopoly was instigated by Mir Asad who with Safdar Ali is a mortal enemy of Chunda Sahib. The shroffs fear the Nawab more than they do the Marathas. Have mounted 16 of the new 18-pounders in place of some of the worst guns. Desire 114 guns and 11,400 round shot. The French are trying to procure a grant of Diu Island, granted formerly to the English by Farrukh-Siyar. Have informed Imam Sahib of this in order to embarrass the French in their attempt. Refer to letters from Safdar Ali and Bade Sahib. Are at no loss to guess what business requires a wakil to be sent, and Safdar Ali will no doubt speak yet plainer. Of two evils, will rather deal with him than with the Marathas. Additional diamonds registered by the Hardwicke, 1,226 Pags.

No. 52. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 6, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

No. 53. DESPATCH FROM THE COMPANY BY THE CÆSAR.

[Paras. 1 to 64 as in the Despatch of March 21, 1740 (No. 253 of 1740).] Ships are ordered to call at Madras only in case they can reach it by Aug. 31. Read the Company's packet by the Cæsar; her treasure to remain on board for the present, but her recruits, stores, etc., to be landed. Read letter from Fort St. David of Feb. 2 [No. 57]. As there is no fresh water within 2 miles of the Town, casks, jars, etc., to be bought, wooden tanks to be made, and the scavenger's carts to be fitted up to fetch water. Stands to be made for wall pieces sent out this year; and 200 wooden cartridge cases for carrying powder.

Read letter from Madras of Feb. 4, directing the Prince William to be despatched from Fort St. David, stating that rice and 20 lascars will be sent by the George, and permitting the Fort St. David Board to detain the Hardwicke if necessary. Agreed it will not be prudent to detain the Hardwicke as she has a rich cargo and only 30 men could be landed from her under the charterparty.

The new Military Regulations [No. 54] to lie over till the country is more settled. The stores wanted at Vizagapatam to be sent Hear that 2,000 to 4,000 Maratha horse have marched to sack Chidambaram; and it is said that 10,000 are coming. If so, they are likely to attack Cuddalore which is both open and weakly held. As soon as carriages are made for the guns recently received, will replace the heavy guns there by others, as the capture of the heavy guns might be very disadvantageous. Having neither country charcoal nor sea-coal, the smiths have had to stop work. Enclose indents [appended] for coal, wares and stores.

Acknowledge 10,000 flints, etc., with letters of the 16th &c. Believe Cuddalore cannot be surprised, but it cannot resist a strong enemy. The out-guards will be withdrawn as soon as Trichinopoly is taken, as otherwise the Marathas might be here before that could be done. Trust it is true that Nizam-ul-mulk is coming; but the Arcot news is that he has left Aurangabad for Surat. Send a letter [No. 77] from Raghoji Bhonsla, answering one from Fort St. David. Raghoji was disappointed at 'an empty letter and no money'; but the messenger says a vakil with a present of curiosities will prevent further trouble; and this course is recommended. Are informed that Benyon's letters to Raghoji Bhonsla and Fatteh Singh were not delivered. The Marathas are said to have advanced within a few fathoms of the ditch and to be preparing to storm Trichinopoly. The caked pistol powder will be returned to be new grained. Recommend the discharge of the Master of the Carolina [No. 76]. Send monthly accounts.

Agreed that Raghoji Bhonsla's letter to James Hubbard [No. 77] offers an opportunity for sending the Marathas a present without appearing to do so out of fear, and that a vakil be sent with presents. As the articles in the warehouse are more suitable for Moors than for Marathas, Coja Petrus is desired to procure musters of suitable things. Agreed that the out-guards at Fort St. David be withdrawn on the news of Trichinopoly being taken, and that the Master of the Carolina sloop may resign.

Appended is cash account for Feb., balance 64,271 Current, and 347 Madras Pags.

- No. 120. CONSULTATION. APR. 7, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 112-123 (11 1/2). Very brittle and torn.]

Read letters from Fort St. David of Apr. 2, 3 and 4 [No. 117, 118 & 119]. Payments received and accounts read. Quitrent due from persons who occupied houses that have been pulled down written off as bad debts. Two town shroffs, Tiruvallur Adimulam and 'Copertee' Subba, convicted of having sealed bags with counterfeit seals, committed to the Choultry and their houses sealed up. The [ill] success of the M.M. pagodas coined in 1735 has hitherto hindered any method being taken to maintain the fineness of the pagoda except that the Company's Shroff has been forbidden to seal up any pagoda worse than $80\frac{1}{4}$ touch. The practice of sealing up pagodas in bags of 1,000 is ancient custom. Before the country mints debased their coins, the Shroff's seal only guaranteed the number of pagodas; but since pagodas have deteriorated, people have been unwilling to take loose money, and amounts down to 5 Pags. have usually been paid in sealed bags, smaller sums being paid in fanams. But the Company's Shroff has taken advantage of this to seal up bags of pagodas worse than 80 touch. Do not know when he began this practice. As soon as it was discovered, his seal was placed in charge of a Company's servant, and it was ordered (as a temporary measure) that no pagodas should be sealed without samples having been assayed in the Mint. This indeed checked the importation of inferior pagodas, which if loose, only fetch 31 or 32 fns., though if in sealed bags, they fetch 37 fns. in the bazaar. The sealed bags do not pass in the country for more than ordinary pagodas, so there is no danger of their being sent out; but there are not enough of them for the currency of Madras. The merchants therefore are anxious for some reform. It is impossible to prevent other shroffs from counterfeiting the seal of the Company's Shroff; it is impossible to make country pagodas current here, because the issues of the various mints vary amongst themselves and from week to week. The objections to coining a special pagoda are the uncertainty of their passing current in the country and the danger of the same inconvenience that arose in 1735. However it is believed that these difficulties were due to the M.M. pagodas, being made current only for the Company's business. Moreover it has for sometime been declared that only pagodas of $80\frac{1}{4}$ – $1\frac{1}{2}$ touch are current; and as the sealed pagodas have passed current, it is probable that a new pagoda with a special mark would pass current equally well. The principal shroffs are willing to assist. But it is resolved to defer a resolution.

Appended are the accounts (fragmentary) of the Rental-general and Scavenger.

Acknowledge letter of Feb. 6. The Peguers have conquered as far as Prone, whence the Burmese and Europeans, etc., have fled towards Ava, except Golightly and a few others who have now reached Syrian. The Peguers are preparing to attack Ava. Denies that he was hasty to help the new powers. On Nov. 18, the Prince of the Peguers was murdered; on Dec. 4, the Peguers attacked Syrian; and the Burmese Prince after asking Smart (who had only 4 or 5 Europeans in the factory) to drive them away, fled. Has saved the lives of some 2,000 Burmese. Encloses Captain Glen's proposal for a voyage to Prone [No 129] to visit the King, secure trade concessions, recover the Europeans upcountry and seize the Company's debtors. Has accepted the office of Dispatchadore and Receiver of customs, at the Raja's request. It must be at least a year before the country is settled, but the Peguers have taken off [inland] taxes for three years and then propose to collect only half what the Burmese were taking.

In the houses of the other shroffs, little of value has been found.

Appended are inventories which include brass vessels, paddy, clothes, 'a tick-tack with men and dice,' a few jewels, etc.

Acknowledge letter of Apr. 25 [See No. 143], with fanams. Permission to coin silver fanams was asked [No. 140] merely for the Company's people who had received pagodas and could not change them, and not in order to exchange them for bad pagodas. Have not yet been able to exclude pagodas of 7 touch from circulation. Believe they were paid into cash by the Madras Shroff in Feb. The wakil returned on Apr. 27 with presents, etc., from Raghoji Bhonsla and Fatteh Singh [Nos. 149 to 152]. The presents for Benyon and Fowke will be sent on to-night by the wakil and the Maratha messenger. Desire the wakil to be rewarded. The total cost of the presents, etc., is 2,700 Pags. Enquire how Fatteh Singh's letter [No. 152] should be answered. Dubash Venkatachalam has tried to incite the Marathas against the English, but is said now to be in no credit with them. Leaving 5,000 horse at Trichinopoly and Madura, the Marathas have moved to Jagadev. But, as they may return after the land winds are over, have dismissed only the worst gunners and peons.

No. 164. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. MAY [26?], 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 91-102 (10¾).]

Acknowledge letters of May 12 [See No. 159] and 15 with 10,000 Pags. In June last [Vide letter of June 3? (Nos. 158, 161, etc., of 1740)] silver fanams were but recently introduced and the demand was uncertain. At that time it was desired to encourage their use in the bazaars. Deny any real inconsistency between their former letter [No. 140?] and letter of May 2 [No. 153]. When fanams were sent, they were paid out till they circulated at 36 per pagoda. When they are over that, no one wants more than the odd money in fanams; but as soon as they become scarce, every one asks for their wages in fanams. This cannot be foreseen. The monthly payments vary considerably. Desire to know the weight and fineness of the Madras fanam. Two different trials give 32 oz. 16 dwt., and 33 oz. 4 dwt. as the weight of 1,000. If they are of dollar fineness there would be a small profit on coining silver when at $13\frac{7}{8}$ \$ per 10 Pags. Have done the same as the Madras Council and declared Star pagodas and Madras fanams alone to be current, but permitted merchants to use other pagodas at a discount. Country pagodas get worse and worse. Few of 7 touch are now to be seen. Propose that contracts should be paid at the rate of fineness usual when the contract was made: 7, $7\frac{1}{2}$, $7\frac{3}{4}$ and 8 for 1741, 1740, 1739 and earlier years, respectively. Will keep two accounts — for Star and country pagodas. Of 4,000 Pags. recently sent from Madras, 679 were Wandiwash Pags. of $6\frac{3}{4}$ touch. Irusappa Chetti has paid the fine of 500 Pags. [See No. 159]. As the Marathas are so far away, the letter about Venkatachalam [No. 152] hardly needs answer. Have given the Ensign's commission to William de Morgan. Support Edward Harris' application for admission to the Madras Council vice Torriano deceased.

Appended are:—(1) letter from Edward Harris at Fort St. David to Hubbard etc., dated May 26, 1741, desiring their recommendation to Madras for his appointment to Council vice Torriano; (2) proclamation, dated Fort St. David, May 18, 1741, that after May 31 the Company will only receive and pay Star pagodas.

No. 165. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM. MAY 10, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 102-103 (1 $\frac{1}{4}$).]

Though cotton is plentiful, cannot obtain cloth owing to the short measure accepted by the French, unless the merchants should be given some other advantage. Cotton is at 26 Madras Pags. the candy at present. Has on hand only 46 bales of cloth.

No. 166. LETTER FROM JOHN ANDREWS AT MADAPOLLAM. MAY 16, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 103-104 (1).]

Joseph Goddard, attacked with convulsions and delirium on the 11th, has died. John Churchey wrote for assistance; so the writer was sent from Ingeram. Has received 6,000 Pags. from Vizagapatam.

No. 167. CONSULTATION. MAY 28, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 175-181 (6½). Brittle.]

Read letters from Fort St. David, no date [No. 164], from Ingeram of May 10 [No. 165], and from Madapollam of May 16 [No. 166]. Accounts read and payments received. Report on the Queen's Point. It is to be repaired. Guruvappa Nayakan's peons to be discharged, but the rest to be continued till more certain news about the Nawab's coming. Kodambakkam Guruvappa complains that Pentapad Narasu has run away with part of collections of the Town brokerage and Measuring farm. The latter summoned to appear within a month, or his property to be sold. The Company's merchants explain that they have lately brought in no cloth, because the Marathas were expected to overrun the Carnatic after capturing Trichinopoly; the weavers and spinners fled and have not yet returned; while little cotton and cotton yarn have been imported from other countries, as the roads were dangerous.

Appended are:—(1) statement of extraordinary expenses for Apr. 1741; (2) letter from Morse, Eckman, Hollond and Southby, dated May 28, 1741, stating that the Queen's Point would be brought down by the fire of its own guns and that it is of importance for the protection of the Black Town, and furnishing a plan [missing] of what they recommend to be done.

No. 168. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. MAY 28, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

Read letter to Madras of May 26? [No. 164?].

No. 169. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. MAY 31, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

No. 170. CONSULTATION. JUNE 1, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 182-192 (10¾).]

Accounts read and advances made. Report read of deficiency of cordage. Read the Regulations for the military [No. 54]. Observe that the Governor has but little leisure for tours in the country; the Secretary to draw out new commissions for the 3 lieutenants; where soldiers are unwilling to contract for a further fixed term, it is still advisable to keep them in pay, as this saves the cost of recruits; the 6th article can only apply to a larger garrison than is maintained at Madras; as regards the 7th, when soldiers who kept public houses were discharged the service, they were often insubordinate and troublesome, especially when the Europe ships had sailed and they had difficulty in making a living. However taverns are needed for the sailors on Europe ships, and at present soldiers are allowed to keep a certain number but remain in the service, under military control, and return to constant duty as soon as the Europe ships sail. Soldiers bred to a trade must have been either drunken or lazy ever to have enlisted, and very few have ever been able to earn their living. Consider that an adjutant is unnecessary and his hearing complaints against the other officers would tend to insubordination or mutiny, especially where the soldiers are such as to require severe discipline. Besides, abuses of the officers' powers must speedily come to the ears of the Council. Regarding drill, etc., the garrison duties as performed at present are to be entered. On arrival, the recruits receive 12 fns. each 'refreshing money.' Pay for those who are discharged or die is allowed to the end of the month in which their service terminates. The soldiers are so constantly on duty that they must be allowed new clothing every year, not every two years.

Appended are:—(1) Cash account for May 1741, balance 16,296 Star, 35 Madras and 58,925 old Pags.; (2) Duty of military officers: The Captain mounting guard to do so about 7 A.M. on week-days and 9 on Sundays, to hear all complaints that may be made by or against the soldiers, to visit the hospital once in 24 hours, and to report all deaths or desertions to the Governor; 2 ensigns are on guard at a time, one at the Main Guard and one at the Choultry; the former goes the rounds at 10 P.M. in the White Town, and the latter at the out-guards at 5 or 6 P.M.; the serjeants and corporals size and regulate the men on parade, exercise their men every morning on their guards, go the rounds every hour, reporting at the Main Guard and delivering a leaden 'chop' marked with the hour of beginning the round; one serjeant and one corporal to be orderlies each day, to receive the parole and other orders at 4 P.M. and carry them to the officers off guard, to call the roll of the soldiers sleeping in the barracks and to see that the hospital and barracks are shut at 10 P.M.; a serjeant, corporal and 12 men (half black and half white) to be on guard after gunfire at the Governor's Garden House and patrol the suburbs. Every Monday an ensign is to exercise the company that comes off guard that morning. A company mounts guard for 24 hours in the White Town, then for 24 hours in the Black Town, and then for 24 hours is off guard, so that 2 companies are always on and one off guard; (3) Letter from William Monson, dated June 1, 1741, stating that the loss on cordage amounts to only $1\frac{3}{16}\%$, while cordage in private trade often loses 3% the first year.

No. 171. LETTER FROM THOMAS SAUNDERS AT VIZAGAPATAM MAY 1, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 104-105($\frac{3}{4}$).]

On Apr. 16, the Nawab encamped at the mango garden. Presented him with 6 yds. of broadcloth. He left on the 18th to visit the Dutch at Bimlipatam.

No. 172. LETTER FROM THOMAS SAUNDERS AT VIZAGAPATAM. MAY 11, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 105-106 ($1\frac{1}{2}$).]

Acknowledges letters of Apr. 3, 28 and May 4. The Calcutta sloop arrived on the 4th and sailed for Bengal on the 7th with 12,000 Madras Rs. Has sent 4,000 Madras Pags. to Ingeram and 6,000 to Madapollam. Needs pagodas. Goodere arrived on the 6th. Thomas Pelling has been discharged.

No. 174. LETTER FROM WILLIAM WAKE, ETC., AT TELLICHERRY. MAY 10, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, p. 109 ($\frac{3}{4}$).]

The Nottingham bound for Great Britain is sailing for Madras to lie there till she can pass the Cape safely.

No. 175. CONSULTATION. JUNE 4, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 193-195 ($2\frac{1}{2}$).]

Read letter from Vizagapatam of May 1 and 11 [Nos. 171 & 172], and from Tellicherry of May 2 and 10 [Nos. 173 & 174]. Advances made. As the Fort St. George sloop has probably passed without touching at Vizagapatam, a further supply of Madras pagodas to be sent there. Linga Chetti agrees to supply 15,130 Madras Pags. for 17,400 old Pags. of 76 to 78 touch, at the rate of 115 current for 100 Madras Pags. This is 9% cheaper than recoining the old pagodas as the shroffs over-value the old pagodas. The Board sign the commissions for Eckman, Hollond and Southby, in lieu of the old ones signed only by the President.

No. 176. LETTER FROM STEPHEN LAW, ETC., AT BOMBAY.
APR. 17, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 109-112 (2½).]

The books, which are two years behind, will be brought up to date. Has sent 3,000 Pags. to Prince at Ingeram.

No. 179. CONSULTATION. JUNE 8, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 195-203 (8¼).]

Read letters from Bombay of Apr. 17 [No. 176], from Calicut of May 6 [No. 177], from Madapollam of May 23 [No. 178], and from Capt. Blake of the Halifax, stating his reasons for not calling at Anjengo and desiring advice whether to land the Anjengo treasure, stores and military at Madras or carry them up to the Bay. Agreed that they should be landed. The Cæsar to be despatched in Sept. in company with the Nottingham and to be surveyed. The bamboo, bag, head and black coolies having left the bounds, complaining that their wages were insufficient, their families were turned out of town, on which they sent a petition to Benyon. Morse and Monson to enquire into their grievances.

Appended are:—(1) letter from John Blake, Commander of the Halifax, dated June 8, 1741, (as above); (2) copy of consultation held May 18, 1741, by the officers of the Halifax, alleging contrary winds and currents (due to the lateness of the season) for their failure to call at Anjengo; (3) list of goods aboard the Halifax for Anjengo; (4) letter from John Savage, Secretary, to Capt. No. 180. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JUNE 9, 1741.
[Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

Read letter from Madras of May 30, declining to permit the coining of fanams at Fort St. David, requesting musters of bad Wandiwash pagodas, and ordering the dismissal of peons, the Marathas having re-crossed the Kistna; and another of June 3, ordering the payment of 5 Pags. a month to wakil Kuppayya. Agreed on letter to Madras of June 9 [No. 185].

No. 181. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM. MAY 23, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 115-117 (1½).]

Acknowledges letter of Apr. 28. Hears from Madapollam that the Masulipatam Faujdar sent them a warning that the Marathas were near; but it has proved otherwise. On hearing of Goddard's illness at Madapollam, Andrews was sent as he knows the country. He took with him the doctor from Yanam. Has received 4,000 Madras Pags. from Vizagapatam.

No. 182. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM. MAY 25, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 117 (½).]

Andrews has been able to spare only 3,000 Pags., as his merchants have much cloth on hand.

No. 183. CONSULTATION. JUNE 11, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 204-206 (2½). Brittle and torn.]

Read letters from Ingeram of May 23 and 25 [Nos. 181 & 182] and from Madapollam of May 16 and 23 [Nos. 166 & 178]. Andrews and Churchey to send surplus money to Ingeram and to take charge of and sell Goddard's effects, paying the produce into cash; the cloth accounts of the northern settlements to be made up, so that Goddard's account with the Company may be stated. Discrepancy of nearly 3 Pags. in the Madapollam cash accounts. Payments received. The soldiers for Anjengo by the Halifax to be paid for May. Paid to Capt. Taylor of the George 999 Rs. being wages of the crew for 3 months, 999 Rs. being the 'impress' due for 3 months from June 1, and 226 Pags. for wages and miscellaneous expenses; also stores for the George to be provided. Linga Chetti to supply 5,000 Madras for 5,500 Star Pags. Auroras received last year to be delivered to the merchants, they paying for it as issued.

No 184. LETTER FROM CHARLES WHITEHILL, ETC., AT ANJENGO. MAY 23, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 117-118 (1).]

Send a packet for Bombay. This year none of the returning ships have called. Desire that any packets for Anjengo may be forwarded. Desire early news of the possible war with France.

No. 185. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JUNE 9, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 118-122 (4).]

Acknowledge letters of May 25, 26 and 30, and 10,000 Pags. Send musters of the low-touch Wandiwash pagodas; the cash chest could not have been tampered with. Have discharged 300 peons and several lascars, and will continue to discharge the least useful; but doubt whether the garrison should be reduced to what it was two years ago. The Marathas are likely to return in a few months; and the French have 500 Europeans in garrison and will receive 500 from the Isles; so the latter too will be dangerous if war breaks out. In accounts, are using double columns, one for country and the other for Star pagodas. 990 Pags. paid as compensation to the owners of houses and gardens demolished. 1,100 Pags. will be paid to the Cuddalore people. Have made pallisades (with trees cut down in the soldiers' gardens and elsewhere), east and north of the Fort, round Paracheri Point, north and west of Dēvanāmpattanam and along the river near Cuddalore. Recommend that the 2 Brahmans sent to prepare for the reception of the present to the Marathas may be rewarded for their good service. The Arrack farm is still managed by Floyer, as only 650 Pags. per annum is offered for it.

No. 186. CONSULTATION. JUNE 15, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 206-209 (2½).]

Read letters from Anjengo of May 23 [No. 184], and from Fort St. David of June 9 [No. 185]. Agreed to reply to the latter, approving of the treatment of the Arrack farm and compensation being given to those whose houses or trees were destroyed, and permitting 50 Pags. each to be given to the 2 Brahmans who went to Trichinopoly. Pagodas received from Fort St. David given to the Assaymaster to be tested; some previously sent as under 70 touch were found to be $71\frac{1}{2}$. Capt. Browne of the Nottingham to explain why he put in at Madras, instead of sailing for Europe. 4 bales of auroras and 8 pigs of lead landed from the Cæsar to be sold unless the owner proves his claim before July 1. Anjengo peons to be returned with despatches for that place received by the Halifax. People whose houses were pulled down allowed to build houses in John Pereira's and Maria Pois's gardens, which will produce more by quit-rent when inhabited, than as let out for growing coconut trees.

No. 187. LETTER FROM THOMAS SAUNDERS AT VIZAGAPATAM.
MAY 26, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 122-123 (1).]

Forwards a packet received from Balasore, which has been delayed by the troubles in the country. Andrews and Churchey are at Madapollam. The Fort St. George must have overshot Vizagapatam or been lost. Desires Madras pagodas and Arcot rupees.

No. 188. LETTER FROM JOHN ANDREWS AT MADAPOLLAM.
JUNE 3, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 123-124 (½).]

No. 189. CONSULTATION. JUNE 20, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 209-213 (4).]

Read letters from Vizagapatam of May 26 [No. 187], and from Madapollam of June 3 [No. 188]. Medicines to be bought in Madras for Vizagapatam, there being none in store to be spared. Read letter from Capt. Browne of the Nottingham, explaining that being despatched late and unlikely to be able to make his passage round the Cape, he thought it wiser to make for Madras than to run the risk of wintering at Madagascar or the French Islands, in view of the likelihood of war with France. The Cæsar reported fit for the Europe voyage. Read letter from Capt. Cummings of the Cæsar, desiring 100 tons of pepper at half-freight to shoot loose among his bales. Agreed to send pepper on board, reserving the right to decide whether it shall be included in her tonnage or go at half-freight. Payments received. Capt. Hudson of the Prince of Orange to explain why he called at Madras as he has no packet for Madras.

Appended are:—(1) letter from Thomas Browne, dated June 17, 1741, as above; (2) letter from John Blake, John Taylor and Samuel Lutton, dated June 15, 1741, reporting on the Cæsar as above; (3) letter from Robert Cummings, dated June 20, 1741, as above; (4) letter to Capt. John Blake of the Halifax, dated June 20, 1741, directing him to send pepper on board the Cæsar.

No. 190. CONSULTATION. JUNE 26, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 214-217 (3½).]

Accounts read. Read letter from Capt. Hudson of the Prince of Orange. 18 soldiers on her who are ill with scurvy to be detained here. The Marshall's house (bought in 1729) and Gangaram's godowns, being past repair, agreed to sell them to Abraham Solomons and Coja Petrus. Burton and Morse to report their value.

Appended are:—(1) statement of extraordinary expenses for May 1741; (2) letter from Charles Hudson, dated June 22, 1741, stating that he put into Madras on account of the prevalence of scurvy, especially among the recruits.

No. 191. CONSULTATION. JUNE 27, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 217-218 (1).]

Redwood to be laded on the Prince of Orange and the Halifax for the Bay. Linga Chetti pays in 20,130 Madras Pags.; 20,000 of them and some Arcot rupees to be sent to the northern settlements by the George. Accounts read. The officers of the Cæsar withdraw their complaints [No. 89].

No. 192. CONSULTATION. JUNE 30, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 218-221 (3½).]

Accounts read and payments received. Headmoney paid the Surgeon of the Prince of Orange for Bengal soldiers. Agreed to send stores on the George to replace those designed for Vizagapatam on the Fort St. George and to desire Bengal to send the Madras pagodas down to Vizagapatam in Dec. No more beteellas required from Ingeram unless they can be got cheaper. Agreed on letters to Vizagapatam and Bengal. The pagodas from Fort St. David reported to be 70 touch. Burton and Morse report [See No. 190] the house in York Alley to be worth 250 Pags. and the godowns 600 Pags. Agreed to sell them at those prices. A Moor boy having been stolen and sold to a ship's captain, and the Nawab's mullah interceding for his release, Benyon had some trouble to get him ashore. Here there is no agreement with the Moor government not to sell Moors as slaves, similar to the one in Bengal, probably because Hindus were lords of the south when the English first settled. A notice to be issued prohibiting the sale of Moors or other Muhammadans as slaves within the jurisdiction of Madras.

Appended are:—(1) petition of Walter Currie, Surgeon of the Prince of Orange, dated June 29, 1741, desiring headmoney for 18 soldiers; and (2) letter from Augustus Burton and Nicholas Morse dated June 30, 1741, as above, adding that the godowns are in Choultry Gate street.

No. 193. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JUNE 30, 1741.
[Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

Accounts read, advances made and payments received. Borlace Stacey to assist the Paymaster vice Zachariah Foxall deceased; and Thomas Cooke Junior to assist the Warehouse-keeper. Read letter from Madras of June 19, reporting that the Wandiwash pagodas were found to be of $71\frac{1}{2}$ touch, ordering the discharge of most of the peons but not to reduce the military and gunners, granting compensation to garden-owners and a present of 50 Pags. to each of the other two vakils to the Maratha camp, and approving of the retention of the Arrack farm. Agreed on letter to Madras of July 6 [No. 201]. Cash balance, 15,258 old and 8,468 Star Pags.

Appended is a statement of extraordinary expenses for May 1741, including 33 fns. for killing mad dogs.

No. 194. CONSULTATION. JULY 3, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 222-229 (7).]

Accounts read and advances made. Paid Capt. Blake 132 Pags. for dieting the Anjengo soldiers on the Halifax. The London having no packet for Madras, Capt. Bootle to explain why he put in here. Richard Starke posted under the Accountant. Capt. Cummings refusing to sign a receipt for the pepper sent aboard without making some deduction 'for the turn of the scale', agreed that, as such deduction is not usual in India, he may enter the method of weighment on his bill of lading. A shroff having attempted to get 79 oz. of gold of $71\frac{3}{4}$ touch passed as $81\frac{1}{2}$ by changing the assay piece, agreed that the gold be forfeited to the Company and that 100 Pags. be distributed among the 4 men who detected the fraud. The Company's merchants ordered not to provide cloth at Salem, Chennappanāyakanpālaiyam and Udaiyārpālaiyam, as the Fort St. David merchants can get cloth from thence cheaper than the Madras merchants and as the Fort St. David investment will be increased. Advance 5,000 Pags. of old money to merchants. For want of suitable thread, fine long-cloth and salem-pores cannot be got at present.

Appended are:—(1) cash account for June 1741, balance 10,050 Star, 41,555 old and 165 Madras Pags.; and (2) bill of John Blake for dieting soldiers at 4 fns. per man per diem.

- No. 200. CONSULTATION. JULY 8, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 230-232 (3)].

Read letters from Fort William of May 12 [No. 196], from Fort Marlborough of Oct. 23, 1740 [No. 197], from Vizagapatam of June 15 [No. 198], from Madapollam of June 18 [No. 199] and from Capt. Bootle of the London. Redwood to be sent on board the London. Account sale of broadcloth. News of the seizure of Leghorn by the French etc. reported by the Jesuits at Ispahan. This is likely to offend the maritime powers and cause war. Desire early intimation of any news from Europe.

The Calcutta grab from Tellicherry for Bengal met rough weather and could not weather Ceylon. She is now at Colombo and needs repair. Desires a letter to the Dutch Governor authorising assistance. The Richard (also at anchor off Colombo) went ashore and was wrecked on the 26th.

- No. 209. DESPATCH FROM THE COMPANY BY THE GODOLPHIN. [COPY RECD. BY THE KING WILLIAM.] JULY 23, 1740. [Pub. Des. from Eng., Vol. 45, pp. 1-2 (2).]

Cite despatch of Apr. 2, 1740 [No. 53]. Acknowledge despatches of Aug. 2 and Sept. 20, 1739. Ships arrived and at St. Helena. Complain that, though French ships were despatched in Oct. no English ships sailed, but hope the delay will prove due to the superiority of English goods. The war with Spain continues.

- No. 210. CONSULTATION. JULY 18, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 235-238 (3½).]

Read letters from Bombay of May 26 [No. 205], from Anjengo of June 15 [No. 206], from Vizagapatam of June 21 [No. 207], and from the Master of the Calcutta sloop of May 28 [No. 208]. Accounts read and payments received. The Board adjourn to 4 p.m. The King William's packet with despatch of July 23, 1740 [No. 209] opened. Her treasure, men and stores to be landed. Burton and Monson to examine the treasure. Shipping news etc. from Europe to be sent to Bombay, Tellicherry and Anjengo. 10 chests of silver to be sold; half of the rest to be coined at the Company's mint; the other half to be coined into Arcot rupees at the Covelong mint by Linga Chetti at 256½ Rs. for 100 oz. of standard silver and 1,000 Rs. to weigh 367 oz. and be 2½ dwt. better than standard.

No. 211. LETTER FROM JOHN ANDREWS, ETC., AT MADAPOLLAM. JULY 7, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 136-137 (¾).]

Acknowledge letter of June 15. The 1740 books are in hand. Have sent copies of the inventory of Goddard's estate to all the neighbouring settlements. Will report how the articles sell.

No. 212. LETTER FROM JAMES HUBBARD, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JULY 22, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 137-138 (1½).]

Acknowledge letter of July 10 with 5,000 new Pags. Two Europe ships reached Pondichery with 175 chests of silver. There are 1,200 Europeans at Pondichery, but only 104 at Fort St. David. Believe if war breaks out they will attack the English. At the time of the Spanish Succession war, the French were poor and anxious to keep on good terms; but they are now full of ambition. Desire more country and new pagodas. Wandiwash and Tiruvattūr pagodas do not pass here; Alambarai pagodas are the best this way.

No. 213. CONSULTATION. JULY 27, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 239-245 (6½).]

Read letters from Madapollam of July 7 [No. 211] and from Fort St. David of July 22 [No. 212]. 30 recruits and 10,000 Alambarai and Star Pags. to be sent to Fort St. David. Accounts read. 70 poligar peons, 22 topasses and 32 lascars out of the gunroom to be discharged. John Hallyburton to be Resident at Madapollam and to obtain only fine longcloth so as not to interfere with Ingeram. Samuel Harrison to be Upper-searcher at the Seagate vice Hammond, appointed Registrar of the Mayor's Court; Richard Starke to be Under-searcher; Cornelius Goodwin to be under the Paymaster; Affleck to assist the Import Warehouse-keeper. For want of assistants, Robert Sloper taken as monthly writer on 10 Pags. a month and to assist the Export Warehouse-keeper.

Appended is a statement of extraordinary expenses for June 1741.

No. 214. LETTER FROM SIR EVERARD FAWKENER AT CONSTANTINOPLE. SEPT. 15, 1740. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 139-140 (2).]

Acknowledges letter of Aug. 27, 1736, sent by Domencio Kiundell, but distrusts that person. Will endeavour to promote the trade from India to the Red Sea and the Persian Gulf, as it does not compete with the Levant Company's trade. Is making enquiries at Basra and Jedda.

No. 215. LETTER FROM WILLIAM MAY, ETC., SUPRACARGOES OF THE PRINCE OF WALES AT MOCHA. JUNE 24, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, p. 141 (1½).]

Can obtain only 2,000 bales of coffee. So shall consign [the Prince of Wales] to Madras.

No. 216. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM. JULY 2, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 141-142 (1).]

Has 101 bales of longcloth, salempores and izarees, and will receive 50 more by Aug. 15. Would have had double, but for the French taking short measure. Unless the French investment declines, the Company's trade will be ruined.

No. 217. CONSULTATION. JULY 30, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 246-247 (1¼).]

Read letters from Constantinople of Sept. 15, 1740 [No. 214], from the supracargoes of the Prince of Wales at Mocha of June 24 [No. 215], and from Ingeram of July 2 [No. 216]. Payments received. Paid 1,200 Pags. on account of town-rent to the Nawab.

No. 218. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JULY 31, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I. O. trans.)]

Accounts read, payments received and advances made. Damaged stores to be surveyed. Cash balance, 5,188 old and 10,720 Star Pags.

Appended is a statement of extraordinary expenses for June 1741, including 5 Pags. given to the Tirupapuliyūr feast as usual.

No. 219. DESPATCH FROM THE COMPANY, BY THE KING WILLIAM AND BEAUFORT. FEB. 6, 1741. [Pub. Des. from Eng., Vol. 45, pp. 3-13 (11).]

Cite despatch of July 23, 1740 [No. 209]. Acknowledge despatches of Jan. 15, 17, and 25 and Feb. 19, 1740 [Nos. 24, 27, 35 & 69 of 1740]. Arrival of 12 ships; but no news of the Normanton, the Somerset or the Haeslingfield. Have taken up 17 ships for the season, of which 8 designed to visit the Coast and Bay. As demurrage is 9d. per day per ton, ships must not be kept longer than necessary. War continues with Spain and threatens with France.

Certificates to be granted to commanders paying into cash loans or money on account of their private trade. The Nassau takes men and stores to Bombay, and thence cotton to Bengal. Redwood to be sent to Bengal for the London. Usual instructions regarding surplus tonnage, packing, etc. Approve sending bales instead of a part of the tea on the Duke of Lorraine. Large sloops being unsuitable to collect pepper from the small rivers in Sumatra, small ones like the Bonetta to be provided; 3 or 4 councilors at Madras have resided at Bencoolen and should have known what was needed there. Approve of sheathing in Bengal the Princess Augusta of 230 tons, built at Bombay. Any necessary information to be sent the Company via Basra and Aleppo or Cairo. No Company's or country shipping to carry fire-arms for sale to the Malabar Coast. The Prince of Wales is to take in only 2,000 bales of coffee at Mocha, unless it may be had at 65 $ the bahar; in the former case, Madras is to complete her lading with calicoes. The Fort St. George, unless laded on the Malabar Coast, is to be sent to Bengal. Each homeship should have 180 to 200 tons of saltpetre.

Owing to the war, broadcloth is 5 % and perperets 10 % cheaper. Alphabetical price currents should be sent regularly. Consider the late great delays in selling broadcloth due to selling the whole to one man. In future it should be sold at outcry, 6 or 12 months being allowed to clear the goods. The Company do not want more than market price, but do desire a larger vend. Though sending Arcot rupees to Bengal may be more profitable than sending Madras rupees, the proportion must be determined by Bengal.

Send list of investment [No. 220]. Employment of merchants as brokers has increased the investment at Fort St. David. Approve the same having been done at Madras. The goods thus provided have sold well. Approve arrangement with Tambi Chetti, etc. Want more fine and middling cloth. Indian terms should be explained in consultations. Chay goods apparently include allejas, collawapores and sastracundeas. Cotton romals short of full length were rightly rejected. As the northern settlements last season provided 1,100 bales, trust that the new Chiefs will succeed in reviving English trade there. In providing goods to the south, either Indian merchants or Company's servants may be employed. Since Andiyappa left off providing Porto Novo cloth, none has been sent; another merchant should have been appointed. This would hinder interlopers like Milner from getting goods there. Gratified to hear that there was a lading of bales and tea on the Coast for the Sept. ships.

Approve of not detaining a foreign ship bound to Macao. Such a course would injure the credit of Madras, drive away commerce and reduce the revenues. Care must be taken that no great loss is made on the provisions laid in against a siege. Approve precautions taken against a Maratha attack. Urge care that political revolutions do not injure the Company.

Regret that the repairs at Vizagapatam should have been delayed by the Chief being alone and sick. More than one covenanted servant should be kept there. As the garden-house used for receiving 'Moors and Gentues' was formerly bought by each incoming Chief of his predecessor, suppose some profit was made of it. Now that it is the Company's, this profit must be secured for the Company. Entry should have been made in consultation regarding the persons who had lost their titles to houses, etc. but were confirmed in possession. Approve the Mint Brahmans' dismissal for their roguery.

Security given for Simpson. Legh Denny's estate paid to his sister. Regret that Benyon was unable to sign the Consultations on account of sore eyes. Complain of the omission of 1,700 bales of calico from the estimate of quick stock. Will send more soldiers. As regards Sanderson and his dubash, Benyon has cleared himself; but his dubash may be less innocent. Great caution must be used towards such people. Pitt has this year also 'made us the like satisfaction' regarding bills in his favour. Bills on account of covenanted servants and commanders must show that the parties have been duly sworn.

No. 270. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. (11 ?), 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

Read letter from Savage of Sept. 7, desiring an account of the cost of 140 bales of this year's cloth sent on the Mary. Read letter to Madras of Sept. 9 [No. 274]. The cost of the fausse-braye work round the Fort already comes to 3,000 Pags. though only half finished, while the estimate for the whole was only 2,226 Pags. Eyre and Baker to report the reasons of the increase and the sum required to complete it.

- No. 271. LETTER FROM THOMAS EYRE AND PHILIP BAKER, AT FORT ST. DAVID, TO AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC. SEPT. 14, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 195-199 (4¼). Copy in F.S.D. Cons., Sept. 14. (See No. 273.)]

The original plan for the faussebraye was to lay an outer foundation and thicken the old faussebraye at the base; but sinking the new wells made the old wall sink and crack; so Hubbard ordered a new and solid wall to be built. As the bastions are to be enlarged and the ditch widened from 45 to 60 ft., the faussebraye will be much longer than at first designed. Now about 1,000 ft. of the wall has been built and the total cost is likely to be 5,700 Pags., with about 2,200 Pags. to form the counterscarp.

Appended is an estimate for completing the faussebraye (about 900 ft.) for 2,700 Pags.; building a counterscarp to the moat, for 2,200 Pags.; making a wooden draw-bridge across the ditch on brick piers, 60 ft. long and 10 ft. broad, 250 Pags. Bricks are reckoned at 50 Pags. a lakh; chunam at $\frac{3}{4}$ parah per Madras fanam; jaggery at 7 Pags. per candy.

Signed bills on the Company for 13,684 Pags. Indent for Gunner's stores passed. Madeira wine to be issued at 50 Pags. per pipe. 1,485 $ (at 300 $ per 100 tons) advanced Capt. No. 278. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. 19, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

Read letter from Madras of Sept. 14, regarding the Carolina sloop. The merchants being called in, attribute the rise of cloth prices (from 39 Pags. a corge in Apr. to 41 in May and June and 42 1/2 in July and Aug.) chiefly to the debasement of the country pagoda from 75 to 62 touch (so that it exchanges for only 14 1/2 gold fanams instead of 17 1/2), to the dearth of cotton and to the late troubles; and they desire advances in Star pagodas only. The Board refuse this when such large balances are outstanding; and the merchants at last consent to bring in their balances in cloth at 42 1/2 Pags. Agreed to allow the 6,000 Alambarai Pags. already advanced them, to be employed at Chennappanayakanpalaiyam and to advance 10,000 Star Pags. for Salem cloth as no other pagoda will serve there. Andiyappa is called in and persuaded to reside at Cuddalore and to provide cloth for 2,000 Pags.

No. 279. CONSULTATION. SEPT. 21, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 299-302 (4).]

Paid Bukanji Kasidas's gumasta 8,080 Madras Pags. advanced to Hallyburton at Masulipatam, with commission at $1\frac{1}{2}\%$ Linga Chetti delivers 10,000 Madras and 10,130 Alambarai Pags. Accounts read and payments received. Read letter from Capt. Raymond of the Wager, stating that he put into Madras because almost all his crew were sick with scurvy. No. 280. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY (BY THE FRENCH SHIPS). FORT ST. GEORGE. SEPT. [21?], 1741. [Pub. Des. to Eng., Vol. 13, pp. 1-2 (2). Very brittle, torn and faded.]

Have appointed Augustus Burton, Deputy Governor of Fort St. David; John Stratton, Chief of Vizagapatam; and John Hallyburton, Resident at Madapollam. The Marathas departed about the end of May, having sent the English friendly letters.

No. 281. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. 19, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 200-201 (2).]

The price of cloth has risen from 39 Pags. a corge last Apr. to $42\frac{1}{2}$ Pags. The Company's brokers attribute this to the debasement of country pagodas (which have worsened from 75 to 62 touch), the dearness of cotton and the late troubles; they promise to complete their contract at $42\frac{1}{2}$, but desire to receive only Star pagodas. The 6,000 Pags. advanced for Salem cloth must be used at Chennappanayakanpalaiyam, as only Star pagodas will be taken at Salem. Propose that 10,000 Star Pags. be sent to Fort St. David for Salem where cloth may be had at 41½ Pags. per corge. Andiyappa has been persuaded to settle at Cuddalore and has accepted an advance of 2,000 Alambarai Pags.

No. 283. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY, BY THE CÆSAR, PRINCE OF WALES AND NOTTINGHAM. FORT ST. GEORGE. SEPT. 26, 1741. [Pub. Des. to Eng., Vol. 13, pp. 3-70 (68). Brittle, torn and faded.]

Cite letters to the Company of Sept. 5, 11 and Oct. 12, 1740, Jan. 6, 26, 31, Feb. 4 and Sept. 21, 1741 [Nos. 293, 302 & 356 of 1740; 2, 36, 47, 51 & 280 of 1741]. Acknowledge letters from the Company of Apr. 2, and July 3, 1740, and Feb. 6, 1741 [Nos. 53, & 219 of 1741].

Shipping news. The Prince William and the Hardwicke were despatched in Feb. The Cæsar arrived in Feb., but her treasure was not landed for a time lest it should attract the Marathas to Madras; at Pondichery, the landing of treasure caused letters to be written inviting the Marathas to attack. Inquiry into the rape said to have been committed by her Captain. Pepper was sent aboard the Cæsar to be reckoned as ordinary freight or half-freight as should prove more convenient. Anjengo has sent a sloop for the soldiers, treasure and stores. Report retention of soldiers for Bengal, despatch of rice [to St. Helena?], and ships' movements. Benyon has desired the Governor of Colombo to assist the Calcutta grab. Remittances to the northern settlements. The George sent to carry Stratton to Vizagapatam; and then intended for Sumatra. The Carolina cannot get out of the Fort St. David river. She was built at Pegu where only ignorant fellows are available; and they made her larger than was ordered. In future, will have sloops built at Bombay. Failure of pepper at Benjar and the troubles in the country have made it difficult to fill the shipping. Seizure of a Manilla ship worth £15,000 by the Duke of Dorset. The Princess Augusta which has been employed in Sumatra is being sent to Bengal for repairs.

Difficulty in the sale of auroras. Lead has been sold at 12 and 14 Pags. a candy. The shroffs hoarded fanams when pagodas deteriorated; so some were coined; but when current pagodas at Madras were reformed, fanams fell to 38-38¼ per pagoda. The reform of the currency:—The French at Pondichery began by prohibiting the use of country money, but this only drained away their own pagodas which were recoined into a lower touch, and they were reduced to using rupees and dollars for their payments. The English, however, having a large up-country commerce and rich shroffs and bankers to help them (advantages which the French lacked), carried out their plan without deranging business at Madras or Cuddalore, though the mint duty was suspended for 6 months. The French soon offered to accept the English money at Pondichery, if theirs was received at Madras; but the proposal seemed unequal as the French have to sell most of their silver at Madras. The chief difficulty lay in disposing of the country pagodas in the Madras cash. 17,400 have been coined into Madras and 20,000 into Alambarai Pags. Wish the shroff's fraud could have been more severely punished. Silver is very cheap; 10 chests have been sold at 15 $ weight standard per 10 Pags. Disposal of damaged wares and stores. Sale of Madeira wine. The price of tutenague depends on the demand in Bengal. Some from Macao sold here at 23 Pags. a candy, but in Bengal it sells at 15 Rs. a maund. Have sent to Bengal 48,000 Pags. worth of silver, 12,000 Madras Rs. sent from Vizagapatam, nearly 16,000 Pags. over-carried, and 4 lakhs of rupees by 2 ships direct. Stills and worms from Sumatra are sent to Bengal for better sale.

Investment has been diminished by the Maratha troubles and by the Madras merchants being forbidden to procure cloth from Salem, etc.; but this is expected to be more than compensated by an increased investment from the Fort St. David merchants, and it will probably compel the Madras merchants to bring weavers, etc., into the districts near Madras and revive the weaving industry there. For the present, however, these causes and the French competition have hindered any considerable supply of the cloths specially made near Madras—fine longcloth and salempores. T. Kumarappa provides fine cloths in the country to the N.W. of Madras, but he too finds it impossible to maintain the quality; and except by taking in inferior cloth more could not have been obtained. The French have gumastas there also. Hope to provide about 1,200 bales, 700 at Fort St. David, less than 50 at Vizagapatam and 150 at Ingeram, for the Jan. ships. Cloth being better and cheaper at Madapollam than at Ingeram, Hallyburton has been sent thither; he will also procure allejas and chay goods at Masulipatam. He has been furnished with 5,000 Pags. in cash and a bill for 10,000 Pags. on Masulipatam; the latter cost $1\frac{1}{2}\%$ for exchange and cost of remittance. The cloth formerly sent from Porto Novo was really Salem cloth. Andiyappa who used to provide it escaped (when the Marathas approached) to Cuddalore, and, it is hoped, will settle there. It has deteriorated as the Dutch send much poor cloth thence to the eastward and the French to Mocha. Both nations are said to have lost much by the plunder of Porto Novo.

The Marathas took Trichinopoly in the middle of March and withdrew in May. In the previous year, while Safdar Ali and Chunda Sahib were at Arcot in apparent friendliness, Mir Asad, who was with the Marathas in the Western Carnatic, concluded a treaty with the Marathas by which Chunda was to pay 7 lakhs of rupees as 'composition' for Trichinopoly; Chunda Sahib resented this, left Arcot, hastened to Trichinopoly and provisioned it for a siege. It is believed that this was done only to destroy Chunda Sahib, that the Marathas were promised a monthly sum till Trichinopoly was taken, and that they were furnished with provisions by the Moors. Tanjore and Hindu princes tributary to Trichinopoly assisted the Marathas, on condition that Trichinopoly should not be left in Muhammadan hands. When provisions ran short, Chunda Sahib offered the Marathas 12 lakhs. It was thought that this offer would be accepted, especially as Fatteh Singh was believed to favour Chunda; and it was said that the Marathas would support Khan Bahadur (Chunda's son-in-law) in his pretensions to the Subah of Arcot. Safdar Ali shut himself up at Gingee and reproached the Marathas for their breach of faith. The Tanjoreans, etc., brought the images out of their temples and adjured the Marathas not to expose them to Chunda's revenge. Negotiations broke off, and after Bade Sahib with 5,000 horse and 8,000 foot, had been defeated and killed in his attempt to relieve the place, Chunda Sahib surrendered it on March 13. Meanwhile great uncertainty reigned as to what the Marathas would do next. The Nawab himself distrusted them and advised the English of their movements, though the Marathas' letters of Dec. 1740 were believed to have been concerted with the Muhammadans. Further letters from the Marathas, correspondence with Dumas and the sending of the wakil to Trichinopoly. The present cost in all about 3,000 Pags., and the saropas received in return reassured the inhabitants of Madras. Chunda had agreed to pay a ransom of 8 lakhs of rupees, but as his wife at Pondichery insisted on his being released before any money was paid, he and his son have been carried to Satara. His partisans now give out that he will be made Nawab by Nizam-ul-mulk and be assisted by the Marathas against Safdar Ali. Trichinopoly was not plundered as the Marathas knew that everything of value had been removed. They at first wanted to give it to the late queen's heir, but as he was unable to furnish security, Morari Rao was left in charge, with orders to pay the usual tribute to Arcot. The Marathas returned in two armies—40,000 horse took the western route through Mysore; the rest passed by Gingee and crossed the Kistna about the end of May. Safdar Ali has reported that he means to make the pilgrimage to Mecca but, though houses were ordered to be taken for him at Madras, it is thought to have meant nothing. Safdar Ali has moved first to Vellore and then to Arcot. Mir Asad is a bold and capable minister; but there are arrears of 4,00,000 Pags. due to the troops and more is needed to secure his confirmation as Nawab. Krishnaji Pantulu, Sambadas, and Tiruviti Seshachalam, great bankers to whom the Nawab owes large sums, were summoned to Arcot; but thanks to Haji Hadi's representations, the demand was not pressed. The revolution in Pegu is thought not likely to succeed. The country languages are so little known and interpreters are so bad that the English do not comprehend country politics; so when Morari Rao applied for ammunition, etc., it was refused. It is said that the Nawab is allying with Mysore to take Trichinopoly. The sale of Muhammadans as slaves has been forbidden in Madras, and 'the Moors' are very much gratified. The Nawab of Cuttack, having been beaten by Alivirdi Khān, arrived in March at Masulipatam and his family has taken refuge with Anwar-ud-din, Nawab of Rajahmundry. Surrender of Colachel by the Dutch to Travancore. The French send forces to Malabar, but they are said to be designed only for Mahé. Are attempting to release men of the Josias cast ashore in Ceylon. The Persian fleet seized by the Arabs. Bombay believed to be considering the sending of help to Persia.

The defences of the Black Town: A ditch from N.W. to N.E. point, 40 ft. broad and about 20 ft. deep, has been dug and faced with brick in clay; on the east, a wall from the N.E. point to the Fishing point has been carried up to 12 ft. high, with two bastions; and a temporary battery raised close to sea in a line with the New Point to keep off Maratha horse. Queen's Point is being rebuilt.

Cattle bought and kept on the Island have been sold off. Send some arrack to St. Helena, but understand the works at Batavia have been destroyed. Believe the Chiefs of Vizagapatam have made no profit out of the garden-house. The Madras sea-customs have been increased by Moor ships from Bengal landing goods at Madras instead of St. Thomé for fear of the Marathas.

Appointments of John Stratton as Chief of Vizagapatam, of John Hallyburton as Resident at Madapollam, and of Augustus Burton as Deputy Governor of Fort St. David. Deaths noted. Andrews' zeal, etc., at Madapollam. Holland Goddard (permitted to go to Bengal) struck off the list as unlikely to return. Greenhaugh permitted to make the voyage to China. In consequence of increased work, 4 monthly writers entertained. 4 vacancies in Council. Regarding Military Regulations, believe the troops are as well disciplined as at any of the Company's settlements; but the officers only get the same pay as years ago when provisions were not half so dear; also the decay of country trade has lessened their advantages. Fear good officers will not be obtained unless some increase is given them. Have received 84 recruits; but 10 and perhaps more of the time-expired men wish to go home; they can get 40s. a month on board ship and prefer that to the 5 Pags. gratuity for re-enlistment. Bills of exchange, etc., including bills in favour of Dumas [for 29,000 Pags.]. Sumatra has drawn bills on Madras for 20,000 $. Sending salt, rice and soldiers thither.

The French have received 5 ships from France with about 100 chests of treasure each. Return of Dumas. Dupleix, his successor, expected in Jan. Arrival of La Bourdonnais at the Islands with 8 ships. Some attack on the English is hinted at in case of war with France; but war is now said to be improbable. Their investment is made more difficult by ours. When Khan Bahadur and Francisco Pereira reached Pondichery, the French prepared presents of 10 to 15 thousand rupees, but their vakils could not overtake the Marathas.

Supplement:—Shipping news. The Wager's arrival with Kelsall and Nicholls, writers. Nizam-ul-mulk has sent a letter and saropa to the Governor. Enclose correspondence with Imam Sahib. Safdar Ali's visit to Madras. He intends to leave his family there. Mir Asad's friendship to be cultivated. La Bourdonnais' arrival at Pondichery with 3 ships and 1,200 soldiers. Their real designs are kept 'very secret.' On Sept. 21, the Nawab's mother, wife and son arrived with a large retinue. On the 22nd the Nawab came. He was conducted to the Fort and thence to the house prepared for him in the Black Town, with salutes of 61 guns from the Fort and 21 guns from each Europe ship in the roads. The next day the Governor, etc., visited him but there has been no private interview. Imam Sahib's children presented him 101 gold mohurs of which he accepted one. Various governors of towns to the north came daily to visit him. The goods laded on the Cæsar are invoiced at 98,109 Pags., and on the Prince of Wales at 40,890 Pags. The diamonds etc., registered amount to 58,673 Pags. The balance in cash is 52,607 Star, 22,422 old, and 1,880 Madras Pags.

Appended are:—(1) list of bills drawn on the Company and certificates granted, amounting to 50,559 Pags.; (2) register of diamonds, etc.; (3) agreement, dated Sept. 25, 1741, signed by Robert Cummings to take 57 tons of pepper as surplus tonnage at half-freight; (4) manifests of private trade carried by the Captains of the Cæsar, Prince of Wales and Nottingham, rated at 14,219 Pags.; (5) list of the packets; (6) sailing orders to Robert Cummings of the Cæsar and John Pelly Junior of the Prince of Wales, dated Sept. 26, 1741; (7) list of the Madras revenues, May 1, 1740, to Apr. 30, 1741:—Farms etc., 20,756 Pags.; Customs etc., 41,825 Pags.

10,000 Pags. to be sent to Fort St. David. Read letters from Fort St. David of Sept. 14 and 19 [Nos. 275 & 281]. If merchants cannot provide Salem cloth for less than 41½ Star Pags. per corge, it will be advantageous to make the whole investment at Chennappanayakanpalaiyam at 42½ Alambarai Pags. per corge (as there is 15% difference between Star and Alambarai Pags.); so no Star pagodas to be advanced the merchants unless they can reduce the price. Agreed that the Carolina sloop has been neglected, but she should be repaired and got out of the river. The plan for the Fort St. David ditch should not have been altered without previous consent. Fort St. David consultations should be sent up monthly. Accounts read, advances made and payments received. Agreed to defer the reply. Floyer appointed Paymaster; Fowke, Sea and Land Customer at Cuddalore; Wynch, under the Paymaster; and

Sloper under Burton. The Paymaster and the Secretary to take charge of Stacey's property. Floyer to lend 700 Pags. out of the funds of the Charity school to Nalla Tambi at 12% payable monthly. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

The merchants being called in are informed that the Presidency will not advance Star pagodas for the investment and that they must clear their balances upon the cheapest terms. They promise to get as much cloth as cheap and as good as possible.

Acknowledge letter of Sept. 29 [See No. 288]. The Master (Henry Harris) is to be blamed, if any one, regarding the Carolina, for he reported her to draw but 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ ft., whereas she draws 7 when empty. In all respects the Council took the best advice obtainable and acted on it. As regards the faussebraye, the alteration was absolutely necessary, but the Madras Council should certainly have been informed. Consider that the Carolina cannot be floated by chelingas over the bar, because the heavy swell would injure her; it will be best to wait till freshes deepen the bar. As regards the investment, the further debasement of the country pagodas or a revolution in the Government, appears so likely, that it is most desirable to get the merchants' balances in quickly; that was why the brokers' offers (at 42 $\frac{1}{2}$ Pags.) were recommended for acceptance [See No. 281]. If declined now, something of the same sort will have to be done later on, perhaps on more disadvantageous terms. Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth is daily rising and is likely soon to be at 44 Pags. The Fort St. David shroffs declare Alambarai pagodas to be but 62 touch, though the Madras shroffs say 68; but the brokers declare that whatever they are, they are not accepted at Salem and that no Salem cloth can be got under 41 $\frac{1}{2}$ [Star] Pags. Cannot increase the Chennappanayakanpalaiyam investment. Stacey's effects have been taken charge of. Wynch appointed Steward and Sloper placed under the Deputy Governor. Desire 2 writing assistants. Eyre and Harris set out for Madras this evening. Forward accounts.

No. 296. LETTER FROM THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. JULY 25, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 209-212 (3 $\frac{1}{2}$).]

Read letters from Fort St. David of Sept. 30, Oct. 2, 3 and 4 [Nos. 292 to 295], from Fort William of July 25 and Aug. 6 [Nos. 296 & 297]. Accounts read, advances made and payments received. Bought the Dolphin sloop (20 tons) for 300 Pags. from Hubbard's executors. Read letter from John Graham, stating that his debt [See No. 285] was incurred at Madapollam, by merchants failing to bring in goods for their advances, that he has obtained goods from them which have been sold in Pegu, that he only awaits the remittances to pay off the debt, and that he will pay 1,000 Pags. in a few days. Agreed that the Company's orders need not be literally enforced and that he execute a bond for his debt of 2,359 Pags. No. 300. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. OCT. 16, 1741.
[Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.).]

Read letter from Madras of Oct. 12, enquiring whether the Porto Novo river is deep enough to receive the Carolina sloop, directing that no bales should be sent up between Sept. 20 and Dec. 20 without orders, disallowing the merchant's request for Star pagodas, observing that they should not raise the price of cloth till their balance is cleared, but allowing the use of Star pagodas for the Salem investment, observing that $41\frac{1}{2}$ per corge is $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ dearer than last year, objecting to the use of the Company's stationery for private purposes, and appointing John Graham, third, and William Holt, last of Council at Fort St. David. The merchants being called in declare that they are ready to pay their balances in pagodas equal to those they received, but cannot bind themselves not to raise the price of cloth till their balances are cleared, inasmuch as the pagodas advanced them have subsequently sunk in value; they are mere brokers for supplying cloth as cheap as possible. They admit that the cloth recently supplied for the Alambarai money at 44 Pags. per corge is bad, but it is the best they could procure for that price; and that good cloth of 9 kals would cost about 49 Alambarai Pags. a corge. As to Salem cloth, Nanjan Chetti has an absolute power there and is difficult to manage; he insists upon their exchanging the Star pagodas with him at $23\frac{1}{2}$ fns. while in the bazaar the rate is 25 or 26 fns. Agreed to inform the Presidency accordingly [No. 309]. Floyer produces Nalla Tambi's bond [See No. 288] for 700 Pags. belonging to the Charity School. 4 muskets and bayonets lost by deserters to be written off. Sloper to be Translator of country letters. Advances made.

No. 301. CONSULTATION. OCT. 19, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 328-332 (5).]

Accounts read and advances made. The Dolphin sloop to be brought into the river. Signed cowle, dated Oct. 16, for Tiruvotiyūr, etc., villages to Linga Chetti and Beri Timmappa for 1,230 Pags. a year. Copies of Military Regulations [No. 54] and proceedings thereon [No. 170] with commissions for lieutenants Morgan and Amyand to be sent to Fort St. David. If the Carolina is not likely to be able to use the Porto Novo river she had better go to Negapatam and thence to Jafnapatam. Petitions from the two new shroffs for an allowance, and from the renters of the butica and shroff's duty for remission of rents, to lie over. The ruby farmer's petitioning also for a remission of rents as the troubles in Pegu have checked the import of rubies and the troubles in the Carnatic injured the jewellery trade, agreed to enquire how much they are willing to pay for that cowl.

Appended are :—(1) petition from shroffs, Tandava Chetti and Kumarappa, stating that their post is responsible, that they need assistants, and that apart from these, their household expenses amount to 300 Pags. a year, and therefore praying that an income of not less than 500 Pags. may be granted each; (2) petition from 'Nairo' Kēsava Chinnatambi Chetti and Anda Krishnamma Chetti, ruby brokers, (as above); (3) petition from 'Tonta' Venkatēsayya, farmer of the Buticā rent and Shroff duty, stating that since he took the cowle in 1738, there were 180 shroffs who paid him (at 1 fn. a month each) 15 Pags. a quarter, but now, as many shroffs have abandoned that calling, he only gets 7½ Pags.; and that the butica rent formerly produced 11 Pags. a quarter, but as 150 houses have been pulled down, he now gets only 7 Pags.

Read letter from Madras of Oct. 21, enclosing a letter to Negapatam requesting that the Carolina sloop may be permitted to lie at Jafnapatam for the season, in case she can be got out of the river. The Paymaster, Storekeeper and Devanampattanam Customer to report the repairs needed for the Choultry there. The Paymaster to provide hospital necessities. Agreed to let the Arrack farm to Tandavaraya Pillai and Narayana Chetti for 5 years at 800 Pags. per annum, and the Measuring duty on the usual terms. They also offer 1,200 Pags. a year for the Betel and Tobacco farm; this to be recommended to Madras.

Appended is a list of hospital necessities signed by Andrew Munro.

No. 307. CONSULTATION. OCT. 29, 1741. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 71, pp. 335-338 (3½).]

Accounts read and payments received. William Monson to continue as Storehousekeeper till Dec., owing to Harris' illness. There being only 3 Justices of the Peace, and these complaining that the duties have thereby become too heavy, proposed that Thomas Eyre and Edward Harris be sworn as Justices; but it not being clear whether under the charter, the Justices are to be the 5 senior numbers of Council at the Presidency or on the Coast, agreed that Eyre and Harris hear complaints between Indians but not to imprison any English subject or sit at quarter-sessions, until an answer has been received from England. The pagodas from Fort St. David reported to be of 73½ touch.

Appended is a statement of extraordinary expenses for Sept. 1741.

Appended is a statement of extraordinary expenses for Sept. 1741.

No. 309. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. OCT. 26, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 215-232 (17¼).]

Reply to letter of Oct. 12. [See No. 300.] Were mistaken in saying [No. 281] cloth was at 39 Pags. in Apr.; it was 41 Pags. all along till July; the cloth at 39 Pags. was only turned-out cloth. The brokers admit their liability to repay their balance in pagodas of the touch advanced them; but they deny that they should not increase the price of cloth. They are agents who, for a brokerage, agree to provide cloth for the Company at the cheapest rates; but they cannot be expected to provide cloth cheaper than cost price. In Feb. 1740, Madras admitted that a rise of price was caused by depreciation of the pagoda. If pagodas are 'cried down' by an order of the Board, e.g. that of May 18 [No. 164], how can the brokers be forced to supply goods at the same rate as before? Indeed though the pagoda has long been 'intolerably debased,' the brokers have only recently raised the price, as other causes have mitigated the depreciation. The price of cloths varies from year to year, even from month to month, and no exact calculation can be made beforehand especially when the currency varies so. All that can be done is to prevent them from charging more than it costs. The more the pagoda is debased, the fewer fanams (in which coin the cloth is paid for by the brokers) will be given for them. The shroffs are constantly withdrawing the better coins and sending them to be reminted into coins of a lower touch. Recommend using either Star pagodas or only holding so small a stock of Alambarai pagodas that no great loss can result. Now good 9-kāl cloth cannot be had under 49 Pags. the corge, but if allowance for the debasement of the pagoda is made, that is cheaper than it has been for years. At Salem, where Nanjan Chetti is mint-master and renter of the cloth-farm, the investment has been disadvantageous, because (1) he has forced our pagodas to be exchanged for fewer fanams than they would fetch in the bazaar, and (2) he has been able to establish himself as sole seller. Though he is selling cheaper now, no one knows what his price will be tomorrow. Salem cloth has recently been brought in at 43-44 Pags. a corge.

The Carolina sloop is almost repaired and shall be carried out as soon as there is enough water on the bar. Shall see that the Company's stationery is not used for private purposes. John Graham and William Holt have taken their seats at the Board, the former as Land and Sea Customer and the latter as Storekeeper.

Have sent to enquire what depth of water there is on the Porto Novo bar, and learn there is not enough for the Carolina.

Read letters from Fort St. David of Oct. 26, 27 and 30 [Nos. 309 to 311]. Accounts read and advances made. William Monson appointed on the Sumatra committee. Read second petition from the ruby brokers, stating that their cowl entitles them to 1 % from the buyer and 2 % from the seller of all precious stones but diamonds, but the Pegu trade etc., has been so bad that they cannot pay the year's brokerage (800 Pags.) due, and offering 500 Pags. The Board observe that before the farm was let out, it produced 650 Pags. a year; but, the renters pointing out that those were years of good trade, agreed to accept 500 Pags. a year, and, in case the brokerage produces more, the whole produce is to go to the Company, less an allowance to the brokers for their trouble.

Appended are:—(1) petition of the ruby brokers, as above; (2) cash account for Oct. 1741, balance 26,819 Star, 25,775 old and 1,981 Madras Pags.; and (3) Rental-general and Scavenger's accounts for the year ending Aug. 31, 1741.

No. 325. LETTER FROM CAPT. JOHN DE MORGAN AT FORT ST. DAVID to AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC. NOV. 16, 1741. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.).]

As the out-guards at Fort St. David are a great way from the Fort, they are not relieved nor do the officers relieve each other, but the Lieutenant and an Ensign are quartered at the Fort and the other Ensign at the Company's garden; a fixed proportion of the men at each guard is allowed 'their free guard' in turn. In the Fort, at 7 A.M., the men to mount Guard are paraded; the roll is called; the mounting and dismounting Corporals then go round to relieve the sentries upon the bastions, etc.; and meanwhile the Lieutenant or Ensign inspects the men's arms, etc. When this has been done, the 'Free guard men' are dismissed, and the Main Guard marched into the Corps de Garde. The same is done at the out-guards. The roll is called in the Fort at 9 P.M. and the Fort gates are shut at 10-30. At the out-guards, the bridge is drawn and the gate shut at 9 P.M. At 5 A.M., after the gun-fire and reveillé-beating, the gates are opened. After relieving guard, the Chief Officer receives the reports from the out-guards. The Chief Officer visits the out-guards daily or every other day, goes round the Fort after the gates are shut and visits the hospital occasionally. The Serjeant and Corporal visit the hospital morning and evening. The Serjeant or the Corporal of the nearest guard arrests all disorderly persons who are brought before the Chief officer who sends all Indians so arrested to the Justices. Deaths and desertions are reported at once to the Deputy Governor. The Company is exercised in the Fort once or twice a month by the Ensign or Lieutenant; the guards are exercised by the Serjeants or Corporals every other day, and the recruits and the awkward men daily.

The officer at the out-guards has orders not to suffer armed men to enter the bounds without the Deputy Governor's pass. On the appearance of a small body of horse or foot he hoists his flag and fires a gun as a signal; if a large body appear he fires two guns. These signals are answered from the N.W. bastion of the Fort.

Read again petition [See No. 301] from the shroffs who declare that since the new money became current, no perquisites have been obtainable and that they spend about 14 Pags. a month for bags, wax, string and conicopolies; agreed to take bonds from them for 5,000 Pags. and to grant each a salary of 20 Pags. a month, and 120 Pags. for their past trouble. The Company's merchants present a petition and request that broadcloth may be sold privately to them instead of at outcry, as the latter course will hinder the repayment of the merchants' debts, especially as they have a large stock of cloth on hand, and as an outcry will lower prices. They say that three-fourths of the broadcloth is sold to 'Canaree' merchants. Agreed to let them have it on the usual terms, as (1) it is needed to extricate the merchants from their indebtedness; and (2) as the quantity received this year is small. No. 9. LETTER FROM THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. DEC. 22, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 2-7 (5½).]

Acknowledge letters of Aug. 20 and 22, Sept. 9, 15, 16 and 26, and Oct. 11, 1741. The stills sent on the King William are so old that they will only sell as metal. Despatch two ships with Europe ladings, and saltpetre and stores for Madras to be replaced by bales for England. Fear for the safety of the Calcutta grab. Arcot rupees are not so current in many parts of Bengal as Madras rupees; and much bullion is needed to be sent to Kasimbazar and Patna; at the former Fattah Chund coins it into sicca rupees on which he makes a profit, besides the 5% which the Government make. If this were reduced by sending more rupees to Bengal, his interest, which has been proved greater than that of the English, would hinder the currency of Madras and Arcot rupees. Desire in future treasure to be sent half bullion, one-fourth Madras rupees and one-fourth Arcot rupees. Have sent to Sumatra 300 tons of saltpetre and 60 of redwood on the London, with taffaties, opium, salt, rice, etc.; but could not put any bales for Europe on this ship owing to the number of ships to be laded. Could not send soldiers to Sumatra owing to the troubles between Alivirdi Khan and the Nawab of Cuttack. Have not enough scarlet broadcloth to send any to Madras; and culjeed flannels sell at 26 current rupees a piece and so it is not worthwhile sending any of them. Troubles between Alivirdi Khan and the Nawab of Cuttack. Now despatch the King William and the Wager with Europe cargoes invoiced at 7,15,000 Rs. and 2,220 bags of saltpetre, etc., for Madras. Three more ships have been despatched direct and one is lading. Have resolved to send bales enough to complete one ship's cargo in case delayed ships put in at Madras. Desire that the Princess Augusta and the sloops may be returned for saltpetre and bales for the Sept. ships. Want only 5,000 maunds of redwood during the next season. Will be obliged to borrow large sums; so request all the treasure that can be spared. Desire 15 dozen chairs and 12 couches to be made and sent. Have permitted John Halsey and Solomon Margas to go to Madras for their health.

Appended is a list of the packet.

Has despatched the Wager. The ship draws 19 ft. 6 in. abaft and 18 ft. 4 in. forward.

Appended are:—(1) Humphrey Bellamy's protest against Capt. Charles Raymond for not taking on board the Wager 47 bales of gurrahs for Madras; and (2) list of the packet for Madras by the King William.

No. 12. LETTER FROM HUMPHREY BELLAMY ON THE KING WILLIAM, OFF INGELLE, DEC. 28, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 9-10 (1½).]

Is despatching the King William which draws 19 ft. 3 in. abaft and 18 ft. 10 in. forward.

Read letters from Madapollam of Jan. 5 [No. 8], and from Bengal of Dec. 22 and 23 [Nos. 9 & 10]. Resolved to despatch the Admiral Vernon to England after landing her cargo and packet consigned for Bengal. Accounts read.

Appended is a letter to Capt. Benjamin Webster of the Admiral Vernon, dated Jan. 11, directing him to prepare to take in cargo for England.

No. 14. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 11, 1742. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 2-4 (3).]

Passed annual letter to Madras [No. 17]. Accounts read. 98 Pags. to be paid to Robert Allen, Hubbard's trustee, as refund for customs already paid in Bengal on the Grandison's cargoes of rice. Advances made. The merchants pay in 3,307 Alambarai Pags., agreeing to take them back as soon as they can employ them.

No. 15. LETTER FROM STEPHEN LAW, ETC., AT BOMBAY. NOV. 21, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 10-13 (3).]

Acknowledge letters of June 18, July 21 and Oct. 2. Shipping news. Revolt of the Arabs employed in Nadir Shah's fleet. The Persians so strenuously urged Bombay to furnish them with ships that two had to be bought for them. But as a strong Persian navy would be disadvantageous to the English, have resolved to permit no vessel to trade to Persia till the owners have given bonds not to sell their ship to the Persians without permission under a penalty of 40,000 Rs. Reluctantly permit Waters to stay at Madras. Inquire whether duty on the sales of the Ceres and the Galatea at Bushire has been paid; if not, it should be collected at 2%. The 2 boats desired will be ready in Apr. and 2 tindals will be sent to take charge of them. News has reached Goa that France has not declared war and that the King of Prussia has been defeated and made prisoner. Believe the forces which reached Pondichery are going to Mahé; fear they may attack Tellicherry.

Appended are:—(1) copy of para. 22 in the Company's letter to Bombay of March 11, 1736, on ship-owners giving bonds not to sell their ships to Persia; and (2) copy of para. 103 in the Company's letter to Bombay of Feb. 6, 1740 [1741?] stating that duties on sales at Bushire, etc., should be paid as at Gombroon.

No. 16. LETTER FROM JAMES HOPE, ETC., AT SURAT. NOV. 30, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 13 (34).]

News from Bushire that Vernon has captured Carthage.

No. 17. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 11, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 14-19 (6).]

Provided 1,226 bales up to Dec. 31. 437 bales on hand. Will take in previously rejected Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth at reduced prices. Salem cloth is cheaper than last year and still good; it has been paid for in Star pagodas. 100 ox-loads of cloth are now on their way from Salem. Have embalmed only 120 corge of soot romals, as they sell anywhere in India; the Dutch are taking all rejected at Fort St. David at but a small reduction. Have received only 4 corge out of 400 pieces of the red, but expect the rest in a few days. The brokers have brought in 3,000 pieces of middling cloth since Sept. 19. Have advanced Andiyappa 7,000 Alambarai and 2,000 Star Pags., of which he now owes 425 Alambarai and 1,406 Star Pags. The balance due from the brokers is 6,571 Star and 13,307 Alambarai Pags. The Weighing and Measuring farm could not be let at the old terms until Nov. 1, when it was taken by Tandavaraya Pillai and Narayana Chetti. The Arrack farm was let out to the same on the same date. The Betel and Tobacco farm has been let out to Sadasiva Rao and Irusappa Chetti for 5 years at 1,500 Pags. per annum. The increase of 2,180 Pags. in the Custom's revenue is due to Porto Novo merchants and others having been induced to settle at Fort St. David [See No. 340 of 1741]. The expenditure increased by 13,606 Pags. Are collecting materials to complete the faussebray. Will finish the powder magazine and 'grainery' when the monsoon is over. The godowns near the river are not yet finished. Have granted Capt. John de Morgan a piece of waste near the Hospital for 1 Pag. per annum. On Aug. 10, 1741, James Hubbard died and Augustus Burton succeeded him on Aug. 22. Graham and Holt took their seats on Oct. 10, vice Eyre and Harris. On June 16, Zachariah Foxall died. Stacey's property amounts to 15 Pags. Robert Stephen was engaged as a monthly writer at 10 Pags. a month. Enclose a roll of the military and the gunroom. Have entertained no more peons than are absolutely necessary. The Carolina sloop has been refitted, but as there has been so little rain she cannot be got over the bar. Should she remain where she now lies or be hauled ashore and a 'cadjan covering' put over her? Enclose a list of French ships arrived and sailed, with their cargoes. Have heard of no French contract being made as yet. Star pagodas are current at Pondichery and the French use them to buy cloth at Salem or to exchange for Alambarai pagodas. French payments, etc., are made in rupees at 320 per 100 Pags.

Appended are:—(1) list of bales on hand; and (2) list of the packet.

No. 18. CONSULTATION. JAN. 14, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 10-12 (2½).]

John Halsey attends to see the Admiral Vernon's Bengal packet opened and the papers needed for her despatch taken out. Her private trade to be delivered to the Import Warehousekeeper unless the owners otherwise direct. Read letters from Bombay of Nov. 21 [No. 15], from Surat of Nov. 30 [No. 16], and from Fort St. David of Jan. 11 [No. 17]. Passed letters to Fort St. David of Jan. 15 [No. 19]. Members of the Board who were concerned in the Ceres' voyage to Persia state that the custom on her sales was paid at Basra, and that on the Galatea's sales was paid at Madras. Resolved to sell at outcry lead, copper, culjeed flannels and flowered cloth.

No. 19. LETTER TO AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 15, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 1-2 (1).]

Acknowledge letters of Jan. 5 and 11 [Nos. 5 & 17]. The turned out Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth should not be rated as 'No. 4 ordinary' unless as good and cheap as that; if better, it may be sorted to a higher number. As there is no great demand for bluecloth in England, quantities received beyond the amount indented for should be kept as part of the current year's investment, unless a few bales are needed to complete the ship's tonnage. The Wager will call shortly at Fort St. David to fill up, and will need about 600 bales.

No. 20 CONSULTATION. JAN. 18, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 13-26 (14).]

Signed bills on the Company for 27,726 Pags. Bengal piece-goods for painting having arrived only in Oct. will not be ready for these ships. The Admiral Vernon to be surveyed and if fit for the voyage to be laden. 100 bales to be put on the Wager and that ship despatched to Fort St. David. Signed a letter to the Company by a French vessel [No. 21]. The Master of the George claims 1,400 Rs. for money spent at Vizagapatam; the Storekeeper to examine his account and pay what is due. Wares, etc., to be sent to Vizagapatam. Accounts read. Passed indents on England for the import warehouse and storehouse. Balu Chetti, Tambi Chetti and others offer 5,000 Pags. as a fine if the shroffs guilty of sealing bad pagodas are only banished instead of being sent to Sumatra. Agreed that 2,500 Pags. will be accepted on behalf of the 2 Town shroffs provided they are kept in prison till the money is paid and that it be paid within one month, but that the Company's shroff be sent to Sumatra by the first ship. Kumarappa Chetti pays into cash 566 Pags. due to the late Company's shroff. Borlace Stacey's net estate (61 Pags.) credited to account current, London, to be paid to the legal claimants.

Appended are:—(1) statement of the Town Conicopoly's duty amounting to 548 Pags. collected at the Sea gate and 39 Pags. at the Choultry; (2) report on the expenditure and revenue of Madras, etc., for the years, May 1, 1739—Apr. 30, 1740 and May 1, 1740—Apr. 30, 1741:—

(3) account estate Borlace Stacey; (4) statement of Land Customs collected at Madras in 1740 (6,679 Pags.) and 1741 (5,668 Pags.), the decrease being caused by no ships sailing in 1741 for Manilla or Pegu, and hence a cessation of exports of paintings thither; and

(5) statement of Sea Customs collected at Madras in 1740 and 1741. Custom on goods rose from 27,685 Pags. to 28,655 Pags., chiefly owing to imports by Pathan merchants from Bengal; on grain fell from 5,119 to 4,613 Pags., as many owners had already paid duty in Bengal; and anchorage from 689 to 634 Pags.

No. 37. LETTER FROM JOHN STRATTON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. DEC. 29, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 25-26 (1½).]

Hope that the cloth sent by the Vizagapatam will be approved. Shipping news. Hallyburton apparently means to use all the money sent him for his investment; so request a supply of money by the Vizagapatam, and also 50 barrels of gunpowder which the Nawab is likely to ask for. Alivirdi Khan has again taken possession of the Cuttack country. The Nawabs of Cuttack, Rajahmundry and Chicacole are collecting forces at Ichchapur to oppose his advance, but for years they have maintained no regular troops. Desire to retain the recruits landed from the Scarborough and the Kent till the country is more settled. All these except one will be fit for duty in 15 days' time. If there is peace, hope to supply in 1742, 500 bales of good cloth. Desire one bale of scarlet broadcloth.

Lading of the Wager. She took in 100 bales at Madras. Her Coast cargo amounts to 31,289 Star and 33,219 Alamburai Pags. The year's investment at Fort St. David amounts to 1,288 bales. Expect much more this season. The Duch^e Orleans sailed last month from Pondichery with 1,200 bales, 250 candies of round pepper, 200 candies of redwood and 1,500 bags of saltpetre.

Appended are:—(1) list of packet to England by the Wager; and (2) list of packet to Madras.

Signed despatch to the Company by the King William and the Wager [No. 50]. Copies of account sales of lead, copper, flannels, etc., to be sent home.

- No. 50. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY, BY THE KING WILLIAM AND THE WAGER. FEB. 4, 1742. [Pub. Des. to Eng., Vol. 13, pp. 73-124 (52). Very brittle, badly torn, and faded.]

Cite despatches of Sept. 26, Oct. 5, 1741, and Jan. 18, 1742 [Nos. 283 & 290 of 1741; & 21 of 1742].

The Carolina still lies at Cuddalore. A sloop burnt when being prepared to be resheathed. The George being old and crazy, think of ordering a new ship from Bombay. Arrival of the Admiral Vernon and the Wager. Goods are being sent from Bengal to lade the former. Sales of lead, copper, culjeed flannels, flowered cloth, etc.; lead at Pags. 14-32-50 a candy and cask copper at 90 Pags. Consider it plainly advantageous to coin as much as possible into Arcot rupees; but no doubt Bengal knows how far this would affect the country government. Though country money fell to 20% discount, it still passed current among the weavers near Madras and prices of cloth there rose but little; however very little cloth could be provided thereabouts. At Salem, the merchant refuses to accept anything but Star pagodas, as he is the minter and as they contain more fine gold; at Fort St. David, the merchants have at last been brought to supply cloth 20% cheaper for Star pagodas. At first expected to have been able to use country pagodas there to advantage; but the Council appeared not to understand and the discussion which followed perhaps 'opened the eyes of their brokers.' As the usual currency in those parts is a sort of gold fanam, all pagodas have to pass through the shroffs' hands, and that gives them more power over the exchange than elsewhere. Have given up dealing in country money for the present as it is reported the debased pagodas are to be stopped. Have coined the balance of their country money into Madras pagodas. In consideration of 2,500 Pags., have excused the 2 town-shroffs from being sent to Sumatra. Safdar Ali is still unconfirmed; so Chunda Sahib's partisans spread alarming rumours concerning his return with a Maratha army. Such reports hinder cotton and yarn being brought into the country. None to be had at Ulundurpet where 15,000 Pags. worth of cotton yarn are generally sold per month. Fine longcloth is very scarce and dear everywhere, for lack of fine thread. Will send only 5,000 maunds of redwood to Bengal. Ingeram cloth is better and cheaper than that from the other 2 factories. State of merchants' accounts. There are many instances of merchants being ruined in the Company's service and many have made to the weavers considerable advances which they cannot recover. Urge that they should be allowed to take the broadcloth as before till their debts are cleared.

As 3 houses were insufficient for the Nawab's family, more had to be taken. He left on Oct. 5, was at Arcot in Dec., and is now at St. Thomè. Mir Asad continues to be his chief adviser, but there is neither Diwan nor Bakhshi appointed at present. The Nawab's family affords great trouble and expense; but last year when he removed his family from Pondichery, he granted some villages; he will doubtless do something for the English when he removes his family. China ships. The Spaniards at Manilla threaten to seize Bengal and Madras goods if their ships at Batavia should be taken. In the last war with Spain, trade between Madras and Manilla was uninterrupted; but if the Company's captains bring out letters of marque, the French will engross it. The Burmese are reported about to attack the Peguers with a large army.

The ditch at Fort St. David will be a great protection when completed. Have consented to the revival of the Betel, etc., farm at Fort St. David, as its suppression and other measures failed to induce weavers to settle there. Though 2,000 Pags. were promised to facilitate this, the subscribers were unable to furnish the money; nor was it likely to prove advantageous. On a similar scheme at Pondichery 12,000 Pags. 'are sunk' out of 30,000 Pags. advanced, and at Chintadripet 'the undertakers' are unlikely to see all their money back. Weavers are poor and improvident; always in debt to and under the control of their heads, who even beat them when they are lazy. The country government allow these heads absolute control; but that is impossible under an English government. Repairs at Vizagapatam and allowance for the expense of entertaining strangers. Tiruvottiyur, etc., let to Linga Chetti and others. Agreement with the ruby brokers. Company's shroffs allowed a monthly salary of 20 Pags. each, and a surveyor appointed on 2 Pags. Increase of wages to coolies. Hirasat Khan and Hasan Mian exempted from paying quitrent. Unsettled weather hindered progress on the fortifications. No new work has yet been begun. Shelters at the gates, etc., in the Black Town are needed, as the garrison grew sickly when on constant duty. Garrison charges shall be reduced as soon as possible. Europeans too few to turn out a decent guard when great men visit Madras, and 'Black soldiers' are unreliable. As a European's pay is but a little more than a Black's, it would be better to have most of the standing garrison Europeans, but desire 'good men' and not men from Newgate or Bedlam. The Sea customs have been maintained by the importation of Pathan merchants' goods. The Land customs decreased owing to the Maratha invasion and no goods being sent to Pegu or Manilla.

John Stratton, Thomas Eyre, Edward Harris and William Johnson appointed of Council at Madras, and John Graham and William Holt at Fort St. David; Charles Boddam, writer at the Seagate; Charles Savage Norris and Charles Bouchier, under the Secretary; cannot dispense with monthly writers at present. John Dawson, Gunner's mate, going home, John Waters from Bombay has been appointed. Cornelius Goodwin and Matthew Empson sworn in as Mayor and Sheriff. John Graham owes 2,600 Pags. on account of cloth from Ingeram rejected at Madras. Borlace Stacey's effects 46 Pags. Robert Douglas, Surgeon at Madras, going home, Andrew Munro to succeed him; William Belches to be Surgeon at Fort St. David; and Turing to be Surgeon at Vizagapatam. No Surgeon's mates either at Madras or Fort St. David. Urge need of improving their pay. Benyon is grateful for the Company's approving his conduct in the dispute between his dubash and Sanderson.

The Princess Augusta will be sent to Sumatra instead of the George. 2 Surat boats to be sent thither when they come in Apr. Desire Counsel's opinion on proceedings in the Mayor's Court in Erra Pillai Paraya v. John Sanderson, brought before them by appeal. Have appointed Eyre and Harris to act as Justices of the Peace, and trust they are justified by the Charter. Dumas sailed for France in Oct.; Dupleix arrived early in Jan., and has now sent a present to the Nawab.

Supplement: The George will shortly be sent to Bengal to be surveyed. Captain James Sanders of the King William died Jan. 24. Safdar Ali seems less apprehensive of Nizam-ul-mulk and the Marathas, but his family may stay at Madras for some time. Masulipatam chay goods are better than last year's. The washers and beaters seem to have been 'unfaithful' about the cloth in their hands last year. There is now a keen demand for copper in Bengal. Have indented for 50 tons of copper. The Dutch who used to supply the Coast with Japanese copper, have brought little this year. The King William's Madras cargo amounts to 67,401 Pags.; diamonds registered on her and the Wager to 65,925 Pags. Cash balance, 118,387 Star and 13,182 Madras Pags.

Appended are:—(1) list of bills on the Company and certificates amounting to 83,541 Pags.; (2) registers of diamonds, etc.; (3) list of chests of coral for which full returns are now made; and (4) list of the packets.

The Wager is still in sight. Capt. Raymond took oath that he had taken in private trade in Bengal only. Send a list of the Wager's packet, and copies of accounts etc. Their balance on Jan. 31 was 3,307 Alamburai and 18,762 Star Pags.

- No. 56. CONSULTATION. FEB. 9, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 51-56 (6).]

Read letters from Capt. Webster of the Admiral Vernon of Feb. 9, protesting against the Company on account of the delay in his lading; and from Fort St. David of Feb. 2, 3 and 4 [Nos. 53 to 55]. Andrew Munro to come as Surgeon to Madras vice Robert Douglas gone home, and William Belsches to succeed at Fort St. David. Joseph Fowke permitted to come to Madras. The George to sail at once for Fort St. David. Agreed on letters to Fort St. David and to Vizagapatam of Feb. 10 [Nos. 59 & 60]. Agreed to send 100 muskets and bayonets to Vizagapatam. A pair of large scales to be bought for the export warehouse. Advances made, etc. Popinjays by the Admiral Vernon to be delivered to Telisinga Chetti and other merchants. - No. 58. LETTER TO CAPT. JOHN TAYLOR OF THE GEORGE. FEB. 9, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, p. 6 (1/2).]

Sailing orders for Fort St. David.

No. 59. LETTER TO AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST DAVID. FEB. 10, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 8-10 (134).]

Desire copy of the notification encouraging people to settle within the Fort St. David bounds. In future land customs need not be charged on the Company's cloth. Trust that all advantage will be taken of the French trying to recover the balances due from their merchants and having suspended advances. Efforts should be made to obtain salem-pores, none of which have been provided lately at Madras or Fort St. David. For this year's investment 3,000 pieces of blue-cloth to be provided (including what is now on hand) at Fort St. David, 5,000 bright-coloured soot romals and 400 red and white [soot romals?]. Whatever may appear best and safest is to be done with the Carolina. Apparently no list of European military, with the date of their arrivals, etc., has been sent home. Borlace Stacey's net effects should have been 22 Pags. but are reported at 15 only. Shipping news. Andrew Munro ordered to Madras as Surgeon; and William Belsches appointed Surgeon at Fort St. David. Joseph Fowke to come to Madras; he shall soon be replaced by another covenanted servant.

No. 60. LETTER TO JOHN STRATTON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. FEB. 10, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 6-8 (2).]

Acknowledge letters of Dec. 14, 19 and 29 [Nos. 346 & 347 of 1741; & 37]. Have advised that the Chief should have an allowance for entertaining strangers. Sent on the Visagapatam all the goods, etc., indented for, except emerald green middling and scarlet broadcloth, blue perpetuanoes, and yellow embossed cloth. Send 100 muskets with bayonets, but will not send more powder than is needed. The supply of powder to the Nawab to be used against Alivirdi Khan, might ruin the Bengal investment. The despatch by the Kent and the Scarborough [No. 76] should have been opened and copies sent to Madras. As the Marathas have been diverted from the northwards, will send pagodas and rupees by some of the Company's sloops. Received 100 bales by the Visagapatam, but the white cloth is full of conjee and badly cured. The 'fine' is bad and dear, and the Company complains that Vizagapatam cloth is short measure. Not more than 15½ Madras Pags. should be given for Vizagapatam salem-pores, else they will be as dear as Madras cloth. No doubt the investment has been cramped by issuing rupees to the merchants at 315 or 323 per 100 Pags.; when at the present price of silver, the exchange should be 360. In future rupees may be issued at 350. Desire estimates of the repairs still to be undertaken.

No. 61. CONSULTATION. FEB. 11, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 57-58 (1½).]

Matthew Empson pays 400 Madras Pags. due by Arbuckle to Joseph Goddard's estate. Capt. John Taylor, administrator to the estate of Thomas Horne who died in Sumatra, is paid 402 Pags. due to that estate, less 48 Pags. advanced to Horne's family in 1739. Linga Chetti paid in 2,132 Pags.

No. 62. CONSULTATION. FEB. 15, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 58-59 (1½).]

Agreed on the investments to be provided at Madapollam, Masulipatam and Ingeram. Hallyburton to furnish the prices of chay goods from Masulipatam and to adjust the Madapollam accounts. Agreed on letters to Madapollam, Ingeram and Fort William of Feb. 15 [Nos. 63 to 65], and to Fort St. David of Feb. 17 [No. 67]. A new ship, the size of the Princess Augusta, to be inspected with a view to her purchase instead of having one built at Bombay.

No. 63. LETTER TO JOHN HALLYBURTON AT MADAPOLLAM. FEB. 15, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 10-13 (3½).]

Acknowledge letters of Nov. 16, 1741, and Jan. 5, 8 and 13 [337 of 1741; 8, 28 & 36]. Enclose accounts. The apparent deficiency in the Madapollam cash of 1,566 Pags. is really only 141 Pags. which is to be charged to Joseph Goddard's account. Will send supplies of money viâ Vizagapatam

Appended are:—(1) list of goods to be provided at Madapollam and Masulipatam for 1742. Longcloth and salempores, ordinary (as much as can be procured); longcloth and salempores, fine 6,000; allejas, 400; collawapores, 400; sastracundys, 400; and romals, 2,300. Complaints that fine cloth is bad in colour and made of soft thread, that it is short measure, and that the end of a piece is thinner and worse than the rest; and (2) account of 9 bales of chay goods.

- No. 64. LETTER TO RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM. FEB. 15 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 14-15 (1½).]

Acknowledge letters of Dec. 24 and 31 [Nos. 348 of 1741; & 32] Enclose a list of goods to be provided at Ingeram in 1742. Will send money via Vizagapatam. The wares and stores indented for will be supplied shortly.

Appended is the list of goods:—longcloth and salempores ordinary, as much as can be procured; longcloth and salempores fine, 6,000 pieces; izarees, 1,000. Complaints as in letter of date to Madapollam [See No. 63].

- No. 65. LETTER TO THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. FEB. 15, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 15-16 (1½).]

Shipping news. The Captain of the Admiral Vernon has protested against the delay caused by the non-arrival of the Bengal bales. As desired will coin the silver for Bengal, a quarter into Arcot and a quarter into Madras rupees. Having received more money than was expected for bills of exchange, will send a part of the Admiral Vernon's treasure. Will send when made the chairs and couches desired. Some of the Admiral Vernon's lead is found to be dross coated with lead. Purchasers had sent some to the Bay before this was discovered; and it has been agreed that their purchase money shall be refunded on what proves to be bad.

Appended is a statement of 243 candies of lead sent to Bengal by the Mercury, consigned to William Davis and Messrs. Jackson and Wedderburn.

- No. 66. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 15, 1742. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 14-15 (½).]

A copy of the notice inviting merchants to settle at Fort St. David is forwarded, Hope the French are really making no advances; but if the merchants are being pressed for their balances, they can only pay them in cloth. Will provide 3,000 pieces of bluecloth. Owing to the long notice, expect to be able to improve the quality. The Carolina had best lie where she is in the hope of a 'fresh' in Apr. No. 97. CONSULTATION. MARCH 17, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 78-84 (6½).]

Read letters from Fort William of Feb. 9 [No. 92], from Ingeram of Feb. 11 and 17 [Nos. 93 & 94], from Madapollam of Feb. 26 [No. 95] and from Fort St. David of March 10 [No. 96]. Fort St. David Council to recover 500 Pags. owing from Sadasiva Rao, Venkappa Chetti, etc. Accounts read. An allowance to be made to the families of men who were killed and to those who were wounded when the powder-house blew up. As it is difficult to get coolies to work there, 1 Pag. more per candy to be allowed the powder-maker so that he can pay better wages. The merchants, being summoned and asked why they did not provide more and cheaper cloth now that Star pagodas were issued to them, say that cotton is scarce and dear, partly they are told because large tracts were destroyed by the Marathas and partly because of the demand to the northward where it sells at 80-85 Rs. the candy; that though cloth is poorer and dearer than last year, weavers are abandoning their craft for tillage; but that they could not advise raising the price of cloth, because once that was raised it never came down again. To the Board's complaint that nearly all the cloth was only No. 3 or 4, they replied that if the English would not take the cloth, other nations would; on which they were urged to get a greater quantity and as good and cheap as possible. Linga Chetti executes a bond for 5,000 Pags. as surety for the 2 imprisoned shroffs.

Acknowledge letters of Feb. 20 and 22, and March 1. [Nos. 72 to 74 & 84.] If the French merchants cannot make good their balances, their being pressed to bring in cloth without receiving further advances cannot possibly affect the investment of the English merchants. Fort St. David received explicit directions about sending home a list of European military ; and the year of arrival, etc., could easily have been ascertained from the men themselves, if not otherwise known. A debt of 500 Pags. from Sadasiva Rao, Venkappa Chetti, etc., must be realised without more delay. Charles Nicholls, writer, will set out shortly for Fort St. David.

The Dutch and French are sending their goods on board ship. Prince is preparing to do so too and Stratton has sent a boat to Pitt at Uppada. Ali Kuli Khan has withdrawn into his fort. There is a report that the Marathas are marching by order of Nasir Jang to assist the Nawab of Cuttack ; but the latter (who is at the mango-garden at Vizagapatam) seems alarmed at their approach. that they hope this sum will be forgiven in consideration of the losses sustained in their contracts with the Company.

Several Armenians petitioning for leave to freight goods provided for Manilla on a French ship from Pondichery as none is going from Madras, agreed to allow it, as it will preserve some share in the Manilla trade to Madras merchants, and as otherwise the Manilla freighters might migrate to Pondichery which would injure the Madras customs. No. 166. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM. MAY 11, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 66 (1).]

Kelsall set out for Madapollam on Apr. 8 and Churchey arrived on the 10th. The Marathas have retired. The merchants promise 200 bales by Aug. 15, provided they are not molested by the country government; but the Nawab has been asking for loans and the tanahdar threatened recently to imprison the merchants unless they lent him 1,000 Pags. Has sent a wakil to the Nawab and will go in person if no satisfactory answer is received. Has 34 bales on hand.

No. 167. LETTER FROM JOHN HALLYBURTON AT MADAPOLLAM. MAY 13, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 67 (1½).]

The deserter's statements [No. 164] are false. He was born at Onhagen, not at Hanover; and he contracted anew for 3 years from March 1, 1741. Cannot pardon him without orders from their superiors.

No. 169. CONSULTATION. JUNE 2, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 144-148 (4½).]

Read letters from Ingeram of May 11 [No. 166], from Madapollam of May 13 [No. 167] and from Pulicat of May 29/June 9 [No. 168]. Samuel Greenhaugh permitted to go to China, as otherwise his fortune will be endangered. The Bengal military to be paid for May. Accounts read.

Appended are:—(1) cash account for May 1742, balance 52,772 Star, 2,900 Alambarai and 21,450 Madras Pags.; (2) letter from Samuel Greenhaugh, dated May 31, stating that he left considerable effects in China in 1741, that a part of this with his accounts and letters went down on the Macao ship recently lost on the Coast, and that it is urgently necessary for him to go to China.

No. 170. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JUNE 2, 1742. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 58-61 (4).]

Burton reports having reviewed the garrison and discharged 42 men out of the first and 9 out of the second company as inefficient. 5 topasses discharged are now pensioned in reward for their long service. A time-expired soldier re-enlisted with bounty of 5 Pags.

Appended are:—(1) petitions from Pedro DeSilva, Manoel DeMonte St. Thomé, Anthony Pereira, Francis Pereira and Joa D'Maldos, praying for a pension, as three of them have served 40 years or more, one 31 years, and one 25; and (2) petition from Ormond Sprags, desiring to be re-enlisted.

No. 171. CONSULTATION. JUNE 3, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 148-153 (5½).]

Read the translated depositions of the witnesses in Graces' case [See No. 160]. Agreed (1) that it is not clear whether the offence was not committed at St. Thomé within the jurisdiction of another prince, (2) that the accused and the injured are both Portuguese subjects, (3) that it is not clear whether the alleged offence amounts to maiming, and (4) if Graces were fined he might lie long in prison, as he has lived on charity ever since arriving here. Resolved therefore to send Graces with the affidavits, etc., to the Governor of Macao. [See No. 174].

Appended are the depositions of Theodosio Martins (the injured mate), Manoel Roucha Pimentel, Manoel Ignatio and Padre Jacinto de Almeyda, all dated June 4 [N.S. ?], and taken before Francisco de Sequeira Peixoto, notary public for the Portuguese; and of Francisco Sequeira Peixoto, dated May 29, 1742.

No. 172. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JUNE 4, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 68 (1).]

Forward accounts, etc. Balance on Apr. 30 was 24,478 Pags. Request orders regarding damaged stores, useless guns and a brass mortar. Propose to sell the Company's furniture as it is worn out, to send 'the large pier glasses' to Madras, and to buy new furniture. Have 62 bales ready and 172 at the washers', etc.

No. 173. CONSULTATION. JUNE 7, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 154-156 (3).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of June 4 [No. 172]. Agreed to order useless guns, etc., to be sent up, the old furniture to be sold and new bought. Signed various letters. Agreed to buy 20,000 Madras Pags. of Linga Chetti at 9½ % batta. Advances made. The damaged cloth by the Tygris has been sold: the 2 bales of broadcloth for 225¼ Pags. and the 5 pieces of perpetuanes for 32½ Pags. The Mary sloop to be hired to James Barton at 40 Pags. a month, manned with the Company's lascars.

Appended is the account sale of the damaged cloth.

No. 174. LETTER TO THE GOVERNOR AND CAPTAIN GENERAL OF THE ISLAND AND CITY OF MACAO. JUNE 7, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, p. 55 (1).]

The inclosed affidavits [See No. 171] prove that Elias Manoel Graces, late Captain of the Nossa Senhora De Rosario, ordered the ears of Theodosio Martins to be cut off either in Madras or at St. Thomé. He might have been punished with death as the English jurisdiction extends for 10 miles from Madras, but it was thought better to confine him till he could take his passage for Macao, which he now does by the Sta. Catherina.

No. 175. LETTER TO THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. JUNE 7, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 56-57 (2).]

Are sending the Tygris to the Bay after landing money at Vizagapatam. Send the treasure, redwood and broadcloth. The broadcloth was seized on the Queen Carolina in the Downs and is to be sold at outcry separately. As the Company was so pleased with the early arrival of the Wilmington and the Colchester, desire the Tygris to be returned with room for the 200 bales, which will remain when the Admiral Vernon has been laded. Send the military for Bengal except 6 who desire to stay at Madras. Desire credit for the cost of 30 buoy ropes sent with the treasure.

No. 176. LETTER TO JOHN STRATTON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. JUNE 7, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, p. 58 (1).]

Have received no letter since that of March 13 [No. 120], but the 'Black merchants' hear from Bimlipatam that the country is quiet. Only know that the George arrived by reason of the remittances sent from Vizagapatam to Madapollam and Ingeram. The accounts, etc., should be reported every month. Send 21,310 Pags. by the Tygris. Will send guns, etc., when Europe ships arrive. Hallyburton and Prince are to be supplied with money. More will be sent shortly.

No. 177. LETTER TO RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM. JUNE [7] 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, p. 59 (1).]

Acknowledge letters of March 23 and 24 [Nos. 121 & 122]. Trust that troubles with the country government will not prevent 200 bales being obtained and sent by the Essex brigantine in Sept. Suppose the Nawab will give a piece of ground for a house. If so, one may be built at a cost of 1,000 Pags.

No. 178. LETTER TO JOHN HALLYBURTON AT MADAPOLLAM. JUNE 7, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, p. 60 (1).]

Supplies of money will be sent him from Vizagapatam.

- No. 179. LETTER TO CAPT. JOHN PETRE OF THE TYGRIS. JUNE 8, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, p. 65 (3/4).]

Sailing orders for Bengal after touching at Vizagapatam.

- No. 180. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JUNE 9, 1742. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 13, p. 62 (1).]

Death of Lieut. Edward Amyand. Lieut. John De Morgan to command the 2nd Company at Cuddalore, and Burton the 1st, until further orders. Advances made.

- No. 181. LETTER FROM CHARLES WHITEHILL, ETC., AT ANJENGO. NO DATE. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 69 (1 1/2).]

Forward a packet for Bombay. The King of Travancore has taken from the Dutch all the forts built since the war, with guns, etc. He has more Europeans (in his service and prisoners together) than the Dutch have.

- No. 182. LETTER FROM STEPHEN LAW, ETC., AT BOMBAY. APR. 26, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 69-70 (1 1/4).]

Acknowledge letter of March 8 [No. 81]. Shipping news. Anjengo complains of English ships visiting Malabar ports for pepper; e.g., Riccards of the Lancaster from Bengal has been bartering saltpetre for pepper. This might give the Dutch the pretext that we are providing their enemies with munition of war, and also it will raise the price of pepper against the Company. Propose that ships having business in those parts should be directed to touch at Anjengo, where they will find all assistance.

- No. 183. LETTER FROM JOHN STRATTON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. MAY 11, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 71-73 (3).]

Acknowledge letter of March 14 [No. 88]. Have received treasure, etc., by the George. On March 24 she sailed for Calcutta with 7,000 Madras Rs. Have now only 2,040 Madras Rs. with which the 'kisty' will be paid. The wares, etc., by the Vizagapatam have arrived together with 21 recruits. As the Marathas have retired, have dismissed 100 peons. Will reduce expenses to the old standard, provided Jaffar Ali Khan, the new Nawab, causes no troubles. As the latter has not yet reached Chicacole, it is hoped that Mahfuz may have been continued in the government; if so it will be good for the country. Sent 5,000 Pags. to Prince; but as he wanted 10,000 more and Hallyburton also wanted money, have sent the latter 4,000 Pags. and only 6,000 to Prince. Desire 50,000

Pags. for the northern investment; also 12,000 half Rs. and 12,000 quarter Rs. to prevent the price of dubs being raised, as this causes discontent in the garrison. The farms have been sold to the old renters at an advance of 300 Pags. Enclose accounts, etc. Hope to supply 500 bales by Dec. 31. Have 100 on hand.

Appended is an indent for broadcloth, velvet, etc.

No. 184. LETTER FROM JOHN STRATTON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. MAY 15, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 74 (½).]

Forward copies of Prince's letter of May 8 and their answer of May 13 [Nos. 185 & 186].

No. 185. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM TO JOHN STRATTON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. MAY 8, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 74-75 (1).]

The Nawab demands a loan of 2,000 Pags. and 30,000 Rs. in exchange for Madras pagodas at Rs. 3-13-0. On his refusal the tanahdar was ordered to obstruct the Company's business. The washers have been whipped and the merchants threatened. Husain Kuli Khan (the Nawab's uncle) has seized the annual present and demands as much again, threatening to punish our Vakil in the same way as the Dubash of the Dutch Chief at Cocanada. The country is being plundered. Desires advice.

No. 186. LETTER FROM JOHN STRATTON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM TO RICHARD PRINCE AT INGERAM. MAY 13, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 75-77 (1¾).]

Acknowledge letter of May 8 [No. 185]. Imagine the Nawab really wants a present of 2,000 Pags. and a loan of 30,000 Rs. If so it would be wise to suspend the investment, for then there would be a want of pagodas to pay the King's revenue and the weavers might even migrate. The detention of the present is of small relative importance; but the matter of the loan must be referred to Madras for orders.

No. 187. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JUNE 9, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 77 (¾).]

No. 188. CONSULTATION. JUNE 11, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 157-162 (3½). Wrongly paged.]

Read letters from Anjengo, n.d. [No. 181], from Bombay of Apr. 26 [No. 182], from Vizagapatam of May 11 and 15 [Nos. 183 to 186] and from Fort St. David of June 9 [No. 187]. Agreed on letter to Bombay of June 11 [No. 189] and to send the Anjengo packet thither by pattamar. The Lieutenant's vacancy at Fort St. David not to be filled for the present. A chest of silver to be coined into ½ and ¼ Rs. Payments received. Empson, Sheriff, pays in Pags. 21-32-0, being the proceeds of the effects of Arumugam who has absconded for forgery; of this Pags. 16-32-0 are paid to the Sea Customer as owed him by Arumugam. Stores to be sent to Hallyburton by the Jenny brigantine.

Appended is a list of Arumugam's effects sold.

No. 189. LETTER TO STEPHEN LAW, ETC., AT BOMBAY. JUNE 11 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 61-64 (3).]

Acknowledge letters of Apr. 11 and 26. [Nos. 143 & 182.] The two boats received from Bombay have been rigged as sloops. One has been sent to Sumatra and the other will be. But they draw too much water; and there will be difficulty in repairing them unless Surat carpenters can be settled in Sumatra. Though the lascars had received four months' pay of which but one month had expired, they refused to continue on the vessels, saying that the remainder was meant to bear their charges and even asked for a further allowance. During the Maratha troubles, Lieut. Lane and the soldiers on the Royal Guardian were posted as guards at certain places [illegible] and received diet-money. Have received the various silver coins, except the 25 Shahie pieces. Send an estimate of their produce according to assays. Cannot prohibit vessels under English protection from going to the Malabar Coast for pepper, but can forbid them to carry gunpowder, arms, etc., for sale there. Reports from the French that peace is likely between England and Spain, and little fear of war between France and the maritime powers. La Bourdonnais has been ordered to disarm his squadron and to send his ships to India to be laded homewards. Will send what news may be brought by the Europe ships.

Waters (sent to instruct the gunroom crew) reports that the mortar beds and field carriages are wrongly made and that there is no gin to hoist the great guns. Ordered that one carriage of each sort be made as a pattern for the future. The round bastion at Devanampattanam Gate being cracked, as it was built hastily when the Marathas invaded the country, is to be repaired; and as it is close to the channel joining the two rivers it is to be staked and piled as well. This and the mud bastion N.W. of Devanampattanam having been very useful, agreed to recommend that the latter be cased with brick. Ordered that an estimate of the cost be made. Advances made.

No. 203. LETTER FROM JACOB MOSSEL, ETC., AT NEGAPATAM.
JUNE 13/24, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 82-83 (1).]

Regarding the deserter from Pulicat [Nos. 164 & 168], full assurance of pardon is contrary to the agreement made in 1696 between Nathaniel Higginson and the Dutch, and only encourages desertion. The agreement has always been observed. Only last year the Dutch restored 6 deserters without any condition. Request that the deserter may be handed over unconditionally to the Dutch. Are prepared to renew the agreement and will even consent not to punish deserters with death or public punishment. Send copies of the correspondence of 1741 [Nos. 204 & 205].

No. 204. LETTER FROM JACOB MOSSEL AT NEGAPATAM TO RICHARD BENYON. AUG. 28/SEPT. 8, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 83-84 (1).]

Has ordered the 6 deserters at Pulicat to be handed over to the English, according to custom. As there is no written agreement, propose that one should be made, for the mutual restoration of deserters, upon condition that they shall be treated as appears fitting.

No. 205. LETTER FROM JACOB MOSSEL AT NEGAPATAM TO RICHARD BENYON. OCT. 29/NOV. 9, 1741. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 84-85 (1½).]

An established custom to restore deserters. Sometimes the English have requested that they should not be put to death, but a full pardon has never been mentioned. This would only screen villains from punishment.

No. 206. LETTER FROM CHARLES WHITEHILL, ETC., AT ANJENGO.
JUNE 10, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 87 (½).]

No. 207. CONSULTATION. JUNE 28, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 166-171 (5½).]

Read letter from Negapatam of June 13/24 [No. 203], and Benyon produces the letters addressed to him by the Dutch in 1741 [Nos. 204 & 205]. Agreed on a reply of June 28 [No. 208]. Capt. Worth ordered to discharge John Andrews, who is needed at Madras for the Company's shipping. Accounts read and advances made, etc. Percival and Affleck, administrators to the estates of George and Susanna Torriano, pay in 10,000 Pags. on account of the said estates which may not meet in full the demands of Nathaniel Elwicke and other creditors.

Appended are:—(1) statement of extraordinary expenses for May 1742; (2) letter from Capt. Isaac Worth, of the Houghton, dated June 23, 1742, stating that he put into Madras on account of scurvy and a lack of water; and (3) letter from John Savage, Secretary, to Capt. Isaac Worth, dated June 28, 1742, ordering him to discharge John Andrews.

No. 208. LETTER TO JACOB MOSSEL, ETC., AT NEGAPATAM. JUNE 28, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 66-68 (2½).]

Acknowledge letter of June 13/24 [No. 203]. The records show that on March 21/31, 1696, the Dutch proposed an agreement that all deserters should be returned unconditionally except such English as should desert the Dutch and such Dutch as should desert the English; this proposal does not seem to have been accepted. The 6 English deserters who escaped in 1741 to Pulicat were returned under promise of pardon, and the agreement of the English with the French is on the same terms with the exception of deserters guilty of atrocious murder. Cannot engage to return deserters on other conditions. Return with thanks a letter from Jacob Mossel for Broyell, Governor at Jafnapatam, as the Carolina could not be got out of the Cuddalore river.

No. 221. DESPATCH FROM THE COMPANY [BY THE WALPOLE].
JAN. 20, 1742. [Pub. Des. from Eng., Vol. 46, pp. 5-17 (13).]

Cite despatches of 1741, Feb. 3 [No. (?)], Feb. 6 [No. 219 of 1741], Apr. 2 [No. (?)], Apr. 24 [No. 76 of 1742], May 27 [No. 113 of 1742], and July 29 [No. 134 of 1742]. Acknowledge despatches of 1740, Sept. 5 [No. 293 of 1740], Oct. 12 [No. 356 of 1740]; and of 1741, Jan. 26 [No. 36 of 1741], Jan. 31 [No. 47 of 1741] and Feb. 5 [No. 51 (?) of 1741].

15 ships arrived in England. Have taken up 15 ships, of which 6 are consigned to the Coast and Bay. Approve of Council's not ordering ashore the treasure on the Royal Guardian and demanding the reasons why the Bengal ships put into Madras; as it is only a few days' more sail to the Bay, the refreshing of the crew is an insufficient reason. Saltpetre bags from the Bay weigh 2 maunds each, and if any Captain in future desires each to be weighed singly, it should be done. Approve of the service which the Princess Augusta is doing. Earlier instructions should have been given the Godolphin regarding her tea tonnage. The supracargoes of the Compton and Wyndham induced the China merchants to agree to make good any loss upon the touch of gold in the Madras mint. The same should be done in future. Certificates to be given to Commanders for money paid in. Rates of freight have now been fixed for surplus tonnage; ships to be completely filled without waiting for the Captain to desire it. If the Benjamin cannot be completely laded by Bombay, she is to be filled up on the Coast; she is to bring cotton to the Coast, if she cannot get coffee at Mocha; and if the Defence cannot be laded with Bohea and green teas, she will bring sugar, sugarcandy and tutenague to be sold at Madras, the supracargoes being paid 5% commission.

English bullion not to be coined in the country mints; in the absence of Company's ships, treasure, etc., may be sent to the Bay in country ships. Regret that the troubles have stopped the sale of woolen goods; as soon as the markets recover, last year's directions are to be followed. If paper were kept in the chests, it would not be eaten by cockroaches or rats. Have directed the makers to provide only bright coloured velvets. The Shaftesbury will bring 150 pipes of Madeira. Send for a trial six pieces of silk and worsted stuffs called nassaurettes. The popinjay broadcloth by the Marlborough and the Walpole has white instead of striped lists, having been made for Bengal, but not now wanted there.

Rejoice that so considerable an investment as 5 cargoes was procured notwithstanding the troubles. This shows that all advantage was taken of the French being short of money. Congratulations on the Company's advances not having been lost. If the French, who formerly were said to regard neither price nor fabric, are now acting more reasonably, their competition will be easier to meet. The list of investment need not be exactly complied with if circumstances are against it. The Company do not attempt to force the market. Approve the settlement of Gopal's accounts; Tambi Chetti should pay off his debts at the rate of 5,000 Pags. a year; but Mahalinga and Ponnappa need not be severely treated. Hope the northern parts will provide a considerable investment as they are free from Marathas and many weavers have been driven that way. Salem cloth from Fort St. David was cheaper and sold better than that from Madras.

Entirely approve answering the Marathas' demands 'from the mouths of our cannon.' Hope that the country powers will now be roused to defend their subjects, but on no account should Madras become tributary to Moors or Marathas. Ships may go to ports other than Gombroon in the Persian Gulf, provided the shippers pay the Company the same customs as they would have paid at Gombroon. It is no time to settle new factories, but if the French claim Divy Island, the English claim must be pressed so as to embarrass them.

Have examined, with the help of Hugonin, formerly Gunner at Madras, the proposals to strengthen the west part of the Old Town and the Black Town, and approve of them; but dislike the proposal to enlarge the Town to the West, as the Island ground is bad and as the river cannot be easily diverted. As the supply of fresh water is important, works should be made to cover that to the south. Cuddalore may be fortified if it can be done for about 10,000 Pags. Are sending more recruits. The Madras garrison to be 600 strong, besides the gunroom crew. Certain criminal fines may be used to build granaries and rebuild the Town hall. The Assaymaster's attempt to question the justness of the assays in the Tower is unsatisfactory.

Approve subsistence allowance to Lane, Hope and Hatton. Bills on account of deceased servants may be drawn at the rate allowed to covenanted servants. Chaplains to send regularly list of marriages, christenings and burials; and Surgeons, lists of deaths showing the disease in each case. Dawsonne Drake to be a writer. Enclose Counsel's opinions [No. 223]. General letters must not deal with such matters; 'we are merchants and not lawyers.' John Clarke to be Ensign. Suspect that the Surgeons use Company's medicines for private practice. In future, they may buy medicines for such purposes at 10% on the invoice. Company's servants are to be treated free, and to receive the Company's medicine, except in venereal diseases, when the Surgeons should use their own medicines and be paid for treatment. There is still no war with France.

No. 222. LIST OF GOODS TO BE PROVIDED ON THE COROMANDEL COAST FOR THE SHIPS GOING OUT IN 1741. JAN. 20, 1742. [Pub. Des. from Eng., Vol. 46, pp. 43-46 (4).]

white, striped blue and red, 2,000; izarees, made up into square and of finer structure, 500; longcloth, ordinary, middling, fine, superfine, blue, and Porto Novo cloth, 133,400; moorees, 12 yds. long and 1 yrd. broad, fine, superfine and ordinary, 6,000; romals, 'sootie,' bright, red and white, Pulicat and Masulipatam, 9,100; sastracundees of bright red, 500; salempores, ordinary, middling and fine, 16 yds. long and usual breadth, 83,000; redwood, as usual; and saltpetre. Usual directions regarding inferior cloth, and the painting of sannoes, etc., for Bengal.

No. 223. OPINION GIVEN BY SIR DUDLEY RYDER (ATTORNEY-GENERAL), SIR JOHN STRANGE (SOLICITOR-GENERAL) AND JOHN BROWNE. DEC. 31, 1741. [Pub. Des. from Eng., Vol. 46, pp. 109-124 (16).]

In the case John Sanderson vs. Kesava Chetti Adiyappa, the defendant appeals. The Governor Benyon is Kesava's master; the Second, Fowke, is Sanderson's father-in-law. Query: As the Governor and Second are interested, can the next senior of Council preside and hear the appeal? Answer: In the case of real incapacity, the next senior councillor cannot preside; but the case above stated is not one of incapacity. Query: Can the Court of Appeals hear a case which cannot be heard before the Mayor's Court because the aldermen are interested? Answer: No, the Court of Appeals has no original jurisdiction. Query: Can Sanderson or his servant give evidence? Answer: Sanderson cannot but his servant can. Query: Is the evidence of one person sufficient? Answer: Yes, if his testimony is credited. Query: In the case of Mertins vs. Wildbone et e contra, whether an appeal lies from an order of the Mayor's Court resolving to hear both bill and cross-bill together, Mertins not being in India? Answer: No appeal lies from interlocutory orders unless they have the effect of a definitive sentence. Query: Whether the Court of Appeals can remand a case to the Mayor's Court for rehearing? Answer: No, but a sentence which, on the evidence produced in the lower Court, appears erroneous, must be reversed. Query: Whether under the Charter, heathen witness can be compelled to take certain heathen oaths? Answer: No decision can be given, but recommend the admission of evidence supported by the usual oaths and the avoidance of any effort to compel the taking of oaths; the Mayor's Court cannot decide against a party merely because he declines to take the Pagoda oath, and if it does, there is ground for appeal. Query: What should be done with the estates of intestate persons? In times past the President and Council have been sued in Chancery, and the Mayor's Court has been put to considerable trouble.

Answer : The only method is for the Company's servants not to intermeddle with such business.

No. 224. DESPATCH FROM THE COMPANY, BY THE LYNN.
 JAN. 27, 1742. [Pub. Des. from Eng., Vol. 46, pp. 19-20 (13/4).]

As the Lynn is to be loaded in Bengal with 300 tons of saltpetre, 60 tons of redwood and bales, and despatched from the Bombay side, have engaged the Wilmington for the Bay. The war in Germany has materially reduced the price of calicoes which are largely consumed there. This, combined with high war freights, has necessitated the reduction of tonnage sent to the Coast and Bay; but as the French are sending only 3 ships and the Swedes none, trust that goods may be had cheap.

The merchants called in and asked to procure 1,000 pieces of blue and white romals and 200 more of the red and white, besides 5,000 of the first and 4,000 of the last already ordered. They promise to get them, but represent that owing to the dearness of cotton and increased demands of the French, the weavers may raise their prices. The Board reply that they must show their faithfulness by seeing that no cloth escapes their hands, notwithstanding the large contracts made by the French. They are ordered to bring musters of dimities with the lowest prices. They say they cannot estimate the bales they will be able to provide for the Jan. shipping, as the number will depend on what the French do, but they promise to do their best. The George sold for Rs. 3,555. The Maratha invasion of Bengal. In consequence the investment is likely to be deficient. Desire the soldiers returning from Bombay and the Bengal recruits detained last year may be sent on, or at least that no Bengal recruits of this year may be detained. Acknowledge letter of [?]. Cannot provide a ship to carry the goods on the Tygris to Persia. As the long ells are baled up in tens, believe they must be intended for Persia, and possibly the rest of the woollen cloth; but the general invoice will show this. If reasonable terms can be got, think the goods for Persia should be sent direct. As regards the iron and cloth for Bombay, iron sells there from 80 to 90 Rs. the Surat candy, and will not rise; send an account of recent sales of cloth from which it can be judged whether it should be sent to Bombay or Bengal. In case the goods are all sent to Bombay and there should be war with France, desire to know whether the ship will come along the Coast or by the ten-degree channel. No. 256. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JULY 31, 1742. [F.S.D., Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 102-107 (5 1/4).]

The Company's old furniture sold for 67 Pags. 33 fns. Accounts read, advances made and payments received. The merchants being called in say that they cannot continue the investment at present prices, as the French are offering 47 Pags. for the Udaiyarpalaiyam and 45 for Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloths while the English offer only 42 1/2-43 1/2; however Nanjan Chetti who has almost a monopoly of the Salem cloth promises to supply none to the French though these have lately sent thither 12,000 Pags. Andiyappa who has brought in very little cloth, offers the same reasons, stating that the French have offered 67 Pags. for the fine cloth of 12 kal. The Board urge that the Company cannot possibly give high prices at present. The merchants promise to bring in 600 or 700 bales more if prices are increased; and state the French contract to amount to 390,000 Pags. They also ask for the usual present.

Appended is a statement of extraordinary expenses for June 1742.

The merchants being called before the Council promised to procure as many bales as possible, but the unsettled state of the country and the uncertainty of what the French would do prevented a precise estimate. They declared that prices must be revised, for the French were offering 47 for the Udaiyarpalaiyam cloth while the English were giving only 42½ or 43½; however, they did not ask for increased prices for the Salem cloth as Nanjan Chetti who almost monopolises it and who has long dealt with them had promised all that came into his hands. Andiyappa says the same thing about the prices offered by the French and the impossibility of obtaining any. The French offer 67 for the 12-kal fine cloth for which the English offer only 62½ or 63½. The merchants were told that the Europe markets were too bad for the Company to raise the prices; but they say they can get 600 or 700 bales more only if the prices are raised. Believe what the merchants say to be true. As they brought in 1,200 bales last year and have already provided 600 or 700 this year, recommend that they be given the usual present. Regret the bad sales in London, but hope that Maria Theresa's reported success and the proposed alliance will improve the situation. The Surgeon is in difficulties for want of a mate. Have 121 bales ready and 305 at the beaters', etc.

- No. 262. CONSULTATION. AUG. 6, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 193-200 (7 2/3).]

Accounts read. Read letter from Fort St. David, of Aug. 2 [No. 261] and agreed on answer of Aug. 6 [No. 263]. Capt. Charles Gilbert desires certificate at 7 s. 8 d. for 2,229 Pags. being the balance of Theosophila Ferdinando (formerly Symonds) with the Church stock. It is not clear whether the Company has agreed to the remittance of her whole fortune or only of the annual interest at that rate. Agreed to refer the matter to England. Headmoney granted for 30 recruits by the Lynn and the Marlborough. Agreed on letter to Vizagapatam of Aug. 17 [No. 271]. The account sortments of northern cloth to be sent thither. 5 bales of blue broadcloth to be obtained from Bengal for facings of the military clothing. Agreed upon letter to Bengal of Aug. 9 [No. 266]. 20 chests of silver to be sold at 253 Arcot Rs. for 100 ozs. The Warehousekeeper to report at what price 20 chests of silver can be sold [for pagodas?].

Appended are :—(1) cash account for July 1742, balance 2,900 Alambarai and 20,335 Madras Pags. and debit balance of 8,587 Star Pags.; (2) petitions of Walter Weymiss, Surgeon on the Lynn, and of Alexander Wood, Surgeon on the Marlborough, (n.d.), praying for headmoney on 30 recruits.

No. 263. LETTER TO AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. AUG. 6, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 79-82 (3¾).]

Acknowledge letter of Aug. 2 [No. 261]. The French make large contracts every year. They are certainly short of money. Understand that their merchants have not brought in more than 6,000 Pags. worth of cloth in the last four months and will only promise 300 or 400, and complain of the dearth of cotton and English competition. However, this is no time to increase investments by raising prices. The Company's goods have sold badly in Germany on account of the war; the Coast and Bay tonnage has been reduced; and the Company expect this reduced demand to lower prices. If the prices proposed by the Fort St. David merchants were given, the goods probably would not sell at cost price. Udaiyarpalaiyam cloth has always been cheaper than that from Chennappanayakanpalaiyam. Yet the merchants say the French are buying it at 47 Pags. a corge—an increase (reckoning in the removal of land custom, etc.) of 12% on last year's prices. Will not squabble about a trifle, but unless cloth can be got at about last year's rates, 'we must resolve to have done.' Besides, believe the French are giving 47 Pags. not for ordinary cloth, but for better. Higher prices may be given if the quality is improved proportionately. Desire copies of merchants' accounts, etc. The Mary to be returned with bales. Will send as doctor's mate a man who has served some months in the Madras hospital. The wrappers used for the goods received in England in 1741 were very bad.

Read letter from Fort St. David of Aug. 5 [No. 264]. At the outcry on the 4th no offer above prime cost was made for the nassaurettes; agreed to sell them out of the warehouse at 30% on the invoice. Resolved to send to England a report on the bad lead received by the Lynn and the Admiral Vernon, together with 2 slabs of it; agreed that all the bad lead be melted down. Payments received. Wares, money etc., to be sent to Vizagapatam by the Walpole. 87 chests of rupees to be sent to Bengal by the Lynn, the Walpole and the Marlborough; also 20 chests of firearms, 20 iron guns with shot and the household furniture. Advances made. Letter to Bengal of Aug. 9 [No. 266].

Appended are:—(1) list of 349 slabs of lead received by the Admiral Vernon and the Lynn; (2) list of short and over deliveries of stores and goods received by the ships of this year; and (3) account sale of 16 pieces of embossed cloth at 30 to 37 Pags. per piece and of 400 candies of lead at 13 to 13¾ Pags. per candy.

Regret the Maratha troubles. Send 30 Europeans from Madras and will send 30 from Vizagapatam, though only 38 recruits have been received from Europe. Madras topasses are not worth sending. Will send 10 six-pounders received from England and 10 'as near four-pounders' as possible with shot, and 20 chests of small arms. The Tygris' broadcloth and perpetuanoes intended for Gombroon will be sent thither by ship from Madras. The 50 tons of iron sent on the Lynn may be forwarded to Bombay or sold. Send treasure and redwood. As the Company fear the risk of coining silver into Arcot rupees in the country mints, are changing part of the Marlborough's treasure into Arcot rupees which may be sent to Bengal. Desire 5 bales of blue broadcloth for the military. Enclose ships' papers, etc. Bombay reports iron to be 80 to 90 Rs. the Surat candy, less 9% if cleared in 6 months. Expect 1,800 to 2,000 bales for the Jan. ships; but, if the Benjamin arrives in time for despatch in

Oct. she will take about 800 of these, leaving 1,200 for such ships as may come from Bengal. The Captain of the Lynn is to be paid for dieting the soldiers, 4 fanams each per diem. Send some household furniture.

Appended are:—(1) list of the packet to Bengal by the Lynn; and (2) indent for goods for Sumatra.

Read letter from Madras of Aug. 6 [No. 263]. The merchants are called in and observe that the French have received much silver and are offering the weavers ready money; they promise to put in a list of prices at which cloth can be obtained; and report that Nanjan Chetti offers his cloth at the prices the French are willing to pay—at present 47-49 Salem fanams the piece. Andiyappa also complains that Tranquebar buyers are trying to get much cloth at Udaiyarpalaiyam. The merchants represent their losses over Alambarai Pags.

Appended is the list of the prices of calicoes as delivered by the merchants.

Payments received. Signed the Walpole's despatch for Vizagapatam and Bengal; and a letter to Bengal of Aug. 19 [No. 276] by the Marlborough. Benyon reports that he has furnished provisions as is customary to [Shaikh Ibrahim] the ambassador from Jedda to Nizam-ul-mulk and others; agreed also to provide him with a house during his stay at Madras. Approved indent on Bengal for packing stuff, etc.

Appended are:—(1) letter from Nathaniel Barlow and Andrew Munro, dated Aug. 16, stating that there is always a considerable number of military in hospital with venereal diseases, requesting that, when the medicines sent for the hospital use are exhausted, the Surgeons may apply for an issue of the medicines appropriated for the Surgeons' use, but declining to receive these on their private account as not suitable, and agreeing to indent annually for medicines to be made up by their own apothecaries, and stating that the 'saltness' of the air rusts instruments more quickly than elsewhere; (2) letter from Sidney Foxall, dated Aug. 10, declaring that he has been nowise negligent in managing the mint, but that the system in use, by which gold is assayed when powdered and then weighed into pagodas, melted and stamped by different sets of coolies, leaves many openings for deceit, which cannot be better stopped than by assaying sample coins from time to time; and (3) list of provisions supplied by Benyon to the Jedda ambassador, valued at 93 Pags.

Have coined as desired a chest of silver into $\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{1}{4}$ Rs. Inquire whether Madras fanams and cash will serve for small money. When reporting the re-letting of the farms at an increase of 300 Rs. Vizagapatam did not specify the farmers' names or the amount of each farm. Desire copies of the cowles. It was said that recent extraordinary charges would be compensated by an increase in the revenue and customs—presumably the sea and river customs. But the amounts are very small. Had the Madras orders been strictly observed, there would have been a considerable increase. Sea and Land custom books are to be kept as at Madras. Send Madras pagodas and stores. Lieut. Crompton is transferred to Fort St. David vice Amyand, deceased, and Lewis Turnery appointed Lieutenant vice Crompton. Send cloth accounts. Acknowledge letter of July 8 [No. 249]. Wish that the 500 bales promised could be ready by Nov. 30 instead of Jan. 31, and that the amount of cloth on hand had been greater. Each bale of fine longcloth should contain 40 pieces, and of fine salempores 100. 30 Europeans to be sent to Bengal by the Walpole. Send copies of the Company's orders regarding surgeons. Robert Goodere appointed to the Vizagapatam Council; now that there are two of Council, they must meet at the Choultry to hear disputes; and their Consultations, etc., must be sent regularly. Humphrey Holcombe may be entertained as a monthly writer, as no covenanted servant can be spared. Cloth to be sent if any good conveyance offers by the beginning of next month.

A delay in settling the prices of cloth owing to a dispute on the value of the Alambarai pagoda. Have told the merchants that the Company would lose money if Udaiyarpalaiyam cloth were put up to 47 and that the French cannot buy for lack of money; they replied that they knew nothing about the London sales, but that the French had received money by the two ships, and their merchants were offering ready money for cloth. They were then asked at what prices they could provide cloth. They said they would state them, and that Nanjan Chetti had written that the price of cloth must be raised from 47 to 49 fanams a piece (i.e. by about 2 Pags. a corge), else the French would get it. Submit these proposals with the lists of the several sorts of cloth. The merchants also complain that they will lose 10% by the depreciation of Alambarai pagodas of which they had in their hands in Jan. 13,307. It was, however, observed that these pagodas were rated at 25% in Jan. when they were really at a less discount and that the merchants were as likely to have gained as lost, especially as they were not likely to have kept so dangerous a coin. Forward accounts, but the merchants say they cannot settle their accounts of cloth monthly, because they do not settle with the weavers monthly and the weavers would be better able to keep up their prices if they did. The wrappers of 1741 were injured by being cured in the rainy weather. Have 225 bales ready and 217 at the beaters' etc.

Appended is a list of prices at which the merchants and Andiyappa are willing to provide cloth: Udaiyarpalaiyam long-cloth 45½ Pags.; Chennappanayakanpalaiyam 45 Pags.; Salem 44½ Pags.

Acknowledge letter of Aug. 14 [No. 279]. 'Do the quoted prices include the merchants' brokerage? If not, Madras middling cloth is cheaper than that from Chennappanayakanpalaiyam, though at the last sales in England the former fetched 2s. a piece more. Nanjan Chetti's proposal seems simply to mean he will supply Salem cloth if we will give 49 fns. a piece as against the French 48. Would prefer Salem to Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth; but the English must not bind themselves to take all that Nanjan Chetti sends. Moreover cloth becomes much dearer, if most of it 'sorts to' the lower numbers. Out of 166 bales of Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth, there are 1 No. 1, 6 No. 2, 72 No. 3 and 87 No. 4. Desire the monthly accounts sent in by merchants when they brought in cloth from May 1741. The Company want 100 pieces of fine dimities made at Fort St. David, one yard by twelve.

No carpenter can be induced to go and settle in Sumatra. Lieut. Lane will be granted an allowance. Though the Company formerly said that they would not hinder persons trading under their protection from buying pepper where they pleased so long as they paid customs and duties, experience has shown that this raises the price against the Company. Shall write home about it and meanwhile desire such trade to be prevented as far as possible. It is not allowed under Bombay. Francis Fowke has been appointed a factor in the Bombay establishment.

No. 295. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. AUG. 25, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 115 (¾).]

Send duplicate invoices of bales as desired. The Brilliant (one of La Bourdonnais' squadron) has passed by Fort St. David bound for Pondichery.

No. 296. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. 2, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 116-120 (4½).]

Acknowledge letter of Aug. 23 [No. 283]. The merchants have been called in and urged to lower their prices. They reply that the cloth is the best they can get at the price. English, French, Danes and Dutch are all buying cloth and the last three are not so strict about its goodness. Their prices did not include brokerage and they will take back their cloth if required. Regarding the price of Salem cloth they say they were including the export duty of 1 fanam the piece when they said the French offered 49 fns. Advise that the purchase of Salem cloth may be increased so as to make up the deficiency in Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth. The merchants will neither lower the price nor improve the quality. To prevent cloth going to the French, it was agreed to take all cloth but what was priced higher than the President etc. should allow. There was no time to consult Madras about this. Beg for final orders, as the washers are out of work and may desert to the French. The merchants have undertaken to provide dimities as desired. Send cloth account kept by the Warehouse-keeper, and those delivered monthly by the merchants. 114 corge are not shown in the Warehousekeeper's accounts, it is said, because the merchants had not priced the cloth. Salem cloth also is often not priced when measured, as the gumastas often fail to send down the prices in time. This, however, matters little, because the Company agree to take all the cloth sent, it being sorted at Salem owing to the distance. Similar discrepancies in Andiyappa's account. The Surgeon's mate arrived on Aug. 31. 238 bales ready and 123 at the washers' etc.

No. 297. LETTER FROM THOMAS DORRIL AT BASRA. JULY 5, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 115-116 (1½).] Acknowledges letter of Oct. 5, 1741. Has forwarded the packets. Agrees with the Consul of Aleppo that the route via Grand Cairo is very round about.

No. 298. CONSULTATION. SEPT. 6, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 219-225 (6⅓).]

Read letters from Bombay of Aug. 5 [No. 293], from St. Helena of Apr. 2 [No. 294], from Fort St. David of Aug. 25, Sept. 2 and 3 [Nos. 295 & 296; one missing] and from Basra of July 5 [No. 297]. Agreed to permit the Fort St. David Council to make the best terms they can with the merchants, as (1) otherwise there will be a total stop to the investment, (2) the Salem cloth sent from Madras in 1740 was near as dear as what is now offered at Fort St. David, and (3) the Bengal investment is likely to be short and so there is a danger of ships remaining in India on demurrage. Agreed to desire Bengal to return the Princes Augusta should she sail thither with saltpetre and stores. Signed bills on the Company for £2,918 and indents on England for 1744. Payments received. The Admiral Vernon's crew, guns, etc., to be inspected. Accounts read.

Appended is the cash account for Aug. 1742, balance 39,624 Star and 2,900 Alambarai Pags.

No. 299. LETTER TO THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. SEPT. 6, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, p. 101 (1½).]

In case the Princess Augusta fails to reach Madras and goes to Bengal, desire her to be sent back early in Dec. with saltpetre and packing stuff or whatever may be advantageous.

No. 300. LETTER TO AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. 8, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 102-105 (3½).]

Acknowledge letters of Sept. 2 and 3 [No. 296; one missing]. Leave Fort St. David to contract for calicoes on the best terms obtainable and not dearer than the prices given in the Fort St. David letter of Aug. 14 [No. 279]. But the brown cloth, which has been worse than that of the last 2 years, must be better sorted. The merchants 'forgot themselves' when they said the cloth is as good as usual. Great difference between the merchants' accounts and the Warehousekeeper's. Desire to know how Croke makes up the latter. The merchants should be made, as formerly, to give in accounts of the cost with each parcel of cloth. It was always done in Hubbard's time and there is no reason for discontinuing it. Enquire why fanams should be received for paddy sold, presumably for garrison use. At Madras the military are paid part in money and part in grain for which the Paymaster pays the Warehousekeeper in pagodas. The net disbursement of fanams by the Paymaster is only for 164 Pags. according to the accounts; but it surely must be much larger.

No. 301. CONSULTATION. SEPT. 9, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 226-227 (2¼).]

Mary Parker and her daughter granted a passage on the Admiral Vernon. Passed indent on England for stores for 1744. Signed the duplicate general books ending Apr. 30, 1741. Worn-out gun-barrels and armory stores to be sent to England. Signed despatch to England by the Admiral Vernon [No. 303]. 600 more bags of saltpetre to be sent on board her. Signed bills on the Company for £36. Accounts read.

No. 302. CONSULTATION. SEPT. 11, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, p. 229 (1).]

Capt. Webster of the Admiral Vernon declares his private trade at 4,138 Pags. The Admiral Vernon's crew, guns, etc., reported sufficient. Agreed that her despatch [No. 303] be deferred till the name is known of a ship that has been plying into the road all day.

No. 303. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY, BY THE ADMIRAL VERNON. SEPT. 11, 1742. [Coast and Bay Abstracts, Vol. 4, pp. 397-402. (I.O. trans.)]

Cite despatch of Feb. 4 [No. 50]. List of ships' arrivals, etc. The Admiral Vernon's cargo. Bengal ships should call at Madras, when their crews need refreshment. The George was sold for 3,555 Rs. Purchased a new Pegu-built ship (the Sumatra) for 4,500 Pags. Two boats costing 8,922 Rs. have arrived from Bombay for the Sumatra trade. Cannot take exact accounts of all goods landed out of Europe ships unless there are servants enough to take watch and ward, like the tide-waiters. Shall observe Turner's method in China as to gold. Desire particular directions for the treatment of deceased captains' effects. Send an account of the bad lead. Sent 18 of the Tygris' auroras to Bengal. Embossed cloth sold pretty well, but nobody bid for nassaurettes. Red and green cloth much wanted. Silver is generally sold for one month's trust, but will try to sell it for cash. All offices complain of the paper; only the first 2 or 3 sheets in a quire are good. Have sent to Bengal in all 1,115,000 Rs. and to Vizagapatam 61,897 Pags. and 16,000 Arcot Rs. The effects of the Maratha invasion are still felt, though the new money is generally current. Little cotton or yarn for sale; but are advised against raising prices. The middling cloth by this ship is mostly Nos. 3 and 4 which cannot be helped when other nations take as poor a stuff. The musters of fine goods made near Madras were so poor that they have been ordered from the northward. Hope the baftas and sannoes chintz will be satisfactory, but the painters say the baftas are so coarse that it is difficult to fix the colours. Are discussing with Fort St. David the merchants' proposal to raise prices.

Safdar Ali's family is still in Town and he is still unconfirmed as Nawab. Imam Sahib has left Masulipatam to visit Nizam-ul-mulk. Marathas in Bengal. Sent thither 60 Europeans and military stores. At Anjengo the Dutch have been defeated by the King of Travancore. The Nawab has ordered the coinage of pagodas of $81\frac{1}{2}$ touch. Owing to the Nawab's presence, the shroffs have moved from Arcot to Madras whither all the revenues are sent. Banking is the chief business as there is still but little trade. The Bengal ship from Manilla arrived in May with 300,000\$. The Tygris' prize belonged to the French merchants at Chandernagore. Need powers to try such cases as country ships might be seized. Riccards is complained of for trading about Anjengo. Have refused to deliver up Dutch deserters except on pardon. Enclose Imam Sahib's letter about Diu Island. The original grant not full and authentic; Benyon desired Imam Sahib to trouble himself no further in the matter. The troubles of the French at Karikal and Yanam will cure them of desiring new possessions. The Spanish ship taken by Capt. Gilbert has been bought by the Portuguese at Macao, whence she had been freighted on account of inhabitants at Madras. Had intended to enlarge the White Town by damming the river from Queen's Point to the Island; but will only strengthen the west face without enlarging it as ordered. Know of no good water south of the Town, but a committee shall search for some and report what works are needed to protect it. Though the garrison is to consist of 600 men, have only received 38 recruits. In peaceful times a smaller garrison would suffice if mostly Europeans. Factory house at Ingeram. Appointments, etc. 300 garse paddy purchased for the garrison. Allowances to those wounded, etc., by the Powder House explosion. The shroffs have furnished security in 5,000 Pags. Will send useless guns home when freight is cheaper. The old pier glasses at Fort St. David may sell in China. Richard Court arrived May 23, and Dawsonne Drake July 18. Jonathan Smart, free merchant, has returned to Pegu with instructions regarding saltpetre. John Hammond died on March 2. Father Thomas of the Portuguese Church died in Apr. after 30 years' residence. Amyand's death, etc. John Clarke is a sober good officer. Percival took great pains to qualify himself to be Gunner; Waters is fit to succeed him. The pay of the Undermates and Quarter-gunners is too small. The mint is in good credit; no complaints from Bengal about the rupees or mohurs. All Europeans have to use Madras or Star pagodas for their investments as their credit is now become so general.

Accounts. Sumatra affairs. The French have had only two ships, the Hercules and the Lys, from France with 180 chests of treasure. They are in great need of money and have borrowed some from the Moors, which has affected the Fort St. David investment. But they have only 800 bales of cloth. Further shipping news, etc. The guns at Madras old and honeycombed; need new ones. The amount of the Admiral Vernon's invoice is 101,886 Pags.; to St. Helena 286 Pags. Diamonds, etc., registered 43,844 Pags. Capt. Webster's private trade, 4,138 Pags. Balance of cash 55,065 Pags. Bills drawn on the Company for 8,058 Pags.; and a certificate for 2,230 Pags.

No. 304. DIARY. SEPT. 12, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, p. 230 ($\frac{1}{2}$).]

Notice given by a letter from the Council to Captain Way of the Benjamin that his lading of cotton is to be landed and his ship prepared to receive cargo for Europe.

No. 305. CONSULTATION. SEPT. 13, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 230-233 (3).]

Read letter from Bombay of Aug. 17. Agreed that more saltpetre cannot be sent on the Admiral Vernon as the remaining stock is needed for the Benjamin. Payments received. Agreed to defer the Admiral Vernon's despatch till the Sumatra (now in sight) has come in. Since selling 20 chests of silver for Arcot rupees, the country mints have lowered them from 253 to 256 per 100 oz. of standard silver; as this specie has therefore fallen in value, resolved if possible, to re-exchange the coin for silver, and Linga Chetti is ordered to try to buy with them the silver arrived on the French Basra ship which may perhaps be had on favourable terms to save the delay of coinage. The rupees may be issued at 250 per 100 oz. standard silver. Silver is now at 14 $\frac{5}{8}$ weight per 10 Pags., and Arcot rupees at 328 [per 100 Pags.]. The loss by keeping the rupees would be 17 fns. 51 c. per 100 oz.

Appended is a letter from Captain Benjamin Webster of the Admiral Vernon, dated Sept. 13, desiring 400 bags of saltpetre in addition to the 600 already received.

No. 307. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. 13, 1742.
[F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 146-149 (2½).]

Read letter from Croke, desiring that general letters received and draft replies may be circulated so that members of the Council may know their contents before meeting. Burton replies that Croke sent for a letter from Madras an hour before the meeting, but it could not be sent to him because it was being entered in the letter-book, that the Board is the best place for reading general letters and that draft replies contain only what has been decided in Consultation. Read letter from Madras of Sept. 8 [No. 300]. Agreed to take in cloth at the prices settled and to order the sorters to accept no brown cloth that does not contain more cloth of better quality. Croke to prepare the account desired at Madras. Burton declares that he has kept accounts like Hubbard's, but observes that his bad health may have occasioned some slight errors. The Warehousekeeper and the Paymaster to report on the receipt of fanams. Advances made. The Gunner to survey the Carolina. (Edward Croke signs the minutes under protest.)

No. 308. LETTER FROM THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. JULY 31, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 124-127 (3½).]

Acknowledge letter of June 7 [No. 175]. Have received the treasure, etc., and broadcloth. Will sell the last at outcry separately. Shall despatch the Tygris direct to England in Oct. Ask for as many guns as possible, and all the soldiers that can be spared. Send goods belonging to the Danish missionaries. Their bullion has not yet been sold. Have detained 3 chests of gunpowder that were to have gone on the Princess Louisa. 500 pieces of brown jugdea baftas intended 'for chinting' at Madras, have been hindered by a storm on their way down the river. Have received from the Sumatra 18 muskets and other weapons. Send on the Sumatra saltpetre and gunnies worth Rs. 18,857. Shipping news. Send a letter for the Company to be despatched by the Admiral Vernon.

No. 309. LETTER FROM JOHN STRATTON, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. SEPT. 4, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 127-128 (1).]

Acknowledge letter of Aug. 17 [No. 271]. Have received the treasure, wares, etc., by the Walpole, on which 30 soldiers have been sent from Vizagapatam to Bengal. Accounts read. Vijayaram Razu has come to terms with the Nawab, which will facilitate the investment. Captain John Crompton will set out for Madras this month. Will write more fully in a few days.

No. 310. CONSULTATION. SEPT. 14, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 234-235 (2).]

Read letters from Fort William of July 31 [No. 308] and from Vizagapatam of Sept. 4 [No. 309]. Agreed upon reply to Bengal of Sept. 15 [No. 313]. Sends 170 bales of calicoes on the Essex brigantine. The Nawab, in spite of his plundering, is behind hand with his kists and is said to have been recalled. Has begun to build the Residency.

No. 312. CONSULTATION. SEPT. 15, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 236-238 (2½).]

Read letter from Ingeram of Aug. 21 [No. 311]. Benyon reports that the Shaftesbury is at anchor 5 leagues north of Pulicat, 22 men having died and 65 being too weak to work; and that he had ordered provisions and 80 men of the gunroom crew to be sent to her help at once. The Benjamin to be surveyed. Eden Howard permitted to sail on the Benjamin. The heavy surf having prevented Captain Webster from going off to the Admiral Vernon, agreed to inform the Company of the arrival of the Shaftesbury and her condition. The Shaftesbury having reached the Coast, agreed that Linga Chetti shall coin silver on condition of delivery within 15 days at 256 Rs. for 100 oz. standard, 1,000 Rs. to weigh 366¼ oz. and 6 dwt. better than standard. The silver to be delivered as the rupees are brought in.

Appended is a letter from Eden Howard, dated Sept. 14, desiring a passage on the Benjamin.

Acknowledge letter of July 31 [No. 308]. Regret the Maratha troubles in Bengal, but cannot send more soldiers. The country people are sending valuables into Town fearing disturbances. He pays in in fanams the cost of rice sold to the Garrison, because the Captains issue 16 fns. worth of rice to each European and 12 to each topas, receiving payment for it in fanams. Last month the price was 64 Pags. 23 fns. 22 c. per garse, and it was delivered at $2\frac{3}{4}$ measures per 2 Madras fanams. The Gunner does the same for the guproom crew and the Paymaster for the rest of the Company's servants. This has been the regular practice ever since rice was issued for the use of the garrison some 8 years ago.

determined, and the heads of castes were assembled to settle the dispute, but could come to no agreement. Have examined the records about the disputes of 1733 and 1740. Perumal and his family alone of the Right-hand caste claim to perform their ceremonies in the Left-hand street. Recommend that all persons living in a street not of their own caste be required to sell their houses and live in a street of their own caste people. Perumal has died and it has been arranged that Right-hand ceremonies be performed for him in the Left-hand street without prejudice to the question at issue. Have 239 bales ready and 125 at the beaters', etc.

Appended is copy of a cowle granted to the Chettis by Sher Khan before the English bought Fort St. David, appointing the streets in Cuddalore north of the Choultry Left-hand and those south of it Right-hand streets, 'the bazar street fronting my house' being 'for all nations in general.'

- No. 325. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. 18, 1742. [F.S.D., Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 151-159 (9).]

Gunner Philip Baker to caulk the main planking of the Carolina and make other necessary repairs. Advances made. Read Edward Croke's explanation of the discrepancies between his and the merchants' accounts of cloth brought in between May 1 and July 31 [No. 324]. Burton considering that Croke's letter reflects on him desires the appointment of a Committee to examine the accounts, so that he may justify himself. Agreed to send the papers to Madras. The Paymaster and the Warehousekeeper produce their statements regarding fanams. Graham disclaims all responsibility for taking in bad brown cloth.

Appended are:—(1) letter from Philip Baker, dated Sept. 18, 1742, reporting that the Carolina's sheathing is rotten, and that her main planking must be caulked; and (2) letter from Edward Croke to Burton, etc., dated Sept. 17, 1742 [No. 324].

- No. 326. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. 21, 1742. [F.S.D., Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 131-132 (1 1/2).]

Burton pays in 2,366 Pags. for the cloth torn out of wrappers according to Croke's request [No. 323]. At his desire the cash examined and found correct. Burton reports that so much cloth has had to be rejected that the merchants object to taking back all but the best pieces, but offer to take back the whole as delivered in. The Board inspect the cloth at the sorting godown, and finding that it does not answer the increase in price, resolve to propose returning the whole to the merchants.

No. 330. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. 20, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 135-139 (4).]

Acknowledge letter of Sept. 8 [No. 300]. After two Consultations, have been unable to get the prices of cloth lowered and believe the proposed prices are genuine. Have therefore agreed to take in cloth. However have directed the sorters to take in cloth likely to contain more of the higher sortments than have been lately obtained, though this must lessen ours and increase the French investment. Trust the cheapness of cloth already embaled (43½ Pags. brokerage included) will compensate the poor quality. Regret that the wrong accounts of cloth were formerly sent. Now send the book containing the cloth accounts kept till Hubbard's death and a copy of those kept since that by Burton who has maintained them on the same method. Prices have been settled of late quite as soon as formerly, only the prices of Salem cloth have been much delayed, but that has not prejudiced the Company. In future merchants shall give in the prices before the cloth is sorted. Burton hopes that any errors in the investment may be ascribed to his long and dangerous illness. Forward Croke's explanation of the discrepancies between his accounts and the merchants'. He alleges several things against Burton which the latter desires to have investigated by a Committee, before which he is sure of clearing his conduct. Regarding the Paymaster's disbursements and the Warehousekeeper's receipts; of fanams the European military only take 16-19 fns., the topasses 12-15 fns. and the gunroom lascars about 24 fns. a month in rice; but all these take their pay nearly all in gold and pay the Warehousekeeper in fanams. At Burton's desire the cash has been inspected and found correct. A ship has arrived at Pondichery with 60 chests of silver, 40 chests of arms, etc. [Edward Croke signs under protest, and John Graham notes that he has sorted no brown cloth.]

Appended are copies of Nos. 323 and 324.

No. 331. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. 24, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 147 (3/4).]

The cloth brought in since the last agreement is no better than before, and does not answer the increased prices. Propose therefore to return it.

No. 332. LETTER FROM EDWARD CROKE AT FORT ST. DAVID. SEPT. 19, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 145-147 (2 1/3).]

Sends duplicate of his letter to the Fort St. David Council regarding accounts [No. 324]. Has had to notice differences other than those of the month in which cloth was brought in, for the sake of his own character, as these relate to the Company's interest. Has written at large to Benyon to whom he refers for further explanation if needed. The Dr. and Cr. sides of Burton's account appeared to be in different hands. Sloper (Burton's writer) said before the Council that he believed the re-written page to have been copied by Ensign Morgan, who sometimes 'writes' for Burton. Sloper and Morgan can explain the matter if examined. Has refused to give up his vouchers till directed to do so by the President and Council. Has exposed Burton's misdeeds with great regret, and trusts his action may not be misunderstood, though he will certainly have to undergo Burton's resentment.

Appended is the account salary of covenanted servants for the half-year ending Sept. 25, 1742.

No. 334. LETTER FROM THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. AUG. 17, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 148 (1).]

Acknowledge letters of Sept. 13, 17, 20 and 24 [Nos. 317, 318, 319, 330 & 331]. Regarding Right and Left-hand caste disputes, order that Right-hand ceremonies shall only be performed in Right-hand streets and so also for Left-hand ceremonies; and that no one shall buy or build houses in a street belonging to the opposite party. 84 bales have arrived by the Mary sloop. Some endeavour must be made to improve the quality of the cloth; if it be very bad, the merchants may take it away on repaying the money advanced for it. Regarding the accounts, Croke accuses Burton of reducing one entry from 110 to 34 corge, and that other entries were raised from 42 to 48 Pags. a corge, etc., thus defrauding the Company of 1,541 Pags. in 3 months; require Burton's reply to these charges. Rice taken by the garrison must be paid for in pagodas, else the Company will lose 2 to 3 fns. per pagoda.

Read letter from Fort William of Aug. 30 [No. 341]. Accounts read. Agreed to refer Capt. Taylor's responsibility for shortage of copper to England on condition that he deposits the amount at issue. Capt. Way declares his private trade and pays in 3,000 Pags. for certificates. 500 bags of saltpetre to be put on the Benjamin besides the 3,000 already laded, also the charterparty 1 % in rice, sugar and arrack for St. Helena. The Benjamin's crew, guns, etc., to be surveyed. Payments received. Agreed on letter to Sumatra [No. 346]. Resolved to send no money to the Bay by the Shaftesbury as the season is late and dangerous and the cash low. Agreed to send troublesome soldiers to Bengal. Some Madeira to be sold at outcry on Oct. 13. The 419 bales of woollen cloth by the Tygris to be sent for Gombroon on the Augusta, freight at 7 % on the invoice—the usual freight (12 Arcot Rs. a Bengal maund) would amount to 3,426 Pags. at 327 Arcot Rs. per 100 Pags. At 2 A.M. on the previous day Benyon learnt of the murder of Safdar Ali Khan at Vellore by Murtaza Ali Khan and of the imprisonment of Mir Asad and Bukanji Kasidas. Thereon he doubled the guards and warned them to allow no Moor's horse to enter the Town without particular leave. The Nawab's family did not hear the news till noon, when they received letters from the Diwan of Vellore. Krishnaji Pant was informed by Muhammad Khan Talouze, Commander of 2,000 horse at Arcot, and by Murtaza Ali Khan who enclosed a letter for Benyon.

Appended are:—(1) calculate of freight on woollen goods to Persia, total weight 933 maunds, freight at 7 % 1,109 Pags.; (2) cash account for Sept. 1742, balance 64,175 Star and 2,900 Alambarai and 222 Madras Pags.; and (3) letter from Capt. John Taylor of the Sumatra, dated Oct. 6, 1742, stating that he took every precaution to prevent any theft of copper and believes it must have been weighed to him at Madras by old weights.

Replies to Croke's charges though confined to bed by illness. Arrived on Aug. 22, and was informed that some Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth had been sorted to ordinary, as was proved by the sorting book; this was carried from the month of June to the month of Dec. and charged at the same price (41 Pags.) as in the June account. Some cloth brought in in Aug. and apparently put to a higher price was merely set down at the average price from Aug. to Dec. Other cloth altered from 'ordinary' to 'Udaiyarpalayam' and raised to 45 Pags. was so entered because it had cost 45 Alambarai Pags. Burton directed the Warehouse book with these alterations to be shown to the Warehousekeeper Croke. Knows nothing of the cloth said to have been altered from 42 to 48 Pags. Regrets the error of causing alterations to be made, but was desperately ill at the time, as Dr. Munro, now at Madras, can testify.

Acknowledge letters of Aug. 17 and 30 [Nos. 334 & 341]. Have received 13 bales of sannoes. The Shaftesbury's late despatch; it took some time to make room for the cotton. Send no money by her as the season is late and the Madras cash low. Will send what can be spared in Jan. The Shaftesbury delivered only 9 out of her 26 soldiers. On the 2nd, the Nawab was murdered at Vellore, and the English must be on their guard. The few soldiers now sent can hardly be spared but their conduct requires a change of quarters. Desire information regarding the shortage of the Sumatra's copper. Forward a letter from Chambers and Rider at Madeira with ship's papers etc.

On Oct. 15, Murtaza Ali Khan set out from Vellore with Hirasat Khan, etc., and after resting at Hirasatpur entered Arcot in state. After praying at Tippu Sahib's tomb Murtaza Ali Khan was seated on the musnad in 'the King's palace' and received nazars from Hirasat Khan, Husain Khan Tahir, Qadir Husain Khan, Zain-ud-din Ali Khan, Bade Sahib of Covelong, Haidar Yar Khan, Saadat mund Khan, Amir-ud-din Khan, Hussan Jaman Khan, Haidar Dil Khan, etc. Mir Asad is still in prison. Baqar Sahib and Siddi-Sahib act as deputies at Vellore. On hearing of the death of Safdar Ali, Morari Rao sent an army towards Valikondapuram, which has plundered towns and villages. Bomma Razu and other Poligars sent peons to attend Murtaza Ali from Vellore. Ali Naqi Khan has been allowed to go to Madras and Bade Sahib, it is said, will be allowed to do so too.

No. 359. LETTER FROM EDWARD CROKE AT FORT ST. DAVID TO RICHARD BENYON AT FORT ST. GEORGE. SEPT. 25, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, p. 284 (1).]

Nalla Tambi and the other merchants, having desired to speak with him, declare that they know nothing of the alterations in the account which they signed, admit that Croke's monthly papers are correct, and that they signed the accounts believing the Warehouse conicopoly who assured them that the only differences were a few transfers of cloth to different months. Thomas Dutt and Sharab Ray attest that this letter has been read to the merchants and admitted by them to be true.

No. 360. LETTER FROM EDWARD CROKE AT FORT ST. DAVID.
OCT. 9, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 155-160 (5).]

Burton's answer is composed of excuses only, but its 'subtle composure' may perplex the matter. Vouchers in proof of the charges. On Sept. 18, Burton denied having made any alterations in the books, and disowned those which had been made. The cloth said to have been sorted to ordinary before Burton's arrival was only received on July 7 and could not possibly have been even 'cured' by the 22nd. Croke declares that the sorting book which Burton quotes was kept by several hands, and must have been altered as the other books have been. These alterations were never authorized by the Council. Does not understand what Burton's 'medium price' may be; there is but one price at which cloth should be charged, viz., that which has passed the Council. Croke's charges are confirmed by the merchants' accounts which show that Burton took from them cloth worth 5,397 Pags. but only paid in to their credit in the Company's cash 3,307 Pags., the difference of 2,090 Pags. being the amount overcharged.

No. 361. CONSULTATION. OCT. 18, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 267-278, 280-283 and 285-297 (28½).]

Read letters from the Vakil at Arcot [No. 357], from Madapollam of Sept. 25 [No. 358], and from Edward Croke at Fort St. David of Oct. 9 [No. 360]. Agreed to record the proceedings hitherto on Burton's case. On receiving the letter from Fort St. David of Sept. 20 [No. 330], Benyon reported that Croke had written to him on the subject on July 16; but that he refrained from taking public notice of it, because though Burton were innocent, the Board might be suspected in England of inadequate enquiries while, if he were guilty, he might suppress evidence. Hence the request for accounts in the letter to Fort St. David of Aug. 6 [No. 263] with the direction that they were to be signed by the Warehousekeeper (Croke) and the merchants. In answer, certain unessential accounts were received [See No. 279], and Croke at that time reported that, though Warehousekeeper and Accountant, he had not been directed to prepare them, and that he had only signed them to avoid an immediate breach with Burton; the merchants told Croke they had signed because the Warehouse conicopoly assured them the accounts agreed with their own in all but the month in which various parcels of cloth were brought to account. The accounts current with the merchants were written out by Sloper, Burton's 'private secretary,' and omitted to show the price per corge for the period May 1 to Dec. 31, 1741. A further demand [See No. 283] only produced two discrepant accounts [See No. 296], one by Croke and the other by the merchants, on which the Madras Board on Sept. 8 [No. 300], sent a specimen of the sort of account they wanted and demanded an explanation of Croke's differences from the merchant's accounts. This produced Croke's formal accusation of Burton in Council on Sept. 18 [No. 325]. On this Burton declared that his account was kept the same as Hubbard's, and Hubbard's book along with a copy of Burton's account was furnished [No. 330]. Croke says that in Consultation on the 18th [No. 325] Burton denied having made any alterations; but Sloper admitted having made alterations, and Hubbard's account book sent up showed plainly that certain months had been rewritten. Presumably the alterations were made when Burton was resolved to deny having altered prices, though he has since admitted the fact. His demand for a committee of enquiry was probably intended to gain time in which to decide on his line of defence; and perhaps Hubbard's account book was sent to Madras to prevent Ensign Morgan being examined about the alterations the latter is alleged to have written out in it. Burton's statement that he kept his account in Hubbard's book is absolutely false, and the accounts he now submits were probably drawn out after the Madras letter of Sept. 8 [No. 300], and appear never to have been seen by the Fort St. David Council though mentioned in their letter of Sept. 20 [No. 330]. Moreover even though some cloth sorted to a higher muster than was expected, that was no reason for raising the prices beyond what the merchants demanded. The merchants' accounts which Croke has furnished specify the prices of cloth as delivered, and it is clear that Burton has overcharged the Company to his private profit 2,090 Pags.

Appended are:—(1) Fort St. David merchants' accounts from May 1 to Dec. 31, 1741; (2) ditto Jan. 1 to July 31, 1742; (3) Croke's letter of Sept. 25 [No. 359]; (4) account of Salem cloth 1738-39; (5) account of calicoes brought in at Fort St. David, May-July 1741; (6) ditto—Aug.-Dec. 1741; and (7) account of the investment given in by the Fort St. David merchants for 1741-42.

Forward Croke's remarks [No. 363] on Burton's defence, along with the merchants' accounts. Burton refuses to sign this letter, and no Consultation is likely on account of his sickness.

- No. 363. LETTER FROM EDWARD CROKE AT FORT ST. DAVID TO AUGUSTUS BURTON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. OCT. 9, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 161-164 (4).]

- No. 364. CONSULTATION. OCT. 25, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 298-307 (10).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Oct. 14 [No. 362] and a petition from the merchants, etc., whose houses were pulled down on the approach of the Marathas. The Committee appointed to verify titles report that ground is currently sold at $13\frac{1}{2}$ fns. to 9 fns. per foot. Agreed that compensation be made—for ground at the rates named by the Committee; for bricks at 1,500 a pagoda, the actual price when the houses were built; and for the houses 20 % on the value of the ground and bricks be allowed for terraced and 10 % for other houses. 6 stone pillars west and north of the Black Town to be set up 600 feet from the walls to prevent further encroachments. Accounts read. Account sale of Madeira; agreed to sell no more this year at outcry but to issue it at 50 Pags. the pipe. Payments received. Burton's illness probably assumed. Monson appointed Commissary and provisional Deputy Governor at Fort St. David with power to examine all persons, papers, etc., necessary to complete the enquiry into Burton's conduct.

Appended are:—(1) account sale of 66 pipes of Madeira averaging $45\frac{3}{4}$ Pags. per pipe; (2) petition from the merchants, etc., whose houses were pulled down; (n.d.), stating that the ground had cost from $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 Pags. per foot and the bricks 1,000 per pagoda, and praying for compensation; (3) account of the produce in the Madras mint of silver coins received from Bombay; and (4) statement of extraordinary expenses for Sept. 1742.

Read letter from Madras of Sept. 30 [No. 336]. The heads of castes summoned to attend on Oct. 30 to be acquainted with the orders on their disputes; a notification of the orders to be posted at the public gates. The orders regarding the payment of the garrison to be obeyed next month. Advances made. Croke reports that on Oct. 1 he desired Burton to hold a Consultation to consider the Havildar's letter [See No. 365]; but that Burton refused being unwell. Agreed that the letter be produced at the next Consultation. Read Croke's letter of Oct. 20 [No. 367]. Decision reserved till the accounts have been examined. Croke reports that Burton has not entered in his cash account the 2,366 Pags. paid for calicoes taken out for wrappers though the payment is mentioned in Consultation of Sept. 21 [No. 326]. Croke is to enter the amount in his accounts. Read Croke's letter of Oct. 4 [No. 366].

Appended are :—(1) notification, signed by William Holt, Secretary, and dated Oct. 28, 1742, of the orders regarding the caste disputes; (2) letter from Augustus Burton to the Council at Fort St. David, dated Oct. 5, 1742 [No. 348]; (3) letter from Edward Croke to Burton, etc., at Fort St. David, dated Oct. 9, 1742 [No. 363]; (4) copy of the account of the Company's investment sent to Madras on Aug. 13; and (5) copy of the account of the Company's investment as given in by the merchants.

As Burton has declined to meet the Council at Fort St. David since Sept. 18, William Monson appointed Commissary and Provisional Deputy Governor and empowered with the Council to send for all persons, papers and accounts which are necessary to examine Croke's charges. Send various material papers. Desire copy of the letter from Fort St. David of Sept. 2 [No. 296] which is not available. Burton is also accused of using the Company's wrappers for his private trade. As soon as Monson's commission is read, Burton is to hand over the government, etc. The merchants say that all Salem cloth must be accepted as it is sorted by the English gumastas. Care must be taken that it be duly sorted in future. Acknowledge letter of Sept. 4 [No. 309]. Murshid Kuli Khan Rustam Jang has desired Benyon to allow Stratton to take charge of valuables, etc. Such trusts are studiously to be avoided. Great men, however, may take a house in town to secure their effects under the Company's protection. This may be permitted at Vizagapatam to Rustam Jang, especially as he may become the Nawab of Bengal, and he must therefore be obliged in every way possible. No. 382. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 3, 1742.

[Present—William Monson,—etc.]. Read letter from Madras of Oct. 29, [No. 371] revoking Burton's commission and appointing William Monson, Commissary and Provisional Deputy Governor. The cash is examined and found correct. Holt to inform Burton that anything he may have to say against Croke's charges will be heard on Nov. 5; Croke to produce his vouchers, etc.; and the merchants to attend. The Gunner to watch for water enough on Cuddalore bar to permit the Carolina's being got out.

Appended are:—(1) account cloth brought in by the brokers in 1741; and (2) extract from the Madras Cons. of Oct. 18, 1742. [No. 361.]

No. 383. LETTER FROM EDWARD CROKE TO WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 5, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 175-176 (2).]

The President, etc., seem not to have understood the 'wrapper' transaction. Torn cloths are usually written off as wrappers. In Oct. Burton proposed to make the torn cloth into salempores and moorees by removing the torn portions, as the cloth was very good. Croke hinted to him that this might be done on the Company's account, but Burton never mentioned it in Consultation and presently gave orders for longcloth to be torn up and entered as new cloth 78 corge of salempores at 21 Pags. per corge making thereby 56 Pags. He also made 57¾ corge of moorees, which were however rejected by the sorters as not fine enough and were exported by Burton on his private account. When Croke enquired what was to be done in this matter Burton offered to send in cloth (which proved too poor) and then to pay for the wrappers in Alambarai pagodas (which was also not permissible); so he then in Croke's name requested permission to sell the 'wrappers, by which he meant the good cloth taken from the torn.'

No. 384. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON TO WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 5, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 177-180 (4).]

Denied having altered the accounts, out of mere forgetfulness and astonishment at so heavy a charge as Croke brought against him. On Sept. 2, a general letter [No. 296] was written to Madras stating that cloth brought in in Aug., Oct. and Dec., 1741, was not brought to account till Dec. because the merchants had not stated the prices. Denies that he ever transacted accounts with the merchants as Croke says. Croke's accounts differ from those of the merchants who refused to sign them. The merchants told Burton that the Conicopoly's account was the same as theirs. Delivers in the Conicopoly's cadjans.

No. 385. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 5, 1742.

Read letter from Burton of Nov. 5 [No. 384]. The merchants in defence of their having signed two different accounts state that Guruva Raz told them that the first account was correct and that they signed it as it showed the true balance. They identify the cadjans from which their own account was drawn. A copy to be sent to Madras together with Croke's report on the wrappers [No. 383]. The Board examined Croke's vouchers to prove the erasures in Burton's accounts. Burton's answer judged insufficient and evasive; resolved to state the difference of the accounts and to require explicit answers.

Appended are:—(1) letter from Augustus Burton to Monson etc., dated Nov. 5 [No. 384]; (2) letter from Edward Croke to Monson, etc., dated Nov. 5 [No. 383]; (3) letter from William Holt to Augustus Burton, dated Nov. 5 [No. 386]; and (4) statement of the differences of accounts with queries annexed.

As Burton declines to appear before the Board and his letter is judged insufficient, he is required precisely to explain why in the account sent by Burton to Madras, the Company is charged 2,090 Pags. more than the merchants take credit for in their account.

The account sent to Madras was duly signed by the Warehouse-keeper (Croke) and the merchants; and that part in which the differences occur was given him by the Conicopoly and acknowledged correct by the merchants. Has never defrauded the Company or knowingly allowed others to do so.

Read letter from Burton of Nov. 6 [No. 387]; the answer being still vague and evasive, resolved to send it to Madras. Andiyappa being at Cuddalore, Croke is ordered to examine his accounts. Appended is Burton's letter of Nov. 6 [No. 387].

No. 390. LETTER FROM WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 5, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 169-172 (3).]

Monson held a Council this morning to consider what Burton might have further to say in his defence. He sent a bundle of cadjans and a letter; but the latter contained nothing new. Have resolved to prepare a statement of the differences between Burton's and Croke's accounts and to require an explicit answer. The merchants being asked why they signed two different accounts answered that they looked only at the balances due to them which were the same in each. Their cloth account agrees completely with Croke's. Suppose the cadjans to be put in as the originals of the false account sent to Madras on Sept. 2. [See No. 296]. Will send further papers, etc., tomorrow. On arrival Monson examined the cash and found it correct. The Gunner has been ordered to watch the Cuddalore bar so as to get the Carolina sloop out at the first opportunity. The heads of castes have been informed of the orders from Madras about their ceremonies, etc. and seem satisfied. Will examine the brown cloth in the warehouse. Paddy delivered to the military, etc., shall be paid for in pagodas.

Frederick Christian, bred a book-binder, entertained at 4 Pags. a month to rebind the books in the offices as some are ready to fall to pieces. Agreed on letter to Bombay of Nov. 8 [No. 392]. Accounts of stores, etc., supplied to the Sumatra and the Mary sloop.

Appended is the account sale of 15 pieces of perpetuanoes received by the Tygris, realising 99½ Pags.

No. 392. LETTER TO STEPHEN LAW, ETC., AT BOMBAY. NOV. 8, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 127-131 (4).]

Acknowledge letters of Aug. 5 [No. 293] and 17. Shipping news. The Shaftesbury making the Coast north of Pulicat having lost 25 men and 60 more being very ill, men were sent to bring her to Madras. She sailed for the Bay on Oct. 12. Goods, etc., for Gombroon sent at 7 % (=2,317 Pags.) instead of the usual rate of 12 Arcot Rs. per Bengal maund (=3,426 Pags.). The Tygris' iron will be sent to Bombay if not sold in Bengal. Francis Fowke sailed for Bombay on the Mercury. To forbid English ships to buy pepper on the Malabar coast will do no good, so long as the French and Portuguese can buy pepper. Besides the English buy pepper mostly from the Dutch at Cochin. On Oct. 2, Safdar Ali Khan was murdered at Vellore by his brother-in-law and uncle's son Murtaza Ali Khan. This destroys the recent good prospect. The Nawab had made an agreement with the Marathas which would probably have prevented future invasions; moreover, he had agreed with Nizam-ul-mulk on the price of his confirmation (said to be 70 lakhs [Rs. ?]; and the English would have reaped the benefit of their civilities to the Nawab and his family. The Nawab's son (5 years old) is in Madras with his mother and grandmother. The family expect 'this young spark' to be made Nawab. Murtaza Ali Khan has gone to Arcot, and his orders seem to be obeyed; but Nizam-ul-mulk's intentions are not known. Cannot foresee what turn affairs will take. P.S.—The Benjamin's cotton which was sent to the Bay consisted of 273 bales weighing gross 1,021 cwt. 3 qr. 25 lb.

No. 395. LETTER FROM WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 6, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 173-174 (2).]

Forward papers connected with Burton's case. Burton now rests his defence wholly on Guruva Razu's cadjan accounts ; unfortunately this man absconded at the beginning of the inquiry and the question is whether he should be believed rather than the merchants who have been examined in Council. Cloth torn at the washers has generally been written off as 'wrappers' at 37 Pags. a corge, and afterwards examined and as much as possible torn into salempores, being transferred to that head at the usual price. Burton found among the wrappers 78 corge of salempores, which he resold to the Company as new salempores at 21 Pags. per corge. He also tore some into moorees, but the profit on the latter is unknown.

No. 397. LETTER TO WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 11, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 132-133 (2).]

Acknowledge letters of Nov. 5 and 6 [Nos. 390 & 395]. Burton says that he kept accounts of cloth exactly as Hubbard did ; this is to be inquired into. Further why should he enter the prices of cloth in Sept. at $46\frac{1}{2}$, 49, $49\frac{3}{4}$, 50 and 51 Pags. the corge, when he wrote to Madras on Sept. 19 that the price was $42\frac{1}{2}$ Pags. per corge ? Why do his accounts differ from the merchants' accounts, when the latter agree with the letters to Madras ? Did he not promise the merchants in Jan. to pay 5,397 Pags. into cash on their account for sundries bought by him of them and did he not pay in only 3,307 Pags. ? Why should he make a profit of Pags. 56-14-7 by tearing off the best half of the torn longcloth and putting it into the godown again as salempores ? He must make good all profits thus made.

Monson reports Andiyappa's complaint that Tirukkamu Pillai, his conicopoly, had applied to Burton for an advance of 3,000 Pags., given him a receipt, but had never received the money. Resolved to question Andiyappa, etc., and to send their statements with Burton's to Madras.

Read letter from Madras of Nov. 11 [No. 397]. Agreed to send more precise queries to Burton for his answers thereto.

No. 400. LETTER FROM WILLIAM HOLT, SECRETARY, TO AUGUSTUS BURTON AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 14, 1742.
[Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 199-200 (1½).]

Monson, etc., consider Burton's answer too general. Desire particular answers to the following :—Why was cloth charged at 46-51 Pags. when Burton was writing to Madras that it cost but 42 ½ ? Did Burton buy goods of the merchants worth 5,397 Pags. and credit them in their account with only 3,307 Pags. ? How was the remainder paid ? Why was Andiyappa's cloth charged at 47 instead of 44 Pags., and was not the difference adjusted in private trade ? What was done with the torn cloth made into moorees ? [Vide No. 408 for answers.]

No. 401. LETTER FROM WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 10, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 185-192 (7½).]

On Andiyappa's account there is an overcharge of 173 Pags. of which 105 Pags. is perhaps a mere error, Andiyappa being credited with 54 pieces of cloth more than he brought in and 68 Pags. due to an overcharge of prices. The Council have not written again to Burton as he would only refer to the Conicopoly's account. The brown Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth proves extremely bad, only 246 out of 1,732 pieces being fit to take in though it is charged at 45 Pags. The merchants do not now even talk of taking it to the French. The Udaiyarpalaiyam cloth turns out but little better.

The merchants promise better cloth in future, but cannot rely too much in that. Ensign Karr died Oct. 28. Recommend Serjeant Andrew Petty. Enclose accounts, etc. Cash balance on Oct. 31 was 9,907 Pags. Have 212 bales ready and 144 at the washers', etc.

Appended are :—(1) Edward Croke's report, Nov. 8, 1742, on Andiyappa's account; and (2) Andiyappa's account current for 1741-42.

No. 402. CONSULTATION. NOV. 15, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 322-328 (6).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Nov. 10 [No. 401]. Serjeant Andrew Petty appointed Ensign. The screws in the Warehouse to be repaired. A few days ago a fire broke out in the Beating godown and some cloth was damaged; the remnants to be sold and the net loss written off. Advances made. Carriages to be made for the large guns received this year, and defective carriages to be repaired. Read petition from Elizabeth Simpson. Agreed on letter to Vizagapatam of Nov. 15 [No. 403].

Appended is Elizabeth Simpson's petition, dated Nov. 15, 1742, stating that she is widow and executrix to Charles Simpson, formerly Chief of Vizagapatam, that she and her co-executors desired the assistance of John Stratton and others at Vizagapatam to collect the estate, but that Stratton put peons on Mallim Pullah (her late husband's servant) when the latter was collecting debts, that Pullah fled to Madras but was sent back with letters to Stratton and was at once imprisoned first in the choultry whence he contrived to send the petitioner news, and then in a little prison within the Fort; and praying the intervention of the Board on behalf of herself and [her step son] Charles Simpson, now in England.

No inhabitant should be imprisoned except with the consent of the Council; but Mallim Pullah, servant of Simpson deceased, is said by Simpson's widow to be imprisoned. He must be released immediately. 'Bail is always admitted except in capital cases.' Have sent the necessary questions to Burton for his answer. Have received a large amount of fanams by the sale of old paddy in the bazaar, but as it was decaying it was thought best to sell at a profit. When Andiyappa was at Porto Novo his Conicopoly asked Burton for an advance of 3,000 Pags.; Andiyappa accuses Burton of taking a receipt for the amount but not advancing the money. Observe that Andiyappa is a person of credit and of much importance in the investment. If he is discontented, he may transfer his services to the French.

Appended are:—(1) declaration by Tirukkamu Pillai, Conicopoly, as follows:—that he went to the Garden House on Sept. 12 to take an advance of 3,000 Pags., that Burton desired him to sign the receipt saying he would pay the money next day at the Fort, that he was put off with excuses for 11 days, and that then Burton gave him a note which Guruva Razu told him certified that Burton had not given him the money; (2) declaration of Andiyappa as follows:—that after returning to Fort St. David, Burton sent for him and desired a loan of the 3,000 Pags. for which the Conicopoly had given a receipt, delivering a note giving as security Burton's concern in the Fanny to the eastward, and that he returned and sent his Conicopoly to Burton with orders to get the money or see the receipt cancelled; (3) declaration of Tirukkamu Pillai, that he remained at or near the garden for 8 days but could get neither money nor receipt; (4) declaration of Andiyappa, that he wrote complaining to Coja Petrus, who replied that Monson would soon be at Fort St. David and do him justice; and (5) note of Burton given to Andiyappa, dated Sept. 28, 1742, as above.

No. 408. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON TO WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 17, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 200-207 (6¾).]

Replies to their queries [See No. 400] as follows :—the President and Council rejected the merchants' offer to pay off their balances in cloth at 42½ Pags. Burton was wrong in stating that his account was kept in the same way as Hubbard's, for Burton received no particular prices of the cloth, and supposed those which were given him by the Warehouse Conicopoly to be the prices given in by the merchants. The merchants were credited with 3,307 Pags. on account of turned out cloth which Burton ordered to be dyed and sold. His purchases from the merchants never amounted to 5,397 Pags. and his business with them was transacted solely by the Conicopoly. Knows nothing of any overcharge on Andiyappa's cloth, and furnishes cadjans given him by Andiyappa's Conicopoly together with the cadjans from which Andiyappa's account was made up by the Conicopoly. Denies that any difference in Andiyappa's account was ever adjusted in his private trade. Regarding the wrappers, there was more damaged longcloth in the Warehouse than was needed for wrappers; Burton therefore ordered it to be torn into salempores and moorees, and delivered to the merchants, they paying for it as had been done before. Croke however deferred adjusting this matter, and never raised the question of loss to the Company till he could bring it in as a charge against Burton. Some of the cloth was torn into moorees, with the intention of sending it home; but Burton rejected it for that purpose as not good enough, and afterwards took it on his private account, offering cloth equally good in exchange, but Croke refused it. Some was sent to Madras, where it sold at 42 Pags. and the rest was sent to Bengal.

Appended is a translation of cadjan accounts given to the Warehouse Conicopoly by Andiyappa's Conicopoly, running from Oct. 13 to Dec. 30 [1741].

[F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 230-238 (9).]

Read Burton's letter of Nov. 17 [No. 408]. As he evades answering some points and absolutely denies others, the merchants are again examined. They declare that they have always informed him of the prices of cloth before the middle of the month after it was brought in, although he says he never knew the prices until the annual account was shown him; that Burton owed them 5,397 Pags. on the balance of their account and that he had promised to pay that sum into their credit. Croke proposes to draw up a reply to Burton's statements about Andiyappa's account. Resolved to question Burton further, especially regarding Guruva Razu on whom Burton tries to throw all the blame.

Appended are :—(1) letter from Burton of Nov. 17 [No. 408]; and (2) the merchants' account with Burton.

No. 410. LETTER FROM EDWARD CROKE TO WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 20, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 213-218 (6).]

In regard to the wrappers Burton hints that Croke had sold or contracted to sell the torn longcloth. When Burton was afraid he was going to be exposed, he sent one of the merchants to Croke with an offer of payment. But Croke suspected the design; and indeed had written to Benyon some months before about Burton's taking the good cloth. Soon after Croke heard from Benyon that his previous advice would acquit him of any complicity, and accordingly he demanded payment when he made his charges against Burton. Burton says that Croke ought to have claimed the 56 Pags. which the Company lost by this affair; but having once reported it, Croke had no more concern in that matter. In a letter to Croke, Burton urged the latter to accept payment for the wrappers at 37 Alambarai Pags. which would have involved a loss to the Company of 580 Pags. Burton neither deposited the money due for the wrappers nor offered it to Croke. The moorees were sorted by Croke and Graham in Burton's presence; they were rejected by the sorters, not by Burton.

Appended is a letter from Augustus Burton to Edward Croke, dated Fort St. David, May 21, 1742, stating that he owes Alambarai not Star pagodas for the longcloth taken out of the Warehouse and giving a receipt for it.

No. 411. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 20, 1742.
[F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 239-251 (13).]

Agreed on Holt's letter to Burton of Nov. 20 [No. 412]. Read Croke's letter of Nov. 20 [No. 410]. Read the translation of a cadjan written by Tirukkamu Pillai who is questioned and states that Burton's Conicoply dictated it to him one day at the garden.

Appended are :—(1) William Holt's letter of Nov. 20, to Augustus Burton [No. 412] ; (2) letter from Edward Croke to William Monson etc., at Fort St. David of Nov. 20, 1742 [No. 410] ; (3) letter from Augustus Burton to Edward Croke at Fort St. David of May 21, 1742. [See No. 410] ; and (4) translation of the cadjan account mentioned above.

No. 412. LETTER FROM WILLIAM HOLT, SECRETARY, TO AUGUSTUS BURTON, AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 20, 1742.
[Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 207-212 (534).]

Burton accuses himself of extreme negligence. However the merchants declare that he was always informed of the price of cloth by the middle of the month after that in which it was sorted save in the case of Salem cloth. But in any case why did he not enquire into the matter as soon as he heard the prices were so different from those which had been reported to Madras? Further, an account current delivered by the merchants shows a balance against Burton of 5,397 Alambarai Pags. yet Burton paid into their credit only 3,307 Pags. and the difference is precisely the amount overcharged. Demand how this was settled. Do not understand how the wrappers were treated. Only the useless cloth, not the salempores, ought to have been sold. And if Burton has been so wronged by Guruva Razu, the Conicoply, he should have had the cadjans examined at once by the Board and Guruva Razu himself arrested, instead of holding long private conferences with him from the day when Croke produced his charges to the time of Guruva Razu's flight.

Appended is a copy of the merchants' account with Burton from Oct. to Dec. 1741.

No. 413. LETTER FROM AUGUSTUS BURTON TO WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 22, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 219 (1½).]

No. 414. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 23, 1742. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 252-253 (¼).]

Read letter from Madras of Nov. 19. Allen and Holt appointed to wait upon Burton regarding the assignment to Andiyappa. Read Burton's letter of Nov. 22 [No. 413]. Agreed to send all papers, etc., to Madras.

Appended is Augustus Burton's letter as above.

No. 415. LETTER FROM ROBERT ALLEN AND WILLIAM HOLT TO WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. [NOV. 23, 1742.] [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp. 219-221 (2½).]

Have waited on Burton who admitted Andiyappa's story to be true so far as the Conicopoly was concerned, but declared that Andiyappa had consented to lend him the amount; this the latter denied. Burton confessed he could not immediately pay the 3,000 Pags. but has signed an assignment of his concern in the Fanny and has instructed Savage (his attorney at Madras) to insure it for 4,000 Pags.

Prefixed to this letter is the deed of assignment, dated Nov. 23, 1742.

No. 416. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 23 (EVENING), 1742. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 253-256 (4).]

Read letter from Allen and Holt of Nov. 23 and Burton's assignment.

Appended are:—(1) letter from Robert Allen and William Holt to William Monson, etc., at Fort St. David, dated Nov. 23, 1742, stating that they waited on Burton together with Andiyappa, that he readily agreed to insuring his venture on the Fanny for Andiyappa's greater security, that he produced private accounts to show the amount of his venture, 5,490 Pags., and that he agreed to sign a more formal assignment of his venture to Andiyappa; and (2) assignment bond, dated Nov. 23, 1742, signed by Augustus Burton.

No. 417. LETTER FROM WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 23, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, p. 198 (1).]

Burton's reply [No. 408] to the queries [No. 400] is so unsatisfactory that further interrogatories at Fort St. David are needless. Send copies of papers with Croke's remarks [No. 410], etc. Cadjans put in by Burton in the writing of Andiyappa's Conicopoly were written simply at the dictation of Burton's dubash. Allen and Holt waited on Burton regarding Andiyappa's affair. Enclose their report and Burton's assignment [No. 415]. Have received 10,000 Pags. Request the like amount next week.

No. 418. CONSULTATION. NOV. 29, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 330-335 (6).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Nov. 23 [No. 417]. Agreed to send thither 10,000 Pags. Accounts read. Agreed that Burton's answers are evasive, that he has been extremely negligent, if no worse, and that he be suspended. Agreed also that Burton be sued in the Mayor's Court for the Company's losses by him and that the Company's Solicitor draw up a bill of complaint and move the Court to issue a summons returnable immediately and to grant a warrant of attachment so that Burton may not escape to Pondichery or elsewhere. Agreed to sue him only for the difference on the Fort St. David merchants' accounts as the other claims are small and may be settled later. Thomas Eyre sworn in as Justice of the Peace. John Savage appointed youngest of Council. George Pigot to be Sub-secretary, Clerk of the Peace, Coroner, Company's Solicitor and Clerk of the Court of Appeals. Payments received and accounts read.

Appended is a statement of extraordinary expenses for Oct. 1742.

No. 419. LETTER TO WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 29, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, pp. 136-138 (2).]

Acknowledge letters of Nov. 10 and 14 [Nos. 401 & 405]. 2 Councillors with Andiyappa to be sent to hear Burton's version of the 'trick put upon Andiyappa, after his gumastah had signed the receipt for 3,000 Pags.' The money must be paid or such security as an insurance on [Burton's] share in the sloop must be obtained. In future when payments are made to the merchants, the money must be delivered and the receipts signed before the Board. Welcome Monson's account of the Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth. Send an Ensign's commission for Serjeant Andrew Petty.

No. 420. LETTER FROM JOHN SAVAGE, SECRETARY, TO WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 29, 1742. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 25, p. 381 (1½).]

10,000 Pags. will be sent tomorrow.

No. 421. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. NOV. 30, 1742. [F.S.D. Cons., Vol. 13, pp. 257-262 (5).]

Accounts read, advances made and payments received. Monson is allowed 132 Pags. for his travelling expenses. Francis Purve and Richard Knight, time-expired soldiers, granted the usual bounty for re-enlistment. No Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth having been brought in for two months, and the last lot having been too bad to accept, the merchants are questioned and state that cotton is very dear (40 Pags. a candy) and that all the looms in the country are set with the same sort of cloth. The Board observe that the merchants should not have set the weavers to work on so poor a fabric, and the merchants promise amendment.

Appended are:—(1) statement of extraordinary expenses for Oct. 1742; and (2) petitions, (n.d.), from Francis Purve and Richard Knight requesting re-enlistment.

No. 422. CONSULTATION. DEC. 1, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 72, pp. 336-339 (4).]

No. 424. LETTER FROM WILLIAM MONSON, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. DEC. 4, 1742. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 27, pp 222-224 (1¾).]

Cannot hope to increase the Chennappanayakanpalaiyam investment for the Jan. ships. Nalla Tambi, etc., say that they can do little if what was brought in last was not good enough. As cotton is 40 Pags. a candy the price of cloth is higher; but the last lot of cloth was bad and dear out of all proportion. Have charged the merchants to see that there is an improvement. Trust that the refusal of bad cloth will improve the quality next year. Have 237 bales ready and 164 at the washers', etc.

Read letters from Ingeram (n.d.), regarding cloth by the Essex; two from Fort St. David of Jan. 13, with indents and the annual letter, etc. As there are only 400 bales for the Wilmington at Fort St. David, agreed to put 200 on her here. Signed Knipe's commission as Major. 1,000 candies of lead to be sold. Signed bills and certificates for 13,411 Pags. of which 10,000 is the produce of George Drake's estate. Capt. No. 21. CONSULTATION. JAN. 24, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 38-44 (6).]

No. 22. LETTER FROM MAJOR CHARLES KNIPE AT FORT ST. GEORGE. JAN. 25, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, p. 43 (1).]

Has surveyed the defences from Charles' Point to Queen's Point. The wall here is only supported by the out-houses built against it and is more dangerous than defensive, while the river being fordable at all places, is useless as a protection. Has examined the site of the proposed new western defences across the Island; the ground is clay and sand, capable of sustaining any weight, though a few wells will be needed where the ground is softer than elsewhere. The river can easily be turned, a good fosse made, and the Island drained.

No. 23. CONSULTATION. JAN. 27, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 44-48 (4½).]

Despatch by the Wilmington and the Walpole signed. Mrs. Craddock's daughter Florentia granted a passage on the Walpole. Walter Robertson, a time-expired soldier, discharged. Read letter

The Captain of the Guard giving but a poor character of them, agree to give them their time and discharge them. Accounts read. Capt. Lowe pays in 3,000 Pags. on his outward adventure. Signed bills for 3,141 Pags.

Appended are:—(1) letter from Capt. Lowe (as above) with list of 9 soldiers with 6 or fewer months to serve; (2) account sale of 1,000 candies of lead at $12\frac{7}{8}$ — $13\frac{1}{8}$ Pags. per candy.

No. 24. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY BY THE WALPOLE. JAN. 27, 1743. [Coast and Bay abstracts, Vol. 4, pp. 404-409 (I.O. trans.)]

Acknowledge despatches, etc., of March 26 and 31, 1742 [No. 4 & 7.] Shipping news. Desire ships' captains to be told to recruit lascars in Bengal. Sales of 60 pipes of Madeira wine (poor and thin this year) and 1,000 candies of lead. Deficiency in the Sumatra's copper made good by Capt. Taylor. The unsettled state of the country is a great damp to trade; but broadcloth is selling better. Woollen goods for Persia. As to the investment, cotton is very dear, famine imminent and the Government unsettled, but the French are short of money. Have rejected much bad cloth. Northern cloth is bought with Madras Pags. of $9\frac{1}{2}$ to 10 % batta; Yanam is only 4 miles from Ingeram. The beating godown damaged by fire. Missing cloth must have been stolen by boat fellows. Have recovered 9,923 Pags. from the merchants who will discharge all their debts in a few years. On Nov. 11, 1742, Murtaza Ali Khan had to fly from Arcot in disguise and the Arcot troops proclaimed Safdar Ali Khan's son Nawab. The Regency was disputed by Mir Asad and the Tahirs; but on Dec. 23, his mother named the latter and the young Nawab was installed. On Jan. 6, 1743, the Nawab, etc., left Madras. Safdar Ali's mother remains in Madras with her two daughters and son-in-law; also the families of the Tahirs and Imam Sahib. The troubles in Pegu have stopped trade there for the last two years. The old factory-house at Masulipatam is to be pulled down. The cost of the Black Town defences amounts to 31,200 Pags., but will be covered by revenues. Major Knipe is surveying the fortifications. Have only 250 Europeans at Madras and 160 at Fort St. David. Compensation to owners of houses, etc., pulled down to clear the ground round the walls, will amount to 20,000 Pags. Expenses and revenues. Great coinage of gold. 'The French miscarried in a new coin.' The Nawab ordered the persons found counterfeiting to lose their hands and ears, and has permitted Madras to coin by a different mark. 'Madras coin prevails all over the country.' Monson's deputation to Fort St. David to enquire into Burton's case. Burton's suspension. Bill of complaint against him in the Mayor's Court. He fraudulantly got a receipt from Andiyappa's gumasta for 3,000 Pags. but never paid the money. Monson, Deputy Governor of Fort St. David; and John Savage appointed of Council but continues as Secretary. George Pigot is Clerk of the Peace and Sub-Secretary. Norris is Under Storekeeper. Smith sent to Fort St. David. Have entertained a Brahman who writes but does not understand English, on 5 Pags. a month in the Secretary's office. John Legg returns to England. The sale of Joseph Goddard's effects will clear his debt. Thomas Eyre will succeed Stratton as Chief at Vizagapatam. Serjeant Andrew Petty made Ensign vice Karr deceased. The cost of entertaining the Nawab and his family has been 13,321 Pags., but is more than compensated by the grants received. Suppose they will soon leave Madras. Believe that French 'credit is very near at a stand.' Major Knipe's report shows that enlarging the White Town will cost little more than what the Company has already ordered. No good water to the south so near as that a mile to the north. Thought of making a small fortification there, so that Madras could always be supplied by sea. Knipe does not like 'so distant a dependance for water.' Nizam-ul-mulk is at Cuddapah with 100,000 men. He intends to put the Mysore Raja in possession of Trichinopoly on payment of a crore of rupees. He may settle the Arcot Regency as he passes that place. Mir Asad has escaped from Vellore, and with 8,000 men has gone to Valudavur, closely pursued by a Tahir; a battle is likely. Expect 849 bales from the north. Have consigned much chay goods, some very good izarees, chintz of new patterns and superfine handkerchiefs. Lead sold at 13 Pags. a candy. Diamonds registered by the Wilmington, 35,452 Pags. Cash balance, 85,489 Pags. Have drawn bills amounting to 19,991 Pags. and granted certificates amounting to 13,276 Pags.

No. 25. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 27, 1743.
 [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

Read petitions from Capt. Tedd, dated Jan. 27, applying for 16 men; and from 2 time-expired soldiers, (n.d.), for their discharge. These 2 and 2 other free men (all that can be got) to go on the Wilmington. Her guns, etc., to be surveyed.

Appended are the petitions, as above.

No. 26. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 29, 1743.

Arcot rupees selling at 320 per 100 Pags., agreed to sell 100,000 and to coin 24 chests of silver into Arcot rupees for Bengal. Bills signed for 5,859 Pags. The Walpole's crew, guns, etc., to be surveyed.

No. 28. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 31, 1743.

No. 29. CONSULTATION. FEB. 2, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, p. 51 (¾).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Jan. 30, reporting the despatch of the Wilmington for England. The Walpole reported capable of defence. Despatch to the Company signed.

No. 30. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY BY THE WALPOLE. FEB. 2, 1743. [Coast and Bay abstracts, Vol. 4, pp. 409-410 (I.O. trans.)]

The Wilmington was to sail from Fort St. David on Jan. 31. 9 soldiers, almost time-expired, returned by the Walpole. Unless Captains make a new agreement with lascars, few will enter. Have rejected gingham not equal to sample. Send chintz with coloured grounds painted at Sadras. Moorees more suitable for painting than baftas. The Walpole's Madras invoice amounts to 58,093 Pags.; her Captain's manifest of private trade, 13,126 Rs. and 210 Pags.; diamonds registered, 80,621 Pags. Cash balance, 1,05,253 Pags. Standard to be desired to specify the dimensions suitable for a brigantine of 100 tons for Sumatra to be built at Bombay. Stores to be sent to Madapollam. Jonathan Smart at Syrian in Pegu has written to Benyon that he needs 20-30 military to prevent the insults of the Government there, else the trade thither would be ruined. As the Pegu trade was formerly advantageous and pays the Company 5 % on both exports and imports, agreed to send on the Exeter 20 topasses with a serjeant, corporal and drummer. A present costing in all 600 Pags. to be given to the Nawab on the occasion of the birth of his brother at Wandiwash, the delay in doing so having excited comment. As Nizam-ul-mulk and Nasir Jang are certain to visit the Carnatic, the Warehousekeeper and Coja Petrus to look about for articles suitable for presents.

Appended is the Company's cash account for Jan. 1743, balance 767 Madras and 1,04,491 Star Pags.

No. 32. CONSULTATION. FEB. 10, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 64-66 (23½).]

MARCH 8—28.—Travelled from Madras to Trichinopoly, by Conjeveram, where the Faujdar Husain Sahib was visited; Tiruvattur, where the goods were stopped for a while under pretence of their including private merchandise; and Gingee, where the Killedar advanced 2,000 Arcot Rs. worth of Ulundur fanams for a bill on Fort St. David, payable to Ranga Pillai of Pondichery, and where a letter was received from Benyon directing the Embassy to press on to Trichinopoly as the French had sent a present thither. Travelling was delayed at several points by desertions among the coolies. MARCH 29.—Visited by Bukanji Kasidas who furnished 2,000 Arcot Rs. on account of the letter of credit, and by Imam Sahib who was given some gold mohurs and Benyon's letter [see No. 36]. He sent an escort of 4,000 horse and as many foot had been ordered to conduct the Embassy to the Durbar next day. MARCH 30.—Attended the Durbar. After making obeisances at a considerable distance in front, were assigned seats. After Nizam-ul-mulk rose, were summoned to his private apartments, and 'honoured with a great deal of free discourse on indifferent matters,' with coffee and with fans. Both Nizam-ul-mulk and Imam Sahib sent the ambassadors a dinner. Imam Sahib also sent a list of presents to be given to Nizam-ul-mulk. These were unpacked, sorted, and next morning despatched. MARCH 31.—Attended the Durbar, and afterwards were invited into the private tent where the presents were. Nizam-ul-mulk praised them, especially the painted looking-glasses some of which he said he should send to Delhi. In the evening was a storm, nearly blowing down the English tents, and making them rejoice that the presents had been delivered already. APR. 1.—The presents were counted out to the Nawab's 'Warehouse-keeper.' Imam Sahib sent a message desiring some concave looking-glasses to be got from Madras. APR. 2.—Attended the Durbar, and were afterwards called to the private tent where the Nawab inquired about European customs and discipline in war. Were called into the private tents as usual. In the evening Imam Sahib visited the English. He said that Nizam-ul-mulk proposed 'to augment' the Governor's titles, and inquired what were the villages the grant of which was desired, and what was the annual amount of duties paid on the Company's investment. Agreed to write to Benyon for particular information on these points. APR. 8.—Imam Sahib with 50 horse and 100 foot, and Bausset (who had brought the French present) accompanied the English to Coja Abd-ullah Khan's Durbar. Coja Abd-ullah, having read Benyon's letter, wrote a few lines recommending Nizam-ul-mulk to grant the villages the English desired, and gave the letter to Imam Sahib. The English and Bausset retired to a tent the English had brought with them, so that Imam Sahib might have the tent that Coja Abd-ullah had assigned to the party. Having there eaten a dinner sent them by Coja Abd-ullah, they took leave about 2 P.M., but, it being very hot, they did not get back to their tents till sunset. APR. 10 and 11.—Attended Nizam-ul-mulk's Durbar as usual. evening received the Governor's saropa, covered with a white cloth, together with a fine horse. Sent the Dubash to Husain Khan Tahir who is managing affairs on behalf of Safdar Ali's son. Imam Sahib having promised to get the sannads signed when Coja Abd-ullah visited the Nawab, agreed to set out to-morrow by way of Fort St. David. No. 61. CONSULTATION. MAY 19, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 137-143 (7).]

Advances made. Benyon reports that Mir Alim, Daroga to Safdar Ali's widow, came with letters from Muhammad Husain Khan Tahir and others, saying that they had agreed with Nizam-ul-mulk for the confirmation of Muhammad Saiyid Khan and only needed 'a small matter' of 10 lakhs of rupees to make up the required sum; this they propose to borrow from the English, on the security of the rents of part of the country or a deposit of jewels. Benyon considers that faction runs so high in the camp that no promise can be relied upon, and besides it is contrary to orders to have money dealing with the country powers. 'This was explained to Mir Alim by Coja Petrus before Benyon received the former, who appeared quite satisfied with his reasons. Read petition from the Betel and Tobacco farmers. Benyon states that they have lost much by the servants of the Nawab's family smuggling in betel and tobacco, for their masters were unwilling that they should be further punished than by the seizure of the goods. The farmers, being called in, state that they have suffered most by the high price which they have had to pay (owing to drought and the rents being raised in the country) while the price at which they can sell is fixed. The renters agree to accept a remission of 2 months' rent (1,669 $\frac{2}{3}$ Pags.) in full compensation and to continue their tenure of the farm.

Appended is the petition of the betel farmers, (n.d.), stating that they have lost 5,000 Pags. since they took the farm in 1740, owing to smuggling and the high rent they have to pay for the cowle; they add accounts showing that for the year Sept. 1740 to Sept. 1741 they bought betel and tobacco for 7,359 Pags. and sold them for 20,572 Pags., but spent 4,615 Pags. on peons, etc., and paid 10,000 Pags. rent; in the 19 months Sept. 1741 to Apr. 1743, they bought betel and tobacco for 10,698 Pags., sold them for 28,379 Pags., spent 6,746 Pags. on peons, and the rent was 15,833 Pags.

On being asked why Nos. 2 and 3 are so much dearer, the merchants state that food grains are dear, being sent away to the camp at Trichinopoly, and so weavers' coolies have to be paid more; that neither cotton-owners nor weavers will carry cotton by the camp (for fear of the oxen being seized) and so cotton is scarce; and that there has been a large demand for several sorts of small light cloths for the use of the army. The Board agree that the first reason is certainly valid and the others very probably so; resolved therefore to seek the orders of the Presidency whether to pay the prices demanded, or to try to lower them by discontinuing the investment. Meanwhile the merchants are not to give any higher prices. Floyer reports that the expenses on the fausse-bray have already exceeded the estimate, though much remains to be done; Allen and Holt to survey and report on the progress made. Ordered the payment of arrears to John Smith. 4 time-expired soldiers to proceed to Madras, and 1 re-enlisted for 5 years. Advances made. Cash balance, 19,524 Star Pags.

Appended are:—(1) letter from Charles Floyer, Paymaster, dated May 31, 1743, stating that the estimate of 1741 for the fausse-bray has already been exceeded, that 20 yds. of counterscarp, 360 of the parapet, the bridges, and the deepening of the ditch, still remain to be done, that as the season has been dry the coolies usually supplied by the bound-renters have been busy watering, etc., the land, and that the only chunam received have been used in curing the Company's cloth; and (2) letter from John Smith, dated May 31, applying for arrears of pay amounting to 2½ Pags.

No. 65. CONSULTATION. JUNE 2, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 150-153 (4).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of May 27, stating that 23 old guns and 2 mortars are sent and desiring a large beam and set of weights; and translations of letters from Negapatam May 26/June 6 and from Pulicat May 30/June 10, urging the examination of Ensign Franken. Agreed not to reverse the former resolution [No. 59]. Accounts read, payments received and advances made. [N.B.—Space is left for the entry of the cash account for May but it is not copied].

No. 66. CONSULTATION. JUNE 6, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 154-155 (1½).]

Read letters from Ingeram of May 15, reporting that 200 bales are expected in by Aug.; from Madapollam of May 22, with accounts, etc.; from Fort St. David of June 3, regarding their investment. Advances made. Miss Knipe to receive 63 Pags. being the salary due to her father. Agreed not to send any part of the 3 lakhs of rupees for Bengal immediately, in consideration of the season.

No. 67. CONSULTATION. JUNE 13, 1743, FORENOON. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 156-157 (2).]

Read letters from Fort St. David of June 8, accompanying 5,000 Pags. worth of fanams; from Vizagapatam of May 20, with accounts, and reporting that Husain Kuli Khan, the Rajahmundry Nawab's uncle, has extorted 1,700 Pags. from Pitt at Uppada on account of a ship wrecked there, and that a guard house has been built near the powder magazine; from Fort William of Apr. 15, reporting the Maratha movements, etc., desiring equal quantities of Madras and Arcot rupees and gold mohurs, which are reckoned at $13\frac{1}{2}$ - $13\frac{3}{4}$ Arcot Rs., and asking for soldiers and muskets; and from Anjengo of May 23, stating that the treasure for that place is much needed and that the Dutch are making peace with Travancore. 16 Pags. paid for provisions laid in at Madras for 6 soldiers from Bombay going to Bengal on the Princess Elizabeth. 10,000 Madras Pags. to be purchased.

No. 68. DESPATCH FROM THE COMPANY, BY THE DUKE. DEC. 29, 1742. [Pub. Des. from Eng., Vol. 47, pp. 1-3 (3).]

Cite despatch of March 26, 1742, by the Wilmington [No. 4] since when 21 ships have arrived safely. Acknowledge letters of Sept. 21 and 26, and Oct. 5, 1741, and Feb. 4 and 6, 1742 [Nos. 280, 283 & 290 of 1741, and 50 & 51 of 1742]. Have engaged this season 13 ships, of which 6 are for the Coast and Bay. Sent 60 chests of treasure, etc., by the Duke. As much treasure as possible must be coined and sent to Bengal. The appointment of the Secret Committee. The surplus tonnage is on the same footing as last year. Send list of investment for the next season. Edward Fowke appointed a Senior merchant with standing as though he had remained at Madras. Have sent 60 tons of lead to Sumatra to be forwarded to Madras. Nicholas Morse to be Second of Council and succeed Benyon in case the latter dies or resigns. William Monson to be Deputy Governor of Fort St. David with succession to Morse. Augustus Burton to be dismissed. Certificates to be granted for money tendered on account of the late Edward Michell's estate.

No. 69. LIST OF SHIPS ARRIVED IN ENGLAND FROM THE EAST INDIES, FROM JUNE 11 TO SEPT. 16, 1742. THE INDIA HOUSE. DEC. 30, 1742. [Pub. Des. from Eng., Vol. 47, p. 41 (1).]

No. 70. LETTER FROM CHRISTOPHER MOLE, SECRETARY. THE INDIA HOUSE. JAN. 5, 1743. [Pub. Des. from Eng., Vol. 47, p. 5 (1½).]

The Company believe 10 chests of quicksilver have been clandestinely shipped on the Duke.

No. 71. CONSULTATION. JUNE 13, 1743, 5 P.M. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 158-159 (1½).]

Read despatch of Dec. 29, 1742, by the Duke [No. 68]. Her stores, etc., to be landed and treasure examined. Randall Fowke resigns his seat as Second to Morse. Agreed to write to Bombay shipping news, and reporting the receipt of the Salisbury's treasure and acquiescence in the Bombay proposals regarding purchase of pepper near Anjengo.

No. 72. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JUNE 15, 1743.
[Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5, (I.O. trans.)]

Read letter from Robert Allen, Charles Floyer and William Holt, dated June 14, stating that 2,840 Pags. would be required to complete the faussebray and that with 1,500 more, a bastion may be built at the S.W. angle, similar to those at the other angles so as to make the Fort a complete square. Agreed to recommend the Presidency to permit the execution of these works. Advances made. One time-expired soldier re-enlisted for 5 years, and another to be discharged.

Appended is the report from Robert Allen, etc., as above.

No. 73. DESPATCH FROM THE COMPANY, BY THE PRINCESS AMELIA. FEB. 4, 1743. [Pub. Des. from Eng. Vol. 47, pp. 7-18 (11½).]

Cite despatch of Dec. 29, 1742 [No. 68]. Have taken up 2 more ships; destined 2 more for the Coast and Bay. Shipping news. Approve the inquiry into Capt. Cumming's conduct. Permit building at Bombay such small vessels as are really wanted at Madras. Approve the speedy dispatch of ships to save demurrage. The burning of the sloop shows that great care must be taken against fire. Trust that rice was sent in good time to Sumatra. The Company's sloops to be kept employed and no extravagance permitted on them. The Council at Vizagapatam should have taken copies of the Company's letters to Madras in the Scarborough and Kent's packets, as well as the private letters for the Coast. Saltpetre to be laded only to the amount of charterparty kintledge except at 'the low freight,' and no surplus tonnage to be sent in piece-goods unless cheaper than last year's. Money may be received from the Commanders on account of their respondentia loans from the Company. Approve the seizure of illicit broadcloth and lead on the Caesar and believe all such trade will be detected. China goods laded to Europe from Madras must be at the same freight, etc., that would have been paid at Canton. Have ordered the purchase at Mocha of 1,000 or 1,200 bales of coffee (at 65$) which will be sent on to Madras to be shipped to Europe.

As large sums had to be borrowed in Bengal for the investment, expect the 40 chests of treasure on the Admiral Vernon were forwarded thither with whatever more could be spared. Woollen goods elsewhere are sold promptly at outcry; while at Madras 61,000 Pags. worth remain unsold. But as the merchants' balances amount to 1,56,000 Pags. the Madras Council may act as shall appear most advantageous till these balances are reduced, but no cloth is to be issued to the merchants on credit. Goods, etc., sent. Will endeavour to get satisfaction for the imposition in the lead. Approve the regulations for the introduction of the Star pagoda. Send 100 pipes of Madeira by the Exeter; and the Captain, etc., are allowed 20 pipes on their privilege.

Approve what was done to re-establish the investment after the Maratha invasion. The merchants' balances must be gradually recovered and care taken that advances are employed wholly on account of the Company. To keep rejected cloth out of the French hands, a lower number or two may be introduced provided the price is proportionately low; the lowest numbers often are most profitable. Fine cloth from Madapollam is the best from the northward; so the continuance of the factory is approved. Hope that Andiyappa's removal to Cuddalore will lead to other merchants settling there.

Rejoice at the withdrawal of the Marathas, and approve of the presents made to them; hope the Nawab has made some compensation for the expense of his family's living at Madras.

Considering the circumstances, cheerfully acquiesce in the improvement of the defences of Fort St. George, etc. But even if the Carnatic is now peaceful, affairs in Europe are still too uncertain for the garrison to be entirely reduced to its former level till further orders. Approve what has been done about the defences at Fort St. David and Vizagapatam. At the latter place, an allowance may be made to reimburse the charge of entertaining strangers. Observe with pleasure that the Maratha invasion caused the Moor and Pathan merchants to land their goods at Madras instead of at St. Thomé.

Company's servants travelling on private affairs are not to receive salary, etc. Goddard and Greenhaugh are to refund what they received. Agree to entertaining Andrew, long a monthly writer to the northward, as a writer in the Company's service. Observe that lieutenants are paid 13 Pags., ensigns 9 Pags., serjeants 8 Pags. and corporals $3\frac{1}{3}$ Pags. a month; there should be no difficulty in finding good men for promotion, but a reasonable increase may be made subject to the Company's approval. Graham who owes the Company 2,595 Pags. on account of turned-out cloth, must either pay his debt or be discharged. Are pleased at the good character given of John Waters. Noah Casamajor appointed a factor with an extra allowance of 30 £ as interpreter. Richard Starke's covenants have been sent unexecuted. Last season 80 recruits were sent; send more now; they are as good as can be got in war time, though mostly in desperate circumstances, and perhaps of ill principles and brains. No blacks have been sent as recruits. Before paying the Surgeons their headmoney it must be ascertained that the recruits were well looked after. Entertain as writers:—William Smith King, Robert Clive, Samuel Banks, Henry Cope, John Walsh, John William Speke, John Andrews, and John Pybus. John Walsh, John Andrews and Casamajor (already on the Coast) must execute their covenants and furnish sureties. License as free merchants:—Daniel Lascelles, Solomon Franco, Moses Berend Heyman, James de Lisle, Thomas Smith, William Woolhead, David Medley, John Rennald and Robert Crawley. Edmund Edlyne permitted to remove from Sumatra to Madras, and Henry Kelsall and Richard Court from Madras to Bengal. A seniority list of covenanted servants on the Coast to be sent yearly. Money may be received and certificates granted on account of the late James Hubbard's estate. Disapprove Stratton's appointment of Council. John Hinde entertained as Senior merchant and of Council next under Monson, and, if Monson declines the Governorship of Fort St. David, Hinde is to go there. John Savage appointed of Council.

No. 74. LIST OF THE INVESTMENT TO BE PROVIDED IN 1743-44.

Want as many different patterns in the Madras chintz as possible. Sannoos and jugdea baftas will be sent from Bengal to be painted. All the longcloth need not be sent if the quantity will raise the price; but want as many salempores as can be got at a moderate price.

Vol. 73, pp. 160-169 (10).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of June 16, regarding the cost of the faussebray; despatch from the Company by the Princess Amelia of Feb. 4, 1743 [No. 73]. The Company disapproving Stratton's appointment to the Board, he is only to continue Paymaster till the end of the month. Accounts read. The Princess Amelia's stores, etc., to be landed and her treasure examined. The treasure on the Duke reported right. In regard to coining half the treasure for Bengal into Arcot rupees, the English have met with frequent obstructions in coining that specie at Chintadripet. The Embassy endeavoured to obtain from Nizam-ul-mulk a confirmation of Muhammad Saiyid's grant for that purpose. On Nizam-ul-mulk's arrival, a Brahman, Venkatachalam, was sent to send news from that camp. This man was known to Imam Sahib, and the latter in conversation said that the Navaits were only 'a parcel of fugitives,' and that Muhammad Saiyid's grants would be revoked; adding however after further talk that he would try to get the villages for the English, but that no grant could be made for the coinage, which was to be restricted to St. Thomé and Covelong. Imam Sahib is personally interested in the coinage for he had enjoyed the profits of the St. Thomé mint which was closed when the Poonamallee mint was moved to Chintadripet; and though the St. Thomé mint has been re-opened, the two compete. In regard to the villages, Imam Sahib actually sent some horse to take possession, but, by the intervention of his sister (an old resident at Madras), the English were left in apparent possession. When however Coja Abd-ullah Khan was appointed Nawab, he revoked the grants. This was not opposed, because a grant was then expected from Nizam-ul-mulk. Recently Imam Sahib wrote to his sister that the grant had been signed by Nizam-ul-mulk and would be sealed by Abd-ullah Khan, and sent an order for the delivery of the villages to be presented to the Governor by his (Imam Sahib's) little son. Benyon however declined the visit, as the former order had been revoked by Abd-ullah Khan, and only received the order by the Daroga. Imam Sahib has evaded giving any definite answer about the mint whenever Coja Petrus has mentioned that matter. At present, coinage has not yet been prohibited, though the Havildar of Covelong has written twice about it. When Safdar Ali died in 1742, the only silver in the Sarkar's mints was at Poonamallee; that was coined at Chintadripet; but when Manilla silver came up from Pondichery, the minters at St. Thomé offered more rupees per 100 oz. than were paid at Chintadripet (i.e., lowered the touch), whereon the minters at the latter place asked leave to coin at the same rate as the St. Thomé mint. Leave was refused, for fear of raising the opposition of Imam Sahib and Abd-ullah Khan, who are interested in the St. Thomé and Covelong mints, respectively, and who may regard the grant as a 'bagatelle,' if they think the English will only coin rupees of the old touch. Agreed to bring the Chintadripet stamps to the Madras mint to coin the Company's silver into Arcot rupees. Linga Chetti ordered to submit an estimate of the produce of 100 oz. standard silver in Arcot rupees weighing 30 lb. 6 oz. per mille and $4\frac{1}{2}$ dwt. better than standard, with a view to coining Arcot rupees after the same manner as that followed for Madras rupees.

Appended is a statement of extraordinary expenses for May 1743.

No. 76. CONSULTATION. JUNE 23, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 170-171 (1 $\frac{1}{2}$).]

Payments received, advances made and accounts read. According to the Company's orders the old factory house at Masulipatam to be pulled down; the chay goods thence to be sent to Madapollam on country vessels at convenient times. Andrews taken into the Company's service. Kelsall to proceed [from Madapollam] to Vizagapatam in order to proceed to Bengal on the Europe ship soon to be dispatched. Extracts from the list of investment respecting dimities, romals and bluecloth, to be sent to Fort St. David. Linga Chetti's estimate of the produce of 100 oz. of silver in Arcot rupees referred to the Assay-master as there are differences between it and the practice in coining Madras rupees.

No. 77. CONSULTATION. JUNE 27, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 172-176 (4 $\frac{3}{4}$).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of June 22, with accounts, etc., and desiring a supply of cash. Accounts read, advances made and payments received. The Surgeons of the Duke and of the Princess Amelia granted headmoney for recruits. 30 recruits to be sent to Fort St. David. The Lusitania, with supracargo, Tempest Milner, under Portuguese colours, trading at St. Thomé against the Company's interests, agreed to prohibit all belonging to Madras from trading with her, under penalty of being sent to Europe or (if an Indian) of being fined at the discretion of the Board and expelled the bounds. Treasure for the Bay to be sent on the Duke and the Princess Amelia. As less saltpetre will be needed than was expected, agreed to desire Bengal to send rice on the Princess Augusta instead. The renters of the Company's gardens, having fallen into arrears owing to the wells having turned salt, have paid what is due by selling their houses but refuse to continue to hold the cowle. Agreed to put up the farm at outcry. Thomas Eyre declares he is ready to go to Vizagapatam but would prefer not to. As Eyre is a Justice his continuance at Madras would much relieve the other Justices.

Appended are:—(1) two petitions from Cornelius Inglis and James Wilson, Surgeons on the Duke and the Princess Amelia, respectively, praying for headmoney on 17 and 19 recruits; and (2) notification, dated June 27, 1743, forbidding all traffic with the Lusitania.

No. 78. CONSULTATION. JUNE 30, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 177-182 (6).]

Read petition from Coja Miguel de Gregorio praying to be allowed to land bugles consigned him on the Lusitania from Venice. As the consignor may not have known the Company's rules about foreign ships and have thought the Lusitania the safest conveyance in view of the war with Spain, agreed that they may be landed provided the returns are made by a Company's ship, that Miguel obtains no more goods but by Company's ships, and that he pays the 3% freight which he would have paid on a Company's ship. 10,000 Madras Pags. bought at 9 $\frac{5}{8}$ % batta. The Assay-master reports that better terms than Linga Chetti's estimate for coining rupees [see No. 76] are unlikely to be got. Agreed to accept it. Richard Prince to be Chief of Vizagapatam, and Thomas Saunders to be Resident at Ingeram. Extract from the list of investment to be sent thither. Further particulars to be called for from Vizagapatam respecting the affair at Uppada [See No. 67], as Benyon and others have heard that the wreck was falsely represented to be an English ship. Thomas Eyre to be Paymaster vice Stratton.

Appended are:—(1) petition from Coja Miguel de Gregorio, (n.d.), as above; (2) letter from Sidney Foxall, Assay-master, dated June 30, 1743, stating that in making Arcot rupees the silver has to be melted two or even three times to get the right matt, whereas by long experience one melting is generally enough for Madras rupees and this involves a loss of 6 per mille each melting, and advising that Linga Chetti's estimate, reduced by $\frac{3}{4}$ %, be accepted; (3) estimate of the produce of 100 oz. of standard silver in Arcot rupees; allowing Company's custom 5 per mille, to the Moors' mosque $\frac{1}{2}$ per mille, to Krishnaji Pantulu $\frac{1}{2}$ per mille, and for coinage $17\frac{1}{2}$ per mille, net produce is 259 Arcot Rs.

No. 79. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JUNE 30, 1743.
[Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

Read letter from Madras ordering the provision of 200 pieces of very fine dimities, 2,000 more of soot romals blue and white, and 400 red and white. The merchants instructed accordingly and directed to bring in musters of the first. Indents for wares, etc., to be sent to Madras. Accounts read and advances made. Cash balance, 5,149 Star Pags. Robert Allen's request for leave to go to Madras, to be forwarded to the Presidency.

Appended is a statement of extraordinary expenses for May 1743.

No. 80. CONSULTATION. JULY 4, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 183-187 (4 $\frac{3}{4}$).]

Read letters from Anjengo of June 11, stating that the Dutch have made peace with Travancore on terms much the same as those before the war; from Vizagapatam of June 9, with accounts and stating that no redress for the insult to Pitt is probable but that they hope the ill-government will not affect the investment; from Ingeram of June 15, stating that 220 bales are expected by mid-August; and from Fort St. David of July 2, stating that bluecloth middling costs nearly as much as ordinary, and reporting the arrival of French ships at Pondichery and Allen's desire to come to Madras. Agreed to inform Fort St. David that the price of longcloth should not be raised in order to get a larger quantity; there is little chance of getting cloth at lower rates than last year, but no further rise must be admitted, for once the price is raised it never falls again though cotton and grain get cheaper. Accounts read, advances made and payments received. Damerla Venkatappa Nayak, grandson of Damerla Chinnappa Nayak who granted this place, intends to visit Benyon; agreed to tasheriff him as was done in 1724.

Appended are the cash accounts for June, 1743, balance 27,151 Star and 21,102 Madras Pags.

No. 81. CONSULTATION. JULY 6, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, p. 188 (3 $\frac{1}{4}$).]

Read letter from Tellicherry of June 10, accompanying packets for Bengal and Bombay. Payments received. 10,000 Pags. to be sent to Fort St. David.

No. 82. CONSULTATION. JULY 11, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 189-190 (1½).]

Agreed to send on the Duke 6 nine-pounder iron guns and the Madras pagodas in cash to Vizagapatam, and 20 chests of Bombay, 12 chests of Madras and 16 of Arcot Rs. to the Bay. Deficiencies of sea-coals, etc., by the Duke and the Princess Amelia referred to England. Neither soldiers nor small arms can be spared for Bengal till this year's supplies are known. The Company's orders regarding Henry Kelsall and Richard Court to be communicated to the Bay. 10,000 Madras Pags. to be sent from Vizagapatam to Madapollam, if the Vizagapatam investment permits. Robert Goodere to be Second and Foss Westcott Third of Council at Vizagapatam.

No. 83. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. JULY 12, 1743. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

Have received 10,000 Pags. from Madras. Advances made.

No. 84. CONSULTATION. JULY 14, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 191-193 (2¼).]

Accounts read and advances made. 4,000 Madras Pags. to be bought at 10% batta and sent to Madapollam with stores, etc. The remaining Bombay rupees with 1,52,000 Madras and 82,000 Arcot rupees and the remaining gold mohurs to be sent to Bengal by the Princess Amelia. Agreed that in the unsettled state of the country not more than 2,000—2,100 bales are likely to be ready by Dec. ships; as the sloops will bring saltpetre enough in Feb. to maintain the stock, agreed to desire Bengal to fill the space for that number of bales with good rice which is likely to be dear. All the saltpetre to be laded at low freight should be put on board in Bengal. Agreed to refuse 240 Pags. a year which was all that was offered for the Company's large garden at the outcry.

No. 85. CONSULTATION. JULY 18, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 73, pp. 193-195 (2).]

Read letters from Fort William of May 16, stating that the Princess Augusta will be repaired, that Hollard's mathematical instruments cannot be found, that no bullion should be sent, and that the investment prospects are poor; from Vizagapatam of the 19th instant [sic.]; from Fort St. David of July 14, reporting the arrival of the soldiers and the money. Payments received, advances made and accounts read. Linga Chetti to buy 20,000 Madras Pags. The Tellicherry packet for Bombay to be sent by shroffs' peons who are going to Surat.

Cite despatch of Feb. 2, by the Walpole [No. 30]. Shipping news. The Princess Elisabeth was dismasted and the Prince of Wales cast away near Jagannath on their passage to Bengal; so it was fortunate the season was thought too early to send on them the 3 lakhs of rupees from Bombay. It is unlucky that any ships passed by Madras as Bengal wanted all the treasure coined. Enquire how to act when ships' commanders apply for advances. Sold in Jan. and Feb., 1,00,000 Rs. at 320, 50,000 at 305, and 2,00,000 at 300 per 100 Pags. The money was laid out in gold mohurs which cost at Madras 3 Pags. 29 fns. In June, the Bengal shroffs offered only 13 Rs. each at which rate they produce Arcot Rs. 341-9-0 per 100 Pags. The shroffs had to sell rupees again at 346-350, and so lost about 11,000 Pags. Have remitted to Bengal 10,386 gold mohurs, 10,34,634 Arcot and 2,76,000 Madras Rs. Though debased in country mints, rupees are now at 338 to 340. Sold 20 chests of silver at 14¾ $ weight per 10 Pags., and 6 chests at 14½$, which is better than if coined in the Madras mint. Country rupees, though worse than those coined at Madras, sell just as well. Have disposed of all their woollen goods, most of which were sent to the Maratha country. Broadcloth shall be put up at outcry as soon as the merchants' balances are cleared; meanwhile it is only issued for cash payments. The French investment did not much affect the Company's, as they advanced only 5,000 on a contract for 3,00,000 Pags. But dearness of cotton, famine and troubles caused by the presence of Nizam-ul-mulk's army of 300,000 men, have been great obstacles. The demand for cloth for Nizam-ul-mulk's army is reckoned at 10,000 Pags. a month. Hope to provide 2,000 bales by Jan. When Nizam-ul-mulk, Nasir Jang and several nobles arrived at Arcot, Eyre, Harrison and Hollond were deputed to his camp with presents amounting to 13,000 Pags. on Imam Sahib's advice. They were well received at Trichinopoly, and spent 5,223 Pags. The Dutch have had to spend 40,000 Rs. in pacifying the Nizam. A grant of the villages is regarded as certain; a dastak exempting the Company's goods from juncan is hoped for. The Nizam expecting a crore and 3 lakhs of rupees of Saiyid Khan for his investiture, application was made for a loan of 10 lakhs on security, but not entertained. After 5 months' siege, Nizam took Trichinopoly. His large army 'sets heavy on these parts.' The Marathas still remain in Bengal. Burton has paid the sums claimed of him so that the matter may no longer be publicly discussed. On Major Knipe's death (May 5) Lieut. de Gingins was given a company. Prince appointed Chief at Vizagapatam; and Saunders, Resident at Ingeram. Deaths of Ensign Hollard and Henry Campion. Wynch went to Bengal on the arrival of the Rev. James Feild. Hinde shall be sent to Fort St. David. The French have received 3 ships from Europe (it is said with much treasure) but they are still borrowing, especially from Imam Sahib. They have fixed their rupees at 320 per 100 Pags., which is 7 or 8% more than market rate. The Lusitania with a Portuguese commission and Tempest Milner supracargo, having put in at Pondichery, landed at St. Thomé 30 bales of broadcloth and some coral under the Bishop's care and agreed to take gingham and moorees on return from Bengal. Have prohibited all trade with her. Madeira wine sells at 53 Pags. a pipe. Much demand for white flannels and scarlet says. The Brilliant which cost 18,132 Rs. has arrived from Bombay. The Captain of the Salisbury's private trade is manifested at 2,666 Pags.; diamonds, etc., registered 59,777 Pags. Cash balance, 82,590 Star and 4,402 Madras Pags. Have drawn bills for 417 Pags.; and granted certificates for 7,174 Pags.

Agreed to despatch the letter for England via Pondichery. Accounts read and advances made. - No. 18. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY, BY THE DUKE AND MONTFORT. JAN. 16, 1744. [Coast and Bay abstracts, Vol. 4, pp. 439-443 (L.O. trans.).]

Shipping news. Hear that Imam Sahib has moved the Durbar to prohibit the Company's coining Arcot rupees. Have since removed the stamps from the Petta to the Town mint. In coining 114 chests of silver into Arcot instead of Madras rupees, there has been a gain of 46,144 current rupees. It is advantageous to have bullion from Bombay instead of Bombay rupees. To prevent complaints of short weight of rupees, shall direct that 1,000 Rs. should weigh 30 lbs., 7 oz., 10 dwts. Indent for woolen goods. Cutlery, glass, millinery, etc., imported by the captains yield 20-30 % gain or loss. Disposal of old anchors. Fort St. David fine cloth is better worth its price than the ordinary. Madras cloth comes from countries near but in small quantity. Cotton is scarce and the people harassed. The merchants have paid 14,129 Pags. towards their debt; but as they are not solvent, propose on their clearing their debts, to engage a new set of substantial men. Suggest that when the country is settled, the investment may be enlarged by better terms. But if the Europe markets cannot bear this, 'the pitiful brokerage' now allowed is too small to induce rich men to risk their fortunes in the Company's service. Nizam-ul-mulk left Trichinopoly in Oct. and is encamped near 'Biddanore' [Bednur?] a good way to the west of Arcot. In Dec., Abd-ullah's son sent to 'superintend affairs at Arcot' visited St. Thomé and was given a present.

Mir Asad stayed a few days at Madras. Tax gatherers 'set heavy on the people. Trade is low, and there is little credit. Famine was averted by imports by sea, and there have since been good rains. In private trade, 'the only stocks of consequence' have been one to China and one to Mocha. A sergeant and party of men sent to Pegu. As the Burmese hold Syrian again, trade will be renewed. Relief to Europeans in Ceylon who were wrecked on the Josias. The Dutch at Pulicat refuse to deliver deserters. The extortion of 1,700 Pags. from Pitt by the Nawab of Uppada. Sent a present of 618 Pags. to Wandiwash in Feb. Have forbidden the sale of fire-arms in Malabar and the purchase of houses in the White Town by foreigners. Coja Gregorio allowed to bring in bugles from St. Thomé. Granted an old house to Mrs. Carvalho. Repairs at Fort St. David and Cuddalore. The granaries on the Island will be rebuilt in the Black Town and will cost 2,000 Pags. The Black Town wall will cost 4,900 Pags. in all. The charges for entertaining the late Nawab's family for the last year come to 4,921 Pags. Hyde Parker, Ensign at Fort St. David. Hospital mates' pay increased from 10 to 15 Pags. a month. Death of Macknight. Recovery of Graham's debt. Randall Fowke being very old has been exempted from attending Council, etc., but is continued his salary, etc., as 4th in Council. Distribution of duties among the Councillors. As many of the Company's servants write badly, are obliged to have monthly writers. Good accountants are wanted. Mrs. Gyfford allowed 15 Pags. a month. Benyon and Robert Allen sail on the Duke. Morse proposes Benyon and Milne as his sureties; the others in Council will write to their friends. Replication to Burton's answer, drawn up at Fort St. David. Desire blank covenants for free merchants and servants of age. The Phoenix sailed from Pondichery with 1,000 bags of pepper and 1,000 bales of piece goods. The Duc de Chartres landed there 64 chests of treasure. The Duke's and the Montfort's Madras invoice amounts to 87,410 and 71,611 Pags., respectively; their diamonds, etc., 85,620 and 42,666 Pags. Cash balance, 77,674 Star and 555 Madras Pags. Have drawn bills for 2,433 Pags. and granted certificates amounting to 2,861 Pags.

No. 19. CONSULTATION. JAN. 17, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 28-29 (2).]

Richard Benyon having embarked on the Duke, Nicholas Morse takes the chair as President. Secretary reads Court's orders appointing him Governor, in the presence of Company's servants, military officers and inhabitants. Samuel Harrison appointed youngest of Council and Storekeeper. President, etc., take the oath of fidelity to the Company. New commissions for the lieutenants and ensigns. Edward Fowke to be Upper Searcher vice Harrison. Savage continued as Secretary, Rental-General and Scavenger. Foxall delivers in 10,000 Madras Pags. provided at $9\frac{1}{4}\%$ batta. 20,000 more to be purchased before the arrival of the northern grain vessels raises the batta.

[Beginning lost.]. Regret that decreasing the weight of the Arcot rupee (in accordance with the practice of the country mints) caused trouble. In future 1,000 shall weigh 367 oz. 10 dwt. 500 bags of patcheree rice consigned to Sumatra on the Brilliant. Investments both in Bengal and at Madras too small to fill all the shipping. On Jan. 17, Benyon sailed on the Duke; has been

Read letter from Madapollam of Jan. 5 [No. 26]. 2 new carpets to be bought for the Consultation room and to have rattan mats laid under them. Considered the question of the Mayor's Court's revenues and expenditure [No. 10.] Although the Court allege a deficit of only 357 Pags., its expenditure has exceeded revenue in the last 7 years by 2,375 Pags. It is believed that the difference has been made good by the practice of lending out deposited estates at interest, and that the revenue has declined because of the abandonment of that practice. The estimated expenditure is 54 Pags. a month. Agreed to allow 50 Pags., as the Court will be relieved of the expense of collecting the duties to be surrendered, and may make a few small economies; but the deficit of 357 Pags. cannot be made good without the Company's consent. Agreed also to send the Court a copy of para. 61 of the Company's despatch of March 21, 1739, [1739-40?], as a reminder regarding the rules for managing estates seems necessary. As the surrendered duties (banksall, weighing, and measuring duties) are collected by conicopolys and as the banksall is far from the Fort, it is thought advisable to farm them out, and the Court is to be desired to state their produce in 1743.

Appended are statements of the receipts and expenditure of the Mayor's Court from 1736 to 1742, and an estimate of the monthly expenses.

Some of the Bengal rice proving bad, agreed to select 1,000 bags for Sumatra and to sell the rest at outcry. Officers' commissions signed—lieutenants' by the Board, ensigns' by the President. Advances made and payments received. Bombay to be advised of the shipping news by the shroffs' pattamars going to Surat [No. 47].

[The petition is accompanied by an account current as between Gingins and Hollard.]

No. 45. LETTER FROM PHILIP BAKER, GUNNER, TO JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 31, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 29—31 (2½).]

The Carolina is lying in a deep hole, and it will take long to slope the ground so that she can be dragged overland to the sea.

Besides, 100 or 200 yards out where the surf breaks, there is only 5 feet of water, and she draws that with nothing in her. A stage on which to pull her over the surf would be very expensive. Considers the expense of her removal would exceed her value; and experienced seamen think she cannot be moved, being surrounded with loose driving sand.

No. 46. CONSULTATION, FORT ST. DAVID. JAN. 31, 1744.
[Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5. (I.O. trans.)]

Accounts read, advances made and payments received. Received 10,000 Pags. from Madras with letter of Jan. 26 (21?) [No. 25]. Agreed to forward to Madras the Gunner's report on the Carolina sloop [No. 45]. Cash balance, 15,130 Pags.

Appended is the report from Philip Baker, Gunner, dated Jan. 31 [No. 45].

Acknowledge letters of Aug. 17 and 18. Have forwarded cotton to Bengal by the Princess Augusta and the rupees by the Mercury. Despatch of the Salisbury, the Duke and the Montfort. Benyon succeeded by Morse. The Princess Louisa reported by a Danish ship to have been lost near the Isle of May. The Harrington has reached Canton and found there a rich Spanish ship bound to Manilla which had been taken by Anson.

No. 48. CONSULTATION. FEB. 4, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 58-71 (13½).]

Accounts read. 10 chests of silver sold at $13\frac{3}{4}$ s weight per 10 Pags. 10,000 Madras Pags. bought at $9\frac{1}{4}$ % batta. This fall is due partly to a large import of gold fanams from Mysore for coinage; and Morse expects a further fall, as the 'Government above' are said to be likely to need a large quantity of rupees; this will make the shroffs hold up rupees rather than Madras pagodas. Morse authorised to buy Madras pagodas at or under 9 % batta. Samuel Parkes permitted to stay here for his health. Capt. Taylor's explanation of the delay in his voyage to be sent to Sumatra. The Sumatra to be sent to Bengal to refit, touching at Vizagapatam to land 30,000 Madras Pags. 20,000 Madras Pags. and 2 chests of rupees to be sent to the northern settlements on the William and Sarah. Payments received. Morse reports shroffs' news that Nizam-ul-mulk on reaching the Kistna retired 3 days' journey to 'Pocalore,' on account of a Maratha Army on the other bank; the Marathas then crossed and are encamped near him; Namat-ullah Khan has been instructed to collect his forces at Gingee to prevent the Marathas from getting through the pass to Trichinopoly; in consequence money, etc., is being carried to Madras for safety. It is thought that there will be a battle shortly or else that peace will be made—the latter is thought more consistent with Nizam-ul-mulk's character and the Maratha army is said to be the stronger. Buildings at Uppada and Ingeram [See Nos. 50 & 51]. The Heathcote to be surveyed.

Appended are:—(1) letter from Capt. John Taylor of the Sumatra, dated Feb. 1, 1744, submitting his log-book and stating that his only delay consisted of putting into Barroos for less than 4 days for wood and water; (2) letter from Samuel Parkes, dated Feb. 4, 1744, stating that Wake allowed him to come round to Madras from Bombay in order to take shipping for Europe and that the voyage only confirmed his consumptive disorder, and desiring leave to remain at Madras to recover his health; (3) account sale, dated Feb. 3, 1744, of 700 candies of lead, totalling 9,389 Pags., average price 13 Pags. 14 fns. 70 c. per candy; (5) letter from George Goring and John Byers, dated Jan. 31, 1744, reporting that the Sumatra makes 8 inches of water an hour and needs repair; and (6) cash account for Jan. 1744, balance 30,555 Madras and 39,717 Star Pags.

Acknowledge letters of Dec. 25, 1743 and Jan. 2 [Nos. 39 & 40]. The factory-house at Uppada may be rebuilt at a cost not exceeding 300 Rs. The merchants' accounts have not been sent. Send stores, etc., and money by the Sumatra. Of the 30,000 Madras Pags. sent, half is for Ingeram. Investment to be made according to the list sent; to encourage the merchants, have divided the fine cloth proportionately among the three northern factories; more ordinary cloth is required. Still await the report on Pitt's ill-treatment by the Nawab. Send a commission for Lieut. Turnery.

- No. 51. LETTER TO THOMAS SAUNDERS AT INGERAM. FEB. 9, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 10-11 (2).]

Acknowledge letters of Jan. 9 and 11 [Nos. 41 & 42] and 165 bales of calicoes. He may build the fence, etc., that he says is needed, for 500 Pags. Send list of investment to be provided for the year. The ordinary cloth recently sent is inferior and extremely thin in the inner folds. Are sending 15,000 Pags. to Vizagapatam for Saunders' investment, but he had best send for no more money at a time than he really needs, as Vizagapatam is a safer place in case of troubles. Send this money early so that he may begin his investment before the French do.

- No. 52. LETTER TO THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. FEB. 9, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 12-14 (2½).]

Anson's capture of a Manilla galleon. The Marathas are reported 3 days' march south of the Kistna and 15 miles off Nizam-ul-mulk's camp, but they are now treating about peace.

- No. 53. LETTER FROM JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 6, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 28-29 and 32-33 (3¼).]

Send the annual letter and other papers. Baker's report on the Carolina sloop [No. 45]. The merchants are greatly alarmed at the rumours of a Maratha invasion, and have taken no advances lately.

- No. 54. CONSULTATION. FEB. 10, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 72-78 (6½).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of Feb. 6 [No. 53]. Stores to be sent to Fort St. David. Advances made. Offer to farm the Mayor's Court revenues for 300 Pags. a year, rejected as too low. 20,000 Madras Pags. bought at $8\frac{1}{2}\%$ batta. Signed bills on the Company for 184 Pags. Morse reports that, by a decree of the Provincial of the Convent of Tauris, Padre Renatus, a Frenchman, is appointed 'Apostolic Missionary and Vice-guardian of the missions in the Indies and Persia.' This is an artful attempt to encroach on the Company's ecclesiastical privileges; resolved therefore to appoint by formal instrument, Padre Severini to be Superior and Chief Pastor of the Church of St. Andrew, the instrument to be read in Latin in St. Andrew's next Sunday. The Heathcote reported to be capable of a good defence. The Captain does not desire either to manifest any private trade or pay in cash for certificates. Despatch by the Heathcote signed. Advances, etc., made by the Captain of the Sumatra to be paid him.

Appended are:—(1) an instrument (in Latin and English), dated Feb. 10, 1744, appointing Father Severini, Superior, etc., of St. Andrew's on condition of obedience from him and the other Capuchins in Madras; and (2) letter to Father Severini (in Latin and English), dated Feb. 10, 1744, requiring him to have the above instrument publicly read on the following Sunday.

No. 55. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY, BY THE HEATHCOTE.
FEB. 10, 1744. [Coast and Bay abstracts, Vol. 4, pp. 444-445 (I.O. trans.)].

Have sent 30,000 Madras Pags. to Vizagapatam; and 11,679 Rs., with 50,000 more from Bombay, to Bengal. 700 candies of lead sold at 13 Pags. 14 fns. per candy. Agreed to buy 60,000 Madras Pags. for the northern settlements to push through their investments before the French have any money with which to compete with them. Acknowledge letter of Feb. 6 [No. 53]. Have sent gunpowder on the Experience sloop. The shroffs report that the Marathas having come to terms with the Nizam have retired. The money brought from Arcot, etc., to Madras is now being returned. Consider that trade may go on regularly, but urge the importance of getting news from Trichinopoly, the most probable scene of action.

No. 64. CONSULTATION. FEB. 20, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 86—95 (10).]

Read letters from Madapollam of Feb. 3 [No. 62] and from John Hallyburton of Feb. 18 [No. 63]. Stores ordered thither. Accounts read and payments received. Estimate called for for erecting a range of buttecas south of Mutyalpet facing the north wall of the Black Town; those outside the White Town to be repaired. Mayor's Court's banksall duties farmed out for 400 Pags. a year. Rice to be sent to Fort St. David. Approved Hallyburton's proposal to keep a hired brigantine (at 20 Pags. a month) at Madapollam to carry the Company's effects to Vizagapatam in case of a Maratha attack; the same thing to be done if possible at Ingeram. The importance of increasing the Madras investment as that in Bengal has been much affected by the Maratha invasions and dearness of cotton. Here, two of the Company's merchants have had heavy losses, and two others hesitate to make advances to weavers in these days of insecurity. Agreed that it is necessary to take in new merchants. Morse reports that he has already discoursed with several but that they had urged the losses several had undergone in the Company's business and the unsettled state of the country. The 4 principal merchants however said that as soon as affairs improved, they would make proposals to provide part of the Company's investment. These 4 are summoned before the Board and asked on what terms they will serve the Company. They ask for an allowance beyond the brokerage allowed which barely covers the expenses. The Board reply that that is not permissible without leave from home, but that if they will come in they shall be recommended to the Company and receive all possible assistance in their business. After withdrawing to discuss the matter, the merchants return; they say that the rank of Company's merchant was formerly both an honour and advantage, that the Company has shown great indulgence to those who have lately suffered in its business and that, having all confidence in fair treatment, they will provide part of the investment this year, but cannot continue to do so on the unequal terms now offered. The varieties of cloth are accordingly divided among the merchants so that they will not compete one with another—Telisinga Chetti and Nallamuthu Kumarappa Chetti to provide middling longcloth; Sunku Venkatarama, ordinary longcloth; Gangaveddi Venkatarama and Nalla Chetti, middling and ordinary salempores; Tirumangalam Kumarappa, fine goods; Mahalinga Krishna and Ponnappa Chetti, any cloth they can bring in of the Company's musters. Advances made them. Agreed on letter to Fort St. David [No. 66]. Mahalinga Krishna's turned-out cloth to be removed from the Company's godown or sold.

Appended is a list of fine goods (beteellas, chintz, moorees, long-cloth superfine, romals and gingham) to be provided by Tirumangalam Kumarappa.

No. 65. LETTER FROM JOHN SAVAGE, SECRETARY, TO JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 20, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, p. 28 (1½).]

Sends invoices, etc., for 750 bags of rice laden on 2 boats.

No. 66. LETTER TO JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 21, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 29-30 (1¾).]

Enjoin compliance with letters of June 24 and July 5, 1743, about the investment. It is better to get less cloth than take in worse qualities or pay higher prices. The 'confined state of your neighbours' should be of assistance. Do not want more than 100 bales (4,000 pieces) of fine longcloth. Have allotted to each set of merchants a particular species of goods; perhaps this method might be useful at Fort St. David. Will send 50 garse of paddy in a few days.

No. 67. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. FEB. 21, 1744. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.).]

No. 81. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. FEB. 11, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 41—43 (3).]

Send Consultations, etc. About mid-Jan., heard that Ali Kuli Khan had been deprived of the Nawabship of Rajahmundry; and have recently heard of the new Nawab's arrival. Hope he will be better than his predecessor. Enclose Pitt's narrative regarding the wreck near Uppada [No. 82], and beg that efforts be made to get redress. Have received 20 bales from Uppada. Fear no cloth can be got from Boni while cloth is so dear.

Appended are estimates for building and repairing the great battery by the seaside, the small battery fronting the Fort, and the powder magazine and guard-house, amounting to 1,744 Pags.

No. 82. LETTER FROM THOMAS PITT AT UPPADA TO RICHARD PRINCE AT VIZAGAPATAM. DEC. 18, 1743. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 44—51 (7¼).]

Regarding his ill-treatment by Husain Kuli Khan, uncle of the Nawab of Rajahmundry. Husain Ali Beg, the Nawab's Daroga, on May 5, 1743, wrote Pitt that the Nawab's uncle wished to see him. So Pitt started on the 6th for Pittapur with a present, hoping to get the batta taken off the Madras pagodas. He was formally received by the Daroga and by Husain Kuli Khan and then taken to the cutcheri, where the Daroga questioned him about the wrecked ship. The Daroga denied her to be English owned and complained that the Raja had been asked for help instead of the Nawab. Pitt stated that Stratton had written to the Nawab, who had sent his farman; but nevertheless Pitt was ordered to produce his account of what had been saved. He therefore sent for it, but meantime was guarded by peons who were ordered not to let him sleep, eat, drink or write. When the account arrived that evening, the Daroga abused Pitt, denied the accuracy of the account and sent for a Brahman who had been present at the wreck. The latter at first gave an account which corresponded with Pitt's, but after being whipped, valued the salvage at 9,000 Rs. Pitt was ordered to pay this at once under pain of being whipped also. Finally the Daroga offered to take 1,700 Pags. which Pitt was obliged to pay. He was then obliged to follow Husain Kuli Khan who had marched away from Pittapur, and forced to sign 2 papers in Persian supposed to be an indemnification of the Nawab's uncle and the Daroga for their ill-treatment of him. Pitt was kept without food, drink or sleep for 2 days and nights. The French at Yanam have met with similar ill-treatment, having been obliged to pay 6,000 Rs., and are determined to quit their settlement. This may serve as a warning against the ill-treatment of Europeans.

No. 83. LETTER FROM THOMAS SAUNDERS AT INGERAM. FEB. 18, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 51—52 (1 $\frac{1}{4}$).]

Reported arrival of 30,000 Marathas, 65 'omminum' this side of Golconda, but they are since said to have retired. Omar Kuli Khan is to pay 300,000 [Rs. ?] instead of 270,000 (the old rent), which will mean more oppression. Naga Rao is his Diwan. Cotton is still dear but a good crop is expected. The recent thinness of the cloth was due to the dearness of cotton and the destitute condition of the weavers.

No. 84. LETTER FROM JONATHAN SMART AT SYRIAN. JAN. 14, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 52—54 (1 $\frac{3}{4}$).]

Sends back the soldiers by the Mermaid; 3 have died. On Nov. 10, the Burmese re-occupied Syrian. The French, Armenian and Portuguese churches and merchants' godowns were plundered for 3 days, the [English ?] factory alone escaping. On the 13th, the Peguers drove out the Burmese and looted and fired the English factory. The soldiers were disarmed, and Smart only escaped 'by kind Providence.' The ship Smart built was thrice set on fire, but saved. Is trying to get away from 'this disturbed place.'

No. 85. CONSULTATION. MARCH 5, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 102—108 (7).]

Read letters from Vizagapatam of Feb. 11 [No. 81], from Ingeram of Feb. 18 [No. 83], and from Syrian of Jan. 14 [No. 84]. 725 ticals advanced the soldiers at Syrian by Smart to be paid at 3 ticals per pagoda. The Mermaid from Syrian having been driven to leeward by the monsoon, the soldiers on board to be sent hither overland. 4 chests of silver sold at 143/16 \$ weight per 10 Pags. and 6 at 14 $\frac{1}{4}$. Accounts read, advances made and payments received. Agreed that the brokerage may be slightly increased to encourage the provision of Salem cloth. Morse reports that Coja Namat-ullah Khan, who commands in the province for his father Abd-ullah Khan, sent him a horse and saropa on his becoming Governor, and that a return present is expected. Agreed to hold it over lest, as Nizam-ul-mulk has returned into the province, another person should be confirmed as Nawab. Henry de Veil reports that he borrowed 50 Pags. from Arumugam (a conocopoly) who absconded in 1742, and that the money is now claimed on his note of hand. Agreed that the sum be paid into cash and de Veil be held discharged of the debt.

Appended is the cash account for Feb. 1744, balance 19,367 Star and 555 Madras Pags.

No. 86. LETTER TO JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID.
MARCH 6, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 39—41 (2).]

Acknowledge letter of Feb. 27 [No. 77]. The distance of Salem and its being in Mysore make the investment there somewhat risky; but as those parts are now quiet, the merchants must be encouraged to get cloth thence. They may be offered somewhat more for all cloth brought in in excess of the 300 bales they speak of. Urge the getting in of cloth from the other weaving towns before the French merchants are supplied with money. Approve the agreement with Andiyappa. Trust Nizam-ul-mulk's return into the Carnatic will not impede business.

No. 87. CONSULTATION. MARCH 8, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 109—113 (434).]

Payments received. The estimate of repairs at Vizagapatam, being loose and defective, is referred to Stratton [See No. 90]. Stores to be sent to Fort St. David. Morse reports:—Daniel Berriman owed 1,000 Rs. to Dayala Das, a Guzarati shroff, who often demanded repayment but was put off; so when Berriman was at St. Thomas Mount, the shroff applied to the Havildar of St. Thomé, and obtained a party of peons to arrest him; he escaped into Barlow's house and sent a message to Morse who sent peons to his rescue. The Havildar's peons, however, had already withdrawn, the English at the Mount having remonstrated with Dayala Das. It being an established rule that no inhabitant of Madras shall call in the assistance of any Moor or Gentue officer, and the shroff having neither complained to the President nor sued Berriman in the Court, agreed that Dayala Das be fined 300 Pags., being but in the second class of shroffs. While the Board is debating what to do with the Havildar, a messenger arrives with his apologies to explain that he is a stranger to dealings with the English and will not act thus in future. Agreed to drop the matter as he is a relation of Abd-ullah Khan, but Morse should let him know that full satisfaction will be taken for the like conduct in future.

Appended is the account sale of damaged Bengal rice, 20 garse realising 876½ Pags. at from 42½ to 45½ Pags. a garse.

- No. 88. LETTER FROM JOHN SAVAGE, SECRETARY, TO JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. MARCH 9, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, p. 41 (1½).]

Encloses invoices, etc., for stores.

- No. 89. LETTER FROM JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. MARCH 7, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, p. 54 (3½).]

Acknowledge letters of Feb. 28, and March 1 and 2 [Nos. 79 & 80]. The paddy and 10,000 Pags. have arrived.

- No. 90. LETTER FROM JOHN STRATTON AT FORT ST. GEORGE. MARCH 12, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 117--119 (3).]

[See No. 87]. The houses between the Fort at Vizagapatam and the sea should be pulled down, because the passage between is so narrow that the garrison might be surprised when turned out to receive the Nawab when he visits Medina Sahib's tomb on Muskeet Hill, and because the houses stand just where a battery is needed to protect the roads. Such a battery would not cost much—40 lascars at 2 Rs. a month would be enough to bring the stone required. A battery should be built at the Black Rock, projecting into the river, so as to secure the mango garden behind the Sand Hill, which the Moors always seize upon the least dispute; it would not cost 500 Rs. The magazine is too near the river and too far from the Fort; Turnery should be consulted about the site for a new one. A brick parapet is needed at Benyon's Battery and round the Middle Point to the Flag-staff Hill. The timber at Ingeram should be used to repair the roofing of the various buildings.

- No. 91. LETTER FROM MICHAEL COTESWORTH, [CHIEF] AT BALASORE, TO THOMAS PITT AT UPPADA. NOV. 10, 1742. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, p. 120 (1½).]

Is concerned in the wreck of Jagannath Prasad, and desires to know what has been saved so that he may claim his dividend.

- No. 92. LETTER FROM JOHN HALL, (LATE PURSER OF THE DECKER) AT BALASORE, TO THOMAS PITT AT UPPADA. MAY 10, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 120-121 (1).]

As Agent for William Davis, a respondentia creditor concerned in the Jagannath Prasad, requests Pitt to save all he can. The ship is said to lye dry and perhaps the cowries may be recovered. The ship belongs to Gopinath, the Company's 'mussudy' at Balasore, who is very grateful for what has been done. Efforts have been made before to communicate with Pitt, but the kasids were stopped at Cuttack.

No. 93. LETTER FROM THOMAS FEAKE, [CHIEF] AT BALASORE, TO THOMAS PITT AT UPPADA. MAY 10, 1743. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, p. 121 ($\frac{1}{2}$).]

Has succeeded Cotesworth as Chief. Requests Pitt to save everything possible from the wreck.

No. 94. CONSULTATION. MARCH 12, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 114—116 ($2\frac{3}{4}$).]

Read letter from Fort St. David of March 7 [No. 89]. 10,000 Pags. to be sent thither. Accounts read, advances made and payments received. Stratton's remarks on the fortifications of Vizagapatam [No. 90]. A fuller estimate, with a plan if possible, required. Regarding Pitt and the wreck at Uppada, it is not clear from the Balasore letters [Nos. 91 to 93], whether the ship actually belonged to the English. The Bengal Council to be asked to enquire [No. 97]. A statement to be furnished from Vizagapatam of the salvage from the ship's wreck [See No. 99]. Stores and wares to be sent to Ingeram. 80,000 of the rupees which were regarded as underweight in Bengal to be sold.

No. 95. LETTER FROM JOHN SAVAGE, SECRETARY, TO JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. MARCH 12, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, p. 42 ($\frac{1}{2}$).]

10,000 Pags. will be sent overland.

No. 96. LETTER TO JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. MARCH 13, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, p. 42 ($\frac{1}{2}$).]

Send 10,000 Pags. in charge of 20 peons.

No. 97. LETTER TO THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. MARCH 16, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 43-44 (2).]

Narrate the ill-treatment of Thomas Pitt by the Nawab in May 1743, on account of the wreck of Jagannath Prasad. According to letters from Balasore, she was really owned by the English banyan there, with English respondentia on her. Desire to know the facts of the case and especially the amount of the English respondentia.

- No. 98. LETTER TO THOMAS SAUNDERS AT INGERAM. MARCH 17, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, p. 45 (2/3).]

Enclose invoice, etc., for stores, etc.

- No. 99. LETTER TO RICHARD PRINCE, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. MARCH 23, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 45—47 (2 1/3).]

Acknowledge letter of Feb. 11 and enclosure [Nos. 81 & 82]. Pitt's statement does not clear up the question of ownership. Also desire details of the salvage and how it was disposed of. For the present, any money, etc., on that account is to be paid into the Company's cash. The estimate for repairs to the Fort [See No. 81] is too indefinite, and Stratton considers it is too great [See No. 90]. Desire a clearer estimate and if possible a plan showing the proposed new works. Meanwhile building materials are to be collected. Timely repairs would have prevented the need of so great an expenditure as 1,800 Pags.

- No. 100. LETTER FROM JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. MARCH 12, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, p. 55 (2/3).]

Send books, etc. Cash balance, 4,527 Pags.

- No. 101. LETTER FROM JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. MARCH 17, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 55—57 (1 3/4).]

Acknowledge letters of March 6, [9, 12 and 13] [Nos. 86, 88, 95 & 96] with 10,000 Pags. Believe Andiyappa will supply the 1,000 bales, as he is reputed frugal of promises. The distance of Salem and the fact that it is under a different government are difficulties, but a quantity of that cloth is expected. Andiyappa says he has sent 11,000 Pags. thither; will encourage him to get as much as possible thence.

- No. 102. LETTER FROM THOMAS BRADDYLL, ETC., AT FORT WILLIAM. FEB. 23, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 57—58 (1 1/3).]

Advances made. Mahalinga Krishna allowed till June to sell his turned out cloth. [See No. 64.]

Accounts read, advances made and payments received. 2 good young horses to be bought for 230 Pags. Cash balance, 12,960 Pags.

Appended are:—(1) account salary of the Company's servants for the half-year ending March 25, 1744, amounting to 300 Pags.; and (2) statement of extraordinary expenses for Feb. 1744.

- No. 109. CONSULTATION. MARCH 29, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 128-130 (3).]

Payments received and advances made. George Jones resigns his monthly writership. Morse reports the receipt of letters from Nizam-ul-mulk, etc., requesting him to forward to Surat goods intended for the Moghal's Court [Nos. 105, 106 & 108]. Agreed that all responsibility should be avoided. If any accident happened to the goods, the Company might be asked to make up the loss which would be rated at the Moors' pleasure; but as Nizam-ul-mulk is yet in the province and as we expect some favours from him, agreed to leave the goods in the charge of Imam Sahib's servants, to give no receipt for them, and to furnish them with all assistance towards reaching Surat.

- No. 110. LETTER FROM NICHOLAS MORSE TO NIZAM-UL-MULK. MARCH 30, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 132-133 (3/3).]

- No. 111. LETTER FROM NICHOLAS MORSE TO IMAM SAHIB. MARCH 30, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 133-134 (1).]

Acknowledge No. 108. There is much risk in sending goods by sea. Cannot hold himself responsible if any accident happens to them. Requests that the goods may be in charge of Nizam-ul-mulk's own servants who will be assisted as soon as a ship offers for Surat. Europeans avoid as much as possible interfering in Court affairs, lest they should incur displeasure, though they are always glad to oblige.

- No. 114. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. MARCH 4, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 61-63 (2½).]

The Sumatra arrived Feb. 20. Will try to prevent merchants of the various factories interfering with each other; but it has been tried before without success. The Marathas assembled at Bhadrachalam and then moved north of Chicacole, but were repulsed in their attempts to plunder the Hill Rajas. Do not know whether they will come here or advance to Cuttack to reinstate Baqir Ali Khan. Have entertained 10 more topasses and 40 lascars who will be discharged as soon as the danger is over. Are making carriages for the guns recently sent. They will be mounted on the rock north of the Town and be a great security. The Nawab and 'Gomesara' [Gumsur?] Raja are now reconciled. The investment depends on the state of the country and the price of the cotton, but desire 30-40,000 Rs. and 20,000 Pags. The Mermaid arrived from Pegu Feb. 29 with a corporal and 17 topasses for Madras. Send books, etc.

- No. 115. LETTER FROM THOMAS SAUNDERS AT INGERAM. MARCH 11, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 64-65 (1½).]

Acknowledges letter of Feb. 9 [No. 51]. Will set about the fence, etc. Regrets the ordinary cloth is so bad; but it is due to the increased rent and badness of the Government, whole towns lying deserted. Cotton is so dear that the merchants can hardly gain by the ordinary cloth. The Marathas have gone to Narayana

Ghat near Chicacole where they have been repulsed by Krishna Devu. Has desired early advice of their movements from Vizagapatam. Sends accounts, etc.

No. 116. LETTER FROM JOHN HALLYBURTON AT MADAPOLLAM, MARCH 14, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 65-66 (1½).]

The Experience sloop arrived March 7. With an oppressive Government, a depopulated country, and cotton selling at 40 Pags. a candy, merchants hardly profit by ordinary cloth; he therefore agreed to receive a certain proportion of fine along with the ordinary cloth. Little of the latter has been brought in and that very bad; so he has been refusing to take in fine, as that offers the principal inducement to the merchants. During the Maratha scare, Andrews freighted a vessel with the Company's goods; as they have gone northward, the second vessel has been discharged. Cloth on hand 1,596 [pieces?].

No. 117. LETTER FROM JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID, MARCH 28, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, p. 67 (1).]

Money sent by Andiyappa for Salem investment has been brought back to Porto Novo, as 20,000 Marathas had plundered the Salem country and 5,000 were still there. The Tanjoreans are attacking Negapatam on account of an old dispute; and Dupleix has sent to Karikal 3 ships and 2 sloops with 100 soldiers, 50 peons, etc.

No. 118. CONSULTATION. APR. 2, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 135-144 (10).]

Read letters from Fort William of Feb. 29 [Nos. 112 & 113]; from Vizagapatam of March 4 [No. 114], from Ingeram of March 11 [No. 115], from Madapollam of March 14 [No. 116], and from Fort St. David of March 28 [No. 117]. Accounts read, advances made and payments received. Morse reports that Nizam-ul-mulk at Gandikota, 8 days' journey from Arcot, has filled up the Nawabships of Kundanur, Golconda, Cuddapah and Arcot. Coja Abd-ullah Khan was appointed to the last, but died the same night; on which Anwar-ud-din Khan, late Nawab of Chicacole and generally well-esteemed, was appointed; his son Mahfuz Khan nominated Diwan; and Imam Sahib thought likely to be Bakhshi. These people are expected shortly at Arcot, and the Nizam is preparing to set out for Golconda. Agreed to write to him concerning the grant of a dastak to pass the Company's goods free of customs, as nothing has resulted from the Embassy to Trichinopoly. Imam Sahib wants either the power or the will to do the English service.

Appended are:—(1) No. 119; (2) cash account for March 1744, balance, 37,715 Star and 640 Madras Pags.; (3) account sale of 108 pieces of culgeed flannel at about $6\frac{2}{3}$ Pags. per piece, and of 40 chests of rosewater at 3 Pags. 21 fns. 48 c. per chest.

No. 119. LETTER FROM NICHOLAS MORSE TO NIZAM-UL-MULK.
[APR. 2, 1744.] [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 138—140 (2 $\frac{1}{3}$).]

The English rejoiced at Nizam-ul-mulk's arrival in the province both that they might pay their respects to him and that he might learn their services to the Sarkar during the recent troubles. As Nizam-ul-mulk is now departing, Morse hopes that he will bestow some favour on the English. No doubt that would have been done already, had they had an advocate to speak for them. Complains that though the Company have a royal farman for the free passage of goods provided for them and though the farman is well-observed in Bengal, yet the zamindars and faujdars of the Carnatic often stop the Company's goods. Prays therefore for a dastak in consideration of the royal farman and the recent English services, desiring that the latter may be mentioned so that the Company may be 'pleased with my behaviour.'

No. 120. CONSULTATION. APR. 5, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, p. 145 (1).]

Sold 30,000 Rs. at $331\frac{1}{2}$ per 100 Pags. Payments received. Despatch of the Porto Bello deferred so that she may not reach Balasore just at full moon.

APR. 7, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, p. 48 (1).]

Acknowledge letter of March 28 [No. 117]. Believe the Marathas have no designs on Trichinopoly; so, though there can be no investment at Salem, it may go on elsewhere. Nizam-ul-mulk left for Golconda on March 20, having appointed Anwar-ud-din Khan, Nawab of this province. The latter arrived at Arcot. He bears a good character, and it is hoped he will restore order.

No. 122. CONSULTATION. APR. 9, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, p. 146 (1).]

Acknowledge letters of Feb. 23 and 29 [Nos. 102 & 112]. Will try the Bengal arrack at outcry, and send 4,000 maunds of redwood on the Europe ships. Cannot now spare any treasure. After peace had been made, 40,000 Marathas met Nizam-ul-mulk near the Kistna on his way to Golconda; he entertained 20,000; and the rest went northwards. He then returned to Gandikota, 8 days' march from Arcot, and appointed Anwar-ud-din Khan, Nawab of Arcot, and set out for Golconda, March 20. Some Marathas have passed near Vizagapatam, supposed to be going to Cuttack. Henry Kelsall will proceed to Bengal after a stay at Vizagapatam.

No. 154. LETTER FROM CAPT. HENRY WATTS OF THE LAPWING
APR. 28, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 178-179 (2).]

Quartermaster Archibald Douglas was confined in irons for one day for endeavouring to excite mutiny and released on promise of good behaviour. However on Apr. 23, he flung his mess allowance over-board and tried again to stir up mutiny. He was ordered 39 lashes, but David Shepherd refused to tie him up. Both were then put in irons, the Captain fearing to do more lest the mutinous spirit should become more general, and, had the crew seized the ship, they could have done much damage, as the Lapwing is faster than almost all the other shipping.

No. 155. CONSULTATION. MAY 5, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 169-180 (12).]

Accounts read, advances made and payments received. Agreed on letter to Tellicherry [No. 156]. Capt. Watts' complaint [No. 154] against two mutinous men on the Lapwing; Watts, his officers, and 6 foremastmen asked for by the prisoners being present, all the evidence agrees the prisoners were the sole cause of the troubles on board; resolved that they be kept here till they can be put on a larger ship. 30 soldiers to be sent to Fort St. David. Cannot sell silver owing to the closure of country mints. The Nawab is said to be going to issue rupees of 12 dwt. fine and suppress the current Arcot rupee which is 2 dwt. worse, the minters having bribed the Sarkar officers. The Sarkar minters of Covelong, St. Thomé, etc., are trying to persuade the Nawab to prohibit the coining of Arcot rupees at Madras and Pondichery; but the Nawab has not yet issued orders. The Prince William to take the first 50 chests of money coined for Bengal; the Lapwing to take the next 30. The presents to the Nawab, etc., approved. The Warehousekeeper to purchase goods suitable for presents out of the English ships and keep them ready for such occasions.

Appended are:—(1) cash account for Apr. 1744, balance 29,557 Star and 729 Madras Pags.; (2) No. 154; and (3) list of presents, including broadcloth, embossed cloth, velvet, gold-flowered silk, a silver service, tweezer cases, snuff boxes, spectacles, glass lustres, bowls and plates of cut-glass, gun and pistols, swords, looking glasses, rosewater, Bengal candles, etc.

- No. 163. CONSULTATION. MAY 14, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 183—186 (3).]

Read letters from Fort St. David of May 6 and 10 [Nos. 161 & 162]. Offer of merchants there to provide 100 bales of salempores at 20½ Pags. per corge, to be accepted. 10,000 Pags. to be sent thither. The minters allowed to receive Dutch dollars at 15 (instead of 14) dwt. worse than standard. Morse reports the Company's merchants' statements that the French are inquiring for middling and ordinary cloth besides the fine cloth that they usually provide in these parts; this is probably caused by disappointments at Salem, Udaiyarpalaiyam and Chennappanayakanpalaiyam. The merchants have been directed to prevent the weavers from supplying cloth to the French. No silver can yet be sold as the Nawab has not yet fixed the standard of the Arcot rupee. Agreed on letter to Bengal by the Lapwing [No. 167].

Appended is a letter from Sidney Foxall, dated May 14, 1744, stating that the minters will not receive the Dutch dollars at 14 dwt. worse than standard, and that on assay they prove to be 15 dwt. worse.

- No. 166. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. MAY 15, 1744.
[Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

Read letters to Madras of May 6 and 10 [Nos. 161 & 162], and one from Madras of May 7 [No. 158]. Agreed on letter to Madras of May 16 [No. 172]. Advances to merchants, etc. Agreed to accept the offer of Irusappa Chetti, etc., to provide 100 bales of salempores at 21 Pags., all charges included. Hinde produces a declaration of the weavers that Muthayya Chetti who was last year entrusted with money to provide dimities paid 411 Pags. less than he charged the Company for them. The Chetti has refunded the sum, but the utmost caution is necessary to prevent such frauds, especially as the best may be deceived in the value of such high-priced goods.

Congratulate Morse on becoming President. Forward bills on Sultan David, an Armenian, for 20,800 Rs., for woollen goods sold at Ispahan.

No. 170. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. APR. 21, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 79-86 (8).]

Regarding the wreck of the Jagunnath Prasad [See Nos. 81, 82 & 99]. Cotesworth, Chief of Balasore, was said to be one of the owners; at the mate's request Pitt took charge of the wreck, and Stratton got the Nawab's farman for it. Stratton considered it would be more advantageous to give a third of the money and gold dust saved to the Raja of Pittapur than to complain to the Nawab about the Raja's demand. The Nawab however considered this as proving that the ship was not English-owned. Regarding the fortifications [See Nos. 81, 90 &c.], the houses between the Fort and the sea should certainly be pulled down; but a battery fronting the Fort would be useful only in case of a war with a European power. The battery at the Black Rock has been completed; it commands the 'passage-place' and most of the Town. As it secures the powder magazine, consider that no new magazine is needed, though the present one is so near the river as to get damp in the 'freshes, Moreover 14 men and a corporal are always kept at a guard-house near it. Great need of a godown for stores. The terrace of the Fort House must be repaired before the rains. Benyon's battery and Middle Point (built in 1742) are of little use; it would have been better to build a wall from Martin's Point to the Mettah Gate and another across the rock on which Benyon's battery stands, and raise the platforms at the Mettah Gate to a proper height. Cannot form a just calculate of the cost of the proposed works, but if ordered they shall be done as cheaply as possible. Send Consultations, etc.

Appended are:—(1) account of the goods, etc., saved from the Jagannath Prasad, signed by Thomas Pitt, and dated Apr. 4, 1744, amounting to 2,511 Rs., with a few pagodas, Venetians, and 38 Pulicat Pags. weight of gold dust; (2) list of repairs, etc., needed in the Fort and Town, signed by Lewis Turnery; and (3) indents for wares and stores.

No. 172. LETTER FROM JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. MAY 16, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 87—89 (1¾).]

Acknowledge letter of May 14 [No. 164]. The 30 recruits have arrived. Contracted with Irusappa Chetti for [100] corges of salempores, at 20½ Pags. per corge brown + ½ Pag. commission, to be supplied by Aug. Propose to take in 654 pieces of turned-out Chennappanayakanpalaiyam and Udaiyarpalaiyam cloth at 44 and 43½ Pags. the corge. Trust that the early and considerable advances to the merchants will enable them to counteract the ill-results of the early arrival of French ships with treasure.

No. 173. CONSULTATION. MAY 21, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 187—191 (4¼).]

Read letters from Bombay of Apr. 20 [No. 169], from Vizagapatam of Apr. 21 [No. 170], from Ingeram of May 1 [No. 171] and from Fort St. David of May 16 [No. 172.] Savage reports that Coja Sultan David has refused to pay the Bombay bills [See 169]; and that they have been duly protested before the notary-public (Noah Casamajor). Agreed on letter to Vizagapatam, dated June 20 [No. 231]. Accounts read. The Nawab has ordered Arcot rupees to be coined 7 dwt. better than standard and fixes the coining charges at 27 per mille instead of 17; but the shroffs refuse to coin rupees on these terms. Agreed to land the Montague's pepper, so that two ships may be laded in Sept. if necessary.

Appended is a statement of the expenditure by the Captain of the Lapwing on his voyage.

No. 181. LETTER FROM ANWAR-UD-DIN KHAN AT ARCOT TO NICHOLAS MORSE. [RECD. MAY 27, 1744.] [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, p. 196 (1/2).]

Desires 20,000 Pags. worth of the best silver, at the cheapest rate. Will send the money on hearing from Morse. When silver is landed at Madras, desires to be informed before it is ordered to be sold.

No. 182. CONSULTATION. MAY 28, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 192—198 (7).]

Read letters from Fort St. David of May 21 and 23 [Nos. 179 & 180]. Accounts read. Morse reports that the merchants' agents say that the weavers were inclined to engage with the French in order to get some ready money; but the agents threatened that if they did so, they should be compelled to pay what they owed the English merchants; also the Havildars of the country promised that no cloth should be given to the French unless the latter offered higher prices than the English. So the matter has been settled in favour of the English and the French agents have gone away. Morse produces a letter from Anwar-ud-din Khan [No. 181]. It is thought that the Nawab, being angry with the shroffs for refusing to coin Arcot rupees, means to coin them himself. Agreed that such a request [No. 181] is unprecedented and if once admitted might involve the English in disputes with the country government; agreed therefore to refer the Nawab to the merchants here for the silver he wants and to inform him that business would be hindered if the sale of silver were to be postponed till his needs were known. Believe that the shroffs will now make their peace, but where we have explicit orders from the Company no point should be given up, touching the general welfare.

Appended are:—(1) letter to Capt. Fielder Freeman of the Montague, dated May 28, 1744, directing him to land all pepper on his ship; (2) No. 181; (3) No. 183; and (4) statement of extraordinary expenses for Apr. 1744.

No. 183. LETTER [FROM NICHOLAS MORSE] TO ANWAR-UD-DIN KHAN. [MAY 28, 1744.] [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, p. 197 (1).]

Reply to letter No. 181. If the Nawab sends his agents to Madras, they can easily buy at the market rate what silver is wanted. As to the Nawab's being informed before any silver is sold, such a course would hinder business as merchants bringing silver often do not stay more than 3 or 4 days. Supposes that as formerly merchants will be appointed to act for the Sarkar. Any recommended by the Nawab shall receive particular regard.

The King of Travancore is anxious to purchase 5,000 Rs. worth of looking glasses, etc., for a palace lately built. Request that that sum be paid to the bearer and debited to the Bombay presidency. No. 188. CONSULTATION. FORT ST. DAVID. MAY 30, 1744. [Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

Read letters to Madras of May 16, 21 and 23 [Nos. 172, 179 & 180], and letters from Madras [Nos. 164, 165 & 177]. Charles Floyer requests that, as he has now to procure firewood by sea, he may be allowed an extra 5 Pags. per lakh on bricks and tiles; ordered accordingly that they be charged at 55 and 45 Pags. per lakh, respectively. As many trees in the bounds were cut down in 1740 in the Maratha troubles, agreed to plant young trees which will provide firewood in case of trouble. The French have already started a large plantation about Pondichery. The Paymaster to choose a suitable site. Damaged stores to be sold. 200 bales to be sent to Madras on the St. David ketch. Advances made and payments received. Indents for stores, etc. The Carolina sloop to be broken up and the materials sold. Cash balance, 6,935 Pags.

Appended are:—(1) letter from Charles Floyer, Paymaster, dated May 30, reporting the dearness of firewood and requesting an increase in the price allowed for bricks, etc., as the woodcutters have taken to working in the fields and as the Poligars are unwilling to allow much cutting in their forests, adding that the rates now proposed are lower than those at Madras or Pondichery; and (2) letter from Charles Floyer and Alexander Wynch, dated May 30, regarding damaged stores.

As Company's Arcot rupees are only 4½ dwts. better than standard, while the Nawab requires Arcot rupees to be 7 dwts. better, agreed to coin 25 chests of silver for Bengal into Madras rupees, as the Company's Arcots may be depreciated in comparison with the Sarkar's. 300 candies of tin and as much redwood as possible to be bought for the York. Read letters from Fort William of Apr. 5 and 7 [Nos. 215 & 216], from Vizagapatam of May 14 [No. 217], and from Fort St. David of June 6 [No. 218]. Offer of Narayana Chetti of Fort St. David to provide 100 [?] bales of salem-pores at $20\frac{1}{2}$ Pags. + $\frac{1}{2}$ Pag. brokerage per corge, to be accepted. Headmoney for soldiers on the Winchester. A soldier having lost the use of his limbs to be sent to England. Signed cowle for the ruby brokerage [See No. 208]. As there are ample goods for a Sept. ship (even though the Bombay coffee ship be sent here also to be filled up), the Prince of Wales to be sent home in Sept. Her copper for Bengal to be landed, Advances made. 8 chests of silver sold at $14\frac{3}{8}$ \$ weight per 10 Pags.;

9 more to be sold at 14½ as the price is likely to fall ; every one will be wishing to get rid of their old rupees, being uncertain how long they will be allowed to pass current ; and the shroffs are unwilling to coin the new, which yield only 255 per 100 oz. standard silver instead of 266. As Anwar-ud-din (who is 85) knows little of the English and may be prejudiced against us by designing persons, Morse proposes to send with the present about to be despatched Haji Hadi, 'a man of extraordinary good capacity' and believed to be in the English interest, to explain matters to the Nawab and his Diwan, and secure their favourable opinion. Agreed that this will be of great service. Agreed on letters to Madapollam and Ingeram regarding the investment. [Nos. 220 & 221]. The York's treasure reported correct. 20 chests of new Mexico silver to be put on the York, that being the best silver for China.

Appended are:—(1) letter to Capt. John Pelly of the Prince of Wales, dated June 11, 1744, ordering him to land all goods for Bengal ; and (2) petition, (n.d.), of James Brodie, Surgeon on the Winchester, praying for headmoney on 7 recruits.

Acknowledge letters of March 14, 21, Apr. 9, and May 16 [Nos. 116, 129, 140 & 184]. The method of taking in a proportion of fine with ordinary cloth should have succeeded in inducing the merchants to bring more in ; are sure Hallyburton will do his best ; and while cotton is so dear, the merchants will continue reluctant to provide ordinary cloth. 600 pieces of callawapores to be provided instead of 400. Fine cloth for the Sept. ship to be sent half-washed, so that it may be finished at Madras in a few days.

The Durrington has no packet for Madras. 25 chests of treasure for Bengal to be landed, 10 to be coined into Arcot rupees for Bengal and the rest retained till further treasure arrives. Read letters of Feb. 17, from Chambers and Bakers at Madeira [No. 239] and from Tellicherry of May 31 [No. 240]. Read William Percival's letter desiring to be re-appointed Gunner vice John Waters, deceased; agreed to make no appointment till the receipt of the despatches by the later Europe ships. Accounts read, payments received and advances made. 32 chests of rupees to be sent to Bengal by the Winchester. The Prince of Wales reported fit for the voyage to Europe. Linga Chetti agrees to take 4 chests of silver at 14½$ weight per 10 Pags. and give Madras pagodas at 10% batta. Morse reports that on June 23, Edel Khan and 13 other Pathans, engaged by Murtaza Ali Khan for 2 lakhs of rupees to murder the Nawab, the late Nawab's son and 4 others, murdered Sahib Zada, along with some of his relations. Anwar-ud-din was to have been murdered at the mosque, but did not go, being busy with examining the English present. Edel Khan and 11 Pathans were killed at once and 2 executed afterwards. One of them confessed the whole affair, and Murtaza Ali Khan's bond for 2 lakhs was found in his possession. Anwar-ud-din Khan has sent for his son from Trichinopoly and is said to be preparing to attack Vellore.

The Galatea to be engaged to bring cloth from the north, provided the Princess Augusta does not arrive before July 25. 3,000 bales expected here and at Fort St. David; and silver sold hitherto will not nearly meet the demands on that account. Great scarcity of gold due to demand for gold mohurs in Bengal; gold has been sold for old Arcot rupees which cannot be disposed of and depress the price of silver. Pagodas so rare that even Bukanji Kasidas, the Sarkar's Sowcar and Chief Shroff of the province, cannot pay for the silver he has bought; yet pagodas are needed for the investment. Agreed to sell 40 chests of silver at not less than 15$ weight per 10 Pags., allowing one or two months credit, for silver will fall lower when the Mocha and Basra ships arrive in Aug.

Yesterday despatched a further 10,000 Pags. as it may be some days before the French exchange their silver for coin and so ready money may be useful. Turned-out cloth fit for Europe may be taken at a reduced price to prevent the French from getting it. If the French pay the Company's debts, they may find themselves unable to get credit or lade their ships. Nalla Tambi, etc., must pay half their balance at once.

Read letters from Fort St. David of July 24 and 25 [Nos. 277 & 278], and from the supracargoes of the Edgebaston of June 23 and 26. The last states that the supracargoes have exchanged 104,640 oz. Troy of new Mexico silver for an equal quantity of old, and desires the difference to be made good to Messrs. Baillie, Templer, Coales and Lodowick according to the custom of the Madras mint. Agreed to do so. Baillie, etc., observing that they took the silver without weighing it and that most of the silver sent out from England this year has proved short of the invoice, agreed that two councilors attend the opening and weighing of the said silver. Paddy and medicines to be sent to Fort St. David. Accounts read and payments received. 7 chests of silver sold at 14 15/16 $ weight per 10 Pags., and 10 chests at 15. As copper is not likely to sell well in Bengal, the latest prices being Rs. 36-38 the Bengal maund, agreed to sell as much copper as will go at 86 Pags. per candy or over; and also 800 candies of lead, white culjeed flannels, embossed cloths, and Madeira wine (not to be sold under 40 Pags. the pipe). 10,000 Pags. to be sent to Fort St. David. Money, wares, stores, etc., to go on the Galatea for the northern settlements. The timbers at Ingeram to be sent part to Vizagapatam and the rest here. Do not expect to supply 40 bales in Dec. unless the restriction regarding finecloth is removed. Send books, etc., and a packet from Bengal.

No. 322. DESPATCH TO THE COMPANY, BY THE PRINCE OF WALES. SEPT. 5, 1744. [Pub. Desp. to Eng., Vol. 14, pp. 1—47 (47). Damaged, torn at edges and portions lost.]

Cite despatches of 1743, Sept. 19 [No. 113 of 1743], and 26; of 1744, Jan. 1, 16 [No. 18], 18, Feb. 10 [No. 55], and March 1. Acknowledge despatches of 1743, June 8 [No. 142], Oct. 14 [No. 143], Nov. 4 [No. 144], 23 [No. 145], Dec. 16 [No. 193] and 23 [No. 195], and of 1744, Jan. 11 [No. 196].

Shipping news. As the Murshidabad mint was likely to be closed on account of the Maratha invasion, all the Bengal treasure was coined. With the assistance of some Sarkar minters out of employment, 4 lakhs of rupees were coined in 14 days. In all, sent to Bengal 6,40,000 Rs. by the Prince William and the Lapwing. One of the mutineers on the Lapwing has been put on the Prince of Wales, the other escaped on a ship for [Bengal]. The York has left for China with 20 chests of silver, 300 candies of tin, lead, and 52 candies of redwood. Arrival of the Winchester and employment by the Captain of a chest of silver [See Nos. 208, 223, 224 & 235]. Loss of the Danish ship Princess Louisa; the Danes fear she may be the only ship despatched from Europe this season. The Montague's pepper landed. The Madeira sale; it costs the Company 36 Pags. a pipè. The exchange by the supracargoes at Mocho of new Mexico silver for old; the new was 1 dwt. worse than the old [See No. 279]. Cannot find tonnage for a second Sept. ship owing to the rains. The Carolina sloop to be sold. Further shipping news. News of Anson at the Cape homeward-bound. Expect to send by the Jan. ships 2,500 bales and 140 tons of pepper.

Have sold the bad rice from Bengal. The difficulty of selling silver for pagodas at Madras. The closure of the Sarkar mints lowered silver and the demand for gold mohurs in Bengal left little but rupees in Madras, so that even substantial shroffs could not meet their bills in gold. By great efforts however, have sold silver enough to carry on the investment. Retention of the Duke of Dorset's silver. It proved 133 oz. short of invoice weight; most of the ships have been 30-50 oz. short, but the minters were induced to receive it at invoice weight. Sale of copper, etc. The minters have been ordered to coin rupees at not less than 367 oz. 10 dwts. per mille; but allowed to take Dutch dollars at 15 dwts. worse than standard.

The investment. The brokerage of 2 to 2½ % is insufficient to induce substantial merchants to take part, though the Company is unwilling to believe this. Have however induced Venkatarama, Ambalattadi and Nalla Chetti to take part on condition of receiving all assistance and being recommended to the Company for less unequal terms. Nearly 1,000 bales are now ready and 600 more are expected by Jan. At Fort St. David, Andiyappa is expected to provide about 1,400 bales. Two others have agreed to furnish 300 bales of salempores. No Salem cloth could be got owing to the Maratha plunder of Salem. In the northern settlements, cotton is very dear, so that the merchants' gain on fine goods is overbalanced by their loss on the ordinary cloth. However expect 800 bales.

Nizam-ul-mulk has appointed Anwar-ud-din Khan, Nawab of Arcot. The partisans of Safdar Ali's son, Sahib Zada, could not secure more than Nizam-ul-mulk's promise to make the lad Nawab when he had grown up. Nizam-ul-mulk, however, seemed to have grown attached to him. Early in Apr., accompanied by the Nawabs of Kandamur, Cuddapah, etc., Anwar-ud-din entered Arcot with Sahib Zada whom Nizam-ul-mulk had especially entrusted to his care. Till June, when the Nawabs of Kandamur and Cuddapah departed, all was quiet; but then Murtaza Ali Khan engaged 14 Pathans to murder Anwar-ud-din, Sahib Zada and others. The Nawab escaped; but the Killedar, Sahib Zada and 6 of his relatives were murdered. 12 of the Pathans were at once killed; but in the turban of one of the other two was found a bond signed and sealed by Murtaza Ali, agreeing to pay them two lakhs of rupees. There has since been another attempt on Anwar-ud-din. Nizam-ul-mulk would have removed him at once but for his old age and services. Haji Hadi has been employed to speak to Anwar-ud-din in favour of the English. He has succeeded well and is likely to take up his abode at Arcot. Thanks to him, no stop has been put to the coinage of Arcot rupees by the English, but it has been thought wise to coin only the Company's silver. The Nawab has improved the Arcot rupees by 5 to 7 dwts.; and when the shroffs and minters tried to oppose this, he made a considerable purchase of silver [See Nos. 181, 182, 183 & 208]. Nizam-ul-mulk's presents for the Moghal court [See No. 109]. He has since sent for them back to Golconda, being on bad terms with the Court, and has retired from Aurangabad to Golconda before an army that has been sent against him. Morse's letter to Nizam-ul-mulk to remind him of his promises to the English [No. 119]. The affair of Dayala Das and Daniel Berriman [See Nos. 87 & 131]; the Havildar of St. Thomé would have been seized and punished corporally had he not sent at once to obtain forgiveness. Delay in returning a present when Coja Namat-ullah Khan sent a horse and saropa on Morse's accession [See No. 85]. The Nawab is enlarging the Covelong Fort to receive his family in case of a Maratha invasion. The state of Bengal. Must still defer their judgment on Pitt's ill-treatment at Uppada.

Pending orders on Major Knipe's report on the fortifications, have executed only those works absolutely necessary. Repairs, etc., at Madras and at Fort St. David. The Mayors' Court duties [See Nos. 64 & 69].

Henry Kelsall permitted to go to Bengal via Vizagapatam. Are sure that Stratton's position has been misrepresented to the Company [See Nos. 269 & 270]. On the death of John Waters in June, Morse wrote to Wake at Bombay desiring him to send a Gunner if possible; and accordingly Joseph Smith has been sent, with recommendations of his character and knowledge. Need recruits, as several of the last batch have died and as topasses are unreliable. Topasses sent to Pegu have come back. Daniel Murray, who came out with Knipe, appointed Ensign. 2 mad recruits are returned to England. Protest of bills on Sultan David [See No. 173.] Sumatra affairs.

Four ships from France arrived at Pondichery (one so early as Apr.) with £3—400,000 St.; and the French have been very active in their investment. Though they were prevented from getting ordinary cloth in the country about Madras, they will have an advantage in fine cloth as their sortments are more advantageous to the weavers than what the English take. The French report that most of their treasure is to go to Bengal to pay their debts there, and have been ordered to reduce their charges. The Dutch have opened Batavia to what they call free trade, but it is likely to be illusory. The Tanjoreans have attacked both Negapatam and Karikal. They could do little against Negapatam, and the Dutch wisely made peace; but the French had a magazine blown up, and have spent near 40,000 Pags. It is said that the Nawab has ordered the seizure of the villages given the French by Safdar Ali Khan.

Miscellaneous shipping news. The Prince of Wales' cargo invoiced at 1,54,998 Pags. Diamonds, etc., registered for 12,054 Pags. The Captain's manifests of private trade is for 5,550 Pags. Cash balance, 54,624 Star and 441 Madras Pags. The bills, etc., on the Company, 7,668 Pags.

Appended are:—(1) register of diamonds, etc.; (2) account produce of coral; (3) Capt. Pelly's manifest of private trade, consisting chiefly of camphor, benjamin, arrack and piece goods; (4) list of the packet; (5) sailing orders, dated Sept. 6, 1744, to Capt. John Pelly, of the Prince of Wales; and (6) list of the Company's revenues (May 1743—Apr. 1744), fixed revenues, 20,720 Pags., and variable revenues including Sea, Land and Mint customs and quitrent, 47,013 Pags.

Read letter from Fort William of Aug. 7 [No. 324]. The Sumatra's rice to be landed as it is not fit for Sumatra. The Sumatra to be detained till Oct.; she is to come close in shore should any French ship appear. Payments received. The Export Warehousekeeper complaining that the washers are not likely to have the cloth ready for the next shipping, the head-washers are to explain their delay. Agreed on letters to the northern settlements [Nos. 326 to 328] Tappy peons to be placed between Madras and Bengal as was done during the late war. The Pettah managers to explain why no cloth came in for the Sept. ship.

Appended are:—(1) statement of expenditure on the Sumatra in Bengal, amounting to 13,238 Pags.; and (2) letter from William Monson (Export Warehousekeeper), dated Sept. 8, 1744, complaining that the washers do not bring in more than 6 bales a day.

Acknowledge letter of Aug. 5 [No. 316]. As the French have raised their price for ordinary cloth, it will be better to raise the English price by not more than 2 Pags. the corge longcloth and 1 Pag. salem pores, than accept a larger proportion of fine cloth. News of the outbreak of war with France brought by the Swift snow from England on Sept. 5. The garrison to be kept in good order. Tappy peons to be placed as far as Ganjam and Ingeram, at intervals of 3 'Gentue miles'

No. 329. PETITION FROM THE HEAD-WASHERMEN AT MADRAS.
[Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 304—306 (2).]

Paddy formerly was 16 markals per pagoda and now is 13 or 14, and moreover the amount to be used as conjee on a corge of long-cloth ordinary was raised by Benyon from $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4 markals. This difference amounts to 3 fns. a corge. Firewood for boiling a corge of longcloth cost 15 fns. but now costs 20; and other small things (chunam, blue, soap, etc.), all cost more nowadays. Also since the Company dealt direct with the washers, the latter have been charged for all damages by stones, white ants, etc. Are now unable to support their families and hire coolies enough. Pray for an increase of $\frac{1}{2}$ fanam per piece for longcloth ordinary and proportionately for salempores.

Appended are statements showing the present rate for washing a corge of longcloth ordinary to be 1 Pag. 21 fns. 32 c.; it formerly cost the washers 1 Pag. 13 fns. 30 c., but now costs 1 Pag. 23 fns. 32 c.

No. 330. CONSULTATION. SEPT. 12, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 298—304 (6½).]

Charles Milne appointed Commander of the Sumatra, vice John Taylor deceased. 5,000 Pags. to be sent to Fort St. David. Read petition from the head-washers [No. 329]. As there is no doubt about the rise in prices alleged by them, agreed to raise their rates to 1 Pag. 27 fns. per corge for ordinary longcloth and 30 fns. for salempores. News of the war with France to be sent to Malacca to be communicated to the China ships. Payments received. For the better defence of the Fort, Joseph Smith recommends the following works:—the erection of a bomb-proof magazine in the White Town; provision of field (instead of ships') carriages for the guns so as to make them more easily handled; storing of bricks and chunam to repair breaches; and the supply of timber for the gun-carriages from the Malabar coast. Smith is to furnish a list of military stores wanting and an account of the timber required; a site is to be chosen for the magazine and bricks, etc., laid in. The managers of Chintadripet state that some weavers have gone away with advances, others are too poor to repay any part of their debt, and Andiyappa Narayanan the principal manager is dead; so that they cannot continue the cloth manufactory without a further advance of money. Andiyappa spent 16,000 Pags. on building a mosque and 2 temples; and in building houses, shops, etc. 4,610 Pags. has been spent though the Company only advanced 3,000, and the weavers have not been able yet to pay for their houses. Agreed to make no further advance unless the business should be taken up by some substantial merchant (and till then the weavers will probably be employed by the Town merchants), but to allow further time for the repayment of the Company's debt.

[Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.)]

Read letters from Madras of Sept. 14 and 17 [Nos. 334 & 337], and to Madras of Sept. 19 and 22 [Nos. 343 & 355]. The merchants have provided 1,044 bales and promise 700 more besides Salem cloth by Jan. Agreed to inform Madras and also to desire 20 more candies of powder and 40,000 Pags. Advances made, accounts read and payments received. Agreed to purchase grain, there being little in the place. The factory-house and choultry at Cuddalore, reported to need repairs, to be surveyed. Hospital clothing indented for by Belsches, Surgeon, to be supplied. A time-expired soldier discharged. Read Philip Baker's report on the fortifications; ordered that wanting stores, etc., be supplied. Damaged packing stuff to be sold. Cash balance 8,762 Pags.

Appended are:—(1) account salary of the Company's servants for the half-year ending Sept. 25, 1744, amounting to 300

Pags.; (2) statement of extraordinary expenses [for Aug. 1744]; (3) account sale of the materials of the Carolina sloop amounting to 919 Pags.; (4) ditto of damaged stores for 4 Pags.; (5) letter, dated Sept. 26, 1744, from John Graham, regarding repairs necessary for the factory house (which has not been thoroughly repaired since it was bought of Farmer 33 years ago), the Land Customer's choultry and the godowns at Cuddalore; (6) letter, (n.d.), from William Belsches, Surgeon, enclosing a list of clothes, etc., required in the hospital; (7) letter from Philip Baker, dated Sept. 29, 1744, stating that the upper parts of the wall above the Maratha stonework round the Fort have bulged out in several places, being overloaded with heavy useless guns crowded too close together; that 87 guns were condemned as unserviceable in 1742 (32 in the Fort, 33 at Cuddalore and 22 at the out-guards). The powder on hand (28 candies) is not enough for a time of troubles; one charge for each gun mounted takes up more than 2 candies. 'Partridge-boxes' are needed. Has in store 13,200 round shot, 1,700 grenades, 859 bombs and 8,200 lbs. of partridge shot. Most of the guns are mounted on ships' carriages; if they were mounted on field carriages, they could be managed by one-third of the men. Recommends that carriages may be made with solid wheels as at Pondichery. All the guns are kept loaded and some of those towards the sea are shotted. Urges that the 32 large and useless guns in the Fort should be exchanged for sakers of about 20 cwt. A new shooting bull is needed for the gun exercise; and (8) letter from Edward Croke, dated Sept. 25, regarding damaged packing stuff.

- No. 368. LETTER FROM JOHN HALLYBURTON AT MADAPOLAM. SEPT. 18, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, p. 147 (1).]

Has abstained from representing the merchants' complaints that at the English prices ordinary cloth can only be provided at a loss. However even the Dutch have been obliged to raise their prices, and pay now in Madras instead of Porto Novo pagodas, reckoning the batta at 5 instead of 9%. Recommend that the price of ordinary cloth should be raised.

No. 369. CONSULTATION. OCT. 5, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 323—331 (9).]

Accounts read and advances made. Morse reports that it is desirable to have a Resident at Ganjam as the runners are often stopped on those parts, and there is another reason 'of some importance.' Broadcloth, etc., for presents to be taken by him. 60 Pags., allowed for the treasure carried to Vizagapatam by the William and Sarah, to be debited to the three northern settlements.

OCT. 9, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, p. 153 (1).]

Acknowledge letter of Sept. 4 [No. 350]. The war with France and the uncertain state of the country prevent sending the 500 fire-arms for the King of Travancore. The Charmant and the Fleury are said to be both bound for the Malabar coast.

- No. 375. CONSULTATION. OCT. 12, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 332-333 (1½).]

Enquire if 500 fire-arms can be spared for Anjengo [See Nos. 350 & 356]. The Favoretta sailed from Pondichery for Achin, Sept. 28. French shipping news. Desire that the recruits and stores by the Wager and the Godolphin may be sent to Madras.

- No. 377. LETTER TO RICHARD PRINCE, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM.
OCT. 12, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 155-157 (2).]

Acknowledge letters of Aug. 26 and Sept. 7 [Nos. 351 & 366] and 211 bales of calicoes. Will send fire-arms in exchange for the old ones. Have already allowed [See No. 326] an increase in the price of cloth to encourage the merchants. The Dec. bales to be sent on some Vizagapatam vessel; the master to be instructed to speak no ship on his way, as there will probably be French cruisers off the Coast. 60 Pags. to be paid as freight for treasure sent by the William and Sarah. Have resolved to appoint a Resident at Ganjam and have selected Andrews. He will proceed overland and call on his way at Vizagapatam. Send a packet to be forwarded to Bengal.

- No. 378. LETTER TO THOMAS SAUNDERS AT INGERAM. OCT. 12, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 157-158 (1½).]

Acknowledge letters of Sept. 15 and 17 [Nos. 352 & 367] and 247 bales. The cloth is as good as can be expected, considering the price of cotton. Hope the increased price will prevent the French getting 'the cloth out of your hands.' As Yanam is so close, the French must know all the business of the factory. The Dec. bales should be laded in the river; and if there are more than 300, put on two vessels to divide the risk.

- No. 379. LETTER TO JOHN HALLYBURTON AT MADAPOLLAM.

Acknowledge letters of Sept. 1, 8, 12, and 18 [Nos. 340, 353, 354 & 368] and 102 bales. The Nawab of Rajahmundry and the Faujdar of Masulipatam have been written to regarding the detention of the chay goods. But as these posts are sold to the highest bidders, and change hands every two or three years, there is small chance of obtaining redress, for these people aim at nothing but extorting all they can. 'This ill-policy of the Moors must in few years terminate in the utter ruin of those countries.' One can only submit to hardships or withdraw altogether. Prices of cloth may be raised [as in No. 326]. Shall send an Assistant to take Andrews' place. Despatch of the Dec. bales [as in No. 377].

- No. 380. LETTER TO JOHN ANDREWS, RESIDENT AT GANJAM.
OCT. 12, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 161 (1).]

- No. 383. LETTER FROM JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID. OCT. 11, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, p. 149 (1).]

Acknowledge letters of Oct. 5 and 6 [Nos. 370 & 373]. The Bourbon has sailed from Pondichery for Europe with 530 bales of cloth, 1,700 bales of coffee, and 1,200 candies of redwood; the Charmant will be sent to Malabar to be filled with pepper. Enclose accounts. Cash balance, 8,762 Pags. 521 bales on hand.

- No. 384. LETTER FROM RICHARD PRINCE, ETC., AT VIZAGAPATAM. SEPT. 25, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, p. 150 (1).]

Send accounts, etc. Thomas Pitt died at Uppada on Sept. 8, leaving Robert Turing executor. Have appointed there a careful sober person who has been employed as a writer for several years. 14 bales on hand.

- No. 385. LETTER FROM THOMAS SAUNDERS AT INGERAM.
SEPT. 27, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, p. 151 (3/4).]

The increased price allowed for ordinary cloths will have a good effect on the investment both in quality and quantity, and disappoint the French 'who plunge themselves into all manner of expences to ruin our trade.' Has placed two sets of peons between Ingeram and Madapollam.

- No. 386. LETTER FROM JOHN HALLYBURTON AT MADAPOLLAM. OCT. 1, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 151-152 (3/4).]

Acknowledge letter of Sept. 10 [No. 328] reporting the war with France. Has placed two sets of tappies between Madapollam and Masulipatam. Has employed 4 extra peons. The juncan people, etc., now make a habit of stopping the Company's goods and people in all quarters.

- No. 387. LETTER FROM JOHN HALLYBURTON AT MADAPOLLAM. OCT. 6, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 152-153 (1 1/4).]

The Nawab is insisting that Hallyburton shall buy 500 beams of teak; and says that if they are refused he will have them placed in the factory and will seize the money for them, and that if the Europeans do not like it, they may go away. In Ali Kuli Khan's time, Hallyburton bought 300 beams; but has them still by him. Desires positive orders. If this is put up with, the Company will soon get more teak than cloth, unless the English imitate the Dutch, who in the 'East government' put up with all sorts of affronts but now escape scot-free. The Ingeram vakil has been beaten; a merchant buffeted; the maldar plundered; and paddy has been forced on the washermen, etc., at such prices that they have all run away.

- No. 388. LETTER FROM JOHN GEEKIE, ETC., AT TELlicherry. SEPT. 26, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 153-154 (3/4).]

Shipping news. There are 3,500 candies of pepper instead of 2,500, waiting shipment at Tellicherry. The Company have confirmed Joseph Smith's allowances at Rs. 140 a month. Enclose the declaration of war against France.

No. 390. CONSULTATION. OCT. 17, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 334—336 (2½).]

Joseph Smith appointed Bombardier and Engineer on Rs. 140 a month, with his palankin charges. Agreed upon letters to Fort St. David [No. 391], to Bombay [No. 393], and to Madapollam [No. 397]. Samuel Banks permitted to go to Madapollam as Assistant. Accounts read. Cash being low, the remaining 7½ chests of silver to be sold.

No. 393. LETTER TO WILLIAM WAKE, ETC., AT BOMBAY. OCT. 17, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 163—165 (2).]

Acknowledge letter of Sept. 14 [No. 389]. 2 ships will be sent from Bengal to the Malabar coast to take in pepper. The Bengal investment is at a standstill owing to their Nawab's exorbitant demands. Cannot supply the fire-arms wanted at Anjengo but have written to Bengal.

[Factory Records, F.S.D., Vol. 5 (I.O. trans.).]

Read letters from Madras of Sept. 28, Oct. 2, 3 (5?), 5 and 6 [Nos. 348, 363, 370, 371 & 373] and to Madras of Oct. 3, 7 and 11 [Nos. 365, 381 & 383]. The merchants are making excuses for not providing Salem cloth and expect the Company to undertake the risk of sending money to Salem as they say the French Company do; agreed to accept the offer of Sanka Lakshmipathi to provide by Jan. 300 corge of Salem cloth. Advances made.

No. 397. LETTER TO JOHN HALLYBURTON AT MADAPOLLAM.
OCT. 19, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 166—168 (1¾).]

Acknowledge letter of Oct. 6 [No. 387]. The Nawab cannot really intend to force the English to take 500 timbers or quit the country, for the latter course will greatly diminish his revenues. Probably the loss on selling the timber would be less serious than a stop of the investment. Hope that matters may be so managed as to avoid extremities. Morse will write to the Nawab, but it is feared words will do little, as so much was paid for the Nawabship.

No. 398. LETTER FROM JOHN HINDE, ETC., AT FORT ST. DAVID.
OCT. 19, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 157—158 (1½).]

As the merchants are unwilling to provide Salem cloth unless the money goes at the Company's risk, as they pretend the French do, have advanced 3,000 Pags. to Sanka Lakshmipathi who promises 200 bales by Jan. 31. The Charmant has sailed from Pondichery for Malabar with 250 bales of cloth, 200 candies of redwood, 20 chests of rupees, etc., in company with the Fleury which carries 50 soldiers and some money.

No. 403. LETTER FROM JOHN HALLYBURTON AT MADAPOLLAM. OCT. 19, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, p. 159 (1).]

The Nawab wishes to force 1,000 timbers on this factory and on Ingeram; and has sent back our vakils prisoners, demanding payment for the timbers where they lie, or money for the expense of sending them hither. Has put the Company's cloth here on a ship. The investment is stopped at both places [Madapollam and Ingeram?]. Nothing but the fear of losing the advantages of the Company's trade will make the Nawab desist; and should the factories not be closed this year, most likely they will have to be next year.

Acknowledge letter of Sept. 10 [No. 326]. Hope the increased prices will improve the quality of the cloth at Uppada; could take in only 23 out of 80 bales. Lack of a battery by the sea will make it impossible to protect any vessel in the roads. Have placed tappies as far as Ganjam to the north and Ingeram to the south. Some guns are entirely decayed; will send to Madras 2 demiculverins and 13 others that are useless. Send accounts, etc. Have received 300 timbers from Ingeram. 23 bales on hand.

Acknowledge letter of Oct. 25 [No. 400]. Enclose accounts. Cash balance, 13,657 Pags. Shiyali longcloth is better than other Chennappanayakanpalaiyam cloth and costs only ½ pagoda per corge more. Need for a more commodious sorting place; desire permission to build a veranda on pillars in the middle of the compound 'as it is at Fort St. George.' The factory-house at Cuddalore needs repair badly. The storm of Nov. 5 did little damage. The Company's great seal is almost worn out. 715 bales on hand.

No. 412. LETTER FROM DUPLEIX, ETC., AT PONDICHERY.
NOV. 6/17, 1744. [Lrs. to F.S.G., Vol. 28, pp. 165—169 (4).]

On hearing the news of the outbreak of war with France, the English at Tellicherry proposed to the French at Mahé that they should observe the treaty made in 1728 and confirmed by Wake and La Bourdonnais in 1742. But this being obscure in certain points, Geekie has sent a project of a treaty to be ratified by the superiors of either factory. The advantages of such a treaty to both Companies are obvious. Desire to know whether the Madras Council will agree to a similar course for the 'common good,' and give the necessary orders to the Company's ships and country ships under the British flag. King's ships cannot be included, as they may not be under Dupleix, etc.'s orders.

Appended are:—(1) an extract of the treaty between the French at Mahé and the English at Tellicherry, dated Apr. 28, 1728, under which, though the two Crowns be at war in Europe, neither settlement shall attack the other, nor shall ships engage within sight of the flags of Mahé or Tellicherry, except under the express orders of either Company, which orders are at once to be communicated to the other side; (2) an extract of the treaty between William Wake, etc., and La Bourdonnais, etc., of Jan. 5, 1742, ratifying the treaty of 1728; and (3) Geekie's draft of a new treaty, dated Sept. 8, 1744, proposing to extend the neutral sphere of the 1728 treaty to the whole coast from Anjengo to Goa, and promising to seek ratification from Bombay and Pondichery.

No. 413. CONSULTATION. NOV. 13, 1744. [Madras Pub. Cons., Vol. 74, pp. 350—352 (2½).]

Advances made. Read letters from Fort St. David of Nov. 6 and 9 [Nos. 410 & 411] and from Pondichery of Nov. 6/17 [No. 412]. The Tellicherry proposals may be designed to gain time in which to get in pepper from places outside; agreed therefore to do nothing to disconcert such a project, especially as 2 ships of force sailed lately for Mahé. The Council is not authorised to accept such an agreement, but a seeming inclination to accept proposals for the common good may amuse the French until Bombay have decided what to do. So far as the Council's authority over the Company's ships goes, agreed to give an evasive answer [No. 414] and to send to Bombay copies of the French letter [No. 412] and the Madras reply [No. 414]. As cash is still insufficient for the requirements of the investment, rupees are to be sold.

No. 414. LETTER TO DUPLEIX, ETC., AT PONDICHERY. NOV. 13, 1744. [Lrs. from F.S.G., Vol. 26, pp. 171-172 (1½).]

Acknowledge letter of Nov. 6/17 [No. 412]. Approve of measures for the common benefit; but Tellicherry is subordinate to the Bombay presidency; and ships for the Malabar coast are generally despatched not from Madras but from Bengal. If any English men-of-war arrive, they will be independent of the Madras Council.

Acknowledge letter of Nov. 13/24 [No. 414]. By a letter from the French Company of Apr. 3/14, received Nov. 17/28, announcing the outbreak of war, the Directors desire that a good harmony should subsist between the Companies in India. Propose a neutrality east of the Cape of Good Hope, and have made the same proposal to Bombay and Calcutta. Have ordered all the French settlements and ships (Company's and country) not to attack the English, unless the English attack them first. Desire the English to give similar orders.

Acknowledge letter of Oct. 12 [No. 377]. The Uppada merchants promise better cloth, but could provide none last month, because of troubles between the Nawab and the local Rajas who had seized 2 or 3 small forts, on which the cloth banyans fled towards Vizagapatam. Have sent 2 peons to Ganjam in case tappies should not have been posted from there to Balasore.

Read letter from Pondichery of Nov. 21/Dec. 2 [No. 422]. The Board had hoped that there would be no further correspondence with Pondichery, at all events until the arrival of further shipping which might bring orders warranting some agreement. Agreed to reply [No. 427] that the Board is not yet authorised to enter into such proposals, and to send copies of the correspondence to Bengal and Bombay. Read letters from Fort William of Sept. 29 [No. 423], and from Vizagapatam of Nov. 8 [Nos. 424 & 425]. Accounts read, payments received and advances made. The Registrar of the Mayor's Court submits a proposal of that Court to reject bonds and notes of hand brought more than 10 years after the cause of the suit arose. Agreed to recommend the Company to recognise this as a bye-law.

Appended are:—(1) statement of extraordinary expenses for Oct. 1744; (2) letter from Noah Casamajor, Registrar of the Mayor's Court, dated Nov. 26, 1744, with a draft bye-law as above; and (3) letter from John Savage to the Mayor's Court, dated Nov. 27, 1744, notifying the Board's approval of the Court's proposal.

Acknowledges letters of Oct. 19 and 31 [Nos. 397 & 405]. Objects to taking timbers not merely on account of the loss, but because it will be only putting off the evil for a year, and the practice once introduced by a bad government will continue even under a good one. At Yanam, this practice began in Anwar-uddin's time, and the French have thousands of timbers in stock. They now have positive orders to take no more. The Nawab is said to be moving towards Ingeram with a view to determine the matter. John Andrews has delivered broadcloth and perpetuanoes, and set out on Nov. 20.

Morse reports that the Nawabs of Arcot, Cuddapah and Kandanur are gathering their forces at the passes to meet the Marathas; and that Saiyid Laskar Khan will join them with some of Nizam-ul-mulk's troops; but that they have offered the Marathas a large sum of money which is likely to be accepted. On Joseph Smith's report, the Island Powder-house is to be enlarged, and brass and copper used for nails, etc., instead of iron. Tambi Chetti, etc., report that they cannot continue to pay their annual 5,000 Pags. towards the discharge of their debts, unless they are still allowed a share in the Company's broadcloth. Telisinga Chetti observed that he engaged in the Company's business only to extricate his brother and relations, and that the debt has been reduced from 38,000 Pags. to 13,000, but that if the broadcloth be not allowed them, he will feel that the engagement he entered into in 1739 has been broken and relax his efforts. Agreed to suspend action till the Bengal ships arrive, which may bring later orders from the Company.

The Register of the Mayor's Court represents that Sidney Foxall and Richard Starke have each received 4 votes for the Mayoralty and enquires whether the Mayor is deemed to have a casting vote. Agreed that the Charter is silent on the point and that, as in Hastings' time the Company did not allow a casting vote to the President, a new election should be held. Sidney Foxall elected Mayor and sworn in with John Savage as Sheriff. Payments received. Agreed to sell 5,000 Pags. worth of rupees at 329 and 328 per 100 Pags. Advances made. Morse reports that in consequence of orders from the Secret Committee, he bought the Eltham which cost in all 3,909 Pags. As the matter required secrecy, he only now reports it to the Board.

The Nawab has been to Peddapuram and demanded large sums from the Rajas. The latter levied 4,000 peons and plundered some towns; but the Peddapuram Raja has been killed and the rest dispersed. This has made merchants reluctant to advance money to the weavers. The French are taking in any cloth that comes, and the Dutch are making an investment at Cocanada of ordinary and fine cloth. Encloses accounts.
